OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 27.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 5, 1935.

No. 1

MAYOR MANSFIELD URGES MORE CARE IN ASSESSING PERSONAL PROPERTY AS MEANS OF RELIEVING REAL ESTATE OF HUGE BURDEN IN ADDRESS TO ASSESSORS — ADDRESSES THEM IN COUNCIL CHAMBER MEETING — POINTS TO REDUCTIONS IN VALUATIONS DURING YEARS SINCE 1929 AND SUGGESTS TIME IS NOW RIPE FOR A GREATER EQUALIZATION OF BURDENS — ASKS THAT FAIRNESS AND JUSTICE BE METED OUT TO ALL.

Mayor Mansfield spoke as follows at the meeting of the Assessing Department, held in the City Council Chamber on the morning of December 31:

The assessments for 1935 are to be made for the first time under date of January 1. This is a radical change from the old custom, when April 1 was the taxing date.

The efforts of the assessors should be directed towards careful and equal assessments, and to obtain as much additional revenue from the assessment of personal property as possible, so that the burden upon real estate may be relieved.

Since 1929, when the peak was reached on real estate values, there have been reductions in the valuation of real estate amounting to $351,000,000. It may be that these reductions have reached the low-water mark, and if so the efforts of the assessors from this time on should be towards an equalization of value.

In the course of your canvas there should be a very earnest effort made to assess property of similar character upon an equal basis.

Groups of similar property should be considered, to the end that there should be a relation between assessments on properties of like character. Hotels, for instance, office buildings, apartment houses, stores and single dwellings should be compared and proportionate assessments made on each.

Frequent consultations with deputies and principal assessors will allow for these comparisons, and when the valuations are completed there will be well-balanced assessments that will not be subject to attack.

The efforts of the assessors, in every case, should be to determine a fair and proportionate assessment on all property that it is their duty to assess.

Another condition to be carefully observed, as the result of this taxing date as of January 1, will be the consideration of proper assessments on stocks of merchandise. There may be found to be more or less on hand because of this new taxing date. Stocks of merchandise, particularly after the Christmas holidays, may be depleted, but, on the other hand, certain other personal property of a more staple character and less subject to changes by removals and transfer may show larger amounts on hand than under the April date.

Tax Commissioner's Aid.

The Tax Commissioner, I am advised, is to cooperate with the assessors in assisting them in the assessment of stocks of merchandise on hand January 1. There is available at his office much information that will be of great assistance to the assessors in determining values, and the data will be furnished to them.

Taxpayers should be immediately advised of the change in the taxing date, so that they may be fully acquainted with the due date of the tax bills, which will be one-half on July 1 and one-half on October 1. These tax bills are to be delivered on or before June 14, and it is desirable that the taxpayers be encouraged to make payments when the June bills are issued.

The taxpayers should also be encouraged to file with the assessors a list of the tangible personal property on hand January 1. To the extent of the taxpayers cooperating with the assessors will be measured the equality and fairness with which the tax burden can be spread.

The assessing of property as of January 1 starts a new period of tax history, and presents to the Board of Assessors the necessity of bringing universal compliance with the law, which compels the filing, by each taxpayer with the assessors, a list of all their tangible personal property on hand on or before February 15.

The 1935 tax bill will be the amount that each taxpayer is obligated to pay for the cost of running his local government from January 1 to December 31, 1935. The question was often raised as to whether the tax bill covered a period of nine months or a year, or whether it ran from January to January or April to April. This is now explained, as the tax bill is dated on January 1 and the money received used to pay the costs of operating the city to the end of the calendar year.

DISBURSEMENT PLANS FOR CITY DEPARTMENTS INAUGURATED BY BUDGET COMMISSIONER CHARLES J. FOX, AT DIRECTION OF MAYOR MANSFIELD — INSTRUCTIONS GOVERNING INSTALLATION OF NEW SYSTEM OF ACCOUNTS ISSUED AND PUT INTO EFFECT BY EXECUTIVE ORDER OF THE MAYOR EXPECTED TO SIMPLIFY KEEPING OF ACCOUNTS AND PROVIDE FOR GREATER SAVINGS.

The Auditor has issued the following communications to the heads of departments relative to the installation of the new disbursement system that is being instituted at the direction of Mayor Mansfield:

AUDITING DEPARTMENT.

Boston, December 26, 1934.

COMMENTS AND SUGGESTIONS RELATING TO NEW DISBURSEMENT SYSTEM.

Foreword.

The primary purpose of the new disbursement system is to make available in this office a complete record of departmental expenditures and commitments "before the fact" as well as "after the fact." The new system is not intended in any way to interfere with the independence and prerogatives of department heads, does not change in any way the procedure followed at present in the actual payment of invoices or drafts, and should not impose any great amount of additional work on departmental forces.

Selection of the media through which articles or services shall be secured will continue to rest with department heads and officials. Departments who have carefully observed in the past all requirements of a proper commitment procedure, namely, the issuance of requisitions for purchases through the Supply and Printing Departments, the issuance of orders for direct purchases of articles and services, together with the proper and adequate checking of receipts and performances, will continue this procedure. The only additional requirements for such departments under the new system is that at the beginning of each month they will be required to submit estimates of recurring monthly charges, and on the receipt of complete or partial deliveries or performances send a notice to the Auditing Department in proper form.

FORMS.

All necessary forms may be secured from the Printing Department. The following guide is offered for the information of department officials:

1. Forms required by all departments.
Departmental Receiving Notice.
Recurring Charges Notice.
2. Departments purchasing through Supply Department.
Purchase requisition.— In duplicate—For close-knit departments.
In triplicate—For departments spread over a large area.
3. Departments purchasing direct from vendors.
Service order.
4. Departments purchasing through Printing Department.
Use regular printing or stationery requisitions furnished by Printing Department.

USE OF FORMS.

The following summary is intended to indicate the manner in which departments will use the different forms:

1. When using facilities of Supply Department to secure equipment, supplies, or materials, use "Purchase Requisition," which is prepared in duplicate for closely-knit departments, and in triplicate for those departments whose activities are spread out over a large area. When filled out the first copy of this form should be forwarded to the Superintendent of Supplies, and the others, retained in the departmental files.
2. When using facilities of Printing Department to secure printing and office supplies, use the regular requisition forms which are now supplied by the Printing Department.
3. When ordering services, equipment, supplies, or materials, direct from the vendor, use the "Service Order." When filled out, the first three copies of this form should be sent to the Auditing Department and the other two copies retained in departmental files. After each "Service Order" has been properly recorded in the Auditing Department, the first two copies, in the case of departments located outside City Hall, will be forwarded direct to the vendor. No "Service Order" will be deemed complete unless the "estimated cost" of the service is placed on the 3d and 4th copies. In the event it is impossible to estimate in advance the cost of the proposed service, the copies of the "Service Order" when forwarded to the Auditing Department should be accompanied by a letter from the department head stating the reason why no advance estimate is furnished.

4. When services are performed or articles delivered, the employee directly in contact with the performance or delivery should fill out the "Departmental Receiving Notice" and forward same to the head of the department. If it appears from this notice that complete performance or delivery has taken place, the head of the department should then forward to the Auditing Department one of the following forms:

No. 6. Copy of "Purchase Order" if articles have been secured through the Supply Department.

No. 3. Copy of "Printing or Stationery Order" if service or articles have been secured from Printing Department.

No. 5. Copy of "Service Order" if service or articles have been ordered directly.

If a partial performance or delivery is indicated, the "Departmental Receiving Notice" should be forwarded to the Auditing Department, after proper notation has been made on the No. 6, No. 3, or No. 5 copy retained in the departmental files. Upon final completion of the performance or delivery, this latter notice will be forwarded to the Auditing Department, whereupon all partial delivery notices will be returned to the department involved.

5. At the beginning of each month the "Recurring Charges Notice" will be prepared by department heads. On this notice should be listed an estimate of all charges which recur more or less automatically from month to month. In general, charges to be listed on this notice should include all expenditures of a more or less constant and fixed nature which occur regularly without the issuance of an order of any sort. This notice should be forwarded without delay to the Auditing Department.

MODIFICATIONS.

The color scheme originally announced to apply to the different forms has been modified as follows:

Vendors' 2d copy	— orange instead of pale blue.
Auditor's 3d copy	— pale blue instead of yellow.
Supply Department copy	— green instead of orange.
Departmental Receiving Notice	— yellow instead of green.

The original and fourth copies remain as announced, namely, white and pink.

With the consent of the Superintendent of Supplies, departments may list items chargeable to different appropriations on the same purchase requisition.

On all E. R. A. purchases or commitments (chargeable to the H Budget group), the same requisition as is now in use will be prepared by departments and forwarded as at present to 80 Joy street.

Departments using the "Service Order" will forward to the Auditing Department only the first three copies, retaining in their own files the fourth and fifth copies. If the individual department is located outside City Hall, in order to save time and avoid delay in the placing of orders, the Auditing Department, after making a proper entry of the service order, will forward the same direct to the vendor.

Respectfully,

CHARLES J. FOX,
City Auditor.

AUDITING DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 26, 1934.

To Department Heads and Officials.

The pay roll week ending January 3, 1935, will be a split or divided week, in that for salaried employees four days will be charged to the December 31, 1934, supplementary draft, and three days against the January 31, 1935, draft, and for weekly or per diem employees, three days will be charged to the December 31, 1934, supplementary draft, and three days will be charged to the January 31, 1935, draft. This split or division must be indicated on the pay roll and budget subdivision sheets, and two separate sets of pay roll requisitions must be submitted to the Auditing Department covering each period.

The "dead line" for submitting invoices or pay rolls to be paid on the December 31, 1934, supplementary draft has been fixed as January 15, 1935. Positively no bills or pay rolls chargeable against 1934 will be received after that date to be included in the December 31, 1934, supplementary draft. This rule will be strictly enforced because of the necessity of clearing up at the earliest possible date the accounts of the old year and thus permit this department to direct its entire attention and effort to the new disbursement system.

Invoices covering telephone, gas and electricity charges, where the monthly period for rendering of bills varies, should be submitted to the Auditing Department with the closing date nearest to December 31, in order to assure their being placed on the supplementary draft. Bills received from public service corporations after the submission of the supplementary draft to the Auditing Department, and covering charges for a portion of the month of December, 1934, will have to be included on the January 31, 1935, draft.

To facilitate the handling of the December 31, 1934, supplementary draft in this office, the larger departments of the city are requested to submit from time to time between now and the fifteenth of next January any substantial number of invoices that represent proper charges against the final draft for the year 1934. Each batch of invoices submitted should, of course, be accompanied by the usual requisitions and subdivision sheets.

Respectfully,

CHARLES J. FOX,
City Auditor.

MAYOR'S ADDRESS TO ASSESSORS.

CHANGE RADICAL.

Because of this radical change, it is incumbent upon the assessors to be as courteous and considerate as possible, and they should advise the taxpayer in regard to the taxing date and also as to their rights and obligations.

The assessors should be fair and just, and have the courage to place upon their books a full and fair valuation. In this way the burden is equitably spread, inequalities are avoided, and the number of abatements lessened.

There are certain sections of the city that have already received substantial reductions in the past few years. If it appears that these reductions have been sufficient, no further abatements should be considered. If, however, the relief given has been insufficient, then it is your duty to carefully consider what further changes should be made in order to bring about fair and proportionate assessments.

The assessors will adapt themselves to the change from April to the January date of assessing in a short time, and much valued information may be obtained by a study of maps and plans now on file in the department and daily conferences with the principal assessors and deputies regarding conditions in general and in particular the district to which you are especially assigned.

Give special attention to the taxation of tangible personal property to the end that real estate may not be unjustly burdened because of any neglect in the taxing of other property which, under existing laws, is liable for and should pay its proper and proportionate share of the cost of government.

Assessment of real estate and polls are taken as of January 1 of the current year instead of April 1 as has been the custom for many years past. This is also true of police listing and the people are requested to take notice of this in order to have their information at hand when the assessors call or police listers call.

AUDITING DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, January 2, 1935.

To Department Heads and Officials.

The following notes and instructions are issued for your information and consideration:

1. The regulation providing that departments in submitting bills for payment during 1935 should fold them into packages before sending them to this department has been temporarily suspended. Bills on the January 31, 1935, draft may be submitted without being folded.

2. In order that the records of the Disbursement Section may reflect every obligation pertaining to 1935, department heads are requested in the case of commitments made during the latter part of 1934 which will not be consummated, or completed, until 1935, to issue immediately requisitions, or orders, covering the portion of the commitment which is still outstanding. In short, every 1935 charge should be covered by an order irrespective of the time when the charge was initiated.

3. Service orders, issued by departments under the new disbursement procedure, should be accompanied by agreements with the vendor, or contractor, whenever they can be secured.

4. Employees receiving goods should make an actual count of each shipment before filling out the Departmental Receiving Notice.

5. As far as possible all materials are to be purchased under the new disbursement procedure f. o. b. Boston. If, however, material is received with charges collect, which should have been shipped f. o. b., the freight or express bills after being paid should be sent immediately to the Disbursement Section, Auditing Department. Notation should also be made on the receiving notice to indicate that deductions are to be made on invoice.

6. Letters addressed to the Mayor requesting his permission to award a contract to a specified contractor should be sent direct to the Mayor's office.

7. The carbon paper which will be found between Service Order copies should not be destroyed. Being of standard letter size, it may be used several times before losing its effectiveness. By utilizing it in this fashion departments will reduce the necessity for purchasing an additional supply of carbon paper for correspondence purposes.

8. In the lower right hand section of the Departmental Receiving Notice, departments are required to indicate whether the shipment represents "1st, 2d, or Final Shipment." Since employees actually receiving goods may not have sufficient information with which to complete this entry, it is suggested that this information be furnished in the Central Office of the department concerned.

9. The submission of bills for payment on monthly drafts, under the new disbursement procedure, will be made as in the past. No change has been made in the methods which have prevailed for many years in this respect, except that the "Schedule of Bills" and "Subdivision Sheet" have been combined into one form. Departments may secure this new form from the Printing Department.

Respectfully,

CHARLES J. FOX,
City Auditor.

TO FILL VACANCIES.

The Mayor has approved the following request of the Commissioner of Public Works:

To the Mayor of Boston.

Temporary vacancies caused by sickness of tollmen-guards employed in the Summer Tunnel have been occurring with such frequency of late that our operating schedule has been affected by reason of the absentees. At present we have two men on sick leave without pay who will be absent for an indefinite period, and it is absolutely necessary that their places be filled in order that the full complement be on duty at all times.

I, therefore, recommend for your approval, that requisition be made on the civil service list for two permanent-intermittent tollmen-guards at $5.50 a day to fill the intermittent vacancies as they occur. This will not entail any additional expense as absentees are not paid during the period of their absence.

Yours respectfully,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon varying dates as indicated the Mayor has approved contracts with several firms and establishments for work and supplies. Communications from the heads of the several departments interested were as follows:

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 21, 1934.

To the Mayor of Boston.

At present there are ten electric lamps, boulevard type, on Washington street, between Broadway and Stuart street.

To make said street a "White Way," etc., there should be installed sixteen new 1,500 candle power lamps. These lamps.

at the request of the city, are installed by the Edison Electric Illuminating Company without cost as to installation. The maximum cost per lamp per year is $84.40 and if the additional lamps are installed the yearly expense will add to the lamp service appropriation $1,350.40 per year.

Respectfully yours,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BOSTON, December 28, 1934.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—On December 6, 1934, I transmitted to you copies of contracts between the city and the Boston Consolidated Gas Company for furnishing illuminating gas for street lighting and for equipment and the lighting and extinguishing of gas lamps for street lighting in the city for a term of five years beginning January 1, 1935, for your approval and that of the City Council. I understand that the City Council has not yet set down a date for a hearing on said contracts.

In order that there may be no interruption in the service of lighting the city streets, I hereby respectfully request your authority to award the following contracts without inviting proposals therefor by advertisement:

1. Contract for furnishing illuminating gas for street lighting to the Boston Consolidated Gas Company for a term of one month from January 1, 1935, at the present rate of $8.42 per lamp per year for single burner, 60 candle power lamps;

2. Contract for equipment and the lighting and extinguishing of gas lamps for the City of Boston, excluding Hyde Park, to the Boston Consolidated Gas Company for a term of one month from January 1, 1935, at the present rate of $14.70 per lamp per year—with the provision in each of said contracts that, in the event that the five-year contracts, above mentioned, are given the approval necessary to make them effective, the payments made under the one-month contracts shall be credited as payments on the respective five-year contract.

Respectfully,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BOSTON, December 27, 1934.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—In place of considering the bids received on December 17, for receiving and disposing of garbage in the Jamaica Plain district, which the low bidder was to be paid a price of $9.75 per month for removing the garbage, deposited in a truck at the Highland Street Yard I have today received an offer from Anthony Bushman, 122 New Boston street, North Woburn, Mass., in which he offers to take the garbage from the City of Boston at the transfer point—the Roxbury Yard—and to pay the city the sum of $40 per month for the garbage so obtained. This is a far better proposition than paying some one to take the garbage away.

I respectfully request your approval for entering into a contract with Anthony Bushman in which he will pay to the city monthly $40, and we will transfer to his truck the garbage hauled to the Highland Street Yard. He is also willing to furnish a bond to the amount of $1,000, to guarantee the fulfillment of the contract, and I consider the proposition worth accepting.

Respectfully yours,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BOSTON, December 31, 1934.

To the Mayor of Boston.

Supplementing my letter to you of December 8, 1934, requesting your approval to the award of a contract for removing snow and ice in District No. 6, to the National Engineering and Construction Company, the second lowest bidder, and confirming my earlier oral statement to you, please be advised that I have not recommended the award of said contract to Baker, Matz & Co., because said latter contractor has been awarded a contract for removing snow and ice in District No. 3.

In my opinion Baker, Matz & Co., can handle only one district in a proper and efficient manner to the greatest benefit of the public using the streets during and after a snow storm.

Respectfully yours,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BOSTON, December 31, 1934.

To the Mayor of Boston.

Supplementing my letter to you of December 8, 1934, requesting your approval to the award of a contract for removing snow and ice in District No. 2, to Leo J. Nawn, Incorporated, the fourth lowest bidder, and confirming my earlier oral statement to you, please be advised that I have not recommended the award of said contract to J. A. Singarella, Incorporated, because said latter contractor has been awarded a contract for removing snow and ice in District No. 1, with reference to which he was the lowest bidder, nor have I recommended the award of said contract to J. P. McCabe, Incorporated, because said latter contractor has been awarded a contract for removing snow and ice in District No. 11, with reference to which he was the lowest bidder, nor have I recommended the award of said contract to Baker, Matz & Co., because said latter contractor has been awarded a contract for removing snow and ice in District No. 3.

In my opinion, J. A. Singarella, Incorporated, J. P. McCabe, Incorporated, and Baker, Matz & Co. can only handle one district in a proper and efficient manner to the greatest benefit of the public using the streets during and after a snow storm.

Respectfully yours,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BOSTON, December 31, 1934.

To the Mayor of Boston.

Supplementing my letter to you of December 8, 1934, requesting your approval to the award of a contract for removing snow and ice in District No. 4, to Dooley Brothers, Incorporated, the fourth lowest bidder, and confirming my earlier oral statement to you, please be advised that I have not recommended the award of said contract to Baker, Matz & Co., because said latter contractor has been awarded a contract for removing snow and ice in District No. 3, nor have I recommended the award of said contract to J. P. McCabe, Incorporated, because said latter contractor has been awarded a contract for removing snow and ice in District No. 11, with reference to which he was the lowest bidder, nor have I recommended the award of said contract to Martin J. Kelly, because said latter contractor has been awarded a contract for removing snow and ice in District No. 8.

In my opinion, Baker, Matz & Co., J. P. McCabe, Incorporated, and Martin J. Kelly can handle only one district in a proper and efficient manner to the greatest benefit of the public using the streets during and after a snow storm.

Respectfully yours,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BOSTON, December 31, 1934.

McCabe, Incorporated, because said latter contractor has been awarded a contract for removing snow and ice in District No. 11, with reference to which he was the lowest bidder.

In my opinion J. P. McCabe, Incorporated, can handle only one district in a proper and efficient manner to the greatest benefit of the public using the streets during and after a snow storm.

Respectfully yours,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 20, 1934.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Under date of November 21, 1934, the City of Boston entered into a contract with Jacob Thurman relative to the purchase of flour (bread and pastry) for delivery to the various city departments. Included in the contract is the following clause:

"It is agreed that the City of Boston, with the approval of the Mayor, may, beginning January 1, 1935, at its option, purchase, and the Contractor agrees to deliver upon the same terms and conditions as aforesaid, such quantity of said flour as may not have been ordered up to and including December 31, 1934. This privilege is extended to January 29, 1935."

I respectfully request that you approve the purchase on behalf of the City of Boston, pursuant to the above-quoted option, upon the same terms and conditions as are stated in said contract, such quantities of flour (bread and pastry) referred to therein as may not have been ordered up to and including December 31, 1934, for the extended period permitted thereby, to wit, to January 29, 1935.

Respectfully yours,

WARREN W. LOOMIS,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON, December 27, 1934.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising same, to

Charles J. McCarty Company, Incorporated, for furnishing to the Sewer Service the following:

One Model 105 Ingersoll-Rand portable gasoline engine driven compressor unit, at a delivered price of $1,875.

The following prices were received from the various bidders:

Ingersoll-Rand Company of New England, $1,875; Charles J. McCarty Company, Incorporated, $1,875; Walter W. Field & Son, $1,875; Chicago Pneumatic Tool Company, $1,875.

The division engineer of the Sewer Service recommends the purchase of an Ingersoll-Rand machine, as he feels that through familiarity with this machine that better results can be obtained from his working force.

The reason for asking for an award, without advertising, is that the Sewer Service intends to pay for this machine from funds in their 1934 budget, and the public advertisement would necessitate such a delay that delivery could not be effected in the year 1934.

Respectfully yours,

WARREN W. LOOMIS,
Superintendent of Supplies.

ASKS MAYOR TO AID IN LOCATING MOTHER.

The following is a copy of letter received by Mayor Mansfield from Leonard McLean of 192 Sherman street, Perth Amboy, New Jersey:

192 SHERMAN STREET,
PERTH AMBOY, N. J.,
December 27, 1934.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—I trust you will forgive me for writing, but after you have read my letter you will understand how important it is to me.

Back in 1903, my mother, Jennie Edith McLean, resided in your city in the Roxbury area. She was born in Restigouche County, New Brunswick, Canada, August 1, 1884.

I was born in Boston, March 16, 1904. On May 26, 1906, she turned me over to the New England Home for Little Wanderers. Since that time I have not heard from her. Through anonymous letters I have recently learned she is alive.

I wonder, Mr. Mayor, if you would grant me the favor of asking your local papers to help me find her. I have a feeling that she is in need and I want to help her. It is true that I have not had contact with her for 28 years, but still I, as her son, wish to help her.

I am prepared to give a cash reward of fifty dollars ($50) to the person who will communicate either with your office or direct to me any definite information that will disclose her present whereabouts.

I know I ask a great deal of you and your city papers in granting me this great favor. All I ask is that I find my mother and put my mind at rest as to her circumstances.

Thanking you for your interest in my behalf,

Very truly yours,

LEONARD McLEAN.

MAYOR MANSFIELD'S NEW YEAR MESSAGE.

The following is Mayor Mansfield's New Year message to the citizens of Boston:

In the closing hours of the old year our minds naturally turn with anxiety to the future, and to what 1935 holds in store for us. There is no gainsaying the fact that 1934 has been a hard year—but I do not think it was as hard a year as 1933. Unless the stories carried in the commercial pages of the metropolitan press are mere propaganda and therefore to be discounted as such, there appears to be a decided improvement in private industry. Reports from the retail trades show a very busy holiday season for 1934. Apparently there is still a great deal of money to be spent, and many of the people who have that money are entirely willing to spend it.

With Federal aid our unemployment problem seems less difficult than it has been in the past. In April, 1934, when E. R. A. was first instituted, Boston's monthly allotment was $453,000. By constant demands this amount has gradually been raised until for January, 1935, the Federal Government has allotted $1,130,000 with which to put the unemployed to work in Boston. Where we have been employing 13,000 men this would mean that we can employ about 22,000, and this in turn means that many men now forced to accept welfare aid will disappear from the welfare rolls.

The outlook is better for private business and for a larger measure of aid from the Federal Government. I confidently expect that the year 1935 will be much more encouraging than its predecessor. As Mayor of the City of Boston I shall do all in my power to make it so and extend to the people of the city my heartfelt wish for a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Buckley of 636 West Roxbury Parkway on Centre street, near Police Station No. 17, and did go with them in their automobile to the Arborway Cafe, 59 Hyde Park avenue, Division 13, and before entering the said Arborway Cafe did put on a civilian overcoat of the said Howard J. Buckley over his uniform coat and did remove his uniform cap, leaving it in the automobile, and did enter the said Arborway Cafe with the said Howard J. Buckley, and while inside the Arborway Cafe did get involved in an altercation with several unknown men, as a result of which he received injuries, had his revolver and police club taken away from him and was taken to the Forest Hills Hospital by the said Mary Buckley in her automobile where he was held for treatment, and by so doing did bring into disrepute and criticism himself and his associates in the Police Force, and the Police Department as a whole.

Charge 2: Untruthfulness.

Specification: In that on the 4th day of December, 1934, when questioned by Deputy Superintendent John M. Anderson and his commanding officer, the said John E. Striplin did state that he met one Mary Buckley at Corinth and Washington streets at about 2.30 a. m., December 4, 1934, and, at her request, went with her in her automobile to the Arborway Cafe at 59 Hyde Park avenue, to get her brother, Howard J. Buckley, to leave the cafe, and that he did enter the said cafe in full uniform, when in fact and in truth he, the said John E. Striplin knew his statement was false, and by so doing did commit an act contrary to good order and discipline,— has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

"The Board having heard and carefully considered all the evidence as presented, accepts the plea of guilty by Patrolman Striplin. Patrolman Striplin was off his own division and off duty at the time the offense was committed, and in effect did what amounted to removal of his uniform, and in view of the evidence presented the Board would be inclined to inflict the strict penalty of dismissal as required by Rule 36, section 11, but considering the fact that in being untruthful he harmed nobody but himself, and also in view of the recommendation of Deputy Superintendent John M. Anderson and Captain John J. Hanrahan, who was at that time his commanding officer, the Board respectfully recommends that the commissioner waive the dismissal clause and that the said Patrolman John E. Striplin be ordered to perform 210 hours of punishment duty."

The commissioner accepts the finding and the recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman John E. Striplin perform 210 hours of punishment duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH J. LEONARD,
Commissioner.

IV. COMMENDATIONS.

The Fire Commissioner is pleased to publish the following letters which he has received concerning services rendered by members of the Fire Department.

The first letter, from Mr. Gordon W. Russell of the James Russell Boiler Works, is in appreciation of services rendered by members of this department at a fire at the Russell Boiler Works on December 19, 1934:

December 20, 1934.

EDWARD F. McLAUGHLIN,
Fire Commissioner.

DEAR SIR,—Not in our twenty years of experience have we had the reason to watch your department work, from a personal and interested standpoint, until last evening.

We had a threatening blaze around some valuable machinery, and wish to compliment you and District Chief Montgomery upon the manner in which the whole matter was handled.

The officers and personnel sensed the whole situation immediately, and used such care in handling their streams that instead of a mass of cracked cast iron, we have the original machinery, damaged to some extent, of course, but still in such condition that we will be able to use it after making some repairs.

We were impressed with the thoroughness of the men in extinguishing every spark and going over the entire property.

Trusting we will not bother you and your good men for another twenty years, we are,

Yours very truly,

JAMES RUSSELL BOILER WORKS COMPANY,
GORDON W. RUSSELL.

The second letter, from the American Red Cross, is in appreciation of the services rendered by the members of the Fire Department in connection with the recent roll call of that organization:

December 22, 1934.

MR. EDWARD F. McLAUGHLIN,
Fire Commissioner.

DEAR MR. McLAUGHLIN,—Today we are closing the downtown office which has been the temporary headquarters of the Industrial Division of the Red Cross Roll Call. The remaining details of the drive will be handled at the Metropolitan Chapter Headquarters, 347 Commonwealth avenue.

However, before bringing our personal activities to a close for this year, we want jointly to acknowledge our sincere appreciation for the splendid help and assistance which you have given us. We can safely say that the showing of your department was the outstanding accomplishment of the drive, and we know that this was due to your personal efforts and interest in its success.

You will be pleased and gratified to know that the Industrial Division Roll Call has been a substantial success. There has been, thanks to you and others who have served as chairmen and who have given either their name or active support, or both, to the campaign, a very fine reaction to our efforts in both memberships and contributions.

Your help has made a difficult task much easier, and we want to express to you our sincere thanks and appreciation.

May we take this opportunity of wishing you hearty Season's Greetings!

Sincerely yours,

HENRY J. NICHOLS, Chairman.
WILLIAM J. FORTUNE, Vice Chairman.

The commissioner is also in receipt of a letter from Merchants and Miners Transportation Company, in which commendation is given to the members of the department for the splendid work performed by them at the recent fire in the steamship "Ontario."

The commissioner wishes to add his personal commendation to the men of the department for the excellent services performed by them on the occasion of this fire. It is a generally recognized fact that fire in cargo on shipboard is most difficult to combat, as well as accompanied by many hazards. Nevertheless, it was evident to all interested that the members of the Boston Fire Department performed their duty heroically and efficiently.

Capt. Jacob Berninger of Engine Company 9 is hereby commended for responding to still alarm on December 12, 1934, for accident to an automobile truck loaded with range oil. Captain Berninger assisted Engine Company 11 in shutting off the oil supply and flushing the street, he being off duty at the time.

Ladderman William O. Cheswell of Ladder Company 1 is hereby commended for assisting in recovering a purse which had been taken from a woman at about 6.45 p. m., December 12, 1934. Ladderman Cheswell turned the purse over to the police at Station 2 who returned it to the woman who owned it.

Hoseman Francis P. Wilcutt of Engine Company 48 and Ladderman James J. Sreenan of Ladder Company 28 are hereby commended for responding to a call for assistance while off duty on December 12, 1934, when a boy was drowned in Neponset river.

Ladder men Walter S. Fields and Edward J. Russell of Ladder Company 9 are hereby commended for responding to and working at fire, Box 3139, second alarm, December 12, 1934, while off duty.

Hoseman Ernest L. Alexander of Engine Company 5 is hereby commended for extinguishing a fire in an automobile truck, opposite 452 Meridian street, East Boston, December 14, 1934, while off duty.

District Chief Joseph W. Shea of District 11 is hereby commended for responding to and working at fire, Box 5155, December 25, 1934, while off duty.

Acting under the authority vested in him by the provisions of section 23 of chapter 486 of the Acts of the year 1909, the City Auditor proposes to install and maintain in the Auditing Department, commencing with the beginning of the financial year 1935, a system of records and accounts on which daily entries of obligations incurred and expenditures made by city departments shall be recorded, and from which daily unencumbered and unexpended balances may be obtained. To maintain this system the City Auditor further proposes that officers and boards in charge of city departments shall present to the Auditing Department, before liability is incurred and expenditure is made, all orders and contracts for services, materials, and supplies, or involving any other proposed expenditure or obligation, for certification as to the availability of sufficient funds in the appropriations affected to warrant the making of a commitment for, and the expenditure of, the amount stated in the order.

The details and elements of the procedure which the City Auditor proposes to establish are contained in a document entitled "A Proposed Disbursement Procedure Designed to Secure More Effective Control Over Departmental Expenditures," which was presented for my consideration and approval under date of November 15, 1934. Having given careful consideration to the procedure as outlined in this document, I hereby indicate my approval of the same and direct all heads of departments and members of municipal boards to cooperate with the City Auditor in establishing and maintaining this new system of records and accounts.

BOSTON, December 22, 1934.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston

SIR,—I desire to inform you that the Jamaica Plain unit of this department will open for business on Friday, December 28, 1934.

The unit is located in the basement of the Library Building at Sedgwick and South streets, Jamaica Plain. We plan to open a branch of the Jamaica Plain unit in the Roslindale Municipal Building to serve the 214 cases in the West Roxbury and Roslindale district.

Work on the Morton street branch of the Dorchester district, which will serve the people in lower Dorchester, has already been started and will be completed in January, 1935.

The main office of the Dorchester unit is to be located in a building of the Public Works Department on Hancock street, but inasmuch as the changes there are extensive, it will be sometime in the latter part of February or early in March before this unit will be in full operation.

Yours truly,

JOHN C. L. DOWLING,

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

RECREATION, ADEQUATE AS TO KIND AND AVAILABILITY.

Although the ratio of park acreage to population has been used as the simplest measure of the extent to which cities provide areas for the recreation of their people, it is by no means an accurate basis for determining this. If most of the total acreage is in one large park, if the parks are poorly distributed, or if they do not provide various types of recreation facilities, the park system may be inefficient even though the acreage is large. The efficiently planned park and recreation system will involve balanced relationship and well-distributed location of several types of properties, namely, children's playgrounds, neighborhood playfield parks, neighborhood parks, reservations, boulevards, and parkways.

CITY RECORD

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 27.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 12, 1935.

NO. 2

MAYOR MANSFIELD FORECASTS EFFORTS FOR IMPROVING BOSTON'S CONDITION AS A CITY IN 1935—IN ANNUAL ADDRESS TO NEW CITY COUNCIL HE REVIEWS PROGRESS OF FIRST YEAR OF HIS ADMINISTRATION AND PROMISES TO WORK FOR GREATER PROGRESS IN SECOND YEAR—TO CONTINUE IMPROVEMENT OF CITY'S CREDIT AND ITS ADMINISTRATIVE MACHINERY, TO COOPERATE IN ALL REASONABLE PLANS FOR REDUCING UNEMPLOYMENT AND ADVANCING NATIONAL RECOVERY—ALSO TO BUILD UP PORT OF BOSTON AS WELL AS IMPROVE GENERAL CONDITIONS IN THE CITY—METROPOLITAN BOSTON PLAN TO BE STUDIED.

In his annual address to Boston City Council, January 7, 1935, Mayor Frederick W. Mansfield spoke as follows:

When I took office as Mayor on January 1, 1934, three great problems confronted me:

1. The maintenance and improvement of the credit of the city.
2. The relief of the unemployed.
3. The task of striving to make Boston once again a prosperous city and a better one in which to live.

I am pleased to report that substantial progress has been made.

I have frequently stressed the vital importance of maintaining the credit of the city. Money must in each year be borrowed in anticipation of revenue. If the credit of the city should become impaired or collapse, this money could not be borrowed. The necessary result of inability to borrow in anticipation of revenue would be that many municipal services demanded by and important to the welfare of the people of Boston would have to be curtailed, thousands of city employees would be obliged to work without pay or their discharge from the city's service would become imperative; and the city would find itself unable properly to care for the poor, the needy and the unemployed. The plight of many cities in the country today bears testimony to the real dangers which attend the impairment of municipal credit.

The borrowing in 1933 of $7,600,000 added $1,800,000 to the city's obligations in 1934 and necessarily contributed to an increased tax rate. It was obvious that the city could not continue borrowing on a short term basis; that a Federal grant could not be relied on in 1934; that the cost of materials and supplies, due to a rising market, would impose greater burdens on the city in 1934 than in 1933; and that further decline in real estate values would reduce the base of the city's main source of revenue.

Situation Grave.

The situation, therefore, facing the city in the early days of 1934 was grave.

I was confronted with the necessity of permitting the imposition of an increased tax rate on real estate in 1934 that would have been out of all bounds, or of borrowing large sums of money as was done in 1933, or of obtaining new sources of revenue, or of cutting expenditures. To permit an increased tax rate on real estate in 1934 greater than was permitted would, I think, have rendered the tax in large part uncollectible—it would have further impaired real estate values and it would have been most unfair to the home owner and would have injured the business of the city. To continue borrowing in 1934 on the 1933 scale with no likelihood of finding revenue to meet such borrowings would have spelt disaster. The Legislature showed no inclination to furnish new sources of revenue. The only recourse left to me, therefore, was that of curtailing expenses.

It was possible through the retrenchments made in 1934 to cut the gross sum of $2,500,000 from the city's operating budget for the year. Many factors, however, not under the control of the Mayor, including decreased real estate values, increased cost of purchases due to the rising market, an increase in Boston's debt requirements and in its share of the State tax and of the Metropolitan District assessment, made it impossible to keep the tax rate down. Were it not, however, for the savings made in the city's operating budget, the tax for 1934 would have been nearer $39 than $37, and were it not for these savings and the administrative improvements, the credit of the city might have been hopelessly impaired with the disastrous effects heretofore outlined. As it is, Boston's credit has unquestionably improved. This improvement is evidenced by the fact that Boston has been able to borrow during the year 1934 at an average rate of interest as low as 1.6 per cent on loans in anticipation of taxes as compared with 4.25 per cent in 1933 and at a rate of interest as low as 3 per cent on long term loans. The improvements in city administration, such as the control of expenditures and receipts through the new system of budget control, and changes in the Public Welfare Department which have been inaugurated during the past year, will be of permanent value to the city and its people.

I wish at this time, however, to discuss with you the problems of 1935 and to lay before you some of my plans for the coming year and to present to you fairly and frankly the serious difficulties with which we are now confronted.

MAYOR MANSFIELD CLARIFIES SITUATION ARISING OVER CHELSEA NORTH DRAWBRIDGE — POINTS OUT FALLACIOUS STATEMENTS ISSUED IN PRESS IMPUTING TO BOSTON AND THE MAYOR ATTITUDES NOT BASED ON FACTS — THESE SHOW STATEMENTS MADE PUBLIC REFLECT NOT ON BOSTON AND MAYOR BUT ON CHELSEA AND HER MAYOR — WHICH CITY STILL HAS $625 TO APPROPRIATE BEFORE REPAIRS CAN BE MADE.

My attention has just been called to a press item purporting to describe the action taken by the Chelsea Board of Aldermen last evening relative to the Chelsea North Drawbridge. Assuming that the story is true, I can only say that I am astonished and wholly mystified by the statements made and the action taken.

For example, it is related that the "Chelsea Board of Aldermen unanimously refused to pay the bill submitted by the Boston Mayor to cover our proportionate share of the expenses." I submitted no bill of any kind to the Chelsea Board of Aldermen. I have communicated solely with Mayor Quigley and any communication which reached the Chelsea Aldermen undoubtedly came from Mayor Quigley.

This bridge was provided for by an act of the Legislature, and under the terms of that bill the City of Boston was to pay 62½ per cent of one half of the cost of the bridge, or $84,375, and the City of Chelsea was to pay 37½ per cent of one half of the cost, or $50,625, the remaining one half to be paid by the Commonwealth out of the Highway Fund. The act further provides that unless the full appropriation is made by each city no work is to be done on the repairing of the bridge.

Boston made its appropriation promptly. The City of Chelsea instead of appropriating the full amount of $50,625 did appropriate $50,000, leaving $625 unappropriated. This sum being a small percentage of the whole amount involved holds up all work on the bridge because of the provision in the statute above referred to, and, further, because the State Public Utilities Board will refuse to approve of the matter until the entire appropriation is made.

The press item further refers to a message which I sent to the aldermen and to Mayor Quigley stating that unless Chelsea paid its share for the repair work, I would close the bridge next Monday because it was unsafe. This statement is wrong in two particulars. I sent no message whatever to the Board of Aldermen. I did send a telegram to Mayor Quigley, which has already appeared in the press, and in that telegram I said that Public Works Commissioner Carven, upon whose shoulder the responsibility for the safety of the bridge lies, had informed me that he (not I) would close the bridge in the interest of public safety if the appropriation was not made.

The press item further says that President Hanlon said "that Mayor Mansfield had the nerve to ask for the $50,625 when Boston owed Chelsea $90,000 on welfare settlements." I can only say that I haven't asked Chelsea for any money whatever but have asked Mayor Quigley to try to secure an appropriation of the remaining $625, which is holding up the very necessary repair upon this bridge. As to the welfare settlements the Overseers of the Public Welfare inform me that Chelsea has billed Boston for $68,000 and that we have counterclaims against Chelsea for welfare aid to its citizens in the amount of $79,500.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 4.

A trial board, consisting of Captains Campbell, Casey and Daley, having heard by reference a complaint made by Perley S. Skillings, captain, Division 16, against William F. Burke, patrolman, Division 16, for alleged violation of Rule 41 of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

"The Board having heard and carefully considered all the evidence as presented, accepts the plea of guilty made by the said Patrolman William F. Burke. The Board has considered the recommendation of Patrolman Burke's commanding officer, the fact that Burke has not previously been before a trial board charged with a violation of the rules and regulations of the department, his promise to take a pledge to abstain from the use of intoxicating liquor in the future, and, therefore, respectfully recommends that the said Patrolman William F. Burke be suspended from duty for a period of thirty days, effective as of December 12, 1934, at 7.45 o'clock, a. m., and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension the said Patrolman William F. Burke be ordered to perform 210 hours of punishment duty."

ANNUAL ADDRESS OF MAYOR MANSFIELD.

In 1934 the tax rate in the City of Boston was $37.10. This rate is attributable to many factors some of which I have already indicated. One factor, however, cannot be ignored and that is the amount expended for relief of the poor, the needy and the unemployed. Expenditures for such relief amounted in 1928 to less than $2,900,000. In 1934 these expenditures exceeded $13,100,000, an increase of more than $10,000,000. This increase represents approximately $6 in the tax rate.

In 1928, relief expenditures constituted less than 6 per cent of the operating budget of the city (including all school and city requirements except debt, pension accumulations and certain special items of an insignificant amount). In 1934 relief expenditures constituted approximately 35 per cent of the operating budget, an increase of almost 500 per cent over 1928.

The authority conferred upon the Mayor by chapter 121 of the Acts of 1933 to effect pay cuts terminated on December 31, 1934. On January 1, 1935, full pay, therefore, was restored to city employees. Salary restorations continued through the year will add to the city's burden to the extent of about $5,000,000. This represents approximately $3 in the tax rate. The East Boston Tunnel deficit may be as great as $600,000. If this deficit occurs and the state does not assume this burden, it must be borne by the city. This deficit will represent about 40 cents additional in the tax rate. An increase in the State tax upon municipalities has been threatened and an estimate made that the increase would amount to $2,500,000, a sum representing almost $1.50 in the tax rate. There is, therefore, a real danger that new burdens on the city will increase the tax rate almost $5.

A $42 tax rate would not only be grossly unfair to home owners, would not only seriously interfere with business and, therefore, with employment in the city, but it would tend to drive home owners from the city and thus further reduce real estate values. Moreover, it is extremely doubtful that such a tax could be collected. It has been the experience in Boston and in other cities that there is a limit beyond which tax rate increases will not produce added revenue. Tax delinquency is a growing menace and while every effort must be made to collect outstanding taxes, the indications are definite that further increases in property taxation are likely to produce less revenue rather than more.

An increase in the tax rate for 1935 must be avoided, if it is humanly possible, and every effort must be made to decrease the rate. We are, therefore, faced with the problem of further curtailing expenditures or of obtaining new and substantial sources of revenue. In connection with the question of curtailing expenses I wish to point out that the operating budget of the city, exclusive of welfare expenditures, is now 23 per cent less than in 1931.

The principal items of expenditures in the budget are expenditures for salaries and welfare. While there are many economies which can and must still be practised in city government, yet after such economies are put into effect it would require a rigorous curtailment in either welfare or salary expenditures, or both, to prevent an increase at this time in the tax, and a much more drastic curtailment to reduce the tax.

Needy Must be Aided.

Nothing is clearer, however, than that the poor, the needy, and the unemployed must be cared for and that we cannot curtail the amount needed for relief, unless better conditions operate to relieve the rolls. While we hope that conditions will improve, yet we cannot plan with any reasonable degree of assurance that there will be substantially lessened relief rolls in the current year, and the load will undoubtedly be heavy for many years to come. National recovery will probably be slow, and gradual. Relief expenditures at the present time exceed those of a year ago at this time.

Curtailement in expenditures for salaries and wages can be made in only two ways — suspensions from service or reductions in salary. Suspension of sufficient employees to effect a reduction in the tax rate, or even to prevent an increase, would mean the suspension of thousands of employees at a time when every effort is being made by the Federal Government to stimulate employment and would require the elimination of many services of great benefit to the community. Ultimately such action would be most costly.

General reductions in the salaries of city employees are, in my opinion, sound only as a last resort, unless city employees are being paid a higher salary than the work they are performing calls for during the period of performance. I do not believe that city employees are as a rule paid such excessive salary. If they render faithful service, they should not be reduced in pay, unless it is impossible for the city to pay them their full wage. The times are against such reductions and costs of living do not justify it. In 1934 it was impossible to obtain new sources of revenue. Salary reductions initiated in April, 1933, were therefore necessary in 1934. I trust that conditions which made this necessary will not prevail in 1935.

I do not mean to indicate that reasonable economies should not be practised. They must. But without drastic curtailments in one way or another of salaries, or wholesale suspensions and elimination of important municipal services, such economies cannot prevent an increased tax rate, unless new sources of revenue can be found. I shall, therefore, petition the Legislature for relief by providing such new sources of revenue.

State Must Aid.

Massachusetts has done little to aid the municipalities to bear the tremendous welfare load cast upon them. It is my purpose to ask the Legislature to grant to the cities and towns of the Commonwealth a sum equal to two thirds of the increase in the welfare expenditures of the year 1934 over the expenditures of the year 1928, this money to be raised by the Commonwealth by borrowing. That increase amounted to $38,000,000. Two thirds of that would be, roughly, $25,000,000.

To meet its loan the Commonwealth must ultimately assess the annual payments thereon to the cities and towns, unless some other source of payment is provided. It is, therefore, essential that new revenue be found from which to meet these loans. Such new revenue should be sufficient to enable the cities and towns to lessen the excessive burden of property taxes which must otherwise be imposed by them to meet welfare costs in succeeding years, and to retire debts created because of welfare needs. An increased income tax alone will not, at least in these times, furnish adequate relief,—since under our Constitution it cannot be graduated. There is, I believe, only one form of tax which would be adequate for present needs and that is a tax on retail sales. Such a tax has been enacted and is now in effect, in one form or other, in approximately one half of the states of the Union. I propose, therefore, to ask the Legislature to follow the precedent these states have set and to enact a two per cent retail sales tax for a period of five years. This will spread the burden of taxation so that it will not be too great on anyone. I shall, however, ask for exemptions with respect to sales of food, drugs and medicines, water delivered in pipes, newspapers, magazines selling for 5 cents or less,—and gasoline and liquor which are already taxed. I do not believe that in these times even a 2 per cent tax should be imposed on the sale of food. While these exemptions may create some difficulties in administration which would not otherwise be present and while they will decrease the revenue attainable from what has been estimated to be \$20,000,000 to approximately \$12,000,000 the exemptions appear justified. To meet the loss in revenue thus resulting, but needed, I shall recommend to the Legislature an additional income tax upon 1934 and 1935 incomes of 3 per cent on interest and dividends, of three quarters of 1 per cent on annuities and taxable earned income and of $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent on gains from sales of securities. The loss of possible revenue resulting from the exemption of food will thus be met in the year 1935 and 1936, when the strain on municipalities will probably be greatest, from the revenue which such additional income tax will produce.

A term of two years only will be recommended for the additional income tax because of the danger that a longer term may induce residents of the state to change their domicile to neighboring states where no income tax laws are in force or may cause persons to invest more heavily than otherwise in tax-exempt securities, thus injuring business without increasing revenue. I do not believe that a two-year additional tax would have this possible effect and there is a precedent for such a tax in the years 1918 and 1919.

If this program is enacted by the Legislature we will be enabled not only to avoid an increase in the 1935 tax rate but we will be able to effect an appreciable reduction in the present rate of $37.10. Without such assistance our position in 1935 will be far more serious than in 1934.

Consolidation.

The Legislature at last year's session authorized the City Council and the Mayor, acting jointly, to consolidate and reorganize the departments of the city. There are at the present time forty-six separate departments in the city government and 135 department heads. Many of these departments perform similar functions and yet, because of the multiplicity of departments, many improvements in one department are unknown to others and much of the benefit of the experiences of one department is lost to other departments performing similar functions. This system is antiquated and inadequate. There are ten executive departments in Washington; there are twenty in the Commonwealth. Many large cities operate with from five to fifteen departments. It is obvious that a consolidation of departments is essential for the proper and efficient administration of city affairs.

Shortly after the enactment of legislation authorizing such consolidation, a detailed study of the possibilities for a plan of consolidation was commenced. President

Compton of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, at my request, designated a committee headed by Colonel Robert C. Eddy, a member of the faculty of that institution, to study the engineering departments of the city. This study has not yet been completed, but I am advised that it will be finished in the near future. A committee of eminent members of the medical profession headed by Dr. Joseph P. Howland, superintendent of the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, have, at my request, studied the functions of the Health, Hospital and Institutions Departments.

When the various surveys that are under way have been completed I will present to the City Council my recommendations. It is not my purpose to propose consolidation in order to eliminate from the pay roll of the city persons now employed by it. No one will be discharged from the service because of consolidation. Consolidation, however, will enable the Mayor to have a small and valuable cabinet, will protect against waste and duplication of effort, will facilitate a more efficient and economical performance of municipal functions and will enable the taxpayer to get more for his money than is possible under our present departmental system.

Housing.

The Federal Government has definitely commenced a program for the clearance of depreciated areas and construction thereon of low cost housing. This program has two main values. First, it will, as soon as it can get more fully under way, supply substantial employment in a field where private enterprise is unlikely to take action. It should, therefore, stimulate employment and activity in the building trades without competing with private business. Second, if properly executed, it will not only reclaim areas which are a social handicap to the community, which are costly charges upon municipal government, and which tend to breed disease and crime, but it will make available to persons of low income decent living conditions at low cost.

A survey of the possibilities for such a program in Boston has been made and it is apparent therefrom that large amounts can be expended on such work if the Federal Government is willing to undertake it. One such project is already being developed in Boston.

As a part of its housing program, the Federal Government contemplates that local housing authorities be established in each community where housing projects are carried on, such housing authority, when established, to take over the construction and operation of the project with Federal aid. The obligations of the authority will not be municipal obligations.

To cooperate with the Federal Government in its program to endeavor to increase opportunities for employment and to secure for persons of low income in Boston the benefits of such a plan, I propose to petition the Legislature to permit the establishment in the cities and towns of the Commonwealth of such local housing authorities and, if such permission is given, to recommend to you the establishment of such an authority in Boston.

Public Works and Work Relief.

President Roosevelt in his recent message to Congress has indicated that the burden of caring for the needy who are unemployable must rest upon the local governments, not upon the Federal Government. In Boston this burden has always rested upon the city and the decision that it must continue so to rest will in no way effect a local change. The President has further indicated that the problem of caring for persons who are needy but employable is national in scope, that such persons must be cared for by the Federal Government, that the care should be in the form of work relief rather than the dole and that the relief should be conducted through a program of public works, the Federal Emergency Relief Administration to be abolished.

The extent to which local governments are to be requested to contribute to this program has not been indicated.

At the present time there is a program in operation in Boston which involves the expenditure of more than $7,000,000. The largest part of this program still remains to be completed.

Until Federal plans develop further it is impossible to predict either what the Federal Government may expect the municipalities to do or what Boston can do.

It is my purpose, however, to secure for the employment of residents of Boston a fair and adequate share of all Federal funds granted for relief purposes. Through my repeated efforts more than 15,000 Boston residents heretofore unemployed are now employed on E. R. A. projects and new projects will provide for the employment of 7,000 more. So long as the Federal Emergency Relief Administration continues to operate I shall do all in my power to have formulated, and to supply materials, for projects adequate to provide work for all persons that the funds provided will employ. It is my purpose to see to it that these projects will be of real value to the city.

Port of Boston.

In 1933 the Supreme Court of the United States by a five to four decision determined that a port was not a "locality" within the meaning of that term in section 3 of the Interstate Commerce Act which forbade undue preference for and undue discrimination against localities. The effect of this decision has been greatly to limit the ability of the city and of the Boston Port Authority to oppose discriminations against the Port of Boston.

I shall cause to be introduced in Congress within the next few days a bill to change the Interstate Commerce Act so that ports will be protected. If and when this change is made, I shall do all in my power to eliminate unfair practices at other ports which practices are injurious to the Port of Boston. I shall in addition endeavor to upset the control of the New England railroads by the Pennsylvania Railroad and shall strive to secure local control of New England roads or in the event of national consolidation of railroads, a consolidation that will be favorable to Boston and New England to the end that the Port of Boston may become a thriving and flourishing port and receive the full benefit of its natural advantages.

County Government.

Last year I urged upon the Legislature the appointment of a recess committee to study county government and to make recommendations with reference thereto. This request was denied. A careful study of county government in Massachusetts may well disclose it to be outworn, expensive and unnecessary machinery which should be abandoned. Even if retained, many improvements can undoubtedly be made. I propose, therefore, to make again this year a request for legislative consideration of this matter and to give immediate attention to the problem presented.

Metropolitan Boston.

There are more than forty cities and towns, each with separate governments, comprising what is popularly known as Greater Boston. The waste and inefficiency of so many separate units of government in so relatively small a territory is obvious. Yet repeated efforts to combine these cities and towns into one unit has always met with defeat.

It is not my desire to attempt to coerce other cities and towns into a union with Boston and that such a union is desirable has not been established beyond doubt. But there are so many considerations in favor of such a union and so many indications of mutual benefit to Boston and these cities and towns that I shall ask the Legislature to appoint a body to examine fully into the question and report its conclusions with recommendations, if any, for legislation.

Summary.

In substance it is my purpose to continue to improve the credit of the city and of its administrative machinery, to cooperate in all reasonable plans for securing employment for the unemployed and national recovery, to build up the Port of Boston, and to improve the conditions of our city.

LAND-TAKING IN EAST BOSTON.

MAYOR MANSFIELD, THROUGH CORPORATION COUNSEL HENRY E. FOLEY, ASKS PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE AND READJUST BOSTON GAS RATES TO CITIZEN CONSUMERS.

At the hearing held on January 7 before the Public Utilities Commission with reference to rates of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, Corporation Counsel Henry E. Foley appeared on behalf of Mayor Mansfield and demanded that a thorough investigation be made by the commission of the amounts paid by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company to its parent company, the Massachusetts Gas Companies.

Mr. Foley stated in part: "After last year's Legislature had directed the elimination of the 50 cents service charge imposed by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, that company frustrated the intent of the legislators by adding a charge of 50 cents additional on the price for the first 100 feet of gas sold to domestic consumers, under the guise that without such a charge its income would be less than a fair return on its investment."

Mr. Foley further stated that in examining into the expenditures of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company it appeared that practically all gas sold by the company was purchased from its parent company, the Massachusetts Gas Companies; that the relation between these companies prevented the Boston Company from obtaining a lower price of gas than that paid by it; that every effort made to ascertain the cost to Massachusetts Gas Companies of the gas which it sold to the Boston Company and the profit on such sale was resisted and no information in this regard was furnished.

Decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States were cited by Mr. Foley, including the recent Chicago case involving the Illinois Bell Telephone Company, to support the proposition that it was the duty of the Public Utilities Commission in passing on rates to determine the profits made by the Massachusetts Gas Companies from its dealings with the Boston Company, and to prevent a double profit on the sale of gas. Mr. Foley pointed out that without such investigation by the commission it was impossible to prevent the great abuses possible from intercompany holdings and the pyramiding of profits.

CITY DEPARTMENTS CONTRIBUTE TO CHARITIES.

City Treasurer John H. Dorsey called a meeting of the representatives of City and County Department Heads in the City Council Chambers on January 4 in order that he might explain the details of the drive for funds for the Emergency Campaign for the benefit of deserving private charities.

The meeting was addressed by Oscar W. Haussermann, the general chairman of the Emergency Campaign for 1935. Mr. Haussermann explained the financial straits of the various institutions and the very great need of funds for continuing these institutions during the year 1935.

The collection of voluntary contributions from city and county employees will officially commence on January 11.

A 100 per cent representation of department heads was evident at this meeting. It was construed that all those who can afford to do so are most willing to contribute, within their means, to this campaign.

The cost of constructing sewage disposal plants in a number of states, and in Iowa in particular, may be levied against the various lots, parts of lots or parcels of ground draining to, or susceptible to drainage to, the site of the disposal plant. Such assessments must be in proportion to the benefits to each property and must not, in any case, exceed one-fourth of the fair value of the property in question. These special assessments are payable in the same manner as other municipal improvement costs; that is, in ten annual equal installments, paid at the same time and place as the March 1 installment of ordinary taxes in Iowa. Any property owner may pay off the unpaid portion of such tax at any time. Interest on the deferred payments must not exceed 6 per cent.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 1.

I. THE EMERGENCY RELIEF CAMPAIGN OF 1935.

An appeal for funds for the Emergency Campaign is being made to the people of Metropolitan Boston in order that various major hospitals, private charities and social agencies may be maintained during the year. Four million dollars is actually needed to provide resources for these charitable organizations which, during the past three years have been obliged to curtail expenses and drain financial reserves to the extent that they are now crippled and handicapped by lack of funds. Throughout the city all persons in private employ are being canvassed to make a contribution amounting to at least one per cent of their annual salary to the fund. Because of the worthiness of the cause and because employees outside the public service are willingly making their contributions, the employees of the City of Boston have been asked to participate in this appeal and make a similar donation to the fund. In other words, each member of the Fire Department is asked to join with other city employees and contribute one per cent of his annual salary to the Emergency Campaign. His Honor, Mayor Mansfield, has already given this campaign his earnest and hearty indorsement, and has expressed the hope that every city and county employee will contribute within his means to the end that the employees of the city will make a substantial contribution to the fund. Mayor Mansfield states that the contributions are voluntary but that the appeal is absolutely necessary and should receive unanimous support.

In view of the fact that the employees of the Fire Department have enjoyed uninterrupted employment and the statutory reductions in the pay schedule have been restored as of January 1, 1935, it is hoped that members of the department will give this appeal careful and favorable consideration. The Fire Commissioner looks to the members of the department to show the same generous spirit of co-operation which has characterized their response to worthy appeals in the past. In order that the sacrifice will not impose a hardship upon the contributors it has been arranged that the payment of the total sum may be divided in twenty equal payments for twenty weeks, beginning with the week of Friday, January 11, 1935. The following table illustrates the total payment to be made for the different rates of pay together with the weekly payment:

Pledge cards are being distributed to the department today. Company commanders and heads of divisions will personally interview each member of his command, explaining to him the purpose of the appeal and ask him to make the contribution requested. All cards are to be returned to the Fire Commissioner on or before Wednesday, January 9, 1935. In no case are deductions to be made on the pay roll. Company commanders and heads of divisions, for their own information, will make a list of all who contribute to the Emergency Campaign. Each week on the regular pay day the money donated will be collected from the contributors, and company commanders and heads of divisions will forward the receipts to headquarters once each week. Miss Mary C. Kelley has been assigned by the commissioner to accept the money and give a receipt for it. Delivery of money at headquarters should be made any week day between 9 and 11 a. m.

It does not seem necessary for the Fire Commissioner to emphasize the fact that the object of this appeal is most worthy and deserves the unqualified support of all to contribute in a small way to relieve the strain under which the charitable organizations of our community have been laboring. What the members of the department do in this instance will reflect great credit upon themselves individually and on the Fire Department as a unit.

PROPOSED LEASE TO WOMEN'S NATIONAL CIVIC FEDERATION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 19, 1934.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Corporation Counsel, in reference to a recent order adopted by your honorable body, concerning the proposed lease to the Women's Department of the National Civic Federation, or its nominee, of certain premises numbered 2150 Dorchester avenue and known as the Convalescent Home.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, December 13, 1934.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—Some time ago you suggested that I prepare a form of order for submission to the City Council authorizing a lease to the Women's Department of the National Civic Federation, or its nominee, of certain premises numbered 2150 Dorchester avenue and known as the Convalescent Home. This property was purchased by the City of Boston under an order approved by the Mayor on March 18, 1890, for "the purposes of a convalescent home for the City Hospital." I understand that the City Council or some members thereof at a recent meeting raised a question as to whether, in view of the circumstances under which the land was acquired, the lease in question may properly be entered into. Before submitting to you the above-mentioned form of order we examined into the title of the city to this property. The deed contains no restriction and we are of the opinion that the city may properly enter into the proposed lease.

I have been informed by Doctor Dowling that the trustees consider that the premises in question are no longer needed for hospital purposes and that he has advised you and the City Council to this effect. My conclusion that the lease is proper rests on the assumption that the trustees have made this determination.

Very truly yours,

HENRY E. FOLEY,
Corporation Counsel.

MILK FOR WELFARE RECIPIENTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 28, 1934.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Overseers of the Public Welfare, relative to your order of December 10, 1934, concerning the establishment of a system whereby milk is furnished for a price of 8 cents a quart or thereabouts to welfare recipients.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Note.—Mr. Dowling informs me that the 3 cents a quart discount means a discount from the current retail price which at the present time is 11 cents. But if the retail price fluctuated and dropped to 10 cents, for example, the net cost to families on the welfare rolls would be 7 cents.

F. W. M.

City of Boston,
Overseers of Public Welfare,
December 21, 1934.

Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,

Assistant Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—This is to acknowledge receipt of your communication of December 15, 1934, inclosing the following order from the City Council, dated December 10, 1934:

"Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of conferring with the Overseers of Public Welfare with a view to establishing a system whereby milk is furnished to welfare recipients for a price of 8 cents a quart or thereabouts, similar to the system now in vogue in New York City."

I wish to say that I am at present studying this matter and have received from some of the chain stores in Boston an agreement to allow a discount of 3 cents a quart to families on our rolls. Before any general plan can be put into effect, the department will have to have the approval of Mr. Samuel W. Tator, the Federal Milk Administrator of New England.

I am in correspondence with him on the matter.

Yours truly,

JOHN C. L. DOWLING,
Executive Director.

ASSIGNMENT OF GRAVES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 28, 1934.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Boston Park Department, relative to your order of December 3, 1934, concerning the assignment of graves in city cemeteries to those unable to pay for the graves, such as welfare recipients and others.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, December 21, 1934.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of December 15, with inclosure, order from the City Council that the Park Commission assign graves in city cemeteries to those unable to pay for the graves, as welfare recipients and others.

Some years ago similar orders were presented and the orders were referred to the Law Department, and that department ruled it was illegal to give away city property without recompense.

Recently the Overseers of the Public Welfare purchased graves and the deeds were made in their name. This latter department paid us for the cost of the graves, but no perpetual care was provided, and this department has to care for these graves for all time without recompense. From my knowledge of the situation I am satisfied that the assigning of graves free or even at a reduced price, assuming that the illegality was not in question, will result in the application for such graves by those residing in the city and outside and we would have no means of determining the worthiness of the applicants; the time between death and burial leaves but little chance for any investigation and which is not in our province to conduct.

Very respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

Please be informed that the schedule of allowances for funeral expenses of persons buried by this department is as follows:

ELIMINATION OF STIGMATIZING DESIGNATION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 28, 1934.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Overseers of the Public Welfare, also a letter from the Park Department, relative to your order of December 3, 1934, concerning the elimination from all records, as a designating phrase, "Pauper's Grave" and "Pauper's Burial," or other like stigmatizing designations.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Overseers of Public Welfare,
December 21, 1934.

Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,

Assistant Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—This is to acknowledge receipt of your communication of December 15, 1934, inclosing the following order from the City Council, dated December 3, 1934:

"Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of conferring with the proper authorities relative to the matter of eliminating from all records, as a designating phrase the words, 'Pauper's Grave' and 'Pauper's Burial,' or other like stigmatizing designations."

I beg to report that the word "pauper" was eliminated from the Relief Laws, chapter 155, Acts of 1928, since which time that designation has not appeared on any of our official records, outside of the Trust Fund case of Brighton, which according to its terms is still carried as Holton Protestant Pauper Fund for Brighton residents.

Such designation, of course, is mandatory by the terms of the will.

Yours truly,

JOHN C. L. DOWLING,
Executive Director.

City of Boston,
Park Department, December 21, 1934.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of December 17, with inclosure, order from the City Council, relative to eliminating from all records, as a designating phrase, "Pauper's Grave" and "Pauper's Burial," or other like stigmatizing designations.

For many years certain graves in Mt. Hope Cemetery have been set aside and under the care of the Overseers of the Public Welfare. It is to be made, and this latter department has been requested to make a list of the graves and the names of the persons buried there, and to make a list of the graves and the names of the persons buried there, and to make a list of the graves and the names of the persons buried there.

These names are to be used by this department "City Graves," and a small record of each burial so that if the name of the deceased is remove the body to a purchased grave this can be done with a surety, and has been done.

It has always been our policy since the Cemetery Division was taken over by this department to call these graves "City Graves," and I have asked the newspapers of Boston to refrain from referring to them as paupers' graves or pauper's burials. The newspapers very kindly complied with this request.

The objectionable terms are entirely false and erroneous. Persons buried in these sections are not paupers and are rightly considered by this department as those who at the time of burial have not left sufficient means and their families are unable to purchase a grave and pay the expenses of a private funeral.

Very respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

LOW-COST PUBLIC STREETS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 28, 1934.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Commissioner of Public Works, relative to your order of December 10, 1934, concerning a program for the installation of low-cost public streets in Boston.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
December 28, 1934.

Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,
Assistant Secretary Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I beg leave to acknowledge receipt of your note of December 15 with attached City Council order dated December 10, and reading as follows:

"Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to confer with the Commissioner of Public Works relative to working out a program for the installation of low-cost public streets in Boston"—and to state that the Public Works Department does not take the initiative in working out the acceptance of private streets or ways.

A program for the installation of accepted streets is a duty devolving on the Board of Street Commissioners and only after said acceptance and an order to construct given by the Board of Street Commissioners do the Public Works Department enter any private street and perform any work.

I respectfully add that the Board of Street Commissioners are now preparing a list of private ways and have already forwarded to this department six such private ways to be laid out and constructed.

Respectfully yours,
C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

VETO OF NONANTUM STREET SIDEWALK.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 18, 1934.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am returning herewith disapproved, and without my signature, the order adopted by your Honorable Body on December 3, 1934, for the making of a granolithic sidewalk with granite edgestones on Nonantum street, Ward 22. It appears from a report submitted to me by the Commissioner of Public Works and dated December 17, which I also inclose, that Nonantum street is 2,055 feet long and the width of the road varies from 26 to 34 feet. The estimated cost for the new granolithic sidewalk and granite edgestones is $9,055.

It also appears that there is some uncertainty as to the exact location of the street lines and that there appear to have been several encroachments by abutters. Furthermore, the Board of Survey has recommended a uniform width of 50 feet throughout the entire length of the street but that only one half of the street length could be built to this width at the present time, the length of the remaining half being in doubt until the matters above mentioned are finally disposed of.

There is no money available to make this improvement at the present time and this fact, coupled with the difficulties above mentioned, constrain me to veto the order.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
December 17, 1934.

Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,
Assistant Secretary Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I beg leave to acknowledge your note of December 5 with attached City Council order of sidewalk construction (lien order) for Nonantum street, Ward 22, and to state that the length of Nonantum street is 2,055 linear feet and the width of the roadway varies from 26 to 34 feet. The estimated cost of the new granite edgestones and artificial stone sidewalks is $9,055.

Nonantum street has been in existence since

1840 and at the present time the matter of street lines is being looked up to find out their exact location, as there appears to be several encroachments.

The Board of Survey recommended a uniform width of 50 feet throughout the entire length and at the present time one half of the street length could be built to this width. The length of the remaining half is in doubt and until these matters are fully disposed of I respectfully recommend that an order for construction be suspended until the entire matter of a new street line and proper grade is prepared, otherwise any construction might involve the city in litigation in connection with the present street lines and grades.

Respectfully yours,
C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

VETO—MUNICIPAL BUILDING, EAST BOSTON.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 26, 1934.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I return herewith disapproved, and without my signature, an order adopted by your Honorable Body on December 17, 1934, accepting chapter 178 of the Acts of 1934, which provides for the construction of a municipal building in East Boston.

The statute referred to authorizes the purchase of land and the construction thereon of a municipal building in East Boston at a cost of $100,000, to be raised by sale of bonds providing an additional sum of 10 per cent should be added thereto to be raised by tax levy; but the whole amount of this expense would fall eventually upon the real estate taxpayers of Boston. In view of the existing high tax rate and the prospect of a rate as high if not higher for the year 1935, it is plain that no further burden should be added to that already being carried by the real estate taxpayer; nor is a municipal building in East Boston an absolute necessity at the present time. Later when money is more plentiful and the times more propitious it might be well to erect a suitable municipal building in East Boston but under existing conditions I am constrained to veto the order.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

VETO—EAST BOSTON PLAYGROUND.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 26, 1934.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am returning herewith disapproved and without my signature the order adopted by your Honorable Body on December 17 which appropriated $10,000 for the establishment of a playground in the Fourth Section of East Boston. The Park Commissioner has reported to me that he knows of no available site that could be acquired in the section referred to which would be of sufficient area and otherwise suitable to afford proper facilities for playground purposes and he adds that there seems to be a sufficient number of playgrounds to accommodate the needs of the public at least until the times are more propitious.

The amount appropriated here is substantial and would merely mean an additional burden upon the taxpayers. Economic conditions being what they are and the Fourth Section of East Boston being apparently adequately supplied with playgrounds, there seems to be no pressing need for the spending of this money at the present time. Therefore I feel constrained to veto the order.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

LAND FOR WARD 7 PLAYGROUND.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 22, 1934.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Park Department relative to your order of December 10, 1934, concerning the proposed taking of a vacant lot of land bounded by Story and Fifth streets, Ward 7, for playground purposes.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, December 20, 1934.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of December 15, with inclosure, order from the City Council, requesting the Park Commission, through your Honor, to consider the advisability of taking the vacant lot of land bounded by Story and Fifth streets, Ward 7, for playground purposes.

The land in question contains five lots, each lot containing approximately 5,700 square feet, is assessed for $1,700 or a total of $8,500 for the entire five lots containing approximately 28,387 square feet or 0.65 acre.

The area is entirely too small for a playground, is not properly located for such and under the present economic conditions it is certainly inadvisable to purchase same for playground purposes.

WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 20, 1934.

Gentlemen,—Because of additional work which the City Printing Plant has been called upon to do in recent months the original appropriations in certain items of the departmental budget have proved inadequate. In order to close out the accounts of the department for the current financial year the Superintendent of the Plant has requested that an additional appropriation be made from Printing Department revenue. I submit herewith the necessary appropriation order and respectfully recommend its adoption by your Honorable Body.

Gentlemen,—The Massachusetts Section of the Women's Department of the National Civic Federation has informed me that on account of the opposition which they have encountered, they have withdrawn from the project of housing single women in the property in Dorchester known as the Convalescent Home and about which I sent a message to your Honorable Body on November 19.

In view of this communication from the Massachusetts Section of the Women's Department of the National Civic Federation the order which, if adopted, would have authorized leasing of the premises in question to that body, is withdrawn.

FINANCE COMMISSION REPORTS IN RE TUNNEL TAKINGS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 20, 1934.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I inclose herewith a letter from the Finance Commission accompanying a report transmitted in compliance with the order adopted by your Honorable Body on November 19, 1934, relative to the takings of land for the East Boston Tunnel approaches and which your Honorable Body requested me to forward to the Finance Commission.

Yours truly,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
The Finance Commission,
December 19, 1934.

To the Honorable the Mayor,
Sir,—On November 22, 1934, your Honor transmitted to the Finance Commission a copy of an order adopted by the City Council at its meeting held on November 19, 1934, which read as follows:

"Ordered, That the Finance Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, in its study of land-takings by the City of Boston, to give special consideration to the takings for the East Boston Tunnel approaches, considering among other things the extent to which settlements were made in excess of the true value of the parcels taken, as evidenced by bona fide sales in the neighborhood, including sales by former owners of lands so taken to persons who after a short period of ownership or under option unloaded on the city at large profits, and following these profits so far as possible to the ultimate recipients."

In City Council November 19, 1934. Passed.

Attest:
W. J. DOYLE, City Clerk."

In your Honor's letter of transmittal accompanying this order, you requested that the commission "make the survey and report to me at your earliest convenience." As stated to you in a letter under date of November 23, 1934, at the time this request was received the commission already had in its possession a large amount of material gathered in an almost continuous investigation of the tunnel project, which began with the presentation of the bill to authorize construction of the tunnel in then 1928 legislative sessions, and has been carried on down to the present day. The commission has issued many reports dealing with different phases of the project.

Because certain aspects of it had not been completely set forth in a form available to the general public, and because there appeared to be widespread demand for complete information, the commission decided that it would retain special counsel to assemble and digest the information already in the commission's possession, and to supplement this with such other information as would be pertinent and obtainable. The commission selected in the person of George R. Farnum, Esq., an attorney of considerable experience in legal practice and of sufficient knowledge of public affairs as to warrant the confidence that he would be capable of carrying out this assignment. Though Mr. Farnum had represented the Federal Government as counsel in important matters for several years, he had not been connected with municipal administration in any way, and therefore, by reason of this fact and the previously mentioned qualifications, was, in the opinion of the members of the Finance Commission, qualified to make an impartial survey of this tunnel project and of other matters which the commission has decided to make report upon.

Mr. Farnum has had the facilities of the Finance Commission at his disposal, has examined many witnesses before the commission, and has made a careful study of all the information obtainable to date. He has presented to the commission a report dealing with certain general aspects of the tunnel takings. The commission has examined this report and is satisfied that it portrays the facts within the scope of it as set forth.

The commission submits Mr. Farnum's report with this letter as the commission's response, at the present time, to your honor's request.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
JOSEPH J. LEONARD,
Chairman.

Boston, December 13, 1934.

To the Finance Commission of the City of Boston.
Gentlemen,—Pursuant to instructions received by me at the time of my engagement to conduct an investigation into matters pertaining to the administrative affairs of the City of Boston, I submit herewith a report covering certain features of the taking of properties by the Transit Commission in connection with the construction of the East Boston Vehicular Tunnel. This report, as will be evident from its character and scope, is limited to certain general aspects of the East Boston Vehicular Tunnel takings and will be followed from time to time by other reports dealing with various significant and material transactions in extended detail.

Preliminary Considerations.

Proposals to provide a quicker and easier route from Boston proper to East Boston than those supplied by the ferries and bridges have been considered and discussed by public and private bodies in and out of City Hall and the State House for almost a quarter of a century. Sometimes a bridge was advocated, sometimes a tunnel. The first definite, concrete proposition to be given substantial consideration, however, was included in the presentation for legislative discussion of a plan for a vehicular tunnel worked out by a combination of municipal and state officials interested in public planning in connection with the effort to secure authorization for an intermediate highway. This engaged the attention of legislative authorities principally in the years 1925 to 1927.

The ultimate rejection in 1927 of proposed legislation to authorize construction of such a highway and to provide a vehicular tunnel to East Boston as the connection between North Shore municipalities and this highway, resulted in the final separation of the two projects.

The vehicular tunnel was decided upon as the most likely part of the whole to receive legislative authorization. Accordingly, with the complete project blocked by the Legislature of 1927, the principal advocates took up the job of getting it piecemeal by the introduction of a bill into the 1928 legislative session authorization construction of a vehicular tunnel alone.

Tunnel Acts Adopted by the Legislature.

Alvan T. Fuller, then Governor, took a hand in this agitation and the first act authorizing construction of a vehicular tunnel was drawn to meet his ideas on the subject and adopted by the 1928 Legislature with his approval.

This act provided for the execution of the undertaking under state auspices with the City of Boston standing the financial responsibility. It required acceptance by the City Government of Boston, Mayor and Council.

Malcolm E. Nichols, as Mayor, disapproved of the act principally on the ground that, inasmuch as the City of Boston had to pay for it, the city should have charge of its construction.

The acceptance of the 1928 act thus defeated, Mayor Nichols offered a new bill to the 1929 Legislature. This gave authority to construct to the Transit Department of the City of Boston. The act, as adopted, required acceptance by Mayor and Council, but by its terms the Council was thereafter eliminated from further participation.

Planning of Tunnel.

Under the authorization of this act the City Planning Board, acting more or less jointly with the Metropolitan Planning Board, set to work on plans for the project. Likewise the Transit Department made studies and plans.

Late in the year 1929 it developed that the Transit Department had one plan, and the City Planning Board and Metropolitan Planning Board jointly had another. The Planning Boards had worked out and considered several plans, but finally were committed to one definitely. It was estimated by the Transit Department that its plan would be much the cheaper for the city and would furnish a more suitable tunnel than the plan advocated by the joint planning boards.

The Harriman-Fay or Nichols Plan.

Notwithstanding this opinion, the Mayor favored the plan advocated by the City Planning Board and the Metropolitan Planning Board. This plan provided for a tunnel coming out at a point slightly north of Hanover street with a circle centering at or about the junction of Salem and Cross streets with a widening of Cross street to Haymarket square and another circle in Haymarket square. The adoption of this plan was vigorously opposed by the Finance Commission and others at the time on the ground that the amount authorized for the project by the 1929 Legislature, namely, $16,000,000, would not be sufficient to pay the cost of it, also on the ground that a tunnel constructed in accordance with that plan would not be the safest and most efficient that could be built; and also on the ground that execution of it would require extensive destruction of municipal buildings and public places which must necessarily be replaced in other locations at great expense. The extensive publicity given to the controversial discussion of the various plans was permeated with charges made orally and unofficially that many of the parcels of real estate to be affected by the Nichols plan had been acquired by the speculators, and that the same speculators had been successful on many occasions in obtaining large profits by speculating advance information of contemplated city takings. The Nichols administration expired with the execution of this plan tied up by litigation and Mayor Curley came into office in 1930 with the entire project still open to whatever action he felt it necessary to take.

The Transit Department Plan.

As an alternative to the so-called Nichols tunnel plan, the Transit Commission had developed a plan which provided that the plaza of the tunnel would be located south of Hanover street between Cross and North streets, and provided for no circle or street widening.

Discussion of Plans During Curley Administration.

For more than three months thereafter there was considerable discussion, usually at conferences held at the Mayor's office, in regard to the adoption of a vehicular tunnel plan. Messrs. Henry I. Harriman and Frederic H. Fay, who had sponsored and advocated the so-called Nichols tunnel plan, continued during this interval to advocate the adoption of that particular plan. On April 4, 1930, a conference was held in the Mayor's office as the result of which it was reported in the Press the next morning that it appeared that the Harriman-Fay tunnel plan, which was the so-called Nichols tunnel plan, was to be adopted. The article related that this plan had been warmly advocated at the conference the day before at the Mayor's office and it indicated that the opinion of the writer of the article, presumably after discussion with participants, was that the Harriman-Fay plan was preferred over the Transit Department plan, although the Mayor had not committed himself to either plan.

On April 16 the newspapers reported the announcement officially by the Mayor and Transit Commissioners that the Transit Department's plan for the construction of a tunnel had been formally decided upon and adopted. This action was, of course, contrary to the impression created by the newspaper reports of the April 4 conference.

Some very significant real estate transactions relating to the project took place between these two dates, April 4 and 16, and the recital of the record of them will appear in a subsequent report.

First Order of Taking.

During the next few months there was considerable discussion and speculation on the probable takings, but official action first came to public notice by the adoption by the Transit Commission on August 4, 1930, of an order of taking of 31 properties on the Boston side, comprising 48 parcels separately listed by the assessors. These takings consisted of the land with buildings thereon located on the easterly side of Cross street, between Hanover and North streets; on the northerly side of North street, between Cross and Richmond streets; a parcel fronting on Richmond street and one on Hanover street, all of which were contained in the block bounded by Cross, North, Hanover and Richmond streets, and comprised the major portion of the block; the parcels on the southeasterly side of North street between Cross street and Dock square, and two takings east of Cross street on the northeast side of North street.

There were 28 properties or 45 separately assessed parcels taken at this time from private owners, two properties from unknown owners, one owned by the City of Boston. One parcel owned by a City of Boston Trust, the taxes on which were paid from the income of the Trust, is included in the 28 properties referred to.

By this order of taking, property subject to municipal taxation in the total valuation of $3,106,900 was diverted from the taxable valuation of the city and, in addition, a city police station valued at $150,000 was doomed, making it necessary to provide another location and another building for the police needs of the North End.

Of the 27 properties taken from private owners, four were taken from speculators who had purchased them either after or while the legislation for the tunnel authorization was pending, or who acquired the property while the legislation for authorization of the intermediate highway was pending. More specific details of these purchases and their relation to the tunnel takings will be given in subsequent reports.

The total valuation of these four properties on the books of the assessors at the time of the taking was $1,225,000, which amounted approximately to 39 per cent of the assessed value of the entire 27 privately owned properties taken at that time.

Settlement for First Takings.

Immediately after public announcement of the taking it was decided by the municipal authorities that settlement for damages would be offered on the following basis:

To those owners willing to accept assessed valuation plus 10 per cent, the city offered to make immediate award in that amount.

To those unwilling to accept assessed valuation plus 10 per cent, the city would award one dollar and compel the owner to institute court proceedings and have the court assess damages.

In the one case, it meant immediate payment without expense of court costs or delay. In the other, it meant long drawn-out legal proceedings with attendant heavy expense for legal and other services.

Four of the properties included in this order were at this time taken only in part, but the remainder of each was taken in a subsequent order. In each of these four cases payment, when made, was for the whole parcel. The figures of the payment for each are included here for convenience in picturing the complete transaction.

With this notation, the salient facts in regard to this first order of taking are as follows:

There were 27 privately owned properties in the first order of taking.

The assessed valuation of these 27 properties in 1930 was $3,106,900.

The cost of these 27 properties to the city was $3,209,090.

Four of these 27 properties were owned by speculators at the time of the taking. Three of the four were purchased by the speculators while the tunnel plan was in the making, and after the authorizing act had been adopted.

The assessed valuation of the four properties owned by speculators was $1,225,000.

The cost to the speculators of these properties was $991,700.

The cost to the City of Boston of these four properties was $1,378,300.

The city paid to the speculators $386,600 more than the speculators paid for the properties.

Analysis of these facts shows that in this first order of taking the speculators owned approximately 15 per cent in number and 39 per cent in valuation of the 27 privately owned properties.

To show more clearly these particular transactions, the following data is offered:

1. Property known as 109-111 North street was purchased on September 16, 1929, by William I. Schell, acting for Abram Lipp and Joseph Paul, for $39,200. Its assessed valuation was $40,000. It was taken by the city for tunnel purposes on August 4, 1930, and the city paid $44,000, which gave the speculators a profit of $4,800, or 12 per cent.

2. Property known as 106-108 Cross street and 108-122 North street, consisting of five parcels, was purchased by Samuel L. Lowe for $272,500 in March, 1925. The assessed valuation in 1930 was $282,000. The property was taken by the City of Boston for tunnel purposes on August 4, 1930. The city paid $341,000 for it by mutual agreement between Lowe and the City Law Department, which gave Lowe a profit of $68,500, or 25 per cent, on the purchase price.

3. Property known as 35-39 North street and 34-40 Blackstone street, assessed as two parcels, was purchased by Abram Lipp and Joseph Paul—it is claimed by William I. Schell that he was an equal partner, but that is denied by Lipp and Paul—on June 10, 1930, for $180,000, under option previously taken. The assessed valuation was $283,000. The city took the property for tunnel purposes on August 4, 1930, which was less than two months after acquisition by Lipp and Paul, and paid $311,300 by mutual agreement between the Law Department and the owners, which gave Lipp and Paul a profit of $131,300, or 73 per cent on the purchase price.

PROPERTY.	Owner.	Assessed Value.	City Paid.	Per Cent of Excess Over Valuation.
148-150 North street	Enrico Tassinari.....	$18,000	$19,800	10 per cent.
138-144 North street.....	Adelaide Bellizia.....	29,000	35,000	20 per cent plus.

The order adopted at this time included takings of small remainders of four other properties which were taken in part on August 4, 1930. The facts of the combined takings are given earlier in this report under the August 4, 1930, takings.

Fourth Order of Taking.

The next taking on the Boston side was by an order adopted on May 11, 1931. The properties taken were on the easterly side of Cross street, between North street and Commercial street, and on Commercial street opposite the end of Cross street as it existed at that time. This constituted the widening of Cross street through Commercial street to Mercantile street and was for the purpose of making a wide approach to the plaza of the tunnel from the southerly direction. It should be remembered that a widening of Cross street from this direction was intended and included in all the tunnel plans, that is, those which were ultimately merged into the so-called Nichols or Harriman-Fay plan, which was rejected by Mayor Curley, and the Transit Department's plan which was accepted by Mayor Curley. Thirteen properties were included in this taking. The owners of some accepted the city's offer of assessed value plus 10 per cent. The owners of others refused to accept, entered suit, and obtained awards from the court.

More Speculators' Parcels.

Four of these properties were taken from the speculators and the principal facts in regard to them are as follows:

1. Property assessed as 63-65 Commercial street was purchased by Abram Lipp and Joseph Paul (William I. Schell claiming one third interest) in May, 1928. It was assessed for $63,000. The speculators paid $54,000 for it. The city paid $77,000 for it on May 22, 1932, or eleven days after the adoption of the order of taking. The speculators' profit was $23,000, or approximately 42 per cent on the purchase price.

4. Property known as 17-27 North street, 47-51 North Market street and 38-52 Merchants row, consisting of two parcels, was purchased by Abram Lipp and Joseph Paul (William I. Schell claiming one third interest) on June 10, 1930, under option previously taken, for $500,000. The assessed valuation in 1930 was $620,000. It was taken by the city for tunnel purposes on August 4, 1930, which was less than two months after acquisition by Lipp and Paul, and the city paid $682,000 by mutual agreement, which gave Lipp and Paul (Schell claiming one third interest) a profit of $182,000, or 36 per cent on the purchase price.

The record of the transactions between speculators is so cluttered with straw conveyances, mortgages, assignments and attachments that an explanation of them at this time would unduly extend this report without any compensating advantages.

It is sufficient to point out that in two cases in particular the speculators turned over a profit for themselves of $313,300 within sixty days after taking title, that three of the properties were acquired by the speculators after the tunnel had been authorized and the plans were in the making, and that a total profit to the speculators was $386,600.

During the succeeding months some takings in whole or in part were made on the East Boston side and easements were taken on the Boston side, which will be dealt with separately.

Second Order of Taking.

The next order of taking on the Boston side was adopted on November 26, 1930. The properties taken at this time were for a site for the ventilation shaft on the Boston side, and were as follows:

(a) Property assessed as 308-310 North street in the name of James Fitzgerald in the amount of $15,000. The city paid $16,500 by mutual agreement between the city and owner.

(b) Property assessed as 316-328 North street in the name of Angelina and Charles Rotondo in the amount of $66,000. The Transit Commission awarded the assessed valuation which was not accepted by the owner. As a result of subsequent negotiation, the city ultimately paid $81,000 for it, which was approximately 22 per cent above assessed value.

Third Order of Taking.

The next order relating to takings on the Boston side was adopted on February 3, 1931. The properties taken, the owners of record, the assessed valuations, and the ultimate payment by the city, which resulted from negotiations with the Law Department after the Transit Commission had made a nominal award of one dollar in each case, were as follows:

PROPERTY.	Owner.	Assessed Value.	City Paid.	Per Cent of Excess Over Valuation.
148-150 North street	Enrico Tassinari.....	$18,000	$19,800	10 per cent.
138-144 North street.....	Adelaide Bellizia.....	29,000	35,000	20 per cent plus.

2. Property known as 24-30 Fulton street and 136 Cross street was purchased by Abram Lipp and Joseph Paul (William I. Schell claiming one third interest) in August, 1929, which was about the time that the Harriman-Fay or Nichols plan was being worked out. The assessed valuation was $100,000, but the speculators purchased it for $75,000. The city paid $110,000 for it on May 15, 1931, which was four days after the adoption of the order of taking. The profit to the speculators was $35,000, or 46 per cent on the purchase price.

3. Property assessed as 55-57 Commercial street was purchased by Abram Lipp and Joseph Paul (William I. Schell claiming one third interest) in December, 1930, which was just at the time that the Nichols plan was formally adopted. The assessed valuation was $45,000. The speculators paid $30,000. The city paid $71,500 for it on May 19, 1931, or eight days after the adoption of the order of taking. The profit to the speculators was $41,500, or approximately 139 per cent on the purchase price.

4. Property assessed as 56-60 Commercial street was purchased by Abram Lipp and Joseph Paul (William I. Schell claiming one third interest) in November, 1930, which was about the time the Harriman-Fay or Nichols plan was decided upon. The assessed valuation was $75,000. The speculators paid $41,000. The city paid $90,200 for it on May 14, 1930, or three days after adoption of the order of taking. The profit to the speculators was $49,200. In this case the speculators received approximately 120 per cent on the purchase price.

On these four parcels, all of which were obtained by the speculators while the plans for the tunnel were in the making, the speculators obtained a total profit of $148,700.

In addition, the same group purchased on October 25, 1929, which was also just before the Nichols tunnel plan was announced, the property known as 128-134 Cross street for $250,000. It was assessed for $225,000. This property was occupied by F. H. Roberts Company, candy manufacturer, as lessee; the building thereon being a part of a large plant which extended to Ferry street. The Roberts Company subsequently, on December 29, 1930, bought the Cross street parcel from the speculators and paid them $275,000, which gave the speculators a profit of $25,000. Mention is made of this private transaction here only to bring out the fact that the speculators sought and obtained it and made a profit on it after the tunnel was authorized and the plans for the tunnel were in the making.

The facts in regard to the ultimate cost to the city will be shown in an exhibit at the end of this report.

Fifth Order of Taking.

The next order of taking on the Boston side was for the property assessed in the name of George H. Pettie Heirs at 117-121 North street in the amount of $134,000. It was taken on October 1, 1932, and paid for on October 19, 1932. On the official records it appears to be a taking from the Pettie Heirs, but actually the Pettie Heirs had given an option on the parcel to William K. Bean, a speculator who was an employee of Cabot, Cabot & Forbes. Bean and other representatives of this firm have testified that Bean held this option as an individual. The property was taken by the city from Bean within the life of an option given by Pettie. The price named in the option was $85,000. The city paid $134,000 for it, which was the assessed valuation. This gave Bean a profit of $49,000, or approximately 58 per cent on the purchase price; but inasmuch as the option was obtained without any cash payment and the city took and paid for the parcel before Bean was required by the terms of his agreement to take title, the profit named was without investment of a penny by Bean.

The five orders above recorded completed the takings for the plaza at the Boston entrance to the tunnel and for the approaches thereto from the south along Cross street and from the west along North street.

In these five orders of takings the number of properties thus shown as belonging to speculators and the gain to them over the purchase price by the settlements with the city were as follows:

DATE OF ORDER.	Number of Speculators' Properties.	Payment by City in Excess of Purchase Price.
August 9, 1930.....	4	$386,600
November 26, 1930.....	None	None
February 3, 1931.....	None	None
May 11, 1931.....	4	148,700
October 1, 1932.....	1	49,000
Total.....	9	$584,300

The Widening of Merrimac and Cross Streets and the Haymarket Square Circle.

At the time that the Nichols plan was under consideration in 1929, it was brought out by investigation by the Finance Commission that the speculators owned some properties that would be required in the execution of that plan. These had been purchased by the speculators at or about the time that legislative authorization was sought to construct an intermediate highway to provide a wide avenue for traffic through the downtown section of the city connecting the arteries to the south of the city with arteries to the north of the city. It was generally known, and frequently stated by the Finance Commission, that the speculators acquired parcels in anticipation of making profits either by the sale of them to the city for the highway, or by sale to private interests which might desire locations on that highway. The rejection of the authorizing act in 1927 left the speculators with these parcels on their hands with little possibility of advantageous sale. Many other parcels were acquired similarly at that time and eventually allowed by the speculators to revert to the original owners by foreclosure proceedings, expiration of options, etc. In addition, many others were acquired by the speculators in 1928 and 1929 when, legislation to authorize construction of the tunnel having been adopted, it was apparent that the Nichols administration favored the location of the plaza on the Boston side at a point north of Hanover street on Cross street with a circle radiating from the junction of Cross and Salem streets, with a widening of Cross street as it led into Haymarket square, and with another circle at Haymarket square. If the tunnel was constructed in accordance with the Nichols plan, all of these speculators' parcels would have been taken, but the opposition to the Nichols plan eventually resulted in a ten taxpayers' petition to the Supreme Court to restrain the city officials from carrying it out. The Nichols administration expired while action on this petition was pending. After Mayor Curley assumed office, the Transit Commission held in abeyance execution of any plan until the adoption on April 16, 1930, of the plan which was subsequently carried out.

This decision left the speculators with still more properties on their hands without possibility of advantageous sales. In addition, there were some parcels between Canal and Merrimac streets in which the speculators had previously acquired interest.

Though the agitation for a circle in Haymarket square subsided somewhat for a short time, as far as the public knew, with the defeat of the Nichols plan, it never really died. It took new form in 1931 in a movement to secure legislation for an approach to the tunnel from the north by a widening of Merrimac street, a wide circle in Haymarket square, and a widening of Cross street between Haymarket square and Hanover street. A bill to authorize this project was introduced into the 1932 legislative session. This bill provided for a bond issue of $4,500,000 to be added to the $16,000,000 already appropriated for the tunnel and specifically designated the lines of the widening. The Finance Commission opposed this on the ground that the necessity for this approach had not been adequately proven and that there was doubt that the city would receive enough in tunnel tolls to pay for the heavy expense already incurred. However, the Legislature reduced the bond authorization to $3,000,000 and adopted the act, and the Governor signed it on June 16, 1931. Six days before the Governor signed the act, the speculators added one more parcel to those already acquired by them. This particular parcel was indirectly designated in the act, then in its final stage, to be taken by the Transit Commission.

Adoption of Merrimac Street Widening Plan.

On May 31, 1933, the Transit Commission adopted an order involving takings of 34 properties. These properties consisted of parcels on the southerly side of Merrimac street, between Portland and Friend streets, including a small triangular area bounded by Market, Portland and Merrimac streets; a portion of another triangular area bounded by Friend, Merrimac and Sudbury streets; properties facing Canal street on one side and Merrimac street on the other; properties fronting on Washington Street North in Haymarket square, north and south of Cross street, and properties on Cross street between Haymarket square and Hanover street. Some were takings of properties in whole, others were partial takings.

One of these 34 properties in this taking was owned by the City of Boston. A comparison of assessed valuation and cost to the city on this entire group is not feasible because of the number of properties which were taken only in part. It is not possible to subdivide the assessed valuation on each property so as to give the portion which would represent the assessed valuation of the part taken.

In the exhibit at the end of this report will appear such figures as are obtainable and relevant.

Previous to the adoption of this order, the Finance Commission had interposed objection to the policy of settling for land-takings by any such arbitrary method as was used in the first settlement, namely, paying assessed value plus 10 per cent. The commission called attention to the fact that many parcels had recently been purchased by speculators for fractional parts of the assessed value; that under such circumstances there was no obligation on the city to make assessed value the basis of the award; that the earning power of the properties was not in all cases in the same proportion to the assessed value; and that in many cases, by negotiations based on fairness to the taxpayers as a whole and to the particular owners of these parcels, the city could acquire some for substantially less than assessed value plus 10 per cent. The city authorities rejected the Finance Commission's recommendation. Instead of negotiating first and endeavoring to arrive at a fair price, the Transit Commission made the takings, awarded a nominal sum, and left the negotiations to be conducted by the Law Department after suit had been entered in court on behalf of each owner.

An examination of the payments made in such cases as have been finally settled and comparison of prices paid with assessed valuations merits little comment at this time. In all but a few cases the total payment by agreement between the city and the owner's attorney does not of itself give evidence of undue liberality by the city. The method by which a settlement was obtained is of more significance.

Effort was made by the representatives of the majority of the owners to obtain settlement during the months following the takings in May, but it was not until December that the first of these cases was settled. Then, for a period of about three weeks, or until the termination of the administration on December 31, 1933, settlement was made at irregular intervals to the number of 14 of the 33 privately owned properties taken.

The principal facts of these 14 settlements are as follows:

1. Property known as 5 Market street, 42-46 Merrimac street, 99-103 Portland street, taken in part, was owned by C. W. Whittier. The assessed valuation was $130,000. The city took 1,338 square feet of a total area of 3,559, necessitating alteration of the building and paid $100,000 as damages on December 26, 1933.

2. Property known as 2-10 Canal street, 1-9 Merrimac street, taken in whole. It was owned by C. W. Whittier et al., trustees. The assessed valuation was $140,000. The city paid $175,000 on December 19, 1933.

3. Property known as 20-22 Canal street and 19-21 Merrimac street, taken in whole. Title was in the name of Frances E. O'Brien, as straw for Samuel L. Lowe, Abram Lipp and G. Augustus Holzman, who purchased it on October 15, 1924, for $76,000. The assessed valuation was $105,000. The city paid $126,000 on December 29, 1933, a gain of $50,000 on the purchase price.

4. Property known as 14 Canal street was taken in whole. Title was held in the name of Samuel William, who acted as straw for Samuel L. Lowe and Adolph I. Dinner who controlled through mortgage ownership. The assessed valuation was $80,000. The city paid $96,000 for it on December 30, 1933.

5. Property known as 9-10 Washington Street North, taken in part, and property known as 7-8 Washington Street North, taken in whole. The owner was Harold L. Niles et al. The combined assessed valuation of the two was $115,400. The area of 9-10 Washington Street North was 2,280 square feet, of which 418 square feet were taken. The city paid $120,000 by agreement on December 11, 1933, for the two takings.

6. Property known as 7 Cross street, 135-191 Blackstone street, taken in whole. Title was in the name of Frances E. O'Brien, as straw for Abram Lipp, Joseph Paul, G. Augustus Holzman and Samuel L. Lowe, when it was acquired in 1925 for $145,000. The assessed valuation was $170,000. The city paid $187,000 for it on December 29, 1933, which was a gain of $42,000 over the purchase price.

7. Property known as 15-19 Cross street, 46 Endicott street was taken in whole. It was owned by executors under will of Marks I. Cohen. The assessed valuation was $52,000. The city paid $65,000 on December 19, 1933.

8. Property known as 26-34 Cross street and 51 Endicott street, taken in whole. It was owned by executors under will of Marks I. Cohen. The assessed valuation was $71,000. The city paid $90,000 on December 18, 1933.

9. Properties known as 38-40 Cross street, rear 36 Cross street, 40-44 Cross street, 42-44 Cross street, 46-50 Cross street, 52-54 Cross street, taken in whole. Previous to acquisition by William I. Schell in September, 1929, for Abram Lipp and Joseph Paul, they were assessed as three separately owned properties. The assessed valuation was $132,300. Schell paid $119,000 and took title in the name of Hyman E. Bass. The city paid $145,530 on December 30, 1933, for all three. The gain on the combined purchase prices was $26,530.

10. Property known as 64-70 Cross street, taken in whole. It was owned by Abbott J. Epstein. The assessed valuation was $23,500. The city paid $28,200 on December 30, 1933.

11. Property known as 76 Cross street, 192-196 Hanover street, taken in whole. It was owned by Stable & Co., Inc., and occupied by Stable Bank and Trust Company. The assessed valuation was $130,800. The city paid $175,000 for it on December 30, 1933, this payment being divided between the owner of the buildings and the lessor.

The foregoing lists the properties that were settled by agreement, 14 properties in all of a total of 33 taken from private owners. All these settlements were made in December, 1933, which was the last month of the administration which authorized the takings. In all of these cases either the properties were owned by speculators or the settlements were negotiated by attorneys whom the Finance Commission has already described as "political lawyers."

In this list of 11 properties there were four which were owned or controlled by the speculators. In these cases the amount realized by the speculators in excess of the purchase price was $123,530, as follows:

PROPERTY.	Owner.	Excess over Purchase Price.
20-22 Canal street.....	Lowe, Lipp, Holzman.....	$30,000
14 Canal street.....	Lowe (through mortgage transaction).....	5,000
7 Cross street, 135-191 Blackstone street.....	Lowe, Lipp, Paul, Holzman.....	42,000
38-54 Cross street.....	Lipp, Paul.....	26,530
Total.....		$123,530

Thus, it may be seen that in the taking of land for the East Boston Vehicular Tunnel on the Boston side the total amount realized by speculators in excess of the purchase price was $707,830, as follows:

On the takings for the Tunnel proper	$584,300
On the takings for the widening of Merrimac street and Haymarket square circle	123,530
Total	$707,830

A tabular record of all the takings with relevant details is annexed to this report. (See page 45.) Respectfully submitted,
GEORGE R. FARNUM.

Boston, December 26, 1934.

To the Finance Commission of the City of Boston. Gentlemen.—My report, dealing with the East Boston Vehicular Tunnel land-takings, submitted on December 18 last, contained the statement that "it will be followed from time to time by other reports dealing with various significant and material transactions in extended detail." I submit herewith the first of such detailed supplementary reports. It is confined to a consideration of the circumstances leading up to the taking by the city of the so-called Hammond and Squire properties, in which the speculators made an aggregate profit of $313,300, an analytical study of the manner in which the settlements were consummated, and, in particular, to the effort to trace the proceeds accruing to the speculators from the takings. In this last connection, may I call your attention to the fact that in the order passed by the City Council on November 19 last, the Finance Commission was requested in its study of land-takings, to follow these proceeds—or "profits," to use the word employed in the order—"so far as possible, to the ultimate recipients."

As stated in my report of December 18, 1934, for several months after Mayor Curley assumed office on January 1, 1930, there were many conferences, usually in the Mayor's office, and much public discussion of a suitable tunnel plan. The Nichols plan, execution of which had been prevented by litigation, was still being warmly advocated in slightly modified form by Messrs. Harriman and Fay, representing the Metropolitan Planning Board and the City Planning Board. Additionally, the Transit Commissioners were also advocating the acceptance of their plan which Mayor Nichols had rejected. It was a matter of serious financial concern both to the city and to the land owners in the neighborhood, whose property might be taken, which plan was adopted.

On April 4, 1930, an important conference was held in the Mayor's office at which these plans were discussed. This meeting was attended by representatives of the Finance and Transit Commissions, among others. Newspaper reports following this conference gave the impression that the Harriman-Fay plan was to be adopted. It should be borne in mind that this Harriman-Fay plan called for extensive taking of land north of North street, while the Transit Commission plan required the taking of land on the southerly side of North street.

On or about this time Abram Lipp and Joseph Paul were negotiating for options with the owners of two large properties on the southerly side of North street. Negotiations were being conducted through Frederic Viaux as broker in one case and through William K. Bean, of the office of Cabot, Cabot & Forbes, as broker in the other. Finally, on April 11, according to documents in the possession of the Finance Commission, Viaux obtained the signature of Robert H. Gardiner for himself and for John G. Palfrey, co-trustees, to an agreement to sell to Elizabeth C. Hyland, an employee of Lipp, and straw for Lipp and Paul, the property known as 17-27 North street, 38-52 Merchants row, 47-51 North Market street. This property was owned by the Samuel Hammond Estate of which Gardiner and Palfrey were the trustees. According to the terms of the agreement, Hyland undertook to pay $10,000, at the time it was signed, and to take title on or before June 10, 1930, when in consummation of the deal Hyland was to pay the balance of the agreed purchase price of $500,000 (that is, $490,000), by assuming an outstanding mortgage of $100,000 held by the Provident Institution for Savings, and paying $390,000 in cash. Later this contract was revised so as to call for the payment of an additional deposit of $10,000 by Hyland, and the taking back of a second mortgage by the trustees for a part of the purchase price.

Mr. Gardiner has stated to the Finance Commission that at the time of the giving of the option he had made careful inquiry of the likelihood of the taking of his property by the city, and concluded that it was not to be done. Regarding the real purchaser, he had been given only the information that it was wanted for investment. It was assessed for $620,000.

On the next day, April 12, 1930, through William K. Bean, the State Street Trust Company, trustee under the will of John P. Squire, made an agreement with William J. Stober, as straw for Abram Lipp and Joseph Paul, to sell the property known as 35-49 North street. By the terms of the agreement $2,000 was to be paid in cash when signed, and the balance by a note of $125,000, secured by a mortgage on the property, and $53,000 in cash, when the papers were passed. The agent who represented the bank in the negotiations informed the Finance Commission that he had no knowledge whatsoever of the probability of a taking of that parcel by the city, though he was acquainted with the tunnel agitations. Bean testified before the Finance Commission that he was led to believe, by such inquiry as he himself had made, that this parcel would not be taken by the city. The assessed value was $283,000.

$99 44	payable to William J. Stober and indorsed back to the city in payment of taxes and water bills;
9,773 00	payable to Stober and indorsed over to the State Street Trust Company, trustee of the John P. Squire Estate, in payment of a mortgage of $125,000 and accrued interest;
126,770 83	payable to Stober and indorsed over to Frances R. Cohen, secretary to John S. Slater, the attorney who represented Lipp and Paul in the transaction. This check Slater deposited in his account.

$311,300 00 total paid by the city.

In addition to the foregoing $174,656.73, Lipp gave Slater a check for an additional amount of $9,565.67, making a total of $184,222.40. This money Slater disbursed as follows:

$50,000 00	to Abraham Werby, a relative of Paul, in payment of mortgages held by Werby on other property on Cross street;
91,277 00	to Irving Karpis, a brother-in-law of William I. Schell, who claimed to be interested as a partner in this deal as well as that involving the Hammond property, on account of a certain mortgage;
41,445 30	was retained by Slater in satisfaction of the principal and accrued interest on mortgages which he personally took to accommodate Lipp and Paul on this property and property on Commercial street;
1,500 10	retained by Slater for legal services and disbursements.

$184 222 40

The net proceeds from this settlement accruing to Lipp and Paul that was thus disbursed in satisfaction of mortgages on other property in which they had an interest, will be dealt with in the continued course of the investigation, if and so far as the facts discoverable may indicate that they have any particular significance. It must be remembered that the limited amount of capital available to the speculators in laying out their various operations, required them to constantly raise the necessary funds for options, deposits at first payment or passing of papers, by raising loans on the security of second or third mortgages on other properties.

In putting through the settlement for the Hammond property on August 6, 1930, the city issued the following checks:

On April 15, three days after the Squire property was tied up by option to Lipp and Paul, and four days after the Hammond property was tied up by the same speculators, formal announcement was made by the Mayor and Transit Commissioners that the Transit Commission's plan of a tunnel was adopted, which called for the widening of North street on the southerly side—or the side where these properties were situated. William K. Bean gave the curious testimony before the Finance Commission that as he came away from the State Street Trust Company, with the signed agreement in his pocket, he learned for the first time that he had been misinformed as to the supposed improbability of the city's taking the Squire property.

The city being thus committed to a taking that included these properties, Lipp and Paul took title to the Hammond parcel on June 10, 1930, in the name of Louis Binda, and, on the same day, to the Squire property, in the name of William J. Stober.

The city formally took both these parcels by the order of August 4, 1930, and, on August 6 paid $682,000 for the Hammond property for which Lipp and Paul paid $500,000, and $311,300 for the Squire property, for which Lipp and Paul paid $180,000.

On August 6, 1930, the city settled for the Squire property. This property was acquired by Lipp and Paul for $180,000, was assessed for $283,000 and the city paid therefor $311,300.

In setting for it, the city issued the following checks:

$100,037 50	payable to Binda and which was indorsed over to the Provident Institution for Savings in payment of mortgage on the property;
19,220 00	payable to Binda and indorsed back to the City of Boston in payment of unpaid taxes on
10,872 74	the two parcels included in the property taken;
301,100 00	payable to Binda and indorsed over to the trustees of the Hammond Estate in satisfaction of a mortgage taken back by them to accommodate Lipp and Paul at the time they acquired title;
250,769 76	payable to Binda and indorsed over to Lipp.

$682,000 00 total paid by the city.

Lipp deposited this last check of $250,769.76 in his account at the Bank of Commerce and Trust Company (now United States Trust Company) on August 7. His account showed a balance the previous day of $1,070.75. On this same day Lipp made a payment of $100,000 to the Bank of Commerce and Trust Company in reduction of a mortgage previously placed on property owned by Lipp and Paul on Exchange street. At the same time he purchased through the bank for the sum of $79,706.58, which was charged against his account, the following unregistered bonds:

$10,000	Phillips Petroleum Corporation.
$25,000	Boston Elevated Railway Company.
$44,000	United States Treasury Bonds.

Delivery was made to Lipp on the same day, August 7. These bonds forthwith disappeared, and the result of the effort to ascertain their disposition by Lipp and to discover their present whereabouts will now be related.

Lipp testified that upon receipt of the bonds he took them to his office at No. 27 State street where he delivered one half of them, consisting of $40,000 of United States Treasury Bonds, to Paul. He stated that this transaction took place in private and that he neither requested nor received any receipt. Paul, on the other hand, flatly contradicted this and swore positively that none of these bonds were ever given to him, either on August 7, as claimed by Lipp, or at any other time. In fact, he swore that he never knew that any bonds had been purchased out of the proceeds of the property until some time afterwards when he pressed Lipp for an accounting.

On Lipp's story, this left the balance of the bonds, consisting of $10,000 Phillips Petroleum Corporation, $25,000 Boston Elevated Railway Company, and $4,000 remaining of United States Treasury Bonds, to be accounted for. Interrogated as to the disposition of these, he swore that he loaned them to his wife's brother, Jacob L. Beckman of Cadillac, Michigan. He testified that Beckman, who was proprietor of what he called a chain of department stores in Michigan, was in trouble with his creditors and came to Boston and appealed for help. Though his testimony was extremely vague as to the precise details, he claimed that, as he remembered, the bonds were delivered to Beckman in two lots. Though he declared that there was a receipt or agreement obtained from Beckman at the time, he explained his inability to produce it by the curious assertion that he had returned it to Beckman "because he had trouble with his creditors and he had to make a statement, he didn't want to have any liabilities any more than he had in his business."

Between May 11 and May 22, 1931, the city took title to three parcels of land, 24-30 Fulton street, 55-57 Commercial street, and 56-60 Commercial street, and settled with Lipp and Paul therefor. On these transactions the speculators' profits aggregated $125,700. John S. Slater represented Paul and Lipp in these transactions, and received for them the city awards. Among other checks, in disbursement of the awards, he issued on May 15, 1931, one on his "Clients' Account" for $50,000 payable to Lipp. This check was certified at the Atlantic National Bank, upon which it was drawn. Now, at the time of the settlement for the Hammond parcel, Lipp deposited the check representing the net proceeds, in his account in the Bank of Commerce and Trust Company, and drew against it. In this instance, however, he did something quite different. Instead of depositing this check in his account, he apparently cashed it over the counter. Out of the proceeds he purchased through the bank $25,000 United States Treasury Bonds and took away the balance of $25,000 in cash. The transcript of his bank account, therefore, does not show anything of these transactions. The bonds, he testified, he loaned to his brother-in-law, Beckman, as he alleged he had done with $40,000 of the bonds purchased the preceding August. The cash, he swore, he paid over to Paul, explaining that the latter didn't wish bonds because "he got sick of playing the stock market." Paul categorically denied that he received a nickel of this cash.

Beckman's explanation (taken by disposition in Michigan) of these transactions, given after Lipp's testimony and after Lipp had had an opportunity to communicate with him, proves how lightly the oath constrained him when called upon to explain an awkward transaction. Beckman testified that in 1930 and 1931 he was in business both at Cadillac and at Manton, Michigan. He deposed that he came to Boston several times in 1930. Though he was extremely vague as to just when, he thought one of these visits was in the summer. On one of these occasions he said that he asked for a "little loan," and that Lipp replied that he had no money but "if bonds will help you out a little, I will help you out" and that Lipp gave him some bonds, the amount of which he could not recall. Asked what kind of bonds they were, he replied: "Gosh, I couldn't tell you exactly what they were," though he recalled that there were three or four different kinds. He was not certain as to the amount, but "it must have been around—I am not positive, but around $50,000 or $60,000 in bonds." He said these bonds were given him "on three or four or five times," though unable to recall the exact amount that he received on any one of these occasions. Though Lipp had sworn that he received from Beckman a receipt or agreement at the time, the latter testified that he gave no receipt or any other paper in that connection. Asked as to what he did with the bonds, he replied: "Well, sir, I don't know what I did with them. Some of them, I guess, I traded off to some people who came in the store and traded them off for what I could get for them. I didn't think they were very good." He explained that these people were perfect strangers to him. Asked what he sold the bonds for, he replied that he "sold some of them for little or nothing" and that he used the money in his business. Asked what he received for the $10,000 in Phillips Petroleum Bonds that Lipp swore were included in what he gave Beckman, the only information extracted from him was that he "didn't receive as much as $1,000 for the lot and didn't know if he received as much as $500."

Interrogated specifically as to the $25,000 of Boston Elevated Railway Bonds that Lipp swore he delivered to him, he said he thought that the amount was around $10,000 or $15,000, that these were disposed of to strangers and as to what he received from them, he replied: "I couldn't exactly tell you, but it wasn't very much because everybody told me they were no good." Asked if he received $1,000 for these bonds, he replied "No," and additionally, that he didn't know how much he received.

Asked as to the $29,000 United States Liberty Bonds in all that Lipp swore he gave to him, he testified that he thought the "amount was around $25,000 or $40,000—I wouldn't say for sure. I didn't keep track of them." As to these bonds, he said he didn't know how he sold them but that it was at a sacrifice. Specifically and in particular to the question—"And you want it to go into the record that you don't know how you sold those bonds," he replied: "I do." To the further question: "And that you don't know what you received for them," his answer was: "I don't know exactly—I don't remember." He further testified that he used the proceeds to pay some business bills, but that his books and records didn't show that he received or sold any bonds because that had nothing to do with his business. He finally testified that he never made any attempt to find out what the bonds were worth before he disposed of them.

All efforts to trace these bonds—$80,000 purchased by Lipp on August 7, 1930, and the $25,000 by him on May 19, 1931,—have been futile. The ten Phillips Petroleum Bonds (5 1/4's of 1939) were numbered from 18449 to 18458, inclusive. The coupons mature on June 1 and December 1. According to the best information obtainable, but one coupon has been presented for payment since June 1 last—a coupon on bond 18451. The Elevated Railway Bonds bore the numbers 895 to 919, inclusive. Their coupons mature on February 1 and August 1. The August 1 coupons on six of the bonds were presented for payment. It was impossible, however, to identify the person or persons cashing these coupons, as after their removal from the deposit envelopes the connection is broken. The United States Treasury Bonds were not earmarked in any such way as to enable them to be traced at all.

On August 7, 1930, the day the city's check of $250,769.76 was deposited, as above related, by Lipp in his account at the Bank of Commerce and Trust Company and the $80,000 bonds were purchased, he withdrew from the bank $50,000 in cash. Called to account for this large cash withdrawal from the net proceeds of the taking, the only information that he could, or would give the commission was that "I couldn't tell you at present." Furthermore, on May 19, 1931, the day he purchased the second lot of bonds—$25,000 United States Treasury Bonds—he withdrew, as stated, $25,000 in cash. He swore he paid this cash to Paul. The latter, however, flatly denied under oath, as previously stated, that he received any of the cash.

Thus $105,000 in gilt edge bonds ($80,000 bought on August 7, 1930, and $25,000 on May 19, 1931), and cash withdrawals of $75,000 ($50,000 on August 7, 1930, and $25,000 on May 19, 1931), are not satisfactorily accounted for.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE R. FARNUM,
Special Counsel.

Placed on file.

City of Boston,
The Finance Commission,
December 29, 1934.

Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield, Mayor,

Sir,—The Finance Commission transmits to your Honor the inclosed copy of a third report by George R. Farnum, Esq., as special counsel, relating to the investigation of the East Boston Vehicular Tunnel land-takings.

This report is submitted as additional reply to your Honor's request which was made in accordance with an order adopted by the City Council on November 19, 1934.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH JOYCE DONAHUE,
CHARLES M. STOREY,
ALEXANDER WHEELER,
The Finance Commission.

Boston, December 28, 1934.

To the Finance Commission of the City of Boston, Gentlemen,—I submit herewith my second supplementary report dealing with the East Boston Vehicular Tunnel land-takings. It is, as was my first supplementary report of December 26, confined to a study of the material facts involved in the taking of specific properties, including a consideration of what preceded the takings and a report of the results of my efforts to trace the proceeds of the city payments "so far as possible to the ultimate recipients," to quote from the order passed by the City Council on November 19 last.

The report deals with the takings of two properties:

1. 63-65 Commercial street, purchased by speculators in May, 1928, for $54,000, and for which the city paid $77,000 on May 2, 1932.

2. 117-121 North street, upon which speculators obtained options to purchase for $85,000 and for which the city paid $134,000 on October 19, 1932.

63-65 Commercial Street.

On May 11, 1931, the city took over the property numbered 63-65 Commercial street. As related in my previous report of December 19, this property was assessed for $63,000, was purchased by the speculators, Abram Lipp and Joseph Paul, for $54,000, and the city paid therefor $77,000. As the title to the property when originally acquired by Lipp and Paul had been taken in the name of Elizabeth C. Hyland, an employee in Lipp's office, as a straw, the interests of Lipp and Paul were actually represented by a protection mortgage in the amount of $50,000, securing two notes of $25,000 each given by Hyland to Lipp and Paul at the time the property was purchased. The property was paid for by the city on May 22, 1931. After the payment of certain mortgages and other encumbrances on the property, there remained out of the $77,000 paid by the city, a balance of $31,868.07 due to Lipp, who had shortly prior thereto obtained an assignment of the interest of Paul. At the time of the settlement with the city, by reason of this assignment by Paul of his interest in the property to Lipp and by the latter thereafter to Elsie Albertson, an employee of the Exchange Trust Company, this mortgage stood in the name of the last named. The tracing of these proceeds of $31,868.07 will now be attempted. Incidentally, the details of what occurred will illustrate the complexity of these transactions and the difficulty of ascertaining all the material facts.

For an understanding of what occurred, it is necessary to deal with certain antecedent matters. On October 1, 1930, Robert J. Bottomly, an attorney, with offices at No. 209 Washington street, Boston, and who appeared as counsel in many of the city land-takings for the tunnel,—had borrowed from the Exchange Trust Company, where he had an account, $10,000 on his personal note, payable in sixty-one days. The proceeds of the discount of this note, amounting to $9,898.33, had been deposited in the bank in an account opened that day in the name of Robert J. Bottomly, trustee. As security for this note, Bottomly had caused to be indorsed over to Elsie Albertson, a clerk in the employ of the bank, a $40,000 demand note given by said Elizabeth C. Hyland to Lipp, secured by a second mortgage on property at 49-50 South Market street. This mortgage Bottomly also had caused to be assigned to Albertson. On December 1, 1930, Bottomly had obtained a renewal of this note from the bank, and again on various occasions thereafter. As additional security Bottomly put up the two $25,000 notes, above referred to, and the $50,000 mortgage. To adequately secure the bank this mortgage was assigned to Elsie Albertson.

This Bottomly note for $10,000, with accrued interest of $17.50, was paid on May 22, 1931, the day the city paid for 63-65 Commercial street, out of the net proceeds of $31,868.07. This left a balance of $21,850.57 to be accounted for. In the mechanics of the settlement, this money was paid to the Exchange Trust Company by reason of the fact that it held, as above related, an assignment of the protection mortgage on the property as security for the Bottomly note. Instead of crediting Bottomly's account with this balance, at his request they paid this money over to him in cash on the day of settlement, May 22, by a treasurer's check drawn to the order of the paying teller and immediately cashed. Bottomly testified that he gave $15,000 of this $21,850.57 in cash to the late William Flaherty, an attorney, and that he kept the balance himself. He said he obtained no receipt from Flaherty for this cash payment. Mr. Flaherty had died before his name was first brought into this matter.

Bottomly's explanation of the transaction was that he and Flaherty had, for a considerable length of time, been performing various kinds of legal services for Lipp, involving among other things, matters growing out of land transactions of Lipp in Florida and in Washington, D. C., and that as a result Lipp was indebted to them for a large amount. He testified that it was agreed between them, that the net proceeds of the city taking of this property at 63-65 Commercial street should be accepted by Flaherty and Bottomly in full settlement of their claims against Lipp. He swore he paid Flaherty the $15,000 in cash at Flaherty's own request, and because Flaherty had stated to him that, "he (Flaherty) wanted to be paid, but he didn't want to be connected with Lipp in any way, shape or manner whatever." Interrogated as to why he, (Bottomly) took the balance coming to him after the payment of his note and the payment to Flaherty, in cash, he replied that it was "because I wished to." Pressed for a further explanation, however, he testified as follows:

"I said to myself: 'This land-taking I have nothing to do with. It's security for a past debt. If I have it transferred directly to me, immediately, why, somebody then will circulate the story that I am interested in a land-taking. If they circulate a story that I am interested in a land-taking, they will circulate a false story.' To avoid circulation of a false story may have been my motive. It's the one that occurs to me now that influenced me."

Q.—"I don't understand why—whether that money went into your account with this bank, or whether it was taken by you over the counter—it should have any effect on the circulation of any false story."

A.—"If you don't, you are not familiar with the stories given this body as I am. Probably somebody would run up here to start an inquiry and waste a lot of your time."

Q.—"Don't you think they would have been less likely to have you up here for an inquiry, if you had gone through the transaction in the usual way?"

A.—"I carried out Mr. Flaherty's instructions in so far as that was concerned. We split it about 50-50."

Lipp, who was interrogated about this settlement prior to Bottomly's testimony—and who admits he had seen Bottomly between the time that he testified and the appearance before the commission of Bottomly—testified that he had had considerable dealings with Bottomly and Flaherty, principally as lawyers, in connection with speculations in Washington and Florida real estate, and that it was agreed that the net proceeds due him from this land-taking by the city, should be kept by Bottomly and Flaherty in full settlement of what he owed them. In that connection an attempt was then made to check this story.

There appeared to have been no records made—or at least preserved—of these dealings either by Lipp or Bottomly. At least, none were produced and none were discovered. Bottomly testified that he never sent Lipp a bill for this work and admitted that Lipp was given no receipt for the money or any release from the indebtedness to Bottomly and Flaherty it was claimed was thereby settled. Asked—"Have you anything that you could refer to—correspondence, records or anything which would enable us to pass on any charges you made for services rendered Lipp in connection with Florida or Washington real estate," he replied: "No. I think you can only take my word for it; that's all."

From neither Bottomly nor Lipp were any details of these alleged Florida and Washington transactions obtained, either as to the property involved or the persons dealt with, that could be checked. Former partners of Lipp in land speculations were examined and interviewed. None of them had ever heard that Lipp was in any way concerned during the years they were in touch with him, in Florida or Washington land deals, and all stated emphatically that because of their relations with him they would have been likely to have heard something about it had he been so involved.

Law associates of Flaherty, during the period in which these transactions were said to have occurred, were also examined or interviewed. They stated that they had never heard of Flaherty representing Lipp in collaboration with Bottomly or otherwise, in any matters involving Florida or Washington real estate, and that they could find no papers relating thereto in his files. A transcript of the Flaherty account at the Atlantic National Bank branch of The First National Bank showed no deposit at or about the time of the alleged payment to him of $15,000 in cash by Bottomly that could be identified therewith.

117-121 North Street.

As set forth in my report of December 19 last, the property numbered 117-121 North street, and owned by the heirs of George H. Pettee, was taken by the city on October 1, 1932. Control of this property had been obtained by William K. Bean, a speculator and employee in the office of Cabot, Cabot & Forbes, by a series of options, the last of which he had obtained on September 29, 1932. This option enabled Bean to purchase the property for $85,000. Three days later, on October 1, the Transit Commission took this property, and on October 19 the city paid Bean $134,000 therefor, which was the assessed value.

This property had been in the Pettee family for many years and for some time before the taking the Pettees had been trying to dispose of it. Prior to the time Bean succeeded in tying it up, other speculators had obtained options on it, ranging in amount from $50,000 to $100,000, and still others were angling for options.

Charles P. Abbott, a man of diverse interest and activities, whose connection with the deal will be hereinafter explained, testified before the commission that he was informed by Bean that "Bottomly called up and wanted to buy the property for a client and Mr. Lipp also was down there." (Providence.) He also deposed that Bean informed him that Harris Poorvu and Joe Paul were also down there. The options, however, had been allowed to expire as the city made no move during their life to take the property.

On or about July 1, 1932, Bean began negotiations with the Pettee heirs. As an employee of Cabot, Cabot & Forbes, Bean was engaged, at this time, in the care and management and the collection of rents for the Transit Commission of other properties in the same side of North street, already taken by the city for the tunnel.

Bean succeeded, without the payment down of a nickel as a deposit, in obtaining his options for the purchase of this property for $85,000. This was $49,000 less than the city paid for it. The original option was taken in the name of Hyman Yaffe, a North street marketman, as a straw. Abbott testified that Bean acted for him, Abbott, and took this first option in the name of Yaffe, without either his knowledge or consent. He further testified that the first arrangement between them was that Bean was to receive 30 per cent of the profits, but that this was finally revised to a 50-50 basis. This first option was subsequently renewed on several occasions and finally in the name of Bean alone, and so stood at the time of the taking. Abbott contended that Bean deceived him in getting this option in his own name, and Abbott brought a suit in the courts to substantiate this claim. Bean, however, denied this before the Finance Commission.

Incidentally, Abbott testified before the commission that the contracts that were ultimately drawn defining their respective interests in the speculation were reduced to writing and that each received a duplicate original. He asserted that Bean insisted upon the subsequent destruction of these contracts to prevent their existence and contents becoming known, but that he, Abbott, retained his copy intact until an occasion when Bean was at his office, when their presence in his safe was discovered by Bean. Abbott further testified that he then tore them up, upon the insistence of Bean, and threw the fragments into a waste basket in his office. Several weeks later, Abbott deposed, he was at Bean's house and discovered in Bean's desk an envelope containing these fragments, and when he questioned Bean, the latter explained that he had obtained them from Abbott's office by use of a master key which he had to the office building, and which Bean had obtained from the office of Cabot, Cabot & Forbes, who were the agents of the building. Bean denied that anything of this sort took place.

Upon discovery of the fact that the city was proposing to pay $134,000 for property upon which Bean had an option for $85,000, the Finance Commission filed on October 18, 1932, a vigorous protest with the Mayor. The commission's communication, among other things, contained the statement that "... the commission believes that the payment of $134,000 for this parcel at the present time will be an outright squandering of almost $50,000 of the city's money, and the commission is sending your Honor these facts in the hope that you will take immediate action to prevent this unconscionable award."

and concluded with the statement that—

"If the city pays $134,000 now for this taking, in the opinion of the Finance Commission it will be an outright gift of $49,000 of the taxpayers' money by the city to a group of speculators."

On the very next day, October 19, the city settled with Bean for the property, paying him $134,000.

Bean was represented at the passing of papers by Charles Hamilton, an attorney associated with the firm of Poland & Davis, at 27 State street, Boston. As the title to the property had never been transferred from the Pettee heirs to Bean, the checks issued by the city in settlement were made payable to A. Bertha Pettee and Herbert B. Pettee, the record owners. The following checks were issued by the city:

$50,360.00, which was indorsed over to the Boston Five Cents Savings Bank in payment of an outstanding mortgage upon the property;

$37,548.50, which was retained by the Pettees, and $46,091.50, which was indorsed over to the order of Charles Hamilton.

This last check represented the net amount, after certain adjustments, coming to Bean from the settlement. The history of what was done with this check and its sequel furnishes an interesting story which will now be recounted.

On October 19, 1932, Hamilton took this check for $46,091.50 to the First National Bank, on which it was drawn, and obtained in exchange therefor $6,091.50 in cash, and four cashier's checks of $10,000 each, payable to the order of Charles Hamilton or F. H. Davis (the latter being a partner in the firm of Poland & Davis). $4,000 of this cash was immediately deposited in the account of Poland & Davis in the First National Bank and the balance was paid over to Bean. At the same time two of the $10,000 cashier's checks were endorsed over to Poland & Davis and likewise deposited in their account. Thus Poland & Davis came into possession of $24,000 for the account of Bean. $2,000 of this money was retained by them for professional services. Of the $22,000 remaining, they paid to Bean from time to time various amounts aggregating $6,006.45. The balance they disbursed on instructions from Bean in payment of various of his outstanding bills. Of the cash received by Bean, he testified that he gave Hamilton $2,500, $1,000 as a present and $1,500 for legal services.

The two remaining cashier's checks for $10,000 each were endorsed over to Bean by Hamilton and cashed by Bean on October 15, 1934. What transpired between October 19, 1932, the day the city settled for the property, and this date, two years later, will now be related.

Both Abbott and his attorney, William S. Kinney, of 40 Court street, Boston, testified before the commission that at a hearing in the Superior Court, upon the application of Abbott for an injunction, Hamilton claimed these checks as his own. Specifically, Abbott testified that Hamilton stated that "these two $10,000 checks were his own personal property, for fees." Kinney deposed that Hamilton told Judge Hammond that "they were his." Hamilton stated to the commission that upon his best present recollection, what he said in substance was that he was entitled to the checks for his fees for past services and for future services that he was obligated to render. At all events, these checks were delivered by Hamilton to Francis T. Leahy, an attorney at 40 Court street. At this point, Abbott, having heard that the settlement with the city had been put through, brought a bill in equity against Bean to establish his interest in the proceeds of the speculation and joined in that proceeding Hamilton, Leahy, Poland & Davis and the First National Bank. There was a hearing in the Superior Court on his application for a preliminary injunction, and as a consequence, an injunction was issued which held up the cashing of these two checks of $10,000 each. It was at this hearing that Hamilton gave the testimony that has been referred to.

After some vicissitudes, this case finally reached the Massachusetts Supreme Court and was decided against Abbott on a point of law. Though subsequent proceedings were brought by Abbott against Bean and are still pending—there never having been a determination by the Court as to the facts of the transactions between them—the injunction was dissolved and these two checks were returned by Leahy to Hamilton and by the latter indorsed over the Bean, and by Bean cashed as related above.

At the time that he received these last two $10,000 cashier's checks, Bean had an account in the State Street Trust Company. He also had a safe deposit box there. He likewise had a safe in his office. These checks were not deposited in his account, but their proceeds, when cashed, were placed in the bank vault or in a box in his office safe. To be more specific, his testimony thus describes what he did: "I put it first, I think, in my office box and then afterwards I switched it from the office to the State Street Trust and then back to the office." He claimed that with the exception of $9,000 still remaining this money has been entirely used up, first in another payment of $5,000 to Poland & Davis for legal services; secondly, in settling three executions against him aggregating about $2,000, and finally in meeting various current expenses.

It is not possible to check satisfactorily the accuracy of Bean's story or the disbursement of the proceeds of these checks amounting to $20,000, and received by him on October 15 last, or to trace the money after it was placed by him in his safe deposit box.

That Bean had made the whole or a greater part of the payments claimed cannot be doubted. That these payments came entirely from this particular money, however, is quite another matter. An examination of Bean's bank account indicates clearly that he did not bank all of his income and receipts. He always cashed the checks he received periodically from Cabot, Cabot & Forbes for salary and commissions which averaged $7,500 a year. Additionally, he admitted the further income of about $1,000 a year from other sources. Some of this money was paid out from time to time in cash. Hence, the impossibility of attributing any specific payment made to any particular money received.

Perhaps, in fairness, it ought to be added that Bean explained his use of a deposit box or his dealings in cash to the necessity of protecting himself from numerous and importunate creditors.

The facts above set forth, with the inferences to be reasonably drawn therefrom, clearly establish the following conclusions:

1. That the city officials paid an unconscionable profit of $49,000 to Bean as part of an award to the Pettee heirs from whom Bean had only acquired a mere right to buy the property and had actually paid nothing for that right;

2. That Bean only obtained this right to buy because he felt certain that the property would be taken by the city before he would be required to finance the purchase; and

3. Finally, that the city officials responsible for this payment plainly disregarded the best interest of the taxpayers when they awarded and paid $134,000 for property that almost all the real estate men in Boston knew could be had from the owners for $85,000 or less.

Respectfully submitted,
GEORGE R. FARNUM,
Special Counsel.

LEASE OF CONVALESCENT HOME.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Law Department, December 20, 1934.
To the Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen,—There has been transmitted to me today a copy of the following order passed by your Honorable Body on December 17, 1934:

"Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested to ascertain and inform the City Council whether or not the land on Dorchester avenue formerly used by the Hospital Department for a Convalescent Home was purchased by the city or was devised as a part of the Churchill Estate with a condition that it was to be used only for hospital purposes."

It is my understanding that the premises referred to in the above quoted order are the premises numbered 2150 Dorchester avenue, formerly used by the Boston City Hospital as a Convalescent Home. This property was purchased by the city from Asaph Churchill under the authorization of an order passed by the Common Council and Board of Aldermen and approved by the Mayor on March 18, 1890.

The order recited that the purchase be made—"for the purpose of a convalescent home for the city hospital."

The deed from Asaph Churchill to the City of Boston is dated April 19, 1890, and is recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Book 1930, page 548. The deed contains no restrictions.

I am therefore of the opinion that the premises referred to in the above quoted order were purchased by the city and are held by it without restrictions and that said premises were not devised as part of the Churchill Estate with a condition that they were to be used only for hospital purposes.

Yours very truly,
HENRY E. FOLEY,
Corporation Counsel.

DISPOSITION OF CONVALESCENT HOME PROPERTY.

On motion of Coun. FISH No. 5 was taken from the table, viz.:

5. Whereas, The Trustees of the Boston City Hospital has the care and custody of a certain parcel of land belonging to the City of Boston and situated on the easterly side of Dorchester avenue, together with the buildings thereon, and being numbered 2150 on said Dorchester avenue, and known as the Convalescent Home; and

Whereas, The said Trustees of the Boston City Hospital has no present need of the said premises for public purposes; now, therefore, it is hereby

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be, and he hereby is, authorized, in the name and behalf of the City of Boston, in consideration of fifty dollars paid to the City of Boston by the Massachusetts Section of the Women's Department of the National Civic Federation, to lease, by a written instrument satisfactory in form to the Law Department of the City of Boston, to the said Massachusetts Section of the Women's Department of the National Civic Federation, or its nominee, for the purposes of using and operating the said premises as a home for unemployed single girls and women having a settlement in Boston and for no other purpose, for a period of five months beginning with the first day of January, 1935, and ending with the first day of June, 1935, the said premises numbered 2150 Dorchester avenue, situated on the easterly side of said Dorchester avenue, in that part of Boston called Dorchester; and it is hereby further Ordered, That the said lease contain a provision authorizing the Mayor of Boston to terminate and cancel the said lease by sending to the said said Massachusetts Section of the Women's Department of the National Civic Federation a thirty-day notice of his intention so to do, mailed to or delivered at the above leased premises to the said Massachusetts Section of the Women's Department of the National Civic Federation.

The order was indefinitely postponed.

CONGRATULATIONS TO COUNCILOR GOLDMAN.

Coun. WILSON and Coun. FINLEY offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council, in meeting assembled, desire to congratulate our colleague, Maurice M. Goldman, on his appointment as Assistant Attorney-General for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and to wish him success in his high office; and be it further

Resolved, That it is the sense of the City Council that the interests of the city will be best served if Councilor Goldman continues to serve as councilor from Ward 14 for the remainder of his elected term, both on the premises of his value to the city and the great expense involved in the holding of a special election, which would be necessary in the event of Councilor Goldman's resignation.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I may say, with reference to that resolution congratulating the councilor from an adjoining ward, that the appointment referred to, of which we have read with some pleasure, is not only an honor to the member of the City Council but also reflects credit on the judgment of the voters of Ward 14 who elected this young man to fill the position he holds in this body. I feel personally that the resignation from the Council of Councilor Goldman, after his short service in this body, necessitating a special election on Ward 14, would be nothing more nor less than an empty gesture, involving an unnecessary expense to the City of Boston, because I see no reason why he cannot carry on in the City Council until the close of his term and at the same time fulfill his duties at the State House. Also, it is not impossible or improbable that his appointment as Assistant Attorney-General may prove of some value to City Hall, through his contacts with matters taken up by his department in which the city is interested.

The resolutions were passed by a unanimous vote.

EAST BOSTON PLAYGROUND.

Coun. SELVITELLA offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to reconsider his action in vetoing the loan order adopted by the City Council, December 17, 1934, relative to the establishment of a playground in the Fourth Section of East Boston.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Mr. President, I am going to be very brief. We have received from his Honor the Mayor this morning a communication in which he has returned without his signature and has vetoed a loan order passed by this body on December 17 relative to a playground in the Fourth Section of East Boston. For purposes of the record let me say that, until it became necessary to take it away in order to build a new state highway in East Boston, the Fourth Section had a playground. It seems unfair that the children of that section who had a playground before it was taken and for which the city received $17,000 from the state, should now be deprived of a playground. In the letter we have received the Park Commissioner is reported as stating that he knows of no available site. I want to say to the Park Commissioner that it was at his suggestion that I filed the loan order, and at that time he informed me of an available site, having received a communication from the pastor of the Star of the Sea Church in East Boston, who is very much interested in this project. I cannot, therefore, understand what the Mayor or the Park Commissioner mean when they say that there is a sufficient number of playgrounds in the Fourth Section of East Boston. The city received $17,000 from the state for this playground, and it is now unfair and unjust to the children of that section that they should be deprived of a playground. Therefore, I am asking his Honor the Mayor to reconsider his action in vetoing the loan order and he can take up with the Park Commissioner the question of whether or not he is reported to have selected a site and whether it was not at his suggestion that I filed the loan order.

(The order was read for the information of Coun. Shattuck.)

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

EMPLOYEES OF EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, may I ask unanimous consent to make a statement? I will be very brief. It is with reference to some of the statements contained in the newspapers the past week on the subject of the apparent need of certain departments of the City of Boston, as they see it, calling upon the services of private employment agencies to fill such jobs as orderlies when we have available a free employment bureau. The particular instances I intend to bring out when the Council reconvenes after the first of the year. But in some of the messages of the Mayor today I heard again and again the splendid word "propitious," to the effect that "this is not a propitious time to expend money," in view of the hard times and the difficulties under which the city is laboring. Having heard that time after time, that the time was not "propitious," I wondered if the 21st of December, just before Christmas, was a propitious time to slide into the Employment Bureau at $25 each per week a married lady and her daughter as inside clerks, the parties living at 255 Berkeley street, when we remember that the head of the Employment Bureau pointed out recently that he could get along with a much smaller personnel this year than last year, that, in fact, he had been getting along very well up to that time, including himself, with two men and two women, so far as the inside work was concerned, whereas the only way in which the Municipal Employment Bureau can really function is to have some outside solicitors, instead of appointing more inside help at this time. So I think, under the circumstances, this is a very appropriate time to call attention to this matter, when we see a married woman and her daughter added to the inside force. I believe this is a matter which we can well at this time call to the attention of his Honor the Mayor, who is really running the office and making the appointments. I certainly believe if there are to be any additional appointments made to that Bureau they should be such as will assist it in its work.

HISTORY OF POLICE COMMISSIONER APPOINTMENTS.

*Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I would ask unanimous consent to make a statement. While looking over some old files of the Boston Journal in the Boston Public Library recently, I came across a statement that seemed very pertinent in view of the present situation in regard to the Police Commissionership of Boston. It showed the position taken at that time by the incumbent of the Police Commissionership, who set the standard of the conduct of that office, I think, for all time.

"When Governor Foss was elected in November, 1910 (by 30,000 votes), over Governor Draper, it was suggested at that time that since the term of the then Boston Police Commissioner, the late Stephen J. O'Meara, was to run out in the following May, Mr. O'Meara should resign before Governor Draper went out of office, and then, technically, under the law, Mr. O'Meara could be reappointed for another five-year term. The incoming Governor Foss could not then remove the Police Commissioner. Commissioner O'Meara replied:

"Resign and be reappointed for another five-year term so as to thwart the appointive power of the incoming Governor! That would be contemptible!"

And the following May Governor Foss reappointed Commissioner O'Meara for another five-year term.

CLOSING PROCEEDINGS.

Coun. ROBERTS offered the following:

Resolved, That the thanks of the members of the City Council be extended to President John F. Dowd for the able and impartial manner in which he has presided over the deliberations of the Council during the present municipal year.

The question came on the passage of the resolution.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, at this time I want to express my appreciation, and in doing so I know that I am voicing the feeling of all the members of this body, of the service that the President of the Council has given us during this past year. True, this year, due to the financial stress under which we have been laboring, the affairs of the city have been in a very different condition from what they normally would be. But I feel that not only as President of the body but as Mayor on occasions when the Mayor has been absent from the city, our President has shown remarkable ability and talent in dealing with all questions coming before the Council and all matters in which the city was interested. I know that this order will be passed unanimously, in appreciation and recognition of his services.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, time has flown so rapidly that it seems hardly a year since the President of this honorable body was escorted to the chair as our presiding officer. In reviewing our work of the past year briefly, while the economic program has been somewhat different from what we have experienced in more prosperous years, I am strongly impressed, as are all the other members with the firmness with which our President has dealt with the membership. Like my colleague from the adjoining district, I have had occasion to observe our President for many years in public life and I want to reiterate that his actions as President have always been guided with such fairness, such ability, such sincerity, such devotion to the public interest, as to deserve our highest public commendation. I move you, therefore, sir, that the members of this body rise and pay tribute to the President of the Council.

The resolutions were passed by a unanimous rising vote, amid applause.

President DOWD—Fellow members, may I state that I have throughout the year thoroughly appreciated the exceedingly great honor of advancement to the presidency of this body. It is a great honor for any young man to be President of the Boston City Council. This is my ninth consecutive year as member of the body, and I can say that, not only as President for the past year but as a member of the body in previous years, I have enjoyed every minute of my service. As President, I have tried to be fair and impartial, and I have been greatly helped in my administration of the duties of the office by the kindly consideration and courtesy extended to me by every member of the Council. I have tried to fulfill the duties of the position as they have been fulfilled by my predecessors in the past eight years, and as I know they will be fulfilled during the year 1935 by my successor. I again thank you, fellow members, for your helpfulness and courtesy to me during the year and at all times, something that I shall certainly remember no matter how long I may remain in public life. (Applause.)

Adjourned at 12.13 p. m., on motion of Coun. GALLAGHER, to meet on Monday, January 7, 1935, at 2 p. m.

Passed unanimously.

Mr. Sullivan: It was with the greatest pleasure that I learned that the fine record made by the graduates of the Public Latin School at Harvard University has been continued this year. Forty graduates of the Latin School are listed as honor students. This number ranks as the highest on the list, over any other school in the country.

Not very long ago notice was received that the students graduating from English High School had led all others in the number of honor students at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

I think it is well to call attention to these records as they indicate the very excellent work which is being done by the head masters and the faculties of these two schools. I feel that such showings indicate that the Boston schools hold a high place among the preparatory schools in the country.

The statement was ordered spread upon the records and a copy sent to the head masters of the Public Latin and English High Schools.

The Committee adjourned.

A SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy, there are twenty, nay a hundred, who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.

The act of incorporation was passed by the Legislature on February 23, 1822. On March 4 following, the voters of Boston accepted said act, chapter 110, 1821-22, as its first city charter by a majority of 916 in a total vote of 4,678. The vote was 2,797 yeas, 1,881 nays. Previous attempts to incorporate as a city had been made in 1650, 1659, 1667, 1708, 1744, 1762, 1784, 1791, 1804 and 1815. The charter was revised in 1854, 1885 and 1909. Amendments to the 1909 charter were enacted in 1910, 1912, 1914, 1918, 1919, 1921, 1922 and lastly in 1924 (see "Municipal Register" for 1928, pages 19-43).

EMPLOYEES FOR LONG ISLAND HOSPITAL SECURED FROM MUNICIPAL EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.

The following is a copy of communication received by Mayor Mansfield from Dr. Frederic A. Washburn, Commissioner of the Institutions Department:

BOSTON, January 4, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—In reply to your communication about the statement of Councilor Robert G. Wilson, Jr., as to the employment of orderlies at Long Island Hospital I would say that I cannot find any record that the Commercial Reference Association, 221 Tremont street, has been called from this office to furnish applicants for any vacant positions. I cannot be absolutely sure of this as one of the young ladies from this office who has this matter in hand will not be here again until Monday.

It is possible that the Commercial Reference Association have sent people to this office to apply for jobs and that we were unaware of it and considered that the applicants had come in of their own account.

I believe that it is a statement of fact that we have always called the Municipal Employment Agency in the first place and have only gone to other agencies when the Municipal Employment Bureau had no one fitted to fill the vacancy.

It should be understood that orderlies and attendants who care for the sick should be people of some training, if it is possible to obtain them.

We have applied once or twice to other hospitals and Nurses' Registration Bureaus for applicants of this description. We have, however, obtained very few from these as the job is not very attractive to those who can choose.

Yours very sincerely,

FREDERIC A. WASHBURN,
Commissioner.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 27.

NO. 3

MAYOR MANSFIELD ESTABLISHES REAL ESTATE DIVISION OF PUBLIC WELFARE DEPARTMENT TO BRING AID TO TITLE HOLDERS OF PROPERTY WHERE THAT PROPERTY IS NON-PRODUCTIVE, THUS FORCING OWNERS TO SEEK RELIEF—DISCUSSES PLANS AND THEIR OPERATION AS WELL AS THEIR INTENT AND PURPOSE IN RADIO ADDRESS FROM CITY HALL BROADCASTING STATION OF WNAC—AIM TO KEEP FAMILIES INDEPENDENT.

The following is the radio address of the Mayor, from the Mayor's Office, City Hall, Boston, at 4 p. m., Tuesday, January 15, 1935, over Station WNAC:

The Property Owner and Welfare Relief.

In the midst of all the activity to supply necessary relief to persons without means, the plight of the property owner has been largely overlooked. His property may be non-productive; it may be mortgaged for more than it is worth; it may be occupied by tenants who do not pay rent; it may, instead of being an asset, be a decided liability to the owner — yet because he does own property the owner is refused relief.

This problem has become so acute in Boston that at my suggestion the Overseers of the Public Welfare have established a Real Estate Division to study the problems of real estate owners who are forced to apply to the city for relief — “because they cannot eat their houses.” This division is under the direction of Edward B. Steele, a young man with real estate experience and a graduate of the Harvard Law School.

The idea of an applicant for public welfare relief owning real estate seems at first somewhat incongruous. The immediate impulse is to say emphatically that any property owner should be barred automatically from becoming a welfare recipient, because people regard realty as they do a bank account. It has the intrinsic value of actual money, for it can be rented, mortgaged, sold, or used in various ways to raise money and to become income-producing.

When property was at its old level and when work and wages were normal, it was a valuable asset from any angle of investment. But during the past ten years, property valuation has undergone a complete change. Between 1925 and 1929 it was at its peak; and it is estimated that since then it has decreased from 30 per cent to 40 per cent, so that today many property owners face the reverse of the picture. They must meet the problem of upkeep, including taxes, interest on mortgages, insurance, and repairs on realty which is making no valid return on its investment; property which may be untenanted or for which the tenants are paying minimum rents, and may be in arrears even for these. So that what was once an asset has now become, at least temporarily in many cases, a liability. The fact that during the past two months the Real Estate Division of the Overseers of the Public Welfare has investigated 150 property cases, and has been called upon to help distracted home owners who believed themselves to be at the end of their financial rope, indicates that the establishment of such a division was a timely attempt to meet one of the inevitable results of the long drain on family resources.

Keeps Families Independent.

The outstanding value of this service to the city is its influence in keeping families independent, and showing them that resources may still exist in their property if they will follow directions and make some necessary inquiries and adjustments. There are several ways in which the division is able to help to keep property owners self-supporting and to do away with the necessity for their being given public aid. One is to secure a suspension of principal payments on homes being bought through cooperative banks, another is to direct property owners to institutions which will take second mortgages; still another is to put them in touch with real estate and renting agencies, which will find tenants or purchasers. One of the important phases of the work is to give the owner a clear picture of the state of his possessions, and apprise him of their current value and possibilities.

No effort is used to make applicants sell, mortgage, or otherwise dispose of property, but every incentive is provided, and every help given, to see if there is not some last avenue open whereby they can hold their property and make it income-producing.

Banks and real estate firms are interviewed for applicants. The Co-operative Bank League, the Savings Banks Association of Massachusetts, the Real Estate Exchange, as well as numerous neighborhood banks and realty dealers, have already helped to solve some problems for the department's applicants, and to put inquirers on the road to a better understanding and use of the channels through which they can act to save their property.

MAYOR MANSFIELD OFFICIALLY OPENS DRIVE FOR SALE OF TICKETS TO PRESIDENT'S BIRTHDAY BALL, FUNDS FROM WHICH WILL BE USED TO FIGHT INFANTILE PARALYSIS SCOURGE—HOPES AFFAIR IN BOSTON GARDEN WILL BE BIGGEST AND MOST SUCCESSFUL IN NATION AND HISTORY OF SUCH AFFAIRS—70 PER CENT OF PROCEEDS TO BE APPLIED LOCALLY THIS YEAR.

The following is the radio address of Mayor Mansfield, January 14, over Station WNAC, relative to the President's Birthday Ball:

Mr. Peters, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Radio Audience.

I am pleased, as Mayor of the City of Boston and as General Chairman of the Birthday Ball for the President Committee, officially, tonight, over the lines of WNAC, to open the drive for the sale of tickets for this most worthy cause.

President Roosevelt has again consented to lend his birthday as the occasion for another nation-wide series of benefits to raise additional funds to combat infantile paralysis. At the President's own suggestion, which is also the recommendation of the trustees of the Warm Springs Foundation, no part of this year's proceeds will go to the foundation. A year ago, birthday parties throughout the country provided a fund of $1,000,000 for Warm Springs.

As Mr. Peters has informed you, and which I feel should be repeated, 70 per cent of the proceeds of the ball will be distributed locally to care for needy infantile cases. The local committee will retain that amount to be expended in the local community. It will give the local authorities the opportunity to concentrate their monies with those hospitals, doctors and societies that are putting forth every effort to combat this dreaded disease. The remaining 30 per cent will be turned over to the National Committee of the Birthday Ball for delivery to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, to be presented by him to a National Commission to widen research efforts to bring under control the disease itself.

LEADING CITIZENS AID.

Leaders from all walks of life have accepted the invitation to serve on the National Committee and here locally I have received a whole-hearted response from all who have been asked to serve.

Former Mayor Andrew J. Peters has kindly consented to serve as chairman of the Birthday Ball to be held here in Boston, and Mr. Paul D. Rust is giving of his time to serve as vice-chairman. Last year a most successful ball was held under the direction of Mr. Rust. Surrounding these gentlemen is a most excellent committee of 150 ladies and gentlemen who are giving willingly of their time so that this most worthy cause might be a great success. To all members of the committee I extend my heartfelt thanks for their willing assistance and cooperation. To the press and radio stations of this city I am deeply grateful, for without the valuable aid of these two agencies we could not hope for success. To all the musical units, military organizations, decorators and to all others who are assisting I extend my sincere thanks.

As for the ball itself. It will take place on the evening of January 30 (Wednesday) at the Boston Garden. It is expected that over 20,000 persons (the largest ever assembled at an affair of this kind) will be in attendance that evening. Two famous orchestras and two well known bands have indicated their willingness to take part, and those attending will enjoy the finest music to be presented in Boston in years. Music will be but one feature of the evening, which in addition to dancing will include a military drill, personal appearances of famous men and women of stage and screen, as well as carefully selected entertainment.

One of the features of the evening will be the attendance of the consuls of all the foreign countries having consulates in Boston. Each representative of a foreign country will have a box and the front of each box will be draped with the colors of the country that he represents.

It is the desire of our National Leader, President Roosevelt, that the tickets for these social events of January 30 be priced at a low figure, and accordingly the committee here in Boston have set the price of $1 each per ticket. In this way a vast majority of our fellow citizens can contribute to this most worthy cause and at the same time receive the greatest value for their money in the way of entertainment and enjoyment that has ever been held in this city.

One of the real features of the evening will be a special radio message by President Roosevelt to all those assembled in the Garden at 11.30 p. m. It is expected that the President will speak to over 4,000,000 at that time, over the entire country.

I am informed by the National Committee that 5,600 balls and entertainments will be held throughout the country on the evening of January 30 and it is my hope that the gala affair to be held at the Boston Garden will be the most successful of all, from both a financial and attendance standpoint. I urge upon my fellow citizens to show by their attendance and the purchase of tickets that they are interested in this most worthy cause and that they are willing to give their cooperation to the end that we of Boston may assist in combating one of the most dreaded diseases menacing our nation and thus help to rehabilitate the victims of infantile paralysis.

HIGH PRAISE FOR TRANSIT COMMISSIONER.

Yours truly,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

BROADCAST BY THE MAYOR.

The very fact that the inquiry comes from the Overseers helps the applicant to gain an audience, and the friendly intervention of the division is tremendously appreciated by the bewildered men and women whose lives are shadowed by the fear of the loss of their homes, into which they may have poured the savings of a lifetime.

Discussing the services that the Real Estate Division has been able to give to applicants during the two months of its existence, Mr. Steele said:

"One object of the department is to convince many property owners, who are in desperate straits, that something can be done to save their property, and that they do not have to seek city aid but can retain independence by utilizing the resources that still exist. Another object is to help those who have no equity left in their property and tide them over financially for the time being."

CASES AIDED.

The cases come to us through the three divisions of relief which are under the control of the Overseers of the Public Welfare — Dependent Aid, Mothers' Aid and Old Age Assistance. In each classification of aid there is a slight difference in our judgment of facts, because Mothers' Aid and Old Age Assistance are based on state laws, and there is some latitude with regard to a small equity in property.

The important division, from which come most of our cases of those who are in desperate straits for immediate help of some kind is the Dependent Aid Division. Often our help takes the form of advice, and an introduction to a real estate corporation or a bank that will help.

Many of our most recent cases seem to be cases of panic caused by inability to rent property, or to collect rents. The property owner has, for the most part, paid the interest on his mortgage, and taxes are up-to-date, but his income has been entirely devoted to carrying the property, and he and his family face actual want, especially when there are arrears in rentals of his store or tenement piled up, and when, perhaps, he owes rent himself, and is in debt for other necessities. Then he thinks of the Welfare. Many of the applicants come in and ask us if we will take over and handle their property for them; they seem to have exhausted their resources and lost all initiative. Of course, we tell them the city cannot take over any property.

All the applicants come to us from the district visitor who has been to the home to get their "history" and see what she can suggest in the way of help. As soon as the visitor comes upon the information that the applicant owns or has interest in property, she sends the name and the facts she is able to gather, with regard to this part of the case history, into us asking us to look into the matter further for her.

We have the visitor fill in a complete account of the applicant's property, giving such information as purchase price, date of purchase, type of property, income from rentals, type of heating, condition of property, name of realtor trying to rent or sell the property, the price asked, the number of mortgages, and the amount paid off on them. Information regarding cooperative mortgages and non-cooperative mortgages and the amount of insurance paid each year is required. Then we verify these facts and look up the records.

One of the first steps in handling cases for those who hold cooperative mortgages is to find out whether or not they have availed themselves of the privilege of having monthly dues suspended for a period of six months. We very often find that they did not know that this could be done, if 1934 taxes have been paid; and so that case is settled without delay, and the applicant, instead of being admitted to welfare, has six months free from the burden of having to pay principal charges on his property.

Each individual case must be gone into thoroughly from the point of view of property possibilities, as well as from the angle of temporary aid. The question of aid is decided by the assistant supervisor who has all the other facts and future of the family situation in her possession. It is always the policy of the department to relieve acute and immediate necessity while a study of resources, such as real estate holdings, is being made. In the event that the property is mortgaged to the limit and there is no means of making it productive at present, the applicant is given aid, and becomes a welfare client just as if he had no property, until such time as he will be able to get work, or get aid elsewhere.

The chief reason for the difficult financial position in which applicant owners, in common with all property owners, find themselves today is that in this most serious of depressions, property owners are paying a pre-depression rate of interest on their mortgages and a real estate tax which, in the past year, was $9 higher per thousand than it was in 1929. Even though assessed valuations have been somewhat lowered since 1929, the reductions have been neither general nor uniform. This pre-depression interest rate and very high tax rate must both be met out of the income from the property rentals, which have shrunk about 25 per cent since 1930.

Even when tenements are rented, there is often difficulty in collecting in full every month. Due also to the fact that the courts are lenient towards unemployed tenants, who are not able to pay their rents, landlords are forced to accept a greatly reduced rent to avoid ejectment proceedings and the bother of securing another tenant. The property owners today who are receiving even a 4 per cent return on their property are few and fortunate.

CITIZENS ASKED TO PATRONIZE AUTOMOBILE SHOW AS AN AID TO BUSINESS RECOVERY AND A DEFEAT OF THE DEPRESSION BY ENCOURAGING EMPLOYMENT.

On January 16 the following was issued from the office of the Mayor:

The whole comprehensive program of President Roosevelt, contemplating, as it does, the expenditure of such huge sums of money, has been based solely upon the assumption that such artificial aids were necessary to give adequate employment to the people during the depression and until such time as private industries might recover sufficiently to carry on the work as they always have done in normal times. It is the intention of the Federal Government gradually to withdraw this artificial aid as soon as it can be shown that private industries can safely assume the burden of supplying employment to the people of the nation.

One of the largest of all branches of industry is the automobile branch and it has been one of the first to show very distinct evidence of improvement in business and of its ability, at no distant date, to resume normal production. Indeed, one of the largest manufacturers in this country and in the world stated recently that for him the depression was over and that he planned to build a million new cars in 1935. Such courage and confidence in the future ought to be encouraged by all of us. The automobile show which will open at Mechanics Building on Saturday affords a timely opportunity to show that we appreciate such courage and vision.

Prosperity in this particular line means prosperity in so many affiliated industries that the good to be derived from a successful automobile season can hardly be exaggerated. It will not only supply employment to automobile mechanics who actually put the cars together but it will provide employment for men in the industries which make up the materials which go into the cars. Those industries are many, such as leather, cotton, fabrics, rubber, iron, brass, steel, paint, woodwork and glass. The number that would be thus employed is, of course, incapable of ascertainment, but it is unnecessary to produce proof to show that the aid given such workers would be tremendous, and the burden upon the government and upon the municipalities would be correspondingly lighter.

The success of the automobile show, which seems to be foreshadowed, will indicate to what extent the country has recovered and is recovering from these years of depression and it will prove to be a very efficient barometer by which to judge the immediate future for American industries.

Let us all cooperate heartily to make this show a success and to help its sponsors achieve their goal which is to make it the very finest automobile show that has ever been held, not only in Boston but anywhere.

THE MAYOR INVESTIGATES COMPLAINT OF EAST BOSTON CITIZENS ON REFUSE DUMPING AT PARK.

The Mayor went personally on January 11 to World War Memorial Park at East Boston to view the dumping ashes and refuse which has been complained of by some East Boston residents. He found that the dumping consisted mostly of ashes and paper and was in a limited area at the extreme northerly edge of the park.

He was informed by Commissioner Long that this is merely a preliminary fill of a light nature which it is necessary first to spread upon the mud flats before a heavier fill of rich loam is placed over the top and that if the heavy fill were placed on the flats direct it would sink through and that this light fill is the customary and necessary kind that is used in such fillings.

The Mayor found that this whole matter had been very much exaggerated and is satisfied that while it may be temporarily offensive while the fill is being put in, in the spring and summer when the park will be in use by the citizens it will all have been covered by solid fill and loam and that the place will be much beautified and no vestige will remain of the objectionable fill which is now being put in.

MAYOR MANSFIELD OPENS DRIVE FOR EMERGENCY RELIEF IN 1935 WITH ADDRESS TO WORKERS ASSEMBLED IN COLONIAL THEATRE, SATURDAY, JANUARY 12 — NINETY-SEVEN CHARITY ORGANIZATIONS, WHOSE FUNDS HAVE BEEN DEPLETED THROUGH DEPRESSION, ARE TO BENEFIT, THUS RELIEVING OVERBURDENED TAXPAYERS.

I am very glad to have this opportunity to urge most earnestly upon my fellow citizens the necessity that exists for supporting this Emergency Relief Campaign for 1935. Every one of the charitable organizations that is included in the list of ninety-seven that are to receive benefits from the drive is doing a most worthy work. I wish that I had the power to make every one who is listening to this program realize that the work that these organizations is doing must go on, and if it is not sustained by the voluntary charitable contributions of the citizens, that the burden must fall directly upon the shoulders of the taxpayers, who, as everyone knows, are already heavily overburdened.

If the people who are asked to contribute would only reflect a moment and would realize that although these organizations are private and not public institutions, yet they and their relatives and friends, their children, are often the ones who benefit by the great work that is being done, there would then be no question about the success of this drive.

Let us picture for a moment what would happen if all of these charities were to be abandoned for lack of proper support. If such a catastrophe should happen, the City of Boston would, of necessity, be compelled to take over all of the activities, burdens and responsibilities now so cheerfully assumed by these various societies, the enormous expense would have to be met out of taxation and there would be no escape from it. In other words, these ninety-seven charities are taking from the shoulders of the real estate taxpayers a huge burden which otherwise would be wholly unbearable. One simple illustration will explain clearly to the taxpayer what this would mean: The Boston Dispensary has been supplying medicines and medical visitation and treatment of the sick poor at their homes for over a century. Because of the depression this excellent institution has found it necessary to notify the city that it could no longer carry on this work unless it received some financial aid from the city. In this emergency, as Mayor of the city I examined into the matter and found that in order to supply the place of the Boston Dispensary by visiting physicians from the Boston City Hospital, if that plan should be adopted, it would cost the City of Boston between $35,000 and $50,000 a year. Fortunately, we are not compelled to decide this question this year because the managers of this emergency campaign have agreed to supply to the Boston Dispensary the necessary money this year. Thus you will see that if this drive is successful in this one instance alone $35,000 to $50,000 is saved to the taxpayers of Boston.

I have asked all municipal and county employees to contribute 1 per cent of their yearly earnings to this campaign and I earnestly urge all such employees to contribute through the heads of their various departments. The contribution may be made in divided payments so that it will not be felt by the employee. The experience of similar drives in other cities this year indicates an over-subscription, whereas last year the general story was a failure to collect the required amount.

Let us be able to say for Boston that our city, too, this year, has oversubscribed its allotted amount so that the excellent and wholly indispensable work which these charitable institutions perform may not be hampered in any way.

MAYOR MANSFIELD FORCED TO CLOSE IMMEDIATELY CHELSEA NORTH DRAWBRIDGE BECAUSE OF DANGEROUS CONDITION AND TO PREVENT POSSIBLE DISASTER OR DEATH TO THOSE ATTEMPTING TO USE IT.

On January 11 the following statement was issued by the Mayor's Office:

On returning from East Boston the Mayor went over the Chelsea North Drawbridge and was so impressed by the dangerous condition of the bridge that he was almost moved to order it closed immediately. The part immediately south of the North Drawbridge is in an extremely dangerous condition. The piles and the whole bridge structure have sunk about four or five feet below the original grade and the stream of traffic in both directions was so heavy that the bridge was visibly swaying and trembling. Upon his return to his office the Mayor communicated with the Police Department, as a result of which a traffic officer was placed at each end of the bridge to thin out the traffic and to allow only one heavy truck to pass at a time and only one trolley car to be on the dangerous part at a time. This will slow the traffic very considerably, but it was either a question of doing that or closing the bridge immediately.

A committee representing the Metropolitan Coal Company waited upon the Mayor to see if the bridge could not be kept open for a longer time, but the personal examination which the Mayor had made had impressed him so deeply that he had refused to keep the bridge open after midnight on Sunday.

In the meantime the Mayor has been informed that the Chelsea Board of Aldermen sitting as a committee of the whole had voted to recommend the appropriation of the remaining $625 and that this vote would be reported to the Board of Aldermen in Chelsea on next Monday night where it would probably be adopted. But Chelsea acts altogether too late. It is immaterial now whether it should appropriate the $625 or not. If it had acted promptly some months ago and made this appropriation it would have been unnecessary to close the bridge entirely. But during the delay the bridge has deteriorated so rapidly that it has now become necessary to close the bridge in any event.

The Public Works Department is satisfied that enough money had already been appropriated without this $625 to defray the entire expense of repairing and strengthening the bridge, and accordingly approved the contract.

A further development in relation to the bridge,—the Mayor was informed by Henry C. Attwill, Chairman of the Department of Public Utilities, that it had granted to the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company a temporary permit for sixty days to allow it to transport passengers from Chelsea square through the Sumner Tunnel to Haymarket square, Boston, and that the new schedule of rates had been approved.

The bridge will be kept open for foot passengers and if necessary a small temporary footbridge will be built.

LAND-TAKING IN DORCHESTER.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for a public improvement consisting of the laying out and construction of Wentworth terrace, Dorchester district, as a highway, from Wentworth street easterly, bounded and described as follows:

A highway named Wentworth terrace is hereby laid out, from Wentworth street easterly for a distance of approximately four hundred and eighty-five feet, and ordered constructed, the cost thereof to be charged to Federal Funds allocated under the Federal Emergency Relief Administration program for Massachusetts.

Said highway and the land, exclusive of trees or structures standing upon or affixed thereto, in which an easement for street purposes is hereby taken, is bounded and described as follows:

Westerly by Wentworth street, thirty-three feet; northerly by the northerly line of said Wentworth terrace as hereby laid out, four hundred eighty-four and 88/100 feet; easterly by the easterly line of said Wentworth terrace as hereby laid out, sixty-three and 98/100 feet; and southerly by the southerly line of said Wentworth terrace as hereby laid out, by two measurements, one hundred forty-four and 86/100 feet on a curve of three hundred thirty-three and 43/100 feet radius and three hundred forty-four and 53/100 feet.

Voted, That this Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the making of the public improvement, consisting of the laying out and construction of Wentworth terrace, Dorchester district, as a highway, from Wentworth street for a distance of approximately four hundred and eighty-five feet easterly, under the order of the Board of January 16, 1935, and awards no damages therefor.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Bridge Service).

Upon January 11 the Mayor approved a contract with Coleman Brothers Corporation for repairs to Chelsea North Bridge. A communication from C. J. Carven was as follows:

BOSTON, January 11, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Pursuant to chapter 342 of the Acts of 1934, authorizing the City of Boston to repair and strengthen the Chelsea North Bridge over the Mystic river, between the cities of Boston and Chelsea, at a cost not exceeding $270,000, an invitation for bids under two alternates was advertised in the City Record. Alternate A provided for the repair and strengthening of the bridge while maintaining street car traffic on one track, and Alternate B provided for the repair and strengthening of the said bridge with the bridge closed to pedestrian and vehicular traffic. The following bids were received and opened by this department on October 10, 1934:

Alternate A, Maintaining Car Travel on One Track.—Coleman Brothers Corporation, $380,770; M. F. Gaddis, $292,222.50; T. Stuart & Son Company, $393,400; Blakeslee Rollins Corporation, $348,285.

Alternate B, Bridge Closed.—Coleman Brothers Corporation, $243,820; M. F. Gaddis, $275,632.50; C. J. Maney & Co., Incorporated, $269,442.50; T. Stuart & Son Company, $309,800; Blakeslee Rollins Corporation, $311,287.50.

On October 26, 1934, I requested your approval, which was granted to me on the same day, to award a contract to Coleman Brothers Corporation for repairing and strengthening said bridge with the specifications called for in Alternate A at an estimated cost to the city of $243,820, the amount bid for Alternate B. Said request was based upon the desire of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway to keep its street car service uninterrupted during the period of reconstruction of the bridge and I understand that private arrangements were to be made between the railway and Coleman Brothers Corporation whereby the railway was to pay Coleman Brothers Corporation an amount for keeping said street car service uninterrupted.

In view of the unsafe condition of the bridge, it is my opinion that the bridge should be closed to all traffic, including street car traffic, until repairs are made and the bridge strengthened.

As I have stated herein the bid of Coleman Brothers Corporation was the lowest bid under Alternate B (bridge closed).

I am of the opinion that further advertising would not produce any more advantageous bids to the city since this work has already received sufficient publicity. Furthermore, the emergency nature of the work in view of the closing of the bridge makes immediate action essential. I therefore respectfully request your approval to award, without further inviting proposals therefor by advertisement, a contract to Coleman Brothers Corporation for repairing and strengthening Chelsea North Bridge under Alternate B at an estimated cost to the city of $243,820, based upon fixed unit prices for quantities estimated by the division engineer, as originally bid by the contractor.

In view of the new reduced schedule of tolls and charges in the Sumner Traffic Tunnel during the period of the repair and strengthening of the Chelsea North Bridge, the public inconvenience resulting from the necessity of closing the bridge is minimized.

Respectfully yours,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

PENAL INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

Boston, January 2, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Your approval is respectfully requested for the award of a contract without advertising to the Paramount Laboratories of 123 Heath street, Roxbury, Mass., for the extermination of vermin at the House of Correction, Deer Island, Boston Harbor, from January 1, 1935, to December 31, 1935, inclusive, at a cost of eleven hundred seventy-six (1,176) dollars.

The Paramount Laboratories performed this work at Deer Island during ten months of 1934 in a very satisfactory manner. This is an important matter in an institution and I believe it advisable to retain a company whose services have proven satisfactory rather than make any change. In my opinion this is a fair price.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM G. O'HARE,
Penal Institutions Commissioner.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 28, 1934.

To His Honor the Mayor.

I respectfully request permission to renew for the period of one year from January 1, 1935, the lease with Annie V. Loonis for property on Gibson street, Dorchester, occupied by this department as a Paving Service district yard. The rental will be at the rate now being paid, namely, $1,800 per year, in addition to which the city reimburses the owner for the taxes paid.

This property is used as the yard which covers a large area of the Dorchester district, and its continued use is necessary for carrying on our activities.

Yours respectfully,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BOSTON, December 31, 1934.

To the Honorable Mayor.

Supplementing my letter to you of December 24 requesting your approval of the award of a contract for the removing of snow and ice in District 3 to Baker, Matz & Co., the third lowest bidder, and confirming my earlier oral statement to you, please be advised that I have not recommended the award of said contract to Joseph P. McCabe, Incorporated, because said latter contractor has been awarded a contract for removing snow and ice in District 11, in reference to which he was the lowest bidder; nor have I recommended the award of said contract to C. Reppucci & Co., because said latter contractor has been awarded a contract for removing snow and ice in District 5, with reference to which he was the lowest bidder.

In my opinion, Joseph P. McCabe, Incorporated, and C. Reppucci & Co. can only handle one district in a proper and efficient manner to the greatest benefit of the public using the streets during and after a snow storm.

Respectfully yours,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BOSTON, January 2, 1935.

To the Honorable Mayor.

Supplementing my letter to you of December 26, 1934, requesting your approval to the award of a contract for removing snow and ice in District 8 to Martin J. Kelly, the fifth lowest bidder, and confirming my earlier oral statement to you, please be advised that I have not recommended the award of said contract to Coleman Corporation, because said latter contractor, Mr. Coleman, informed me that the price bid was inadequate and he wished not to be considered; nor have I recommended the award of said contract to J. P. McCabe, Incorporated, because said latter contractor has been awarded a contract for removing snow and ice in District 11, with reference to which he was the lowest bidder; nor have I recommended the award of said contract to Baker, Matz & Co., because said latter contractor has been awarded a contract for removing snow and ice in District 3; nor have I recommended the award of said contract to the Ward General Contracting Company because said latter contractor has been awarded a contract for removing snow and ice in District 7, in which he was the lowest bidder, nor have I recommended the award of said contract to the National Engineering and Construction Company, because said latter contractor has been awarded a contract for removing snow and ice in District 6.

In my opinion J. P. McCabe, Incorporated, Baker, Matz & Co. and the National Engineering and Construction Company, can only handle one district in a proper and efficient manner to the greatest benefit of the public using the streets during and after a snow storm.

Respectfully yours,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

A SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy, there are twenty, nay a hundred, who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.

RECREATION, ADEQUATE AS TO KIND AND AVAILABILITY.

Although the ratio of park acreage to population has been used as the simplest measure of the extent to which cities provide areas for the recreation of their people, it is by no means an accurate basis for determining this. If most of the total acreage is in one large park, if the parks are poorly distributed, or if they do not provide various types of recreation facilities, the park system may be inefficient even though the acreage is large. The efficiently planned park and recreation system will involve balanced relationship and well-distributed location of several types of properties, namely, children's playgrounds, neighborhood playfield parks, neighborhood parks, reservations, boulevards, and parkways.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, January 7, 1935.

First meeting of City Council in 1935 in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., Coun. GALLAGHER, senior member, in the chair. Absent, Coun. Tobin.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:

Ordered, That we now proceed to elect the President of the City Council for the year 1935.

The order was passed. The clerk called the roll, each member as his name was called announcing his choice for President for the ensuing year, with the following result:

For John I. Fitzgerald—Coun. Agnew, Brackman, Doherty, Donovan, Dowd, Englert, Finley, Fish, Fitzgerald, Gallagher, Gleason, Coleman, Green, Kerrigan, McGrath, Murray, Norton, Roberts, Selvella, Shattuck, Wilson—21.

Coun. John I. Fitzgerald was declared elected President of the City Council for 1935, and a committee consisting of Coun. Green and Agnew escorted him to the chair, amidst applause.

Coun. DOHERTY—Mr. President, this morning while I had occasion to visit the City Hospital to see Councilor Tobin, who was operated upon Saturday morning for appendicitis, he informed me that if he were present at our meeting today he would cast his vote for John I. Fitzgerald for President. I would like to have that in the record. (Applause.)

ELECTION OF REGISTER OF DEEDS.

Notice was received from the Board of Election Commissioners certifying election of William T. A. Fitzgerald of Boston as Register of Deeds for County of Suffolk for term of six years.

The notice was placed on file.

At this point, in accordance with law, Register William T. A. Fitzgerald and his assistant, John J. Attridge, were sworn by the President of the Council.

President FITZGERALD at this point announced that he was in receipt of bonds of William T. A. Fitzgerald as Register and of John J. Attridge as Assistant Register that they would perform their duties as such faithfully.

The bonds were approved.

MAYOR'S ANNUAL ADDRESS.

President FITZGERALD—The Chair will now appoint a committee consisting of Councilors Agnew and Roberts to notify his Honor the Mayor that the Council is in session and prepared to receive his annual message.

The committee retired, escorted by the City Messenger, and presently returned accompanying his Honor the Mayor and suite.

President FITZGERALD—Before his Honor the Mayor proceeds to deliver his annual address, I desire at this time to extend my sincere thanks to my fellow members of the Council who have so signally honored me today by electing me to the presidency of the City Council. I trust that I will carry out the duties thus entrusted to me to the satisfaction of all. I extend to you all best wishes for a prosperous and happy New Year, and I know that we will all work in cooperation with his Honor the Mayor for the best interests of our city, realizing that we are living in times such as we have never experienced before, and that the duties placed upon us may be correspondingly difficult. (Applause.)

I notice that we have here in the gathering a former mayor of the city, and I will ask Councilors Green and Gallagher to escort former Mayor Daniel A. Whelton to the chair.

(The committee performed the duty assigned amid applause.)

President FITZGERALD—It now gives me great pleasure to present to the City Council and to the department heads, as has been customary from the early beginning of our city, his Honor the Mayor, to deliver to us his annual address. It gives me, therefore, great pleasure to present at this time his Honor the Mayor of the City of Boston. (Applause.)

Mayor MANSFIELD—Mr. President and members of the Council, heads of departments and citizens of Boston: We are slightly ahead of our schedule, and I have half a minute to say just a word, filling in the time while we are waiting. Let me extend to the newly elected President of the City Council for 1935 my congratulations, bringing to him the greeting of the City of Boston, and expressing the wish that this year 1935 may be a happy and successful one. (Applause.)

When I took office as Mayor on January 1, 1934, three great problems confronted me:

1. The maintenance and improvement of the credit of the city.
2. The relief of the unemployed.
3. The task of striving to make Boston once again a prosperous city and a better one in which to live.

I am pleased to report that substantial progress has been made.

I have frequently stressed the vital importance of maintaining the credit of the city. Money must in each year be borrowed in anticipation of revenue. If the credit of the city should become impaired or collapse, this money could not be borrowed. The necessary result of inability to borrow in anticipation of revenue would be that many municipal services demanded by and important to the welfare of the people of Boston would have to be curtailed, thousands of city employees would be obliged to work without pay or their discharge from the city's service would become imperative; and the city would find itself unable properly to care for the poor, the needy and the unemployed. The plight of many cities in the country today bears testimony to the real dangers which attend the impairment of municipal credit.

The borrowing in 1933 of $7,600,000 added $1,800,000 to the city's obligation in 1934 and necessarily contributed to an increased tax rate. It was obvious that the city could not continue borrowing on a short-term basis; that a Federal grant could not be relied on in 1934; that the cost of materials and supplies, due to a rising market, would impose greater burdens on the city in 1934 than in 1933; and that further decline in real estate values would reduce the base of the city's main source of revenue.

The situation, therefore, facing the city in the early days of 1934 was grave.

I was confronted with the necessity of permitting the imposition of an increased tax rate on real estate in 1934 that would have been out of all bounds, or of borrowing large sums of money as was done in 1933, or of obtaining new sources of revenue, or of cutting expenditures. To permit an increased tax rate on real estate in 1934 greater than was permitted would, I think, have rendered the tax in large part uncollectible—it would have further impaired real estate values and it would have been most unfair to the home owner and would have injured the business of the city. To continue borrowing in 1934 on the 1933 scale with no likelihood of finding revenue to meet such borrowings would have spelt disaster. The Legislature showed no inclination to furnish new sources of revenue. The only recourse left to us, therefore, was that of curtailing expenses.

It was possible through the retrenchments made in 1934 to cut the gross sum of $2,500,000 from the city's operating budget for the year. Many factors, however, not under the control of the Mayor, including decreased real estate values, increased cost of purchases due to the rising market, an increase in Boston's debt requirements and in its share of the state tax and of the Metropolitan District assessment, made it impossible to keep the tax rate down. Were it not, however, for the savings made in the city's operating budget, the tax for 1934 would have been nearer $39 than $37, and were it not for these savings and the administrative improvements, the credit of the city might have been hopelessly impaired with the disastrous effects heretofore outlined. As it is, Boston's credit has unquestionably improved. This improvement is evidenced by the fact that Boston has been able to borrow during the year 1934 at an average rate of interest as low as 1.6 per cent on loans in anticipation of taxes as compared with 4.25 per cent in 1933 and at a rate of interest as low as 3 per cent on long-term loans. The improvements in city administration such as the control of expenditures and receipts through the new system of budget control, and changes in the Public Welfare Department which have been inaugurated during the past year, will be of permanent value to the city and its people.

I wish at this time, however, to discuss with you the problems of 1935 and to lay before you some of my plans for the coming year and to present to you fairly and frankly the serious difficulties with which we are now confronted.

Reduction of the Tax Rate.

In 1934 the tax rate in the City of Boston was $37.10. This rate is attributable to many factors some of which I have already indicated. One factor, however, cannot be ignored and that is the amount expended for relief of the poor, the needy and the unemployed. Expenditures for such relief amounted in 1928 to less than $2,900,000. In 1934 these expenditures exceeded $13,100,000, an increase of more than $10,000,000. This increase represents approximately $6 in the tax rate.

In 1928, relief expenditures constituted less than 6 per cent of the operating budget of the city (including all school and city requirements except debt, pension accumulations and certain special items of an insignificant amount). In 1934, relief expenditures constituted approximately 35 per cent of the operating budget, an increase of almost 500 per cent over 1928.

The authority conferred upon the Mayor by chapter 121 of the Acts of 1933 to effect pay cuts terminated on December 31, 1934. On January 1, 1935, full pay, therefore, was restored to city employees. Salary restorations continued through the year will add to the city's burden to the extent of about $5,000,000. This represents approximately $3 in the tax rate. The East Boston Tunnel deficit may be as great as $600,000. If this deficit occurs and the state does not assume this burden, it must be borne by the city. This deficit will represent about 40 cents additional in the tax rate. An increase in the state tax upon municipalities has been threatened and an estimate made that the increase would amount to $2,500,000, a sum representing almost $1.50 in the tax rate.

There is, therefore, a real danger that new burdens on the city will increase the tax rate almost $5.

A $42 tax rate would not only be grossly unfair to home owners, would not only seriously interfere with business and, therefore, with employment in the city, but it would tend to drive home owners from the city and thus further reduce real estate values. Moreover, it is extremely doubtful that such a tax could be collected. It has been the experience in Boston and in other cities that there is a limit beyond which tax rate increases will not produce added revenue. Tax delinquency is a growing menace and while every effort must be made to collect outstanding taxes, the indications are definite that further increases in property taxation are likely to produce less revenue rather than more.

An increase in the tax rate for 1935 must be avoided, if it is humanly possible, and every effort must be made to decrease the rate. We are, therefore, faced with the problem of further curtailing expenditures or of obtaining new and substantial sources of revenue. In connection with the question of curtailing expenses I wish to point out that the operating budget of the city, exclusive of welfare expenditures, is now 23 per cent less than in 1931.

The principal items of expenditures in the budget are expenditures for salaries and welfare. While there are many economies which can and must still be practised in city government, yet after such economies are put into effect it would require a vigorous curtailment in either welfare or salary expenditures, or both, to prevent an increase at this time in the tax, and a much more drastic curtailment to reduce the tax.

Nothing is clearer, however, than that the poor, the needy, and the unemployed must be cared for and that we cannot curtail the amount needed for relief, unless better conditions operate to relieve the rolls. While we hope that conditions will improve, yet we cannot plan with any reasonable degree of assurance that there will be substantially lessened relief rolls in the current year, and the load will undoubtedly be heavy for many years to come. National recovery will probably be slow, and gradual. Relief expenditures at the present time exceed those of a year ago at this time.

Curtailment in expenditures for salaries and wages can be made in only two ways—suspensions from service or reduction in salary. Suspension of sufficient employees to effect a reduction in the tax rate, or even to prevent an increase, would mean the suspension of thousands of employees at a time when every effort is being made by the Federal Government to stimulate employment and would require the elimination of many services of great benefit to the community. Ultimately such action would be most costly.

General reductions in the salaries of city employees are, in my opinion, sound only as a last resort, unless city employees are being paid a higher salary than the work they are performing calls for during the period of performance. I do not believe that city employees are as a rule paid such excessive salary. If they render faithful service, they should not be reduced in pay, unless it is impossible for the city to pay them their full wage. The times are against such reductions and costs of living do not justify it. In 1934 it was impossible to obtain new sources of revenue. Salary reductions initiated in April, 1933, were therefore necessary in 1934. I trust that conditions which made this necessary will not prevail in 1935.

I do not mean to indicate that reasonable economies should not be practised. They must. But without drastic curtailments in one way or another of salaries, or wholesale suspensions and eliminations of important municipal services, such economies cannot prevent an increased tax rate, unless new sources of revenue can be found. I shall, therefore, petition the Legislature for relief by providing such new sources of revenue.

Massachusetts has done little to aid the municipalities to bear the tremendous welfare load cast upon them. It is my purpose to ask the Legislature to grant to the cities and towns of the Commonwealth a sum equal to two thirds of the increase in the welfare expenditures of the year 1934 over the expenditures of the year 1928, this money to be raised by the Commonwealth by borrowing. That increase amounted to $38,000,000. Two thirds of that would be, roughly, $25,000,000.

To meet its loan the Commonwealth must ultimately assess the annual payments thereon to the cities and towns, unless some other source of payment is provided. It is, therefore, essential that new revenue be found from which to meet these loans. Such new revenue should be sufficient to enable the cities and towns to lessen the excessive burden of property taxes which must otherwise be imposed by them to meet welfare costs in succeeding years, and to retire debts created because of welfare needs. An increased income tax alone will not, at least in these times, furnish adequate relief, since under our Constitution it cannot be graduated. There is, I believe, only one form of tax which would be adequate for present needs and that is a tax on retail sales. Such a tax has been enacted and is now in effect, in one form or other, in approximately one half of the states of the Union. I propose, therefore, to ask the Legislature to follow the precedent these states have set and to enact a 2 per cent retail sales tax for a period of five years. This will spread the burden of taxation so that it will, not be too great on anyone. I shall, however, ask for exemptions with respect to sales of food, drugs and medicines, water delivered in pipes, newspapers, magazines selling for 5 cents or less, and gasoline and liquor which are already taxed. I do not believe that in these times even a 2 per cent tax should be imposed on the sale of food. While these exemptions may create some difficulties in administration which would not otherwise be present and while they will decrease the revenue attainable from what has been estimated to be $20,000,000 to approximately $12,000,000 the exemptions appear justified. To meet the loss in revenue thus resulting, but needed, I shall recommend to the Legislature an additional income tax upon 1934 and 1935 incomes of 3 per cent on interest and dividends, of three-quarters of 1 per cent on annuities and taxable earned income and of 1½ per cent on gains from sales of securities. The loss of possible revenue resulting from the exemption of food will thus be met in the year 1935 and 1936, when the strain on municipalities will probably be greatest, from the revenue which such additional income tax will produce.

A term of two years only will be recommended for the additional income tax because of the danger that a longer term may induce residents of the state to change their domicile to neighboring states where no income tax laws are in force or may cause persons to invest more heavily than otherwise in tax-exempt securities, thus injuring business without increasing revenue. I do not believe that a two-year additional tax would have this possible effect and there is a precedent for such a tax in the years 1918 and 1919.

If this program is enacted by the Legislature we will be enabled not only to avoid an increase in the 1935 tax rate but we will be able to effect an appreciable reduction in the present rate of $37.10. Without such assistance our position in 1935 will be far more serious than in 1934.

Consolidation.

The Legislature at last year's session authorized the City Council and the Mayor acting jointly to consolidate and reorganize the departments of the city. There are at the present time forty-six separate departments in the City Government and 135 department heads. Many of these departments perform similar functions and yet, because of the multiplicity of departments, many improvements in one department are unknown to others and much of the benefit of the experiences of one department is lost to other departments performing similar functions. This system is antiquated and inadequate. There are ten executive departments in Washington; there are five in the Commonwealth. Many large cities operate with from five to fifteen departments. It is obvious that a consolidation of departments is essential for the proper and efficient administration of city affairs.

Shortly after the enactment of legislation authorizing such consolidation, a detailed study of the possibilities for a plan of consolidation was commenced. President Compton of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, at my request, designated a committee headed by Col. Robert C. Eddy, a member of the faculty of that institution, to study the engineering departments of the city. This study has not yet been completed but I am advised that it will be finished in the near future. A committee of eminent members of the medical profession, headed by Dr. Joseph P. Howland, superintendent of the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, have, at my request, studied the functions of the Health, Hospital and Institutions Departments.

Housing.

The Federal Government has definitely commenced a program for the clearance of depreciated areas and construction thereon of low-cost housing. This program has two main values. First, it will, as soon as it can get more fully under way, supply substantial employment in a field where private enterprise is unlikely to take action. It should, therefore, stimulate employment and activity in the building trades without competing with private business. Second, if properly executed, it will not only reclaim areas which are a social handicap to the community, which are costly charges upon municipal government, and which tend to breed disease and crime, but it will make available to persons of low income decent living conditions at low cost.

A survey of the possibilities for such a program in Boston has been made and it is apparent therefrom that large amounts can be expended on such work if the Federal Government is willing to undertake it. One such project is already being developed in Boston.

As a part of its housing program, the Federal Government contemplates that local housing authorities be established in each community where housing projects are carried on, such housing authority, when established, to take over the construction and operation of the project with Federal aid. The obligations of the authority will not be municipal obligations.

To cooperate with the Federal Government in its program to endeavor to increase opportunities for employment and to secure for persons of low income in Boston the benefits of such a plan, I propose to petition the Legislature to permit the establishment in the cities and towns of the Commonwealth of such local housing authorities and, if such permission is given, to recommend to you the establishment of such an authority in Boston.

Public Works and Work Relief.

President Roosevelt in his recent message to Congress has indicated that the burden of caring for the needy who are unemployable must rest upon the local governments, not upon the Federal Government. In Boston this burden has always rested upon the city and the decision that it must continue so to rest will in no way effect a local change. The President has further indicated that the problem of caring for persons who are needy but employable is national in scope, that such persons must be cared for by the Federal Government, that the care should be in the form of work relief rather than the dole and that the relief should be conducted through a program of public works, the Federal Emergency Relief Administration to be abolished.

The extent to which local governments are to be requested to contribute to this program has not been indicated.

At the present time there is a program in operation in Boston which involves the expenditure of more than $7,000,000. The largest part of this program still remains to be completed.

Until Federal plans develop further it is impossible to predict either what the Federal Government may expect the municipalities to do or what Boston can do.

It is my purpose, however, to secure for the employment of residents of Boston a fair and adequate share of all Federal funds granted for relief purposes. Through my repeated efforts more than 15,000 Boston residents heretofore unemployed are now employed on E. R. A. projects and new projects will provide for the employment of 7,000 more. So long as the Federal Emergency Relief Administration continues to operate I shall do all in my power to have formulated, and to supply materials, for projects adequate to provide work for all persons that the funds provided will employ. It is my purpose to see to it that these projects will be of real value to the city.

Port of Boston.

In 1933 the Supreme Court of the United States by a five to four decision determined that a port was not a "locality" within the meaning of that term in section 3 of the Interstate Commerce Act which forbade undue preference for and undue discrimination against localities. The effect of this decision has been greatly to limit the ability of the city and of the Boston Port Authority to oppose discriminations against the Port of Boston.

I shall cause to be introduced in Congress within the next few days a bill to change the Interstate Commerce Act so that ports will be protected. If and when this change is made, I shall do all in my power to eliminate unfair practices at other ports which practices are injurious to the Port of Boston. I shall in addition endeavor to upset the control of the New England railroads by the Pennsylvania Railroad and shall strive to secure local control of New England roads or in the event of national consolidation of railroads, a consolidation that will be favorable to Boston and New England to the end that the Port of Boston may become a thriving and flourishing port and receive the full benefit of its natural advantages.

County Government.

Last year I urged upon the Legislature the appointment of a recess committee to study county government and to make recommendations with reference thereto. This request was denied. A careful study of county government in Massachusetts may well disclose it to be outworn, expensive and unnecessary machinery which should be abandoned. Even if retained, many improvements can undoubtedly be made. I propose, therefore, to make again this year a request for legislative consideration of this matter and to give immediate attention to the problem presented.

Metropolitan Boston.

There are more than forty cities and towns, each with separate governments, comprising what is popularly known as Greater Boston. The waste and inefficiency of so many separate units of government in so relatively small a territory is obvious. Yet repeated efforts to combine these cities and towns into one unit has always met with defeat.

It is not my desire to attempt to coerce other cities and towns into a union with Boston and that such a union is desirable has not been established beyond doubt. But there are so many considerations in favor of such a union and so many indications of mutual benefit to Boston and those cities and towns that I shall ask the Legislature to appoint a body to examine fully into the question and report its conclusions with recommendations, if any, for legislation.

Summary.

In substance it is my purpose to continue to improve the credit of the city and of its administrative machinery, to cooperate in all reasonable plans for securing employment for the unemployed and national recovery, to build up the Port of Boston, and to improve the conditions of our city.

In departing, I repeat what I said just before I began, Mr. President, that I wish to you and to the members of the Council a very happy and congenial time in 1935. (Applause.)

The Mayor began his address at 2:30 p. m. and ended at 3 p. m., after which he and his suite left the Council Chamber.

President FITZGERALD—The Council will be in order. Communications from his Honor the Mayor.

TEMPORARY LOAN IN ANTICIPATION OF TAXES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 7, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—In accordance with the established practice of introducing at the first meeting of the Council in each year an order authorizing the borrowing from time to time during the year of temporary loans in anticipation of taxes, I submit herewith an order authorizing the City Treasurer to issue and sell during the current financial year temporary notes or certificates of indebtedness of the city to the amount of $40,000,000. This amount is $12,500,000 less than the total authorized by the City Council for the year 1934.

I respectfully recommend the adoption of this order by your honorable body.

Respectfully,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Ordered, That to provide temporarily money to meet the appropriations for the financial year 1935, the City Treasurer issue and sell, at such time and in such amounts as he may deem best, notes or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston not exceeding $40,000,000 in the total, in anticipation of the taxes of the current municipal year; that all such notes or certificates of indebtedness be dated the day the money for the same is received, be made payable with the interest thereon within one year of their date, and bear interest from their date until the same are made payable at such rate as the City Auditor, the City Treasurer, and the Mayor may determine.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I move suspension of the rule and passage of the order transmitted to us by his Honor the Mayor, as it must have two readings and we will have time to look it over before final action.

The rule was suspended and the order was given its first reading and passage, yeas 19, nays 0.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE MAYOR.

Subject to confirmation by the Council, the Mayor submitted the following appointments, viz.: Weighers of Coal: Alice Bennett, 26 Worcester square, Boston; Benjamin Waldman, 33 Almont street, Mattapan; Rose Pritzker, 105 Townsend street, Roxbury.

Weigher of Goods and Inspector of Pressed and Banded Hay and Straw: John Lydon, 20 Essex street, Charlestown.

APPROPRIATION FOR MUNICIPAL EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 2, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am advised by the Director of the Municipal Employment Bureau that funds available for the operation of the bureau are completely exhausted, and that an additional appropriation should be made at this time to permit the carrying on of the activities of the bureau. According to an estimate prepared by the director, an appropriation of $15,000 will be required to cover the work of the bureau for a full year. Of this amount $12,000 will be required to meet pay roll requirements, and the balance for stationery, postage, office equipment, advertising, and motor vehicle expenses. In my opinion the activities of the bureau should be continued for another year, especially in view of the reduced cost at which the work is now being carried on. I, therefore, submit herewith an order providing for the appropriation of $15,000, and respectfully recommend its adoption by your honorable body.

Respectfully,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $15,000 be and hereby is appropriated, to be expended by the Municipal Employment Bureau, under the direction of the Mayor, in the prosecution of its duties, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund, when made available.

Referred to Executive Committee, when appointed.

BIRD STREET GRADE CROSSING

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 1, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I received on January 1, 1935, a letter from the Commissioner of Public Works relative to your order of December 3, 1934, concerning the elimination of Bird Street grade crossing in Dorchester.

Respectfully,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, January 2, 1935.
Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,
Assistant Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I beg leave to acknowledge your note of December 15, 1934, with attached order of City Council dated December 3, 1934, and reading as follows:

"Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to negotiate with the engineers of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad to jointly prepare plans for the elimination of the Bird street grade crossing in Dorchester, which is a great hazard; the said plans could then be presented to the Federal authorities as a public works administration project."

and to state that in a conference with representatives of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad said representatives while of the opinion that the abolition of the grade crossing would be a benefit to the community they do not see how the railroad at this time could find the money to contribute towards the expense of the abolition of this crossing, and is of the opinion that the Interstate Commerce Commission would not approve the expenditure of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad's money for this purpose owing to the financial condition of said railroad; consequently, the entire expense, if started at this time, would have to be borne by the City of Boston.

Under chapter 417, section 1, of the Acts of 1930, the Department of Public Works is authorized to submit a list of proposed abolition of grade crossings to the Public Utilities Commission. This list must be submitted on October 1 of any year. The Utilities Commission then holds hearings and may authorize the abolition of the grade crossing and distribute the cost among the state, city, county and the railroad.

To avoid the City of Boston bearing the entire expense I respectfully suggest that the Honorable Mayor petition the Department of Public Works, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to include in its October 1, 1935, list the abolition of the Bird street grade crossing.

Respectfully yours,
C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, December 31, 1934.
Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,
Assistant Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I beg leave to acknowledge your note of December 15, with attached order of City Council dated December 3, and reading as follows: "Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install sand boxes at the junction of Washington street and the West Roxbury Parkway, Ward 20, said sand to be used on the Washington street incline at this point, to eliminate the hazard of serious automobile accidents when the surface becomes icy and slippery during the winter season," and to state that Washington street, West Roxbury Parkway to the Dedham line, is a state highway and consequently comes under the maintenance of the Department of Public Works, Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

WAGE REDUCTIONS BY E. R. A.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor interview the Federal Administrator of the E. R. A. in Massachusetts in an effort to stop wage reductions this week.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, while I realize that we have no authority in so far as E. R. A. is concerned, it seems rather unnatural, when the governors of the states and the mayors of cities are doing their best to keep wages up in order to help relieve the present situation, those in authority should take it upon themselves to reduce pay. I understand that orders have been issued by Federal Administrator Roth to the timekeepers, in the case of 300 or 400 men, to reduce their wages from $18 to $14.40 a week. As a matter of fact, these men would be better off on Welfare, rather than obtaining starvation wages. I wonder what would happen to the City Council if all city laborers of the City of Boston from now on were to receive only $18 a week. The fact is that these social service operators don't know what it is to be hungry. I presume that some of them can go to the Copley-Plaza and spend $20 or $25 for a dinner, and then say to the men and women of the City of Boston, "If we give you $12 or $14 a week, that will be sufficient." But I don't think it was the intention of the Federal Government or of President Roosevelt to say to people, "You must work for $12 a week." I say that a man like Mr. Roth should use a little better judgment than to treat these men and women in this way. As I say, however, I suppose some of these men have not in their own lives experienced the troubles that the ordinary man has in getting along. I think it would be illuminating to many people to go around to the E. R. A. offices and see men coming up in Packards and Cadillacs, while these poor fellows are told that they should get only $12 or $14 a week. I say that in many respects the E. R. A. has been a great benefit to the country and to the state, but that it has been grossly mismanaged in the State of Massachusetts. I feel that if there is to be any money spent in this way in Massachusetts it should be spent by those representing the people, by those who know something of the problems of the everyday people, who can feel the common pulse and heart throbs of the people of Boston and of other parts of the state. I say to you, Mr. President, that the E. R. A. money allotted by the Federal Government to Massachusetts should be handled by the Governor of Massachusetts. There are only three states, I understand, that do not have that authority placed in the hands of the Governor, and he should have it here. I trust that the Mayor will confer with Mr. Roth to see if something cannot be done to prevent the E. R. A. cuts going into effect this week.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SOLDIERS' RELIEF.

Coun. KERRIGAN submitted an order for payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in the City of Boston for the month of January, 1935.

Order passed under suspension of the rule.

REFUNDING ON EMPLOYEES' PAY.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, chapter 60 of the Acts of 1915, as accepted by the City Council, specifically provides that department heads shall give two weeks' vacation with pay to all those in the labor service of the City of Boston. Last summer all those in the labor service in some of our institutions, such as the City Hospital, the Boston Sanatorium, and Long Island, were given their two weeks' vacation, but with only one week's pay. That is absolutely against the provisions of chapter 60 of the Acts of 1915, and no department head has the right to assume any such authority under the charter. I have talked with the Department of Labor, and they absolutely agree with me that for the 1,500 employees who had two weeks' vacation with only one week's pay, the extra week's pay must be allowed. It will amount to $26,000. I have talked with the Budget Commissioner, and he says that the action of the department heads in that respect was absolutely against the law. My order merely calls upon his Honor the Mayor to instruct department heads to live up to the provisions of the act and to give this one week's pay to the employees concerned.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INDOOR GYMNASIUM, WARD 7.

Coun. KERRIGAN offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to include in his P. W. A. program a sum sufficient to provide for the erection of an indoor gymnasium on Columbus Park, Ward 7.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RESTORATION OF STREET COMMISSIONERS' POWER.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Committee on Legislative Matters of the City Council be requested to draft a bill for presentation to the incoming Legislature which will restore the powers taken from the Board of Street Commissioners and given to the Boston Transit Commission, particularly with reference to street widenings, as covered by section one of chapter 297 of the Acts of 1929, as amended by section one of chapter 287 of the Acts of 1932.

Referred to the Committee on Legislative Matters, when appointed.

COMMISSARY STATION, WARD 2.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the School Committee to open a commissary station at the Thomas Starr King School at Baldwin and Bunker Hill streets, Ward 2.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ANNUITY TO THOMAS E. GOGGIN.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:
Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby approves the enactment of legislation for the payment of an annuity to Thomas E. Goggin, formerly an employee of the City of Boston and County of Suffolk, who was injured in the course of his employment.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

MUNICIPAL LIGHTING PLANT FOR BOSTON.

Coun. GOLDMAN offered the following:
Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby approves the enactment of legislation authorizing the City of Boston to borrow money outside the debt limit for the purpose of establishing a Municipal Lighting Plant.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor apply to the Federal Public Works Administration for funds with which to secure a Municipal Power Plant for the City of Boston.

Severally referred to the Committee on Municipal Lighting, when appointed.
(In connection with the above Coun. GOLDMAN submitted the following for inclusion in the record:

President Roosevelt issued statements to the press stating in substance that he would approve municipal lighting projects where such projects could operate substantially cheaper than present private operation. This statement was issued in connection with the proposed New York lighting plant.

Councilor Goldman wired the President on Thursday, December 20, 1934, as follows:

"President Franklin D. Roosevelt,
White House, Washington, D. C.
Press reports state that you would authorize government funds for cities to build power plants if cheaper than private concerns. Stop. I am heartily in favor of municipal lighting plant for Boston. Stop. If Boston can qualify, will Administration favor application for such project? Stop. Would deeply appreciate reply prior to Boston City Council meeting December 24th.

City Councilor Maurice M. Goldman,
114 State Street, Boston."

A letter dated December 22, 1934, received from Special Assistant Graham to the Administrator of the Federal Public Works reads as follows:
"Mr. Maurice M. Goldman, City Councilor,
114 State Street, Boston, Massachusetts.
My dear Mr. Goldman:

The President has referred to this office for consideration and reply your telegram of December 20, addressed to him, inquiring as to the availability of Public Works funds for constructing a municipal lighting plant in Boston.

The Administration has always looked with favor on projects of this type where they are able to conform with our legal, engineering, and financial standards of eligibility and where there is a social need for the construction. Unfortunately due to the limited funds at our disposal, we have not been accepting new applications since last February. In connection with the proposed New York power project to which you refer, the application has not been filed with the Public Works Administration.

If the City of Boston cares to prepare such application on its own responsibility, Public Works will be glad to consider such application, when and if an additional appropriation is granted by Congress. Of course it is impossible to forecast what the Congress may do in this matter.

Sincerely yours,

Leona B. Graham
Special Assistant
For the Administrator."

Mayor LaGuardia estimated that New York power plant would result in a forty per cent saving for the city of New York in a statement issued last week.

Councilor Goldman, as a result of study conducted on municipal lighting problems, has estimated that there are almost one hundred municipalities in the United States which have no local city taxes because of revenues derived from municipally owned public utilities. Even in these cases, the charges for power are almost fifty per cent below the rate now charged by private public utility ownership. Councilor Goldman declared that it is no wonder that the public utilities are willing to spend millions each year in "slush funds" in order to combat public ownership. It is an established fact that the public utility combines employ highly paid propagandists to protect their interest. The Councilor pointed out that as a practical proposition, the Boston Elevated Railway Company has two power plants upon which we are now paying for the deficiencies. He urged the use of these power plants by the City of Boston for city lighting purposes. He declared that engineering surveyors have shown that there is enough power that can be generated from these plants to provide the City of Boston with its light for municipal purposes.

Under date of February 19, 1934, Councilor Goldman offered the following order in the City Council, which was passed and has not as yet been acted upon by the Mayor:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the advisability of utilizing the unused or spare capacity of the South Boston and Lincoln power stations of the Boston Elevated Railway Company as a source of power for part or of all of the municipal requirements of the City of Boston and take such steps as may be necessary for the enactment of legislation providing for the use of said plants."

Councilor Goldman declared that such a power project would be consistent with the principles of the Roosevelt administration in that it would result in great benefits to the harassed taxpayers and citizens of the City of Boston. The earnings on such would enable the city to eliminate pay cuts, maintain all its normal municipal functions, reduce taxes, and solve the financial problems of the city.

Over twenty-five hundred municipalities in the United States now own their own electric light and power systems. Why not Boston?

LOCATION OF CONTRACTORS' DUMPS.

Coun. FISH offered the following:
Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to furnish the City Council with a statement showing the location of the dumps used by the contractors engaged in collecting refuse and ashes in the City of Boston.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING PARK STREET, WARD 16.

Coun. FISH offered the following:
Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface Park street, from Dorchester avenue to Freeport street, Ward 16, with a smooth pavement.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

SURVEY OF CITY LICENSES.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the President of the City Council be requested to appoint a special committee, composed of five members of the City Council, to make a complete survey and detailed investigation of any and all licenses and permits now issued by any and all departments of the City of Boston, whether or not a fee is now charged but as to which the provisions of chapter 297 of the Acts of 1931 may be applicable, with a view to determining and fixing fair and proper fees in each case.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, this supplements an order passed last year under which a committee was appointed that did not finish its work; and this order is presented at this time with the hope that the new President will name the same committee to complete the work of gathering the information.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION FROM ASSESSORS IN RE OPEN-AIR PARKING.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Board of Assessors be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council promptly as to each of the 129 locations named as open-air parking spaces in a communication of the Board of Street Commissioners dated January 2, 1935, and contained in the City Council minutes of January 7, 1935, the total assessed value placed on each of said parcels of real estate, separately, for each of the years 1932, 1933 and 1934, and in each case the amount of the tax, and whether or not same has been paid.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, that perhaps supplements the first order. It will be one of the matters taken up by the committee—namely, the fairness of the present fees charged for these open-air parking spaces in the City of Boston, determining whether or not the fee is, as rather appears to be the case, woefully small. We want to supplement the information received concerning the fee by information from the Assessing Department, to see just what these 129 vacant spaces in the heart of the city have been assessed for the past three years, knowing, as we do, that more than one building in the city has been torn down and more than one parking space established on land previously occupied by a building in view of the local assessment, and that those paying the license fee for the resulting parking space have been making more money apparently on the land used in that way than when it was covered by a building.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, I would like to add a word to what the councilor has said. As I understand, these licenses are limited to a certain number of cars that can be stored. We will say fifty, and that places which have been allowed to take care of fifty cars have loaded up to one hundred. I understand that to have been the case. I would like to obtain information from the Traffic Commissioner or the Police Commissioner, whoever keeps track of these places, to see whether they are not paying a small fee and parking a large number of cars.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SELECTION OF JURORS.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Board of Election Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council with reference to the selection of jurors in the City of Boston, and the basis, if any, for the recent Bar Association criticism of the present methods of choice of prospective jurors for service in the Suffolk Superior Court.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, since disputes between citizens, under our modern form of government, are no longer settled on the field of battle by any ordeals of fire, but by the determination of jurors in unanimous vote, I believe that any legitimate ground for criticism in the drawing or the choice of Suffolk County jurors is a matter of most serious importance. No doubt there have been dishonest jurors, just as there have been dishonest lawyers and, for that matter, dishonest business men. It may be that our jury system should be changed. Possibly we should have better trained, professional jurors, or a change in the requirement of a unanimous vote. But for the trial of jury cases our present system is based on the choice of twelve good, without criminal records, or average and not specialized intelligence, representing a fair cross-section of the community. Such a jury, for example, in automobile accident cases, is supposed to reflect some judgment as to the primary care and preference which would have been displayed under like circumstances by such average men as the jurors themselves. As a member of the bar myself, I am grateful to the Bar Association on its effort to improve conditions in our courts and the thoughtful backed work at the sponsored constructive suggestions made. I do not think that it is improper to point out in this manner that the Commission, in its effort to improve the jury system, should represent a fair cross-section of the community and not include any sort of special marginal or social weaknesses. I do not think it interested to limit the answer to the question

Department to the charge that because the members of the Board represent political appointments, they cannot, or do not, compile honest or reasonably intelligent jury lists, and have no realization of the importance of well-qualified jurors.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

WARD 20 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. FINLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out, under the E. R. A. plan of construction, Addington road, Ward 20, as a public highway.

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out, under the E. R. A. plan of construction, Bogandale road, Ward 20, as a public highway.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

E. R. A. EMPLOYEES IN BOSTON WARDS.

Coun. ROBERTS offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to start a new E. R. A. project the purpose of which shall be to determine and report to the City Council with reference to the number of E. R. A. employees in each district and ward of the City of Boston.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, in regard to that order I would simply like to say that there has been some talk to the effect that certain districts in Boston have been individually discriminated against, and some of us may have a feeling that such has been the case in our own district. It seems to me that this order is eminently fair. It may cost a little money, but it will give us some idea of the fairness exercised in apportioning jobs. Certainly it is a great deal more fair than a project that has been started for determining whether there are wage earners in families at the present time. Five different cases have been called to my attention where people have been thrown off the E. R. A. program because there was another wage-earning member of the family at the present time, and in each of those cases I made an investigation and found that there was no wage-earning member. In this number was included a case where there were parents and children and the parents had no work, and where, unjustly, they had not received anything for two weeks, before they were put back again. Of course, such cases are obviously wrong, and I trust, therefore, that this project will be started, and I hope it will be conducted in accordance with a fairer plan.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

QUESTIONS RE LONG ISLAND HOSPITAL.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I would like, with unanimous consent, to make a statement. We all make mistakes, but I have always felt that the really big man, and the man who went forward, was the man who could admit that he was wrong, and possibly profit by the experience. About ten days ago I stated that it had been called to my attention by sources which I considered to be reliable that men holding very low-paid jobs at the Long Island Hospital had been placed there through the offices of one or more paid private employment agencies. I said that no such arrangement should be necessary with a free Municipal Employment Bureau available, not to mention thousands of hungry men registered on the lists of the E. R. A. His Honor the Mayor, without any apparent investigation whatever, promptly characterized the report as "malicious and untrue." If true, the practice should be at once stopped, whether the report was malicious or not. If untrue, I know of no fair reasoning whereby the report should at once be referred to as malicious. But the statement is neither untrue nor malicious. Orderlies paid less than $12 a week, I am informed, have been so placed at the Long Island Hospital by the Commercial Reference Association of 231 Tremont street, for instance, and a weekly charge made. I, of course, do not blame the men. Good luck to them, getting any job these days. And the information did not come from them, and they should not be penalized for it. But I again repeat, it should not be necessary for any city department to resort to paid private employment agencies to fill any vacancies available. And while we are talking about the Long Island Hospital, I hope one report that has come to me is untrue. I only hope that you will brand this report as "malicious and untrue," Mr. Mayor, and this time be right. Tell us, Mr. Mayor, that it is not really true that you contemplate a transfer of the Long Island Infirmary to Albany street, adjacent to the City Hospital laundry and the morgue. Tell us that it is untrue, and that not for one moment have you planned or even considered bringing inmates of the Long Island Infirmary to any building to be constructed on that part of Albany street overlooking the site of the old so-called Roxbury Canal. That rumor, Mr. Mayor, must be both malicious and untrue. I implore you, Mr. Mayor,—tell us that there is nothing to the report that a firm of architects has already been even tentatively working on plans for such a building at that location. Tell us that no patient or inmate of any city institution will be given the site of an abandoned sewerage system to look out upon.

Adjourned at 4 p. m., on motion of Coun. ENGLERT, to meet on Monday, January 14, 1935, at 2 p. m.

CITY PURCHASING UNDER THE CODES.

Caught between two fires, American cities are feeling the influence of the National Industrial Recovery Act codes in their purchasing in a way they had not foreseen. On one side taxpayers ask for economy in budget-making. On the other, application of codes, which has resulted in collective price-fixing, has increased prices of supplies for city use to an almost prohibitive point.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 6.

Rule 61 (relating to dog licenses) of the Rules and Regulations of the Boston Police Department is hereby amended by striking out the whole of said rule and inserting in its place a new rule as follows: (Words in italics are new.)

RULE 61. DOG LICENSES.

1. Applications for dog licenses shall be received at the station house of the division in which the dog is to be kept, and shall be accompanied by the fee established by law. Applications in emergency cases when accompanied by the license fee may be received by the commanding officer of a police division other than the division in which the dog is to be kept. But in such cases and in all cases in which payment is received in cash a written receipt shall be given to the applicant in return for money received; the application with the fee shall be forwarded to the chief clerk within twenty-four hours, except that if the application is made and the license fee paid on a Sunday or legal holiday, the application, with the fee, shall be forwarded to the chief clerk on the next regular business day, and a receipt for the license fee shall be taken from the chief clerk and kept on file at the station house at which the application was received.

2. Commanding officers shall fill out and countersign licenses and forward the same to the chief clerk daily by the morning mail. Licenses, after they have been signed by the police commissioner, shall be returned to the divisions from which they were sent, along with metal tags, for delivery to the licensees. Commanding officers shall be charged with the number of signed licenses returned to them, and shall account therefor.

3. The commanding officer of each division shall keep a record of all dog licenses issued upon his division, containing the names of the keepers or owners of dogs so licensed, and the names, registered numbers and descriptions of all such dogs. The commanding officer of each division shall also keep a record of all dogs relicensed on account of permanent removal into Boston from another city or town within the Commonwealth, in accordance with General Laws, chapter 140, section 146, as amended.

4. Amounts collected for fees shall be forwarded to the chief clerk, who shall receipt therefor in the book provided for the purpose.

5. The commanding officer of a division, within his respective territory, is hereby designated as the officer of police of the City of Boston who shall receive the information and do the acts specified in General Laws, chapter 140, sections 161-165, as amended.

APPENDIX TO RULE 61; STATUTES.

The owner or keeper of a dog which is three months old or over shall annually on or before March thirty-first, cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed for one year from the first day of April following, if the dog is kept in Boston, in the office of the Police Commissioner, or if kept in any other town, in the office of the clerk thereof.

The license shall be subject to the condition expressed therein that the dog which is the subject of the license shall be controlled and restrained from killing, chasing or harassing live stock or fowls. The owner or keeper of a licensed dog shall cause it to wear around its neck or body a collar or harness of leather or other suitable material, to which shall be securely attached a tag of a prescribed form, and upon which shall appear the license number, the name of the (city) issuing such license and the year of issue. (General Laws, chapter 140, chapter 137, as amended.)

Such tags shall be furnished in the same manner as the license blanks, and if any such tag shall be lost the owner or keeper of such dog shall forthwith secure a substitute tag from the (Police Commissioner) at a cost of ten cents. (General Laws, chapter 140, section 137, as amended.)

Any person may bring or cause to be brought from another state or country any dog licensed under the laws thereof and keep such dog in this Commonwealth for a period not exceeding thirty days without licensing it hereunder, and during such period the provisions of the three foregoing paragraphs, as to licensing, shall not apply to such dogs. (General Laws, chapter 140, section 137, as amended by chapter 320, Acts of 1934.)

The owner or keeper of a kennel may apply for a kennel license. Such license shall be in lieu of any other license required to be taken out for any dog while kept at such kennel during any portion of the period for which such kennel license is issued. Such owner or keeper shall cause each dog so kept to wear, while it is at large, a collar or harness of leather or other suitable material, to which shall be securely attached a tag upon which shall appear the number of such kennel license, the name of the (city) issuing such license and the year of issue. Such tags shall be of a prescribed form, and shall be furnished to such licensed kennel owner or keeper in Boston by the Police Commissioner in quantities not less than the number of dogs kept in such kennel. The fees for each kennel license shall be twenty-five dollars if not more than ten dogs are kept in a kennel, and fifty dollars if more than ten dogs are kept therein; provided, that for the purpose of determining the amount of such fee dogs under the age of six months shall not be included in the number of dogs kept in a kennel. (General Laws, 140, section 137A, as added by chapter 320, Acts of 1934.)

Any holder of a kennel license may operate a boarding kennel. The name and address of the owner of each dog kept in such a kennel shall be kept on file thereat and available to inspection by any police officer. (General Laws, 140, section 137A, as added by chapter 320, Acts of 1934.)

The Police Commissioner shall upon application issue without charge a kennel license to any domestic charitable corporation incorporated exclusively for the purpose of protecting animals from cruelty, neglect or abuse and for the relief of suffering among animals. (General Laws, 140, chapter 140, section 137A, as added by chapter 320, Acts of 1934.)

Every holder of a kennel license, on delivering an unlicensed dog to a purchaser or to any other person, shall attach to such dog a collar or harness which shall carry a tag marked with name and address of such kennel licensee, and a number, which number shall be properly recorded on the records of such licensee, and shall also furnish to the person to whom the dog is delivered a certificate bearing the same number and a description of the dog. (General Laws, 140, chapter 137B, as added by chapter 320, Acts of 1934.)

Such certificate shall bear the date of purchase, exchange or gift and, with the tag, shall, for a period of two weeks following such date, be a legal substitute for a license. (General Laws, 140, chapter 137B, as added by chapter 320, Acts of 1934.)

The purchaser or other recipient of a dog shall, within two weeks of the purchase or receipt of such dog, either return the same to the licensee from whom it was received, together with the collar or harness, tag and certificate, or return to such licensee said tag, and a certificate signed by the clerk of the town where the dog is to be kept in Boston, the Police Commissioner, and certifying that the dog has been licensed in the name of such purchaser or recipient or of some other person. (General Laws, 140, chapter 137B, as added by chapter 320, Acts of 1934.)

If any such purchaser or recipient fails to comply with the preceding sentence, such licensee shall notify the clerk of the town in Boston, the Police Commissioner, in which he is licensed of the purchase, exchange or gift of such dog and shall furnish to such clerk (in Boston, the Police Commissioner) the date thereof, and the name and address of the purchaser or recipient. (General Laws, chapter 140, section 137B, as added by chapter 320, Acts of 1934.)

The Police Commissioner may at any time inspect or cause to be inspected any kennel and if, in his judgment, the same is not being maintained in a sanitary and humane manner, or if records are not properly kept as required by law, the Police Commissioner shall by order revoke or suspend and in case of suspension may reinstate, such license. Written notice of such revocation, suspension, or reinstatement of a license shall be mailed forthwith to the holder of such license. (General Laws, chapter 140, section 137C, as added by chapter 320, Acts of 1934.)

Within ten days after such order the holder of such license may bring a petition in the district court within the judicial district of which the dog is owned or kept, addressed to the Justice of the court, praying that the order may be reviewed by the court, and, after such notice to the officer or officers involved as the court may deem necessary, it shall review such action, hear the witnesses and affirm such order unless it shall appear that it was made without proper cause or in bad faith, in which case such order shall be reversed. (General Laws, chapter 140, section 137C, as added by chapter 320, Acts of 1934.)

The decision of the court shall be final and conclusive upon the parties. Any person maintaining a kennel after the license therefor has been so revoked, or while such license is so suspended, shall be punished by a fine of not more than fifty dollars. (General Laws, chapter 140, section 137C, as added by chapter 320, Acts of 1934.)

The owner or keeper of a dog may at any time have it licensed until the first day of April following, and a person who becomes the owner or keeper of a dog after April first which is not duly licensed, and the owner or keeper of a dog not duly licensed which becomes three months old after March thirty-first in any year, shall, when it is three months old, cause it to be registered, numbered, described, licensed, collared or harnessed and tagged as required by General Laws, chapter 140, section 137. (General Laws, chapter 140, section 138, as added by chapter 320, section 4, Acts of 1934.)

The fee for every such license shall, except as otherwise provided be two dollars for a male dog and five dollars for a female dog, unless a certificate of a registered veterinarian who performed the operation that said female dog has been spayed and has thereby been deprived of the power of propagation has been filed with the clerk of the city or town, in which case the fee shall be two dollars. A certified copy of such certificate on file in the office of the city or town clerk within the Commonwealth may be accepted as evidence that the said operation has been performed. (General Laws, chapter 140, section 139, as amended by chapter 320, section 5, Acts of 1934.)

A license duly recorded shall be valid throughout the Commonwealth, except that in case of the permanent removal of a dog into another town (or city) within the Commonwealth such dog shall be licensed within thirty days in the office of the Clerk of such other town (in Boston, of the Police Commissioner) and the clerk thereof (in Boston, the Police Commissioner) shall issue a new license and tag for such dog upon the payment of twenty-five cents.

(General Laws, chapter 140, section 146, as set out by chapter 320, section 10 of Acts of 1934.)

Said clerk (in Boston, the Police Commissioner) shall take up the original license and tag of such dog in lieu of requiring payment of the full fee provided for such a license by section 139 of chapter 140, General Laws, as amended by chapter 320, Acts of 1934.

For further provisions as to dogs and damages done by dogs and authorized destruction of certain dogs, see General Laws, chapter 140, sections 147-175, as amended by chapter 320, Acts of 1934.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH J. LEONARD,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 7.

A Board of Merit, consisting of Superintendent Martin H. King and Deputy Superintendents James McDevitt, John M. Anderson and William W. Livingston, has brought to the attention of the Police Commissioner the following outstanding cases in which police officers of this department especially distinguished themselves in the performance of their duty during the year 1934. The commissioner, therefore, makes the following awards:

The Walter Scott Medal for Valor for 1934 and a Department Medal of Honor to Patrolman James J. Mooney of Division 2.

Patrolman James J. Mooney, formerly of Division 19, now of Division 2, for meritorious police duty performed in connection with the capture on January 27, 1934, of a dangerous character, who, with two others, subsequently apprehended, had committed an armed holdup and robbery and taken the victim's automobile. Patrolman Mooney observed the automobile with three men in it. With his revolver in hand he stepped from the rear of a building and ordered the occupants to surrender. Immediately two shots were fired at Patrolman Mooney from within the automobile, the officer returned the fire and wounded one of the occupants, the other two making a temporary escape.

Department Medal of Honor to Patrolman James F. Mulhern of Division 2 for meritorious police duty performed on July 21, 1934, while off duty, in rescuing two small boys from drowning in Scarboro Pond, Franklin Park.

The commissioner notes with pleasure the courageous acts of the patrolmen named in this order, shown in emergencies where prompt action on their part was required.

The presentation of the Walter Scott Medal for Valor and the Department Medals of Honor to the patrolmen herein awarded will be made by the commissioner on the occasion of the concert and ball of the Boston Police Relief Association to be held at Mechanics Building on the evening of January 15, 1935.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH J. LEONARD,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 8.

A trial board, consisting of Captains Gleavy, Kavanagh and Casey, having heard by reference a complaint made by John J. Mullen, captain, Division 1, against Charles C. Cowhig, patrolman, Division 1, for alleged violation of Rule 41 of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge: Conduct unbecoming an officer.

Specification: In that on the fifth day of January, 1935, the said Patrolman Charles C. Cowhig, while on duty and in uniform, was under the influence of intoxicating liquor to such an extent that he was unable to perform his duty as a police officer and in so doing was guilty of an act contrary to good order and discipline which tended to bring into disrepute and criticism his associates on the force and the department as a whole,—has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

"The Board having heard and carefully considered all the evidence as presented finds the said Patrolman Charles C. Cowhig guilty as charged. Patrolman Cowhig is at the present time performing punishment duty, but in view of the fact that he has never previously been before a trial board on a complaint similar to the foregoing charge, the Board has considered the recommendations of this officer's captain and other superior officers that he (Cowhig) be given another opportunity as they feel he will prove to be a good police officer and that he should be retained in the Police Department; the Board has also considered Patrolman Cowhig's promise to refrain from the use of intoxicating liquor in the future and, therefore, respectfully recommends that the said Patrolman Charles C. Cowhig be suspended from duty for a period of thirty days, effective as of January 7, 1935, at 7.45 o'clock a. m., and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension the said Patrolman Charles C. Cowhig be ordered to perform 210 hours of punishment duty."

The commissioner accepts the finding and the recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman Charles C. Cowhig be suspended from duty for a period of thirty days, effective as of January 7, 1935, at 7.45 o'clock a. m., and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension the said Patrolman Charles C. Cowhig perform 210 hours of punishment duty.

Civil Service Rule 23, section 3, requires approval of the Civil Service Commission before reinstatement.

Rule 23.

"Section 3. With the consent of the Commissioner upon good cause shown, an appointing officer may reinstate in the same position or in a position in the same class and grade any person who has been separated from the service; provided, however, that the Commissioner shall not allow reinstatement of a person discharged for cause."

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH J. LEONARD,
Commissioner.

SUPERIOR COURT FOR CIVIL BUSINESS.
BOSTON, December 27, 1934.

CHARLES J. FOX,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—To meet the cost of replacement of a certain number of typewriters, which has been the policy of this office as suggested by the Budget Department, a transfer is requested as follows:

From the appropriation for B-1, $300, to the appropriation for C-9, $300.

Very truly yours,

FRANCIS A. CAMPBELL,
Clerk.

The above transfer was made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 31, 1934.

REGISTRY OF PROBATE.

BOSTON, December 12, 1934.

CHARLES J. FOX,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the Registry of Probate:

From the appropriation for B, $3,000, to the appropriation for C, $200; D, $2,800.

The transfer of $200 from B group to C group is necessitated by the fact that my appropriation for typewriters and library was reduced and purchases in excess of the amount approved were necessary. As a result of an understanding with the Budget Commissioner, two uniforms were purchased for court officers.

New rules of the Probate Court required the printing of new citations on all, or practically all probate proceedings. I had no appropriation to cover the cost of same. The cost of printing amounted to approximately $3,000. The money being available in Group B, I find it necessary to transfer $2,800 to Group D.

Respectfully,

ARTHUR W. SULLIVAN,
Register.

The above transfer was made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 31, 1934.

MAYOR MANSFIELD SUMMARIZES HIS ACCOMPLISHMENTS FOR THE CITY IN 1935 — IN RADIO BROADCAST FROM CITY HALL STATION OF WNAC HE GIVES ACCOUNT OF HIS STEWARDSHIP, SHOWING THAT CITY'S CREDIT HAS IMPROVED, UNEMPLOYMENT HAS BEEN LESSENNED AND ALL NEEDY HAVE BEEN CARED FOR THROUGH BENEFICENT PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS UNDERTAKEN TO PROVIDE WORK AND OTHER MEANS.

The following is the radio address of Mayor Frederick W. Mansfield over Station WNAC on January 21:

When I was inaugurated as Mayor of the City of Boston I promised to keep you informed as to the affairs of your city. Accordingly I have, from time to time, spoken with you over the radio in weekly broadcasts and it is now my purpose to summarize briefly the accomplishments of 1934:

The three great problems which confronted me when I took office were the maintenance and improvement of the credit of the city which had suffered severely, the relief of the unemployed, and the task of bringing prosperity back again to Boston.

I have frequently stressed the vital importance of maintaining the credit of the city. Under the law, the money needed to carry on all municipal activities is not received by the city until late in the year which makes it necessary to borrow money in anticipation of the receipt of such revenue. It is obvious if the credit of the city should become impaired or collapse, this money could not be borrowed, with the necessary result that many municipal services would have to be curtailed, thousands of employees would be obliged to work without pay or be suspended from the city service, and the city would find itself unable properly to care for the poor, the needy and the unemployed.

In my inaugural address on January 1, 1934, I called attention to the critical financial condition of the city, some of the reasons for it and the vital importance of maintaining the city's financial stability. Although the tax rate for 1933 was $32.80, this figure was artificial and did not accurately reflect the true state of affairs. The 1933 rate was made possible only through the borrowing by the city of $7,600,000 for a term of five years and a grant to the city by the Federal Government of approximately $2,000,000. Were it not for such borrowing and grant, the tax rate in 1933 would have been in excess of $38.25, or more than $1.25 higher than the tax rate for 1934. Moreover, the effect of borrowing $7,600,000 in 1933 was to impose upon the city the obligation to pay back the amount borrowed with interest in 1934 and the four following years. This added $1,800,000 to the city's obligations in 1934 and necessarily contributed to an increased tax rate. It was obvious that the city could not continue borrowing on a short-term basis; that a Federal grant could not be relied on in 1934; that the cost of materials and supplies, due to a rising market, would impose greater burdens on the city in 1934 than in 1933; and that further decline in real estate values would reduce the base of the city's main source of revenue.

1934 Critical Year.

The situation, therefore, facing the city in the early days of 1934 was most critical.

I was confronted with the necessity of permitting the imposition of an increased tax rate on real estate in 1934 that would have been out of all bounds, or of borrowing large sums of money as was done in 1933, or of obtaining new sources of revenue, or of cutting expenditures. To permit an increased tax rate on real estate in 1934 greater than has been permitted would, in my opinion, have rendered the tax in large part uncollectible, it would have further impaired real estate values, it would have been most unfair to the home owner and injured the business of the city. To continue borrowing in 1934 on the 1933 scale with no likelihood of finding revenue to meet such borrowings would have spelt disaster. The Legislature showed no inclination to furnish new sources of revenue. The only recourse left to me, therefore, was that of curtailing expenses.

It was possible through the retrenchments made in 1934 to cut the gross sum of $2,500,000 from the city's operating budget for the year. Many factors, however, not under the control of the Mayor, including decreased real estate values, increased cost of purchases due to the rising market, an increase in Boston's debt requirements and in its share of the State tax and of the Metropolitan District assessment made it impossible to keep the tax rate down. Were it not, however, for the savings made in the city's operating budget, the tax for 1934 would have been nearer $50 than $37, and were it not for these savings and the administrative improvements previously indicated, the credit of the city might have been hopelessly impaired, with the disastrous effects heretofore outlined. As it is, Boston's credit has unquestionably improved.

BROADCAST BY MAYOR.

This improvement is evidenced by the fact that Boston has been able to borrow during the year 1934 at an average rate of interest as low as 1.6 per cent on tax anticipation loans as compared with an average rate of 4.74 per cent in 1933, and at a rate of interest as low as 3 per cent on long-term loans. The improvements in city administration which have been inaugurated will be of permanent value to the city and its people. The first achievement, therefore, of the past year has been the maintenance and improvement of the credit of the city and the permanent improvement of administrative conditions, and this despite the most serious obstacles.

But the major problem facing all governments in this country today, Federal, state and local, is the problem of providing for the unemployed and assisting in national recovery. Although there are definite signs indicating a trend upwards in business conditions during the past year, the number of persons who have been obliged to look to the Government for assistance has increased. Expenditures for public welfare in Boston have increased from approximately $2,900,000 in 1928 to $14,300,000 in 1934, an increase of more than $11,000,000. This represents an increase in the tax rate of approximately $6.

MUNICIPAL BURDEN GREAT.

The burden of caring for the employable but unemployed is one so great that the municipalities of the country have been unable to carry it unaided. Recognizing this fact, the Federal Government, and in most other states, the state government, has cooperated in assisting the municipalities.

As a member of the Executive Committee of the United States Conference of Mayors, I have strongly urged upon the Federal Government the necessity of its caring for the unemployed but employable, leaving to the cities and the states the care of the unemployables. I have also stressed the importance of a work relief program rather than a dole. While a work relief program is undoubtedly more costly, the expense is one which Government should incur. Most persons who are unemployed would far prefer employment to the dole. A work relief program aids men in maintaining their self-respect, avoids a waste of their talents and, if properly directed, will produce lasting benefits to the community.

When it became apparent that Boston was receiving an altogether inadequate amount of Federal funds for work relief projects, I made every effort to secure and succeeded ultimately in securing greater aid, and I am now pleased to advise you that there are about 15,000 heretofore unemployed residents of Boston employed on work relief projects, that projects have been developed which should in the near future employ many more thousands (weather permitting), and that, while the city has been required to bear the cost of the materials used upon these projects, the projects are to be devised to be of definite value to the city and its people.

Shortly after taking office, I recommended to the Federal Government Public Works projects calling for an expenditure of over $7,000,000. These projects are now under way and will afford substantial employment for some time to come. They contemplate construction and reconstruction of streets and sewers, the reconstruction of the Northern Avenue Bridge, two new steel water mains, two new intermediate schools, one in Roslindale and one in South Boston, an addition to an existing intermediate school in West Roxbury, a new surgical building at the Boston City Hospital, and a new police communications system, including two-way radio. This program has enabled the city to make many improvements of permanent value, to cooperate in the Federal program and to afford increased opportunities of employment.

The auditing system and budget control which was in force in Boston when I took office was antiquated and wholly inadequate. In addition to that, the city was not obtaining the full benefits of centralized purchasing. The Welfare Department was poorly organized. There were forty-six separate departments and 135 department heads. The City Auditor under my instructions has prepared a plan whereby a modern budget system and an up-to-date auditing system has been put into effect.

FEDERAL PROJECTS.

When it became apparent that the Federal Government was to undertake projects for the clearance of depreciated areas and low-cost housing, I immediately requested a committee of the City Planning Board to prepare projects for such work in Boston. Upon receiving the report of this committee showing the great need for such a rehabilitation and housing program in Boston, I submitted the report to the Federal authorities and I am advised that for the last two months plans have been developing at Washington to commence work here on one such project in the immediate future and that other projects are under consideration.

I am, therefore, able to report to you that not only are many public improvements now under way in Boston but that employment has been obtained for thousands of persons heretofore out of employment, and that every effort has been made to assist those who are unable to work or cannot yet obtain employment.

For some time prior to my taking office there had been considerable complaint as to the administration of the Department of Public Welfare, which has since been reorganized. A vigorous campaign has been waged by the reorganized department, in conjunction with the Law Department of the city, to prosecute persons who were improperly taking welfare funds intended for the poor and needy. Every prosecution has resulted in conviction. A new staff of trained and sympathetic workers have been employed in the Welfare Department to eliminate unworthy cases and to assist, advise and aid the worthy. Branch offices have been established in many districts to eliminate the necessity of needy persons coming for assistance from suburban districts to Hawkins street in the City Proper and to be of more service to those in need.

Immediately upon taking office, I filed with the Legislature a petition asking for authority to consolidate many departments which could not then, under the City Charter, be consolidated. Late in the legislative year this power was vested in me and the City Council, joint action being required. It is obviously impossible for any Mayor to function efficiently through 135 department heads, and forty-six separate departments. My purpose is to limit city departments to a relatively small number, the department heads to form a cabinet for the Mayor. Under such an arrangement the city can be assured of far better service than is now possible. To this end I have appointed a committee, nominated at my request by President Compton of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, to make a survey of the engineering departments of the city, and a committee of leading physicians and experts in hospital and health work to survey the hospital and health functions of the city. When plans for consolidation are more definitely outlined, I shall report to you more fully.

Time does not permit a review of other activities that have been undertaken by the present administration. One of the chief basic troubles in Boston is the loss of its shipping business. But that is a long story and I will tell you something about that with other matters of general interest in my radio talk to you on next Thursday night, at the same hour from this same station, where I will speak to you about the outlook for 1935 and my program for the year.

CONSTRUCTION WORK.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Public Works Department for the following construction work:

A surface drain of 15-inch and 18-inch pipe, E. R. A. project, in Hyde Park avenue, between Dellmore road and Larch place, in the West Roxbury district, at an estimated cost of $9,207.

A sanitary sewer of 10-inch pipe, E. R. A. project, in Walk Hill street, between Canterbury street and 1,800 feet northwesterly, in the West Roxbury district, at an estimated cost of $16,267.

LAND-TAKING IN DORCHESTER.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for a public improvement consisting of the laying out and construction of an extension of Crockett avenue, Dorchester district, as a highway, over and including the private way known as Cushing Hill road, from Gallivan Boulevard to Milton street, bounded and described as follows:

An extension of the highway named Crockett avenue is hereby laid out, from Milton street to Gallivan Boulevard, over and including the private way known as Cushing Hill road, and ordered constructed; the cost thereof to be charged to Federal Funds allocated under the Federal Emergency Relief Administration program for Massachusetts.

Said highway and the land, exclusive of trees or structures standing upon or affixed thereto, in which an easement for street purposes is hereby taken, is bounded and described as follows:

Southerly by Milton street, forty feet; westerly by the westerly line of said extension of said Crockett avenue as hereby laid out, seven hundred and twenty-five feet; northerly by Gallivan Boulevard, forty and 13-100 feet; and easterly by the easterly line of said extension of said Crockett avenue as hereby laid out, seven hundred twenty-one and 91-100 feet.

Voted, That this Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the making of the public improvement consisting of the laying out and construction of an extension of Crockett avenue, Dorchester district, as a highway, from Milton street to Gallivan Boulevard, under the order of the Board of January 16, 1935, and awards no damages therefor.

REPORT OF JOHN P. SULLIVAN, SUPERVISOR OF HEALTH EDUCATION, ON CONVENTION OF THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF SCIENCE.

The following report of the Supervisor of Health Education for the Boston Public Schools, John P. Sullivan, at Pittsburgh, has been received by the School Committee.

January 8, 1935.

I was present at all sessions of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and attended the Education (Q) and Psychology (I) sections. I read a paper before the Education Section on "The Relation of Health Education and Science in the Curriculum." This organization is the official scientific organization in the United States. Over five thousand delegates were present at this convention representing every state and every large city.

The highlights of the Education Section (Q) were:

1. The sponsoring of science and health education in the curriculum by this national scientific organization.
2. The recognition of the needs for basing the science and health education program on sound scientific facts which appeal to the intellect in order to overcome the popular appeal to the imagination and emotions.

A digest of some interesting papers follows:

Naturally no topic discussed by the groups attending the meetings were of more general interest to the public than those relating to the battle against human disease. For instance, the claim is now being made with increasing confidence that infantile paralysis has been conquered, and a new clue to the cause of cancerous growths has been announced.

The human brain and nervous system can be best compared to a radio broadcast heard by thousands of receiving sets, and not to a telephone switchboard as commonly taught. This was the conclusion of Prof. Paul Weiss, University of Chicago, who demonstrated "The Resonance Principle of Nervous Control."

People are right-eyed or left-eyed, just as they are right or left handed. It is known that most of the people do their seeing with only one eye. First the dominant eye focuses on the object, much like a camera, and then the other almost instantly follows. Such were some of the facts about his study of the relative neuro-muscular efficiency of the dominant and non-dominant eye in binocular vision which Dr. Carleton F. Scofield, University of Buffalo, revealed to the group.

Brains rule the muscles, or in the words of Dr. Gantt and Dr. Light of Johns Hopkins University, "You can learn to do some things without actually practicing the movements, which proves it is the brain that does the real learning."

Dr. William A. White, superintendent of St. Elizabeth's Hospital, gave one of the main addresses on "Man, The Great Integrator," in which he told of his adaptability. When the teachings of astronomers overthrew the idea that man was the center of all things, to compensate himself for the loss of self-esteem, he began to study the universe to master it, and became an astronomer. Dr. White said. When evolution struck another, man's dominance among animals,—he became a biologist, and when he was told he was like all other men, he became a psychologist, the speaker said. In psychiatry, he concluded, lie the answers to many of the vexatious problems still unsolved.

The writer was fortunate in obtaining a ticket to hear Prof. Albert Einstein present his theory that matter and energy were identical things in two different forms.

Stressing the importance of chemistry in modern living, five scientists urged greater enrollment for the subject in high schools. Chemistry teaches "the scientific method of thought" and the techniques employed give the student practical means of handling other problems of life, asserted Professor Simon. The solution of any problem, he pointed out, involves the element of judgment and the careful selection of facts, and the training in chemistry is of particular value because it emphasizes these factors. The cultural value of chemistry, an attribute formerly restricted to the classics and the arts, was stressed by Professor Hopkins.

My name was accepted by the Governing Council, as forwarded by the chairman of the Education Section, as a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, which honor I expect to formally receive in the near future.

Attendance at this convention has given me a fresh viewpoint, renewed courage and strengthened convictions to carry on the Health Education Program in Boston. I feel that the expense involved will more than be repaid with interest by a broader vision and the ability to help the teachers to the end that the pupils may be benefited.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN P. SULLIVAN,
Supervisor of Health Education.

Upon January 21 the Mayor approved a contract with contractors as indicated for ether required by the various city departments during the year ending December 31, 1935.

It is recommended that award for Squibb's ether be made to E. R. Squibb & Sons, 150 Causeway street, Boston, at the prices shown on the bid summary.

The bid of the Mallinckrodt Chemical Works, of 72 Gold street, New York City, is irregular, as no copy was filed with the City Auditor as required by law.

Inasmuch as there would be no advantage to the city in readvertising, as only the Mallinckrodt Chemical Works of New York will bid on the ether specified, I respectfully request your approval of an award, without further advertising, for the Mallinckrodt either to the Mallinckrodt Chemical Works.

Under these awards the City of Boston will be protected both against reductions and increases in price during the contract period.

Approximate amount of awards will be as follows:

E. R. Squibb & Sons, $122.08; Mallinckrodt Chemical Works, $3,247.02—$3,369.10.

Bids, opened January 4, were as follows:

* Contract awarded.

Upon January 21 the Mayor approved a contract with lowest average bidders on waste and wiping cloths for the various city departments for the year 1935. Three bids were received, two from concerns located in Chelsea and one from the Robert Bishop Manufacturing Company located in South Boston. Two bidders, of which the Robert Bishop Manufacturing Company is one, bid on all items. The third bidder, the Textile Waste Supply Company of Chelsea, bid on seven items only.

If all items are awarded to the Robert Bishop Manufacturing Company of South Boston the total cost will be approximately $2,767.74 less 2 per cent, or $2,712.38. If items are awarded to lowest bidders, the Robert Bishop Manufacturing Company award will amount to approximately $1,578.50 less 2 per cent, or $1,546.93, and the Textile Waste Supply Company award will amount to approximately $1,082.84 less 1 per cent, or $1,072.01. The total of these two low bids would be approximately $2,618.94, or $93.44 less than if the total contract were awarded to Robert Bishop Manufacturing Company.

In view of this very slight difference, and the fact that the Robert Bishop Manufacturing Company is the only bidder located in Boston, it is recommended that a contract, amounting to approximately $2,712.38, be awarded to them as the lowest average bidder.

Madam President and Delegates to the Second Annual Convention of the Massachusetts State Hair Dressers' Association.

My first duty is to thank you for your kind greeting of welcome and to thank you on behalf of Mayor Frederick W. Mansfield for your invitation to him to be present on this occasion.

It is with keen regret that his Honor the Mayor finds it impossible to be with you this afternoon and therefore as the

General Order No. 10.

The resignation of Leo Schwartz, Esq., legal adviser to the Police Commissioner, has been accepted, to take effect at the close of business on January 21, 1935.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH J. LEONARD,

General Order No. 11.

The Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston will attend to legal matters connected with the Police Department of the City of Boston.

Charles S. Sullivan, Jr., Esq., Assistant Corporation Counsel, has been designated for this particular duty.

He will be accorded every assistance and courtesy by division commanders and members of the department, and any questions which he may ask will be answered promptly and with correctness.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH J. LEONARD,
Commissioner.

Acting Mayor of this great city I bring to all assembled here the official greetings of the city government and the citizens of Boston.

As the representative of the city government I desire to welcome all those who come from other sections of the Commonwealth as well as those present here from Boston; to welcome you all to this hallowed spot where American liberty had its birth and which has been a sacred shrine ever since the Boston Massacre of March 5, 1770.

I understand that the delegates to this convention are to be in Boston for the next three days and I trust while you are here that you may have an opportunity to visit the many famous historic spots for which our city is noted and to observe the progressive and forward-looking activities of our leaders in business and public life and thus carry away from this city many satisfying and happy recollections of your stay here.

I am informed that your state body now represents over one thousand members and is growing steadily, for your business is one of the newer lines that have come to the front in recent years. I understand that in the shops owned by your members in this Commonwealth you have some six thousand employees. This shows that your business has become one of the real lines of activity in this state and through your employment of these thousands you are helping to put into circulation many thousands of dollars.

Our great President, Franklin D. Roosevelt, has said, "Faith in our government and what it is endeavoring to accomplish, will bring prosperity." You show by your presence here today that you have faith in our government and its leader when you assemble here to discuss new ways of improving your business so that you might attract more customers to your shops, which inevitably will lead to more employment in your line.

The strength of your organization is shown by the representatives that will gather here in the next few days from New York, Chicago and other sections to display the latest equipment being used in your business. Many of your members will purchase this new equipment and in this way will bring employment to persons manufacturing this equipment. Truly it can be said that you have faith in our President and what he is endeavoring to accomplish.

I realize that you have much business to transact here and therefore I feel I should not extend my remarks beyond this point. However, I assure you that it has been a pleasure to address you and I trust that the activities of this convention, as well as all your efforts of the coming year, will be crowned with success.

NOTES ON NEW DISBURSEMENT SYSTEM.

AUDITING DEPARTMENT.

1. Prompt Return on Receiving Notices Necessary.—The new disbursement plan cannot function efficiently unless the various city and county departments cooperate to the fullest degree. At the present time the system is working smoothly, except in one respect, namely, the return of receiving notices by departments. As a result of this delay the files of this department contain a large number of bills received from vendors which cannot be returned to the departments for checking and verification until the receiving notice is returned. Department heads and officials will render material assistance to the carrying forward of the new plan by insisting and making certain that receiving notices will be forwarded to the Auditing Department within twenty-four hours after the actual receipt of commodities or services.

2. Departmental Requisitions.—Requisitions sent by departments to either the Supply or Printing Department should be numbered, and should indicate budget items involved. Complaints have been received from officials in the Supply and Printing Departments to the effect that this detail has been overlooked in a large number of cases. The numbering of requisitions is essential for identification purposes, and should, therefore, not be overlooked or omitted.

3. Discount Procedure.—The following suggestion is offered to departments submitting bills bearing cash discounts for prompt payment. The two columns appearing on the requisition form submitted with the bills should be used as follows: The left-hand column should contain the name of the vendor and the net amount of the bill; the right-hand column should show the term discount and the amount of the discount to be taken. At the top of the requisition the gross amount of the bills covered by the requisition should be shown. The statement of invoices accompanying the requisition and bills should indicate the net amount of the payment to be made to the vendor involved.

4. Pay Roll Requisitions.—In submitting pay roll requisitions departments are earnestly requested to indicate on the requisition the subdivision of the total charge in case more than one Personal Service or pay roll item is involved. In short, if pay rolls submitted by departments cover charges against A-1, A-2, A-3, F-7 and F-11, each of these items should be shown on the requisition, and the amount to be charged against each clearly indicated opposite the respective items. Attention to this detail will be of material assistance to this department in the posting of the various charges.

CHARLES J. FOX,
City Auditor.

SALE OF FERRYBOAT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 12, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—With the opening of the new Summer Traffic Tunnel to East Boston about six months ago, the Commissioner of Public Works placed the ferryboat "Ralph Palumbo" out of commission. It is now the opinion of the Commissioner of Public Works that the services of this boat are no longer needed, and it would be to the best advantage of the city to dispose of the same at public auction, thus saving the expense of maintenance while out of commission. I am, therefore, submitting herewith an order for the sale of this ferryboat at public auction at an upset price of $25,000, and respectfully recommend adoption by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be, and hereby is, authorized to sell at a duly authorized public auction, at an upset price of $25,000, the ferryboat "Ralph Palumbo."
Referred to Executive Committee.

WAITING ROOM, WARD 13.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 11, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Boston Elevated Railway, relative to your order of November 19, 1934, concerning the proposed installation of a waiting room on the new bus platform now being constructed on South Sydney street, Ward 13.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Boston, December 10, 1934.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—In relation to the memo. of November 22 concerning installation of a waiting room on the new bus platform now being constructed on South Sydney street, the trustees have considered the matter today and do not believe it wise to take action until experience of the operation of this new loop has demonstrated exactly what ought to be done. They feel if something should be done prematurely at this time at some cost, which would have to be undone later, it would be unwise. The matter will be closely followed after operation has begun.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD DANA,
Executive Vice President and General Manager.
Placed on file.

REMOVAL OF SUBWAY ENTRANCE, WARD 6.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 11, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Boston Transit Department, with inclosed communication from the Boston Elevated Railway, relative to your order of December 3, 1934, concerning the proposed removal of the subway entrance at Dorchester avenue, West Fourth and Dover streets, Ward 6.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Transit Department, January 7, 1935.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of the 15th ultimo inclosing copy of order passed by the City Council on the 3d ultimo, wherein the Transit Department was requested, through your Honor, to take up the matter of removing the unsightly and unnecessary subway entrance at Dorchester avenue, West Fourth and Dover streets, Ward 6, I respectfully report that by reason of the fact that the location in question is a part of the premises of the Dorchester Tunnel, leased to the Boston Elevated Railway Company under authority of chapter 741 of the Acts of 1911, it was necessary to obtain the views of that company on the question of such removal, and whether in that event it would agree to the cost.

A reply has now been received from Edward Dana, Executive Vice President and General Manager of the company, copy of which I inclose.

In view of the declination of the company to assume for rental purposes the cost of this work, this department cannot proceed.

Yours respectfully,

T. F. SULLIVAN, Chairman.

Boston Elevated Railway,
Public Trustees,
Park Square Building,
Boston, January 3, 1935.

Col. Thomas F. Sullivan,
Chairman, Boston Transit Department.

Dear Sir,—Referring to your letter of December 17, the trustees understand the inquiry to have reference to the raised exit platform and exit stairs and covering at West Fourth street and Dorchester avenue and not the incline in itself.

They have no objection to the removal of this canopy and granolithic sidewalk provided it is not charged to the Dorchester Tunnel cost, as they do not see why the car riders should be charged double both for the construction of the project and then for its demolition for other public purposes.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD DANA,
Executive Vice President and General Manager.
Placed on file.

HEATERS IN POLICE CARS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 11, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Police Commissioner, relative to your order of December 17, 1934, concerning the advisability of installing heaters in police cars now in operation.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Police Department, January 4, 1935.
Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,
Assistant Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—Replying to your communication of December 20, 1934, inclosing an order of the City Council dated December 17, relative to the advisability of installing heaters in police cars now in operation, I am in receipt of a report from the superintendent advising me that it would take some time to install heaters of any comfort to the officers riding in these cars, and, further, if they were installed at this season they may interfere with the installation of the two-way radio system.

Therefore, I am reluctant to proceed at once to equip all cars of this department with heaters. However, when the two-way radio system is installed, the question of heaters will have my careful consideration.

Very truly yours,
JOSEPH J. LEONARD,
Police Commissioner.

Placed on file.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

E. R. A. WORK FOR SINGLE PERSONS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 14, 1935.

To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter received from the Local Administrator of the E. R. A., in reference to your order of December 3, 1934, concerning a proposal to include single men and women with one or more dependents in the eligible class for employment on E. R. A. projects in Boston.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.Federal Emergency Relief Administration, 80 Joy Street,
Boston, December 20, 1934.

Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.
Dear Sir,—I return herewith order from the City Council of December 3 requesting that his Honor the Mayor take up with the Federal Emergency Relief Administration in Washington the matter of including single men and women with one or more dependents in the eligible class for employment on E. R. A. projects in Boston.

Your Honor was present at a conference of the Mayors of the larger cities in Massachusetts in Mr. Rotch's office on December 13 when the matter of providing single men and women without dependents with employment was taken up. At this conference State Administrator Rotch read a communication from Federal Administrator Hopkins stating that he did not consider it was possible to increase the allotment for the State of Massachusetts.

In view of this situation, Mr. Rotch stated that funds for employment of single persons without dependents could only be obtained by the discharge of persons with two or more dependents. It was the consensus of opinion of those present that such action would be inadvisable.

Very truly yours,

T. F. SULLIVAN,
Local Administrator.

DUMPING ON CITY LAND.

Coun. SELVITELLA offered the following:
Ordered, That the Park Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to stop dumping of all kinds on city-owned land at the World War Memorial Park, or any other city land in East Boston.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CESSATION OF FINANCE COMMISSION HEARINGS.

Coun. SELVITELLA offered the following:
Whereas, The Boston Finance Commission has publicly admitted that any investigations which they might conduct into the East Boston Tunnel land-takings will not restore the alleged profits made by speculators to the city and taxpayers; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council at this time extends its thanks to the said commission for its three reports thus far with reference to the takings and requests that no further investigations and expenses be incurred in further probes into this matter.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Mr. President, on October 29, 1934, this Council, under suspension of the rule, went on record as favoring investigation of the so-called land-takings in connection with the building of the Summer Tunnel. At that time I voted in favor of the order because I felt, I suppose like a good many members of this Council, that the investigation would disclose something that had never been reported or matters which were not before known to the public. Since the investigation has been going on we have found, much to our sorrow, that the members of this "holier-than-thou" commission are under suspicion themselves and that since the order was passed one of the members has been removed for committing acts which should have been investigated by the body at that time. I have reason to believe that another member will also be removed for acts which were not only unethical but contrary to sworn official duty. If this investigation after its completion would restore these alleged profits to the city I would be in favor of a continuation of this investigation, but, regardless of the outcome of the investigation, it is a foregone conclusion that these profits will not be restored to the city. This is a fact-finding committee. What has been brought out was a matter of knowledge and record before. It is costing the city close to $500 a week for this investigation, and I can see no reason why the taxpayers of Boston should pay this amount of money for an investigation that will do the city no good. These members themselves ought to be investigated. I have here a report from the auditor's office showing that during the past six weeks that this investigation has been going on, George R. Farnum, the special attorney for the Finance Commission, has received a total of $1,500 for his services, $250 a week, besides expenses which are added to his bill. He saw fit to engage the services of one Frederick J. Bradley, a so-called expert on bonds, and for a period of three weeks the services of this man as charged have cost the city $300 in connection with this investigation. There is no limit as to the time during which this investigation will go on; they have $50,000 at their disposal, and there is nothing to prevent these special investigators from taking the $50,000 from the taxpayers of Boston, spending it, and getting nothing in return. Where the members themselves are under suspicion, it seems to me it is about time that this Council went on record to put a stop to this needless and wasteful expenditure of the city's money. Therefore, I say that this investigation, in view of the recent happenings, ought to stop, saving the taxpayers from any further expenditure of money.

President FITZGERALD—The order will be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Just a moment, Mr. President. I want to know why it has to go to the Committee on Rules.

President FITZGERALD—Under Rule 12 of the Council.

RETENTION OF MARTIN H. KING.

Coun. SELVITELLA offered the following:
Resolved, That it is the opinion of the Boston City Council that the good of the city requires the retention as Superintendent of Police of Martin H. King, and that any efforts made to remove Superintendent King on any specious pretext will not only seriously affect the morale of the Police Department, but will be an open invitation to crooks, gangsters, gamblers, thugs and others who survive on the proceeds of crime and vice to congregate in Boston, to the great and lasting detriment of the city and its citizens.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Mr. President, the morale of the officers and men of the Boston Police Department is now at a low ebb. Men who have performed meritorious and faithful service to the city are becoming the victims of political chicanery and political deals. Two weeks ago a new Police Commissioner, with no previous police experience, being himself appointed as commissioner through one of the worst political scandals ever engineered at the State House, as one of his first official acts announced that he would remove the present Superintendent of Police, Martin H. King. Despite the fact that Superintendent King had ability and integrity, and his every act was above reproach, nevertheless, regardless of his thirty-three years of police work and experience, he must step aside in order to put into effect a deal that was made several weeks ago. I believe we owe it to the people of our districts to do what we can to discourage acts of this kind, displayed toward men who have performed faithful and long service, in order that the men in the department may be encouraged to perform their duties efficiently and for the best interests of the city. I move a suspension of the rule and passage of the resolution.

The resolution was passed under suspension of the rule.

PRESENT STATUS OF POLICE RADIO.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the Council regarding the present status of police radio.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, this Council has appropriated $350,000 for police radio in Boston. We are now informed that that has equipped but five cars out of eighty. Therefore, in this order I have requested the Police Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise us as to the present status of police radio in Boston. I understand that most of the money has been used for police cables and police telephones, for intercommunication between police stations in Boston, whereas when we appropriated the money it was with the understanding that it was to fully equip the Police Department with radio. At the time the Police Commissioner felt that red lights on boxes and telephonic communication between stations were far better than police radio. He reported to us long ago that the time had not yet arrived in the progress of the art when radio should be so introduced, that there was too much interference, as a practical matter, in different parts of the city, and he based that on what he said he had learned from New York—where, incidentally, they have ten times the interference that we have in Boston. That was several years ago. The following year the Police Commissioner said that crooks could listen in, and that therefore it was of no use, and again the following year he felt that it was better to provide red lights on the boxes to notify officers that something was going on. And so it has gone, Mr. President. And now, after the commissioner secured an appropriation of $350,000, we find but five cars out of eighty in Boston equipped with two-way police radio, while an immense amount of the money has been used for underground cables and intercommunication between stations, for work that may in the next few years be rendered absolutely obsolete by police radio.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REQUEST FOR NON-REMOVAL OF SUPERINTENDENT KING.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston consider the matter of publicly requesting the Police Commissioner of Boston not to remove Police Superintendent Martin King at this time.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I would like to amend that order. Since coming into the Council Chamber I have been informed that the Mayor of Boston has waited on the Police Commissioner in regard to this matter. Therefore, I would like to have the Mayor of Boston inform the Council just what the status is, as far as he is concerned, concerning the possible removal by the Police Commissioner of Superintendent Martin H. King. I, for one, object to any man who has been but two weeks on the job of Police Commissioner being willing to throw on the scrap heap our efficient Superintendent of Police, Martin H. King, who has devoted thirty-three years of faithful service to the Police Department of the City of Boston. I know something of Mr. King's ability. He is an incorruptible, honest police official. As a police captain in Division 6, South Boston, he cleaned up the waterfront section of joints and dives, hitherto considered an impossible assignment. He is a man who has come up through the ranks and is one of the few high police officials in Boston upon whom there is unanimity of agreement that he is absolutely incorruptible and honorable. The latest impartial report on the Boston Police Force, written by the Harvard Law School and published in 1934, states that the Boston Police Force compares favorably with any force in the country. Martin H. King was the head of the force at the time when this was written. What has he done in the meantime to warrant letting him go? And I say that when his removal is threatened by a man with no experience in police work, who has been but two weeks on the job, it is unfair to the people of Boston that they should be compelled to stand for such political procedure at this time.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

CHECK-UPS ON ELEVATED MEN OF SIXTY-FIVE.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the matter of conferring with officials of the Boston Elevated Railroad relative to frequent and thorough check-ups on all men sixty-five or over who are operating street cars or elevated trains in Boston.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, yesterday we had an accident in Copley square, one car on the Elevated road crashing into another. The man running the car that crashed into the other was sixty-seven years of age. It does seem that there should be a thorough check-up on the men running the Elevated cars to see that they are fully equipped and possessing the necessary physical and mental qualities for the position. I believe officials of the Boston Elevated Railroad should be requested to have a thorough physical check-up made on all men over the age of sixty-five who are operating cars in Boston today. Some of us remember the awful accident in 1916 on the Summer Street Bridge going to South Boston, when thirty-eight people lost their lives. Certainly, where there is but one man on a car, taking fares and operating, it behooves the officials of the road to be extremely careful in their check-up of men sixty-five years or over.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RECALL OF AMBASSADOR TO MEXICO.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the matter of calling on our Secretary of State for the United States to recall Ambassador Josephus Daniels from Mexico.

Referred to Committee on Rules.

RE-EMPLOYMENT OF DROPPED EMPLOYEES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the matter of placing back on the pay rolls of the city all city employees whom his administration has let go during the past year, provided said employees performed their work satisfactorily while with the city.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I want, first, to thank the Mayor of Boston for taking cognizance of various orders introduced in the Council looking to putting back on the pay roll of the city building inspectors who had been for ten or more years in the employ of the city and who had been suspended. Those men have been out since last March. I requested that they be placed back, under various orders, in preference to having new employees placed on the pay rolls. I am now asking the Mayor of Boston, under this order, to consider placing back on the pay roll old city employees who were let go for no good reason than politics by the administration during the past year—men such as Charles Bogan, over thirty years with the city, Philip Chapman, twenty years in various city positions, John A. Sullivan, graduate of Harvard, over nineteen years in the Ferry Service, and bearing a name that has been particularly honored in East Boston, Rudolph Watson, over thirty years in the city service, and Mr. Balfe, over ten years in the service. The Mayor of Boston has seen fit to change his mind in regard to the building inspectors, placing over twenty of them back at work, after nearly a year's absence from the city's pay roll, and perhaps he will do the same in these cases. I certainly trust that he will put back these men. It will mean no increase in cost to the city if it is arranged so that these men can do the work of new employees. I would ask his Honor the Mayor, now that the hustle and bustle of the campaign is over and perhaps political grudges are forgotten, if he will not examine into the cases of these men whom I have enumerated, and others, lending a somewhat more beneficent ear to their cases.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

LOAN IN ANTICIPATION OF TAXES.

President FITZGERALD called up, under unfinished business, No. 2 on the calendar, viz.:

2. Ordered, That to provide temporarily money to meet the appropriations for the financial year 1935, the City Treasurer issue and sell, at such time and in such amounts as he may deem best, notes or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston not exceeding forty million dollars in the total, in anticipation of the taxes of the current municipal year; that all such notes or certificates of indebtedness be dated the day the money for the same is received, be made payable with the interest thereon within one year of their date, and bear interest from their date until the same are made payable at such rate as the City Auditor, the City Treasurer and the Mayor may determine.

On January 7, 1935, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 19, nays 0.

The order was given its second and final reading and passage, yeas 20, nays 0.

CONFIRMATION OF EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS.

President FITZGERALD called up, under unfinished business, No. 1 on the calendar, viz.:

1. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor January 7, 1935, of Rose Pritzker, Alice Bennett and Benjamin Waldman, to be Weighers of Coal; and John Lydon, to be a Weigher of Goods and an Inspector of Hay and Straw.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Selvitella and Gallagher. Whole number of ballots 18, yeas 18, and the appointments were confirmed.

INTEREST RATE ON TAXES.

Coun. MURRAY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct the Legislative Agent for the City of Boston to draft a bill for presentation to the Legislature reducing the present rate of interest on taxes remaining unpaid from 6 and 8 per cent to 4 and 5 per cent.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, the Governor of the State of Massachusetts is trying to have the banks reduce the interest on mortgages, and I believe we should try to have the interest reduced on unpaid taxes, because otherwise I do not believe many of the people affected will be able to meet the bills. Certainly a charge of 6 to 8 per cent seems exorbitant, and I believe the rate should be reduced to 4 and 5 per cent. I know that the Governor, if appealed to, will help in this matter, taking action looking to reduction of the interest on unpaid taxes to 4 and 5 per cent, thereby giving to home owners who cannot now pay the charges a better opportunity to do so.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

MUNICIPAL REGISTER FOR 1935.

Coun. GLEASON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Statistics Department be authorized, under the direction of the Committee on Rules, to prepare and have printed the Municipal Register for the current year; and that the Clerk of Committees be authorized to prepare and have printed a pocket edition of the Organization of the City Government; the expense of said register and organization to be charged to the appropriation for City Documents.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CONTINUED INVESTIGATION BY FINANCE COMMISSION.

Coun. SHATTUCK offered the following:

Ordered, That the Finance Commission, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to continue with the utmost diligence all investigations now pending before it, resisting all efforts, from whatever source, to divert it from the full performance of its duties, to the end that the public may know, as it is entitled to know, the full facts with respect to the transactions under investigation, as to some of which certain preliminary reports have recently been made.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I wish to call attention briefly to some of the recent reports that have been made by the Finance Commission. I shall refer to two groups of properties only. One is the so-called Hammond property, at 17-27 North street, on the southerly side, 38-52 Merchants row, and 47-51 North Market street. It is one parcel, containing several lots. On April 11, 1930, it appears from these reports that Elizabeth C. Hyland, a straw for Lipp and Paul, got an option on this property for $500,000. A few days before that, on April 4, 1930, there had been a meeting in the Mayor's office, as a result of which reports in the newspapers indicated that the takings would be on the north side, but just after that, at the time of this option, it was suddenly announced that the takings would be on the south side, the side on which this option was taken. Lipp and Paul on June 10 took the title in the name of Louis Bonds. On August 4 there was the taking by the city, and on August 6, two days later, the city paid $682,000 for the property, or $182,000 over one option, in which there was practically no cash investment. A part of this payment was by check payable to Bonds and endorsed to Lipp for $250,769.76. This he deposited in his account at the Bank of Commerce and Trust Company, and with a part of this he purchased the same bonds, $10,000 Phillips Petroleum Corporation, $25,000 Boston Elevated, and $14,000 United States Treasury bonds. He placed in the treasury money that he gave the $14,000 Treasury bonds to Paul, taking no receipt, but Paul said that he never got the bonds. The fact of the matter is Lipp claimed he loaned to his wife's brother, Jacob L. Berkman, of Cambridge, Mass., the amount could be produced. For some time the amount the Phillips Petroleum and United States bonds had not been asked for as a return of investment. From the bond department we were given a check, $30,000, which was a check on the usual procedure. Asked what to do with it, Lipp said, "I don't know," and he was asked, "Obviously this transaction should be further investigated." There are some other properties in which the same persons were engaged in getting options.—24-30 Fulton street, 136 Cross street, 55-57 Commercial street and 56-60 Commercial street. On those properties options were acquired by Lipp and Paul in August, 1929, December, 1930, and November, 1930, respectively. They were all taken by the city between May 14, 1931, and May 19, 1931, at a profit to the speculators of $125,700. In these properties, also, no cash investment was made, except possibly on the first one. John S. Slater represented Paul and Lipp in these transactions, and received for them the city awards. Among the checks he issued was one of May 15, 1931, on "Clients account," for $50,000, payable to Lipp. This check appears to have been cashed by Lipp over the counter and not to have gone through his bank account. With the proceeds he bought $25,000 of United States Treasury bonds, and took away the balance of $25,000 in cash. He claimed that he loaned the bonds to his brother-in-law and gave the cash to Paul, but Paul denied receiving it. Asked what he did with the bonds, Beckman (Lipp's brother-in-law, who had a little chain store somewhere out in Michigan, loaning small amounts to people in connection with his store) said, "Well, sir, I don't know what I did with them. Some of them, I guess, I traded off to some people who came in the store and traded them off for what I could get for them. I didn't think they were very good." Boston Elevated bonds, selling at par, Phillips Petroleum Corporation bonds, now slightly over par and slightly under par at that time! And the Finance Commission report on December 26 concludes:

"Thus, $105,000 in gilt-edged bonds ($80,000 bought on August 7, 1930, and $25,000 on May 19, 1931) and cash withdrawals of $75,000 ($50,000 on August 7, 1930, and $25,000 on May 19, 1931) are not satisfactorily accounted for."

And the most suspicious, the most peculiar thing is the disposal of the proceeds. Where people are carrying on an honest transaction in real estate, receiving money for it, they do not draw large amounts in cash out of the bank, and if they do, know what they did with it and can show what they did with it. There is not all this mystery about it, one person saying that he gave it to another, and the other saying he never got it, and the man getting bonds saying he didn't think they were worth much and that he traded them off to people who came into the store. The whole thing is very "fishy," it seems to me. This investigation should go on, and go on to the utmost limit. Then we have the recent effort to obtain the testimony of E. L. Dolan, former City Treasurer, to verify certain facts already brought out. He was a partner in and connected with E. L. Dolan Company, stock brokers, in the same suite of offices as the Legal Securities Corporation, apparently with straw officers, and controlled by the E. L. Dolan Company. The Legal Securities Corporation, it appears, sold bonds to the city, sinking and trust funds, to the amount of about two million. There were large payments between the two companies, the Dolan Company and the Legal Securities. Most of the payments to the Dolan Company were in cash, sometimes running to large sums—another most extraordinary procedure. Ask any broker how he does his business, and he will tell you that it is by exchange of checks, by checks paid and checks received, and that it is not on a cash basis, as a rule. But here were large amounts of cash going into the Dolan account. But what does Dolan say, when they try to get him before the commission? He says he is engaged in court, and then he is sick, that he will come in a day or two, and then he is sick again, and then all of a sudden he runs off to Florida, where he is now, and the officers of the so-called Legal Securities Corporation have also gone to Florida or somewhere else. Whether it is for their health or not, I don't know. But in the meantime Dolan's books and the books of the Legal Securities Corporation cannot be found, nor can the officers of the Legal Securities Corporation be found. Now, we ought to follow this thing through. This thing ought not to be squashed at this time. It should be followed through vigorously, and that is the purpose of this order. I ask the Finance Commission to continue its investigations with diligence, not to be diverted from its course, and to let the people know what the facts are in those transactions, developing the facts in connection with these extremely suspicious transactions, so that the public may know what happens, and that this partial investigation may be brought up to date.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I have no knowledge in regard to the subject matter of the order that has been introduced, but I do feel individually, sir, that there should be, in view of what we have heard recently, some suspicion on the part of the Council as to whether this Finance Commission is a proper body to investigate anybody. I have been reading the newspapers lately, and I have been astounded to read about the character of some of the men making up this commission, men who, acting as policemen, having themselves stolen the watch, are yelling "Stop, thief." I think the expression used by the attorney in the case, "Investigate the investigators," was a very good one. So far as land dealers and speculators are concerned, the public is aroused over the fact that large banks and wealthy trustees and political speculators for years have been profiting at the expense of the small home owner, and I was pleased to see in the inaugural address of our Governor that, for the first time on Beacon Hill in such an address, he takes cognizance of this fact and asks the Legislature, the law-making body of this state, to pass a law whereby any man or any bank or trustee who purchases a piece of property within one year of a taking, when the fact that there is to be such a taking is publicly known, shall be forced to turn over 75 per cent of the profits to the city, town or state paying for the property taken. For years we have heard people say, "This land speculation is bad business; we ought to do something about it." And yet it ends there. Now, for the first time a man comes into the office of Governor on Beacon Hill who does not merely say, "This thing is wrong and we should do something about it," but who makes the very simple and trite suggestion—in fact, so simple that it amazes the legal mind, which for years claims to have been trying to stop this practice, that when this sort of thing is done 75 per cent of the profits must be turned over to the town, city or state making the taking. When that goes into effect, it will not be worth while for these speculators to continue what they have been doing in this city for 100 years. The practice must be stopped, and I am glad that a practical method has been suggested for stopping it. But I wonder why this body should call upon the Finance Commission to do its duty, and I wonder if the Finance Commission today stands well enough in the minds of the public of our city to carry on an honest investigation. If these things are going on that it is claimed are going on, why isn't action taken by men elected as prosecutors, in the public interest,—the District Attorney of the County, the Federal District Attorney? Why is it always this body that is called upon to wash the dirty linen of the city? It seems to me either the Finance Commission is on the job and should do this without suggestion from this or any other body, or should resign. Why should men in unpaid positions on this commission fight for their very lives to protect their positions? One reason is that they get fees, I understand, as high as $22,000 from men doing business with the city. I think either that such men should resign from the Finance Commission or that we should have an investigation of the investigators. It is too bad, Mr. President, that in our city, perhaps the cleanest big city of America, those who have profited most in the past, now that they are losing control in certain quarters, hold up our city to ridicule. I am sorry that it has been deemed necessary to bring in our Police Department in the way we have seen today. We have the finest Police Department of any city in the world. Even though the heads are changed, it does not seem to change the character of the rank and file, officers and men. And yet there are certain men who are always parading our shortcomings. Men elected to office in the first city in the country are the first to stand and raise the cry, first, of "graft," and, second, that the city is not a fit city to live in. I am proud that I was born in Boston. I love this city. I have faith in Boston, regardless of who the Mayor is or who the Police Commissioner may be, because the people who make up the great element of this city are clean, God-fearing, home-loving people, and, so long as the fires that rise to heaven continue to summon their many thousands of the faithful, don't fear for Boston. God bless you, Boston. You are a great city, and all your detractors cannot tear you down!

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman who introduced the order a question. Have you the details of the Lowe transaction there?

Coun. SHATTUCK—There is a report on the Lowe transaction among the reports of the Finance Commission. I have only mentioned two of the outstanding cases. The Lowe case is among the cases dealt with.

Coun. MURRAY—I thought the reason why he did not bring that out was because he thought somebody might get burned.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, in justice to my colleague from East Boston (Coun. Selvittella), who earlier in the session introduced an order along this same line which was referred to the Committee on Rules, I think that action should be taken on this order also. I move, therefore, at this time that Councilor Shattuck's order be referred to the Committee on Rules.

President FITZGERALD—The order offered by Councilor Selvittella before Councilor Shattuck came into the chamber was referred to the Committee on Rules, a similar order.

Coun. SELVITTELLA—Mr. President, for purposes of the record, let me say that my order was not similar.

Coun. Shattuck's order was referred to the Committee on Rules.

REPAVING OF WARD 12 STREETS.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following: Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth pavement the following streets in Ward 12:

Ruthven street, Hollander street, Cheney street, Howland street, Warren to Harold street; Rockland street, Warren to Rock street.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

DELAY IN HIGH-PRESSURE WATER SYSTEM.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following: Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inform the City Council as to the reason for the delay in completing the installation of the high-pressure water system in the Elm Hill district of Roxbury.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, that order calls upon the commissioner to explain to the Council the delay in the construction of the high pressure system in connection with Fisher Hill, Roxbury. There were two contractors who received the awards on this high pressure system over a year ago. One of the contractors has completed his work for some time. We are still waiting for the man who has the part of the contract in connection with my district to finish his work. He has opened up several streets and has left them in a condition much to the inconvenience and annoyance of the people who live in that section. Therefore, I would like to have the commissioner inform us as to what progress is being made.

REFUND TO DANIEL F. MCCARTHY.

Coun. GREEN offered the following: Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby approves the enactment of legislation to authorize the refunding to Daniel F. McCarthy of the amount paid for a retail package license, provided that said legislation includes a referendum to the Mayor and City Council.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

MUNICIPAL BUILDING, CHARLESTOWN.

Coun. GREEN offered the following: Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby approves the enactment of legislation to extend the time within which the city may borrow money for the erection of a municipal building in Charlestown, provided that said legislation includes a referendum to the Mayor and City Council.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REMOVAL OF ELEVATED STRUCTURE.

Coun. GREEN offered the following: Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby approves the enactment of legislation to authorize the extension of the Washington Street Tunnel to Sullivan square and the removal of the elevated structure in Charlestown, provided that said legislation includes a referendum to the Mayor and City Council.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

NAMING OF PHILIP L. DOYLE PLAYGROUND.

Coun. ENGLERT offered the following: Ordered, That the Park Commissioners, through his Honor the Mayor, be instructed to change the name of the Cornwall Street Playground to the Philip L. Doyle Playground, Ward 11. Philip L. Doyle was a World War veteran, a public-spirited citizen, and recently died.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BUDGET PLAN, E. R. A. EMPLOYEES.

Coun. ROBERTS offered the following: Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to ask the E. R. A. authorities to investigate the operation of the so-called "Budget Plan" on E. R. A. employees to the end that there may be no unjust discrimination.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, I am afraid that the Council members know too little about the operation of the so-called E. R. A. in this city, and one of my purposes in introducing this order is to have it at least on the record that the Council has nothing to do with the creation of some of the particular jobs under this item. Two weeks ago we were given to understand that a budget plan was put into operation on E. R. A. and my information at the present time in connection with several projects is that there is now a so-called budget plan. I don't believe that the Mayor or any other city official is connected with it, but I do think an investigation should be made to find out about the operation of the so-called budget plan, and also the job of supervision of so-called non-relief. I do not believe the public know that there is today a class classified as non-relief, so classified because their special training is supposed to enable them to take over some special job. So far as we know, there are many unemployed in Boston with no means of livelihood who should take over these jobs, and when the Mayor is investigating the so-called budget plan, I think the matter of the so-called non-relief workers affected by these activities should be investigated.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

By direction of President FITZGERALD the Council, at 3.11 p. m., went into executive session. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President FITZGERALD at 4.19 p. m.

Report accepted; said order passed.

3. Report on petition of Edith C. Brickley (referred December 2, 1934) to be paid annuity on account of death of her husband, James Brickley, late member of Boston Police Department—recommending passage of accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 340 of the Acts of 1933, an annuity of fourteen hundred dollars be allowed and paid to Edith C. Brickley, widow of James Brickley, a member of the Police Department who was killed in the performance of his duty on November 25, 1934; said annuity being made up of allowances as follows:

For the widow, Edith C. Brickley, so long as she remains unmarried, $1,000 per annum.

Report accepted; said order passed.

LOCKER BUILDING, CHESTNUT HILL PLAYGROUND.

Coun. AGNEW offered the following:

Ordered, That the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars be, and the same hereby is, appropriated, to be expended, under the direction of the Park Commission, for the construction of a locker building, etc., on the Chestnut Hill Playground, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

COMMITTEE ON FERRYBOAT "RALPH PALUMBO."

Coun. GREEN and Coun. SELVITELLA offered the following:

Ordered, That the President be requested to appoint a special committee of five members of the City Council for the purpose of inspecting and ascertaining the condition of the ferryboat "Ralph Palumbo" and reporting their findings to the City Council.

Passed under suspension of the rule, and the President appointed as said committee Coun. Doherty, Kerrigan, Finley, Green and Selvittella.

CLOSING OF CHELSEA NORTH BRIDGE.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately close the Chelsea North Bridge, which has been declared unsafe and a menace to life and property, until proper repairs have been made, or a new bridge erected.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RESTORED POWERS TO CITY COUNCIL.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston favors the enactment of Legislation that will restore to the City Council the powers and duties taken away with the revision of the present City Charter, provided said legislation includes a referendum to the Mayor and City Council.

Referred, on motion of Coun. WILSON, to the Committee on Legislative Matters, when appointed.

SAVIN HILL BATH HOUSE.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioners, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to repair the Savin Hill Bath House, damaged recently by fire, in order that it may be available for bathers when the bathing season opens this summer.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to make application for a P. W. A. loan to construct a new bath house at Savin Hill Beach.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

INCLOSING COLUMBUS STADIUM.

Coun. KERRIGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of inclosing the Columbus Stadium to conform to the plan suggested by the chairman of the School Committee, in order that all schoolboy games may be played on city-owned playgrounds.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

GAS AND ELECTRIC RATES IN BOSTON.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to advise the City Council as to what steps he is taking in regard to the gas and electric light rates in Boston.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, New York City is in a turmoil over its electric light rates, which are higher than those of Boston, and the President of the United States has entered into that controversy through Secretary Ickes. Yesterday Mayor LaGuardia of New York made a blanket request that the rates of New York City, which as I say, are higher than those of Boston, be reduced 20 per cent. I ask his Honor the Mayor on this burning question to tell us what he is doing or preparing to do. The Legislature has met, and I understand that the time for filing bills expired last Saturday, but I suppose it is still not too late to take action in the matter.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PLANS FOR UNACCEPTED STREETS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to consider the advisability of making plans now for the repairing of unaccepted streets in the suburban wards of Boston in the near future.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PROPERTY PREVIOUSLY TAX-EXEMPT.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Assessors, through his Honor the Mayor, advise the Council regarding the location of each piece of property or building placed on the tax rolls this year that was tax-exempt last year, together with the assessment of said piece of property. This order to apply only to pieces of property assessed at $20,000 or more in value.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I understand that for the first time in our municipal history the City of Boston is going to attempt to collect taxes from certain property that in past years has been tax-exempt. I am interested to know, and I believe the Council should be kept informed, as to just how the matter stands at the present time.

The chances are that the city will have to go into court, and perhaps new legislation will be needed. The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

OFFICIAL PARTICIPATION IN LATIN SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be, and hereby is, respectfully requested to arrange at once for suitable and appropriate official participation, on April 22 and 23, 1935, by the City of Boston in the 300th anniversary of the founding of the Boston Public Latin School in 1635 as the first public school in America.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I believe that a city which prides itself on being the educational center of the country, Boston, can well afford to take steps looking to some official participation in this anniversary of the first free public school in America. This order supplements an order which I introduced as early as February 3, 1934, in which I endeavored to call the attention of his Honor the Mayor to this matter.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

APPROPRIATION FOR GRANOLITHIC SIDEWALKS.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the sum of $50,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated, to be expended, under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works, for the construction of granolithic sidewalks, and that to meet such expense the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, a substantial amount of street work was done last year, and more is contemplated this year, with government aid, as part of the E. R. A. Residents on the streets so favored, of course, welcome any real degree of relief, especially during such periods of the year as the streets would be otherwise impassable. But the government authorizes and agrees to pay for no sidewalks and no edgestones. We will hope that eventually every public street, in a city as old and as large as Boston, will have modern, up-to-date sidewalks. I believe that, not only as a matter of ordinary comfort and convenience but from a safety viewpoint, edgestones on any macadam street are a modern necessity. The economical and sensible time to set the edgestones is when the street is first laid out, accepted and constructed. I believe that is economy and ordinary common sense. I therefore urge that arrangements be independently made by the city for the setting of edgestones in all streets which are being laid out and built as part of the Federal E. R. A. I believe such construction work is more in the nature of a necessity than a luxury, and any construction work in the nature of a real public improvement, especially in hard times, which may be contemplated to last fifteen or twenty years, I believe justifies a loan order rather than a lump appropriation. There is ample precedent for such a loan order. A similar order, which I introduced during 1929 was finally passed by the City Council and received the Mayor's approval on August 27, 1929. I make this statement at this time trusting that the Finance Committee of the City Council, when appointed, will consider this particular matter as soon as possible, in order that it may be considered as a possible item in the budget appropriation for the year we are now beginning. I repeat that I wish to call to the attention of the Finance Committee, when and if appointed, that there is plenty of precedent for a loan order for sidewalks and edgestones, in view of the action we have already taken in the past, and which I have referred to.

The order was referred to the Committee on Finance, when appointed.

Adjourned, at 4.35 p. m., on motion of Coun. FISH, to meet on Monday, January 21, 1935, at 2 p. m.

SAND, CINDERS AND SALT IN DULUTH.

About 385 miles of sidewalk are sanded every year and about 250 miles of streets are snow-plowed and sanded. Ordinarily, flat grades are not sanded, this work being confined to steep grades where dangerous ice conditions exist. During the past season the maintenance department used about 500 cubic yards of cinders, 500 cubic yards of sand, and 5 tons of calcium chloride on the streets.

The use of salt, or sodium chloride, has been discontinued entirely, because of its injurious effect on concrete walks and pavements. The action of salt is not clearly understood, but it is much more active during cold weather than in summer, and is apparently due to the formation of crystals after penetrating the surface, the force of which disintegrates the concrete. Calcium chloride does not seem to be entirely free from this difficulty, but is much less active than sodium chloride.

JAMAICA SPENDS $1,000,000 ANNUALLY ON ROAD CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE.

Jamaica, an English possession, has a highway system which is almost entirely constructed of waterbound macadam, some 70 miles of which has been surface-treated. Many of the roads are under the supervision of the Department of Public Works and various parochial boards. There are about 2,500 miles of bridle and foot paths. The highway system connects all parts of the island in a very satisfactory manner, and the problem is not that of the construction of new roads, but the improvement of old ones, the surfacing and widening of these roads, and protective coatings. The roads are well maintained and, as there are not many heavy trucks, the maintenance is satisfactory. There are approximately 4,000 miles of highways, or 1.11 square miles of area to one mile of highway.

About a million dollars per year is spent on new construction and maintenance, the machinery used being both European and American.

CITY RECORD

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 27.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1935.

No. 5

BOSTON MEETING HER PROBLEM OF SNOW REMOVAL WITH FAR GREATER SUCCESS THAN OTHER ATLANTIC SEABOARD CITIES—MAYOR MANSFIELD POINTS OUT TO CRITICS THAT ALL MUNICIPALITIES OF EAST AND NEW ENGLAND HAVE BEEN HAMPERED, AND WHILE PLACES LIKE NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA AND BALTIMORE HAVE LITERALLY THROWN UP HANDS, BOSTON IS MEETING SITUATION WITH GREATER SUCCESS THAN THEY, EVEN IN MEN EMPLOYED AND HIGHWAYS OPENED TO TRAFFIC — GIVES FACTS IN BROADCAST OVER CITY HALL STATION.

The following is the radio address of Mayor Frederick W. Mansfield, over Station WNAC, Tuesday, January 29:

Just at the moment the people of Boston in common with all of the other people in New England and in the Atlantic seaboard states are snow-minded. That is to say, snow, and the removal of snow, and the criticisms of persons thought to be responsible for failure to remove it, seems to be uppermost in everyone's mind. They say that the conditions in the City of Boston have been bad. I admit that they have been bad, very bad, but they have been bad everywhere, not only in New England but farther south even than Baltimore and the criticism for failure promptly to remove the snow has been freely made not only in Boston but in New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and in every town and city in New England.

But I do not admit that conditions are or have been any worse in Boston than in these other municipalities. An attempt has been made to compare Boston with New York. I shall be very happy to accept this comparison, because from what I can learn from the press clippings and other sources Boston is doing a much better job than New York. New York, for example, contains nearly 8,000,000 people where Boston has 780,000. Based on comparative size, then, New York ought to have ten times the equipment that Boston has. It ought to use ten times as many snow shovelers and ought to give employment to ten times as many men. But New York does nothing of the kind. The press clippings show that on Thursday there were 30,000 snow shovelers working in New York, 40,000 on Saturday, and that Mayor LaGuardia estimated that when his plans were completed all of his workers would range from 30,000 up to 50,000 men. 22,000 of these recruits were from the New York welfare rolls and 5,500 were E. R. A. workers.

Now, in comparison with New York, what has Boston done? On last Thursday we had 9,000 snow shovelers at work, on Saturday 10,000, yesterday 15,600, and today there are actually at work 20,253. In order to equal Boston, New York, being ten times as large, would have had to have 90,000 at work last Thursday, 100,000 on Saturday and 202,500 at work today. Whereas, all they expect to employ is 50,000 when all their plans are completed, and those plans are not completed yet.

These 20,253 workers include 1,780 regular city men, 5,350 E. R. A. workers, 2,687 welfare men, 7,936 temporary men assigned to various Public Works Department yards and 2,500 men working for contractors in snow removal districts.

Snow Fighting Equipment.

The equipment that the City of Boston is fighting this storm with is as follows: 8 snow loaders; 70 hired snowplows; 30 city snowplows; 718 hired trucks; 125 city teams; 14 tractors; one steam shovel and 3 towboats.

These eight snow loaders are machines which load the snow into trucks and can only work as fast as we can supply trucks to take away the snow. We have, as I have just said, 718 trucks and we have hired every available truck that we can find, not only in Boston but in surrounding cities and towns. We are ready to hire more trucks, and if you know anyone who has trucks the city will rent them, if they will apply to the Public Works Department. The city is paying $3 an hour for trucks of a capacity of five tons or over. Rates for smaller trucks may be obtained at the Public Works Department.

We are dumping snow so fast into the channel behind the South Station that it is necessary to keep three tugs churning up and down the channel in order to keep it free from snow.

The last new snow equipment was purchased in 1926 and it consisted merely of sixty large trucks. Many of those are now useless and the remainder are not of very much use. It is plain that Boston needs, and must have, a complete and modern equipment for removing snow in order that future storms may be adequately coped with. To this end, yesterday I introduced an order in the City Council for $800,000 for the purchase of new snow equipment and it will be approximately as follows:

- 50 five-ton trucks, costing about $375,000.
- 21 snow loaders, costing about $88,000.
- 60 three-ton trucks, costing about $210,000.
- 10 trailers, to be used with the snow loaders for side loading, costing about $30,000.
- 10 ten-ton tractors, costing about $60,000.
- 2 five-ton tractors, costing about $8,000.
- 50 V-shaped plows, costing about $25,000.

MAYOR MANSFIELD PROPOSES METHODS OF OBTAINING NEEDED ADDITIONAL REVENUE FOR CITY AND THUS RELIEVE REAL ESTATE OWNERS OF SOME OF BURDEN—SUGGESTS, IN RADIO BROADCAST FROM CITY HALL STATION, THAT A SALES TAX BE INAUGURATED AND AN ADDITIONAL INCOME TAX OVER A PERIOD OF TWO YEARS—HOPES THUS TO EASE BURDEN NOW SO OPPRESSIVE TO HOME OWNERS.

The following is the radio address of Mayor Frederick W. Mansfield over Station WNAC, January 24, 1935:

I have explained so many times that the real estate owner cannot pay a higher tax rate than that which he is paying now that I deem it unnecessary to rehearse again the story of the real estate tax rate of Boston. It is enough to say that it is agreed on all hands that the real estate taxpayer has reached, if he has not exceeded, his ability to pay any higher taxes. But we must have money to conduct the affairs of the city. We cannot curtail on health protection, fire and police protection, education, or any of the important activities of the municipal government. It follows, then, that we must find money elsewhere than by taxing the real estate owner. I am satisfied from discussions of this subject with experts that an income tax will not fill the bill, nor a pay roll tax, nor a long time bond issue by the Commonwealth. But if we cannot obtain new and substantial sources of revenue, then further curtailment of expenses is absolutely necessary. And in passing I wish to point out that the operating budget of the city, exclusive of welfare expenditures, is 23 per cent less now than it was in 1931.

The principal items of expenditures in the budget are expenditures for salaries and welfare. While there are many economies which can and must still be practised in city government, yet after such economies are put into effect it would require a vigorous curtailment in either welfare or salary expenditures, or both, to prevent an increase at this time in the tax, and much more so to reduce the tax.

RETAIL SALES TAX.

There is, I believe, only one form of tax which would be adequate for present needs and that is a tax on retail sales. Such a tax has been enacted and is now in effect, in one form or other, in approximately one half of the states of the Union. I propose, therefore, to ask the Legislature to follow the precedent these states have set and to enact a 2 per cent retail sales tax for a period of five years. This will spread the burden of taxation so that it will not be too great on any one. I shall, however, ask for one main exemption and that is an exemption with respect to sales of food. I do not believe that in these times even a 2 per cent tax should be imposed on the sale of food.

While this exemption may create some difficulties in administration which would not otherwise be present, and while it will decrease the revenue attainable from what has been estimated to be \$20,000,000 to approximately \$12,000,000, the exemption appears justified. To meet the loss in revenue thus resulting, but needed, I shall recommend to the Legislature an additional income tax upon 1934 and 1935 incomes, of 3 per cent on interest and dividends, of $\frac{3}{4}$ of 1 per cent on annuities and taxable earned income, and of $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent on gains from sales. The loss of possible revenue resulting from the exemption of food will thus be met in the years 1935 and 1936, when the strain on municipalities will probably be greatest, from the revenue which such additional income tax will produce.

I recommend a term of two years only for the additional income tax because of the danger that a longer term may induce residents of the state to change their domicile to neighboring states where no income tax laws are in force, or may cause persons to invest more heavily than otherwise in tax exempt securities, thus injuring business without increasing revenue. I do not believe that a two-year additional tax would have this possible effect and there is a precedent for such a tax in the years 1918 and 1919.

If this program is enacted by the Legislature we will be enabled not only to avoid an increase in the 1935 tax rate but we will be able to effect an appreciable reduction in the present rate of $37.10.

Without such assistance our position in 1935 will be far more serious than in 1934.

CONSOLIDATION.

The Legislature at last year's session authorized the City Council and the Mayor, acting jointly, to consolidate and reorganize the departments of the city. There are at the present time forty-six separate departments in the city government and 136 department heads. Many of these departments perform similar functions and yet, because of the multiplicity of departments, many improvements in one department are unknown to others and much of the benefit of the experiences of one department is lost to other departments performing similar functions. This set-up is antiquated and inadequate. There are ten executive departments in Washington; there are twenty in the Commonwealth. Many large cities operate with from five to fifteen departments. It is obvious that a consolidation of departments is essential for the proper and efficient administration of city affairs. I have in preparation a plan for such consolidation which will not mean the discharge of personnel but which will, I am confident, mean a substantial saving to the city.

Shortly after the enactment of legislation authorizing such consolidation, a detailed study of the possibilities for a plan of consolidation was commenced. President Compton of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, at my request, designated a committee headed by Col. Robert C. Eddy, a member of the faculty of that institution, to study the engineering departments of the city. This study has not yet been completed but I am advised that it will be finished in the near future. A committee of eminent members of the medical profession headed by Dr. Joseph P. Howland, Superintendent of the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, have, at my request, studied the functions of the Health, Hospital and Institutions Departments.

When the various surveys that are under way have been completed I will present to the City Council my recommendations. It is not my purpose to propose consolidation in order to eliminate from the pay roll of the city persons now employed by it. I will discharge no one from the service because of consolidation. Consolidation will, however, enable the Mayor to have a small and valuable cabinet, will protect against waste and duplication of effort, will facilitate a more efficient and economical performance of municipal functions and will enable the taxpayer to get more for his money than is possible under our present departmental set-up.

HOUSING.

The Federal Government has definitely commenced a program for the clearance of slum or depreciated areas and construction thereon of low cost housing. This program has two main values. First, it will, as soon as it can get more fully under way, supply substantial employment in a field where private enterprise is unlikely to take action. It should, therefore, stimulate employment and activity in the building trades without competing with private business. Second, if properly executed, it will not only reclaim areas which are a social handicap to the community, which are costly charges upon municipal government, and which breed disease and crime but it will make available to persons of low income decent living conditions at low cost.

A survey of the possibilities for such a program in Boston has been made and it is apparent therefrom that large amounts can be expended on such work if the Federal Government is willing to undertake it. One such project is already being developed in Boston.

To cooperate with the Federal Government in its program to endeavor to increase opportunities for employment and to secure for persons of low income in Boston the benefits of such a plan, I have petitioned the Legislature to permit the establishment in the cities and towns of the Commonwealth of such local housing authorities and, if such permission is given, to establish such an authority in Boston.

PUBLIC WORKS AND WORK RELIEF.

President Roosevelt in his recent message to Congress has indicated that the burden of caring for the needy who are unemployed must rest upon the local governments, not upon the Federal Government. In Boston this burden has always rested upon the city and the decision that it must continue so to rest will in no way effect a local change. The President has further indicated that the problem of caring for persons who are needy but employable is national in scope, that such persons must be cared for by the Federal Government, that the care should be in the form of work relief rather than the dole and that the relief should be handled through a program of public works, the Federal Emergency Relief Administration to be abolished.

It is my purpose, however, to secure for the employment of residents of Boston a fair and adequate share of all Federal funds granted for relief purposes. So long as the Federal Emergency Relief Administration continues to operate I shall do all in my power to have formulated and to supply materials for projects adequate to provide work for all persons that the funds provided will employ. It is my purpose to see to it that these projects will be of real value to the city.

PORT OF BOSTON.

In 1933 the Supreme Court of the United States by a five to four decision determined that a port was not a "locality" within the meaning of that term in section 3 of the Interstate Commerce Act which forbade undue preferences for and undue discrimination against localities. The effect of this decision has been greatly to limit the ability of the city and of the Boston Port Authority to oppose discrimination against the Port of Boston.

I have caused to be introduced in Congress a bill to change the Interstate Commerce Act so that ports will be protected. When this change is made, I shall do all in my power to eliminate unfair practices at other ports which practices are injurious to the Port of Boston. I shall in addition endeavor to upset the control of the New England Railroads by the Pennsylvania Railroad and shall strive to secure local control of New England roads to the end that the Port of Boston may become a thriving and flourishing port and receive the full benefit of its natural advantages.

METROPOLITAN BOSTON.

There are more than forty cities and towns, each with separate governments, comprising what is popularly known as Greater Boston. The waste and inefficiency of so many separate units of government in so relatively small a territory is obvious. Yet repeated efforts to combine these cities and towns into one unit has always met with defeat.

It is not my desire to attempt to coerce other cities and towns into a union with Boston and that such a union is desirable has not been established beyond doubt. But there are so many considerations in favor of such a union and so many indications of mutual benefit to Boston and these cities and towns that I shall ask the Legislature to appoint a body to examine fully into the question and report its conclusions with recommendations, if any, for legislation.

CHICAGO POLICE.

Although the numerical strength of the Chicago police department has been reduced in the last two years from approximately 6,700 to 6,000, the number of men on foot patrol has been increased 150 per cent, or about 1,900.

BROADCAST BY MAYOR.

MACHINERY ON WAY.

Some of the snow loaders are on the way to Boston now from Illinois, where they are manufactured. Six of them will be shipped on February 6, six more on February 13, and five on February 20. And by that time we expect to have all of the trucks which will be contracted for delivered, if the City Council approves of the appropriation, which I have no doubt that it will very promptly.

The number of 20,250 men employed by the City of Boston, and working both day and night, is the largest number of snow shovelers ever employed by the city and, as I have already said, it is proportionately many times larger than the number employed in New York. But I want to speak very plainly about hand labor in the removal of snow. Storms such as the one we have just had, and which by the way is the worst we have had for fifteen years, cannot be cleared with hand labor. In the first place, many of the men who are employed are unfit for the work. Many of them are under-fed, improperly clothed, are sick and weak from months of insufficient nourishment, and they cannot toss a shovelful of snow into the high trucks that are necessary for snow removal. In addition to that, a great many of the men do practically no work whatever, as any citizen may observe if he merely watches a gang of men on snow removal. He will find only a few shovels moving at a time, and that by far the larger proportion of the men who are supposed to be working are idle and are not producing one pound of energy in the removal of snow.

I want to employ as many men as I can to remove snow, but it must be remembered that the chief object here is to get rid of the snow at the earliest possible moment. Experience has shown that human labor will not and cannot do the job and for that reason it is necessary to have modern machine equipment. We will keep at work as many men as we possibly can consistent with the utmost speed in removing the snow.

We are mobilizing to effect snow removal. It is my intention to form a permanent division of the Public Works Department for this purpose. Public Works Commissioner Carven will be in charge and stationed at his office in City Hall. Working with him will be Col. Thomas F. Sullivan, the Transit Commissioner, who is helping the Public Works Department in this emergency. They have divided the city into five departments:

East Boston and Charlestown, to be under Daniel Sullivan of the Water Department;

South Boston and Dorchester, to be under Baylies Reilly of the Bridge and Ferry Department;

Roxbury and West Roxbury, to be under George Dakin of the Sewer Department;

Brighton and Hyde Park, to be under Adolph Post of the Sanitary Department;

And the City Proper, to be under Joshua Atwood of the Paving Division and Chief Engineer William Morrissey of the Public Works Department.

The plan thus mapped out while serving in the present emergency will also become permanent and equipment will be allotted, men assigned to the various units, and the forces so trained and adapted that they will be ready to meet any sudden emergency in the future. Even in the summer they will be required to keep their equipment in order and, of course, much of the equipment, such as trucks and tractors, can be used continually throughout the year in city work.

A word to the motorists:

They are the worst offenders that we have and constitute the very worst hindrance to snow removal. They park their cars in snow piles and on the sides of roads and prevent the workers from getting at the snow. They use plowed streets where trolley cars are and then when they break down or get stuck the delay is blamed upon city employees. I honestly urge them to cooperate with us and to leave their cars at home in this emergency.

Above all, I ask the people to be patient and to realize that a storm such as we have had cannot be disposed of by oratory or by argument, or denunciation and criticism in a nicely heated apartment, while city authorities are struggling with the elements. Within a very few days I expect to have reports from all sections showing that all roads are open and that transportation is gradually improved.

UTILITY RATE EXPERT CHOSEN TO AID LAW DEPARTMENT IN PROBE OF GAS, ELECTRIC AND TELEPHONE RATES FOR BOSTON.

Mayor Mansfield has authorized Corporation Counsel Henry E. Foley to retain the services of Dr. John Bauer, nationally known utility rate expert, to assist the Law Department in its investigation of gas, electric and telephone rates.

The Law Department has already commenced proceedings to secure reductions in the rates of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company and notions are now pending that the Department of Public Utilities examine into the relations between the Massachusetts Gas Companies and the Boston Consolidated Gas Company.

Doctor Bauer will be asked to assist in this proceeding as well as to prepare for proceedings against the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston and the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company in the drive of the Mayor for reduced utility rates. Mayor Mansfield stated that he believed that an investigation would indicate that utility rates could be appreciably reduced without causing any reduction in the pay of utility company employees.

Doctor Bauer is director of the American Public Utilities Bureau which serves municipalities and other public bodies in utility matters. He was at one time professor of economics in Princeton University and statistician of the Public Service Commission of New York State and is the author of many publications dealing with rate making. During the past ten years Doctor Bauer has served almost continuously as financial and rate expert to the City of New York in its public utility cases, including the five-cent fare litigation. He has testified as expert in rate cases before numerous commissions and courts, including New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Missouri, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia and the Interstate Commerce Commission. In 1929 he was economic adviser to the New York Legislative Commission on the Revision of the Public Service Commission Law.

Upon January 30 the Mayor approved a contract with the Massachusetts Envelope Company for paper drinking cups for the various city departments.

The Superintendent of Supplies writes:

"Since the bids were opened the Massachusetts Envelope Company has offered to supply the cups called for on the first item at the minimum code price of $1.6677 per thousand for shipment from warehouse, and at $1.58 per thousand for direct shipment from the factory in lots of 50,000 or over.

"Since these prices are lower than any of the advertised bids received in response to the advertisement, and are permitted under the code, I would suggest that all advertised bids on the first item be rejected and that you approve the award, without advertising, of a contract for 1,685,000 one-piece drinking cups to the Massachusetts Envelope Company. This contract would amount to approximately $2,750.

"On the 25,000 5-ounce flat-bottom cups covered by the second item, the Eastern Paper and Box Company and the Blue Hill Spring Water Company are the low bidders on cup specified at $2.5179 per thousand.

"Inasmuch as the fixtures of the Blue Hill Spring Water Company are already in place, I would request that you approve placing an order with them for this item amounting to approximately $63."

Upon January 30 the Mayor approved contracts with low bidders for furnishing fruits and vegetables to the various city departments during February, 1935, which bids were publicly opened on January 24, 1935.

The approximate totals of awards will be as follows:

As the total of the items to be awarded to the Economy Grocery Stores Company does not amount to $1,000, I would request permission to award orders to this concern for the items indicated, without entering into a formal written contract.

In the cases of G. Giovino & Co., The Northern Fruit Company and J. Jacobs & Co. where the total amounts are over $1,000, these items will be covered by written contracts.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, January 29, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—On December 6, 1934, I transmitted to you copies of contracts between the city and the Boston Consolidated Gas Company for furnishing illuminating gas for street lighting and for equipment and the lighting and extinguishing of gas lamps for street lighting in the city for a term of five years beginning January 1, 1935, for your approval and that of the City Council. I understand that the City Council has not yet set down a date for a hearing on said contracts.

In order that there may be no interruption in the service of lighting the city streets, I hereby respectfully request your authority to award the following contracts without inviting proposals therefor by advertisement:

1. Contract for furnishing illuminating gas for street lighting to the Boston Consolidated Gas Company for a term of one month from February 1, 1935, at the present rate of $8.42 per lamp per year for single burner, 60 candle power lamps.

2. Contract for equipment and the lighting and extinguishing of gas lamps for the City of Boston, excluding Hyde Park, to the Boston Consolidated Gas Company for a term of one month from February 1, 1935, at the present rate of $14.70 per lamp per year.

with the provision in each of said contracts that, in the event that the five-year contracts, above mentioned, are given the approval necessary to make them effective, the payments made under the one-month contracts shall be credited as payments on the respective five-year contract.

Respectfully,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, January 29, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—In view of the emergency existing in connection with snow removal in the City of Boston, I respectfully request your permission to award, without advertising, to the Barber Greene Company of Aurora, Illinois, a contract for the following snow handling equipment:

One (1) model 1935 snow loader, $2,000; freight to Boston, Mass., $132—$2,132; two (2) model 382 snow loaders at $4,200 each, $8,400; freight to Boston, Mass., $264—$8,664; total, $10,796.

Requisition No. 103 covering this equipment has been received from the Paving Division of the Public Works Department.

Respectfully yours,

WARREN W. LOOMIS,
Superintendent of Supplies.

NEWTON REDUCES WATER RATES.

The city of Newton reduced its water rates 10 per cent in 1932, from 25 to 22.5 cents per 100 cubic feet, and for 1934 has reduced them 11.5 per cent, to a flat price of 20 cents per 100 cubic feet. This reduction was made possible by savings effected by reorganizing the administration and maintenance methods and equipment of the department before and since the beginning of the city's "four-year plan" of water development in 1931.

BOSTON DIGGING WAY OUT OF SNOW TROUBLE— ALL DOWN-TOWN STREETS CLEARED — MAYOR MANSFIELD AND CITY OFFICIALS MEETING TASK WITH SUCCESS, GREATER, BY COMPAR- ISON, THAN OTHER LARGE CITIES OF EAST.

Upon January 28 the Mayor issued the following statement:

All down-town streets have now been cleared of snow. Appreciable headway has been made in all the outlying districts where every street has at least a single open lane, according to the Commissioner of Public Works, and further progress is being rapidly made.

Boston is not the only city with a very serious snow problem. New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore are facing the same conditions and the city authorities are receiving the same criticisms. This is shown by press clippings from the Sunday papers.

Many people think that in the present period of unemployment there are any number of men ready and willing to do snow-shovelling work. The situation in this regard is very much misunderstood. In the first place many of the workers are too under-nourished and under-clothed to work at snow removal in such cold weather as Boston has had in the last few days and is likely to have. Men weakened by insufficient food and without proper clothing cannot shovel as fast or as long as men who are inured to such hardships.

In addition to this, it must be remembered that under E. R. A. regulations the men can work only twenty-four hours a week and their pay is fixed by the Federal authorities at 50 cents per hour. Snow shovelling is such laborious work that it is utterly impossible for men to work all day and all night, and therefore it becomes necessary to lay the men off so that they may obtain needed rest. Much criticism has been advanced because their places are not immediately taken by another crew. This is much easier to talk about than to do. Every snow gang of men must have a supervisor and those supervisors come from regular city officers who themselves have been working day and night since this storm began. However, with the aid of Col. Thomas F. Sullivan, whom I have asked to take over the outside work of the storm, and the Public Works Commissioner, Mr. Carven, who thus will be allowed to remain at his desk at City Hall directing the work of the snow removal instead of compelling him to be out on the streets, I think the situation is very well in hand.

A plan is under way to recruit a night shift and it is Colonel Sullivan's intention to designate experienced city employees as supervisors, school them thoroughly in their work and then assign them to these night gangs.

In addition to that, new equipment must be purchased. One new snow loader is already on the way, another will be shipped on Wednesday and still another of smaller size on Saturday. In addition to that, I am sending to the City Council this afternoon a loan order for $800,000 for the purchase of snow equipment as follows:

50 five-ton trucks.....	approximately	$875,000
20 snow loaders at $4,300.....		$86,000
1 snow loader at $2,000.....		2,000
60 three-ton trucks at $3,500.....		210,000
10 trailers for side loading at $2,000.....		20,000
10 ten-ton tractors at $6,000.....		60,000
2 five-ton tractors at $4,000.....		8,000
50 V-shaped plows at $500.....		25,000
		$796,000

The remaining seventeen snow loaders will be shipped, six on February 6, six on February 13, and five on February 20, from Aurora, Ill., where they are manufactured. The ten trailers operate with the snow loaders and permit trucks to be loaded from the side instead of from the rear of the loaders. With this additional trailer equipment the efficiency of one small loader is multiplied about three times because of the quicker loading of the trucks. It is estimated that about the first delivery we can get on trucks is three weeks but in the meantime the trucks which we have and which can be hired from contractors will be utilized. The people may be sure that every possible effort is being made to clear the city from snow but they must not forget that this is the worst storm that Boston has faced since it first undertook to clear the streets and that much of the delay to the Boston Elevated Railway passengers is caused by the breaking down of automobiles on streets where the cars run. Besides that the parking of cars on important highways has hampered snow removal very much, especially on Boylston street and Tremont street, opposite the Common. For the Back Bay districts snow is being dumped not only in the surface sewer on Beacon street but on the parade ground on Boston Common, which hasn't been done for many years.

The three snow loaders which the city was thinking of purchasing didn't prove satisfactory in a test.

While some of the new equipment to be purchased is for snow removal only, by far the greater part will be used in departmental maintenance, such as removal of trees, cleaning of mains and in the Park Department in its various activities, such as cleaning the fountains and parks, and will thus avoid expenditures for additional maintenance which have been asked for in the budget and which usually require contractors' services, which is not satisfactory.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Orders No. 4.

I. PRESIDENT'S BIRTHDAY BALL.

Members of the department are undoubtedly well informed concerning the Monster Ball to be held at Boston Garden on Wednesday evening, January 30, President Roosevelt's Birthday, for the purpose of raising funds to combat the scourge of infantile paralysis. Through the press and radio the program for the evening of the Ball has been explained and outlined. Large committees of public spirited men and women are devoting their time and effort to make this Ball a financial success so that a substantial sum may be raised for the purpose of giving medical attention and care to those who have the misfortune to be stricken with this dreadful disease.

Throughout the nation similar balls are being conducted on the same evening with the same object, and it can be said that nowhere will there be so elaborate a program of an evening's entertainment as will be presented in Boston for those who go to Boston Garden on next Wednesday evening. Two of the finest orchestras in Boston will provide music for dancing. Leading stars of the stage and screen will be present and participate in the entertainment program. His Excellency the Governor and his Honor the Mayor are deeply and earnestly interested in the success of this event. They will attend the Ball in company with many distinguished guests including representatives of foreign countries. The committee in charge of the Ball has given assurance that this Ball will be one of the most colorful and interesting events ever held in the City of Boston.

In order that all who desire to attend the Ball, as well as to aid in the worthy cause for which the affair is sponsored, all tickets have been popularly priced at only one dollar. Last year the Ball was a great success and the entire proceeds given to the Warm Springs Foundation for the treatment of sufferers from infantile paralysis. This year none of the money will go to this organization but will be diverted to other agencies for the study and care of this disease. Seventy per cent, seventy cents of every dollar, will be expended here in our own community for the treatment of this particular disease and the other 30 per cent will go to a National Board for research work and study to prevent and stamp out this terrible malady. Every one knows the physical handicaps that follow in the wake of infantile paralysis and we are all familiar with the heroic and courageous fight President Roosevelt has waged since he became afflicted with this sickness. He, like many others, knows the agony and suffering that accompanies those who are stricken, but out of his affliction was born a positive and determined purpose to devote his efforts to help his fellow sufferers. The disease is not only a children's sickness but strikes adults as well, and our sympathy should go out to all and any one who is attacked.

As already stated, his Honor Mayor Mansfield has given his hearty endorsement and support of this affair and has assured the committee that the city employees would not be found wanting in response to this appeal. In order that members of the department may give their assistance to this cause, tickets have been placed in the hands of every district chief and division head today and he will immediately interview every member of his command as to his wishes in purchasing a ticket. All returns must be made to the Fire Commissioner on or before Tuesday, January 29. Members purchasing tickets will fill out the stub on the ticket, give it to the District Chief or division head, who will see that the stubs are returned to the Fire Commissioner's office not later than Tuesday, January 29, in order that the purchaser may participate in the drawing to be held on the evening of the Ball. A new automobile, a valuable fur piece, a large birthday cake are among the prizes that have already been donated.

It is hoped that members of the department will support this most worthy endeavor. The time for helping is short, only a few days. Members are urged to show an enthusiastic interest in this project and to arouse similar interest among their friends. A large sale of tickets by and through members of the department is earnestly desired. Additional tickets can be obtained at Department Headquarters.

Disease, like death, is no respecter of time or persons. By aiding in this cause you are helping yourself, your family, your neighbor; perhaps your own child.

By order of Fire Commissioner
EDWARD F. McLAUGHIN.

HENRY A. FOX,
Chief of Department.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works to be constructed as follows:

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston, formerly West Roxbury, and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Dent street, bounded:

Northwesterly by Glenham street, ten feet; northeasterly by another part of Dent street, four hundred and forty feet; southeasterly by Lasell street, ten feet; and southwesterly by another part of said Dent street, four hundred and forty feet, containing forty-four hundred square feet, more or less.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 12.

The commissioner is pleased to publish the following letter for the information of the department:

BOSTON POLICE RELIEF ASSOCIATION, INC.,
154 BERKELEY STREET,
January 21, 1935.

HON. JOSEPH J. LEONARD,
Police Commissioner, Boston.

DEAR SIR,—At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Boston Police Relief Association, duly held on Friday, January 18, 1935, it was voted that the association extend to Capt. Thomas S. J. Kavanagh, of Division 9, and the officers associated with him in the drill presented at our annual ball of Tuesday, January 16th last, at Mechanics Hall, its thanks and appreciation for their splendid performance.

And it was further voted that you be respectfully requested to send to the department in the name of our association a letter conveying our thanks and appreciation as above set forth.

FOR THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS,
JOHN F. KENNY,
Clerk.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH J. LEONARD,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 13.

Sergt. John J. Devine, Patrolmen Robert J. Dalton and Arthur McK. Eunson, all of Division 6, are commended for efficient police duty performed on December 19, 1934, in connection with the pursuit and capture of a well-known thief and the recovery of an automobile containing valuable merchandise, shortly after it had been reported stolen.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize and commend the effective police duty performed by these officers on this occasion.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH J. LEONARD,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 14.

A trial board, consisting of Captains Grace, Gleavy and Casey, heard by reference a complaint made by John J. Hanrahan, captain, Division 17, against Roger L. McGrath, patrolman, Division 17, for alleged violation of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge 1: Neglect of duty.

Specification: In that on or about September 1, 1934, the said Patrolman Roger L. McGrath did move from his address of record at this station at 116 Moore street, Division 7, and that on September 24, 1934, did take up his abode at 3 Worcester square, Division 4, and did fail to report said change of address to his commanding officer, knowing the same to be a violation of the rules of the department, and that by so doing did commit an act contrary to good order and discipline.

Charge 2: Alleged violation of law.

Specification: In that on September 24, 1934, the said Patrolman Roger L. McGrath did hire and occupy Suite 6, and consisting of one room and kitchenette, at 3 Worcester square, Division 4, with a woman, to whom he is not married and did occupy same until December 3, 1934, with said woman, and by so doing he did commit an unlawful act, tending to bring himself and his associates in the Police Department into disrepute and criticism.

Full and proper notice was given to the said Patrolman Roger L. McGrath in hand and he did not appear nor was any counsel present in his behalf and the Board submitted the following finding and recommendation:

"The Board, after having heard and carefully considered the evidence as presented, finds the said Patrolman Roger L. McGrath guilty on both charges and specifications thereunder. An examination of his record shows that he has been before a trial board before on three previous occasions. In this particular instance the Board finds that he did lewdly and lasciviously cohabit with one ——— at 3 Worcester square, Boston, for which violation of law he was on December 18, 1934, found guilty in the Central Municipal Court and sentenced to six months in the House of Correction, from which sentence he appealed. From the full consideration of all the facts in this case, also the recommendation of Deputy Superintendent John M. Anderson to the Trial Board, and further, the officer having defaulted, the Board respectfully recommends that the said Patrolman Roger L. McGrath be dismissed from the Police Department."

The commissioner accepted the finding and the recommendation of the Trial Board and ordered that the said Patrolman Roger L. McGrath be dismissed from the Police Department. Due written notice of such dismissal with the reasons therefor was duly and specifically given in hand on January 17, 1935, to the said Roger L. McGrath.

On January 18, 1935, the said Roger L. McGrath requested, in writing, a public hearing as provided by law, and the Police Commissioner set down Monday, January 28, 1935, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the office of the Police Commissioner, as the time and place of said hearing, and duly notified the said Roger L. McGrath.

The said Roger L. McGrath was present at said time and place and was heard with his witnesses. Whereupon, after hearing the case, the Police Commissioner finds the said Roger L. McGrath guilty as charged and further finds that the said Roger L. McGrath shall stand dismissed from the Police Department.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH J. LEONARD,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 15.

Sergt. John F. Cullinan of Division 11 is commended for meritorious police duty performed on the night of January 22, 1935, in connection with the capture of a person reported to be staging an armed holdup in a store in the Dorchester district.

The sergeant entered the store with drawn revolver and ordered the thief who was then in back of the counter to put up his hands. When searched by the sergeant, he found a flashlight in the pocket of the prisoner which had been used as an imaginary revolver.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the initiative and courage shown by Sergeant Cullinan in entering the store and making the capture, as he had sufficient reason to believe that the person arrested was armed.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH J. LEONARD,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 16.

Patrolmen Terence A. Koen, William F. Keenan, Timothy P. Sullivan and Charles E. Moore, all of Division 11, are commended for efficient police duty performed on the night of January 21, 1935, in connection with the capture of a burglar who had broken into a house in the Dorchester district.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the prompt response to a radio call given to the officers, who were in two cruising cars, and the effective police duty performed in accomplishing the arrest of this felon who was on parole from State Prison.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH J. LEONARD,
Commissioner.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Commissioner of Public Works, relative to your order of January 7, 1935, concerning the location of the dumps used by the contractors engaged in collecting refuse and ashes in the City of Boston.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
January 18, 1935.

Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,

and to state that on January 16 the location of dumps used by the contractors engaged in collecting refuse and ashes for the City of Boston are:

Marinucci Brothers, Dorchester, Almont street; Tenean street; Hallett street.

REPAVING ST. LUKES ROAD.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 18, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Commissioner of Public Works, relative to your order of December 17, 1934, concerning the repaving with smooth paving, St. Lukes road, Ward 21.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
January 14, 1935.

Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,
Assistant Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I beg leave to acknowledge receipt of your note of December 20, with attached order of City Council dated December 17, and reading as follows:

"Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works, through his Honor the Mayor, be instructed to repave with smooth paving, St. Lukes road, Ward 21."

and to state that the estimated cost of repaving St. Lukes road, from Brighton avenue to Commonwealth avenue, with a smooth pavement on 6-inch concrete base and the necessary regulating is $4,600.

While the funds are available for this work I do not recommend the construction of a smooth pavement. At the present time the street is in a fair condition and could be made satisfactory for all purposes by removing the granite block gutters, the scarifying of the roadway, and a resurfacing made with asphalt macadam penetration method, at a cost of about $1,700. This work could be commenced at the beginning of the next construction season.

Respectfully yours,
C. J. CARYN,
Commissioner of Public Works

Placed on file.

VETO—RESOLVE IN RE CHARLESTOWN MUNICIPAL BUILDING.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 17, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith return without my signature and with my disapproval a resolve adopted on January 14, 1935, favoring the enactment of legislation to extend the time within which the city may borrow money for the construction of a municipal building in Charlestown.

I beg to inform the honorable Council that examination of the act, chapter 347 of the Acts of 1931, discloses that it is in full force and effect for a period of five years from the date of its passage, which was May 21, 1931.

Thus it appears that no action to extend the time limit of the act is necessary until next year.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.
Placed on file.

APPROPRIATION FOR MOSQUITO CONTROL WORKS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 16, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I have received from the secretary of the State Reclamation Board, notice that under the provisions of section 4 of chapter 112 of the Acts of 1931, the Board has fixed the amount of money to be raised and appropriated by Boston for the maintenance of mosquito control works during 1935 at $325. To meet this certification I submit herewith an order providing for the appropriation of the required amount from the Reserve Fund and respectfully recommend its adoption by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts,
State Reclamation Board,
136 State House, Boston,
December 14, 1934.

Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mayor,—Under the provisions of chapter 112 of the Acts of 1931, an act relative to carrying out mosquito control measures, the State Reclamation Board is required by section 4 to certify the amounts to be raised and appropriated by each city and town for the maintenance of the mosquito control works constructed in each city or town. This section is as follows:

"On or before December fifteenth in each year, the sums of money necessary to properly maintain during the ensuing year the mosquito control works originally constructed in any city or town hereunder shall be estimated by said board and certified by it to such city or town. The amounts so certified shall be raised and appropriated by such city or town during said ensuing year and shall be paid into the state treasury and disbursed therefrom on warrants drawn by said board."

As directed by section 4 of chapter 112 of the Acts of 1931, the State Reclamation Board has made estimates of the necessary maintenance, and hereby certifies that $325 is the sum of money necessary to properly maintain during the ensuing year the mosquito control works constructed in the City of Boston under the said act.

The Board calls attention to the provisions in the latter part of said section 4 relative to paying the said amount into the state treasury and urges that this be done as soon as possible after your appropriation is made.

A form of suitable order is attached.

Very truly yours,
STATE RECLAMATION BOARD,
GEORGE R. STRATTON, Secretary.

Ordered, That the sum of $325 be, and hereby is, appropriated, for the purpose of maintaining during the current year the mosquito control works as estimated and certified to by the State Reclamation Board, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 112 of the Acts of 1931, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund, when made.

Referred to Executive Committee.

SALE OF FORMER FIRE STATION PROPERTY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 21, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I have been informed by the Superintendent of Public Buildings that the property located at the junction of Longwood and Brookline avenues, formerly in use as a fire station, is no longer needed for public purposes and that it would be for the best interests of the city to dispose of the same at public auction and thus add to the assessed valuations of the city.

I therefore recommend adoption of the accompanying order by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Public Buildings be, and hereby is, authorized to sell, at a duly advertised public auction, the property at the junction of Longwood and Brookline avenues, formerly in use as a fire station, at an upset price of $15,000.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, in reference to that order, it seems to me that there should be a public hearing on the matter. That happens to be the headquarters of the Oliver Ames Post, leased to them by the Council two years ago.

Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

SIDEWALKS ON DANFORTH STREET.

Communication was received from the Commissioner of Public Works, in that order, setting on file, east of existing sidewalk, certain owners of estates bordering thereon, viz.:

Danforth street, Ward 19, and City Hall, 878-88.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

APPOINTMENT OF HOSPITAL TRUSTEE.

Notice was received from the Mayor of appointment of George A. Parker, 71 Mt. Vernon street, as trustee of Boston City Hospital for term expiring April 30, 1935, in place of Earl A. Ames, whose term expired and appointment to that office January 16, 1935.

Placed on file.

CONFIRMATION OF EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS.

President F. L. O'NEILL, of the City of Boston, has received from the Mayor of Boston, the following appointments:

Mayor of Boston, to the City of Boston, as follows:

Mayor of Boston, to the City of Boston, as follows:

Mayor of Boston, to the City of Boston, as follows:

Mayor of Boston, to the City of Boston, as follows:

The question came on confirmation of appointments. Committee, Coun. Selvitella and Gallagher. Whole number of ballots 14; yeas 14, and the appointments were confirmed.

DEPARTMENTAL PRINTING.

Coun. FISH offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct all county officials to have their departmental printing done at the City Printing Plant, in view of the fact that expenses of county are borne by the city.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, in connection with that order I would like to say that for the past four years I have sponsored a similar order, that all county printing be done at the City Printing Plant. Therefore, this year I introduce the same order, and I sincerely hope that the Mayor and Council will back me up in it,—that all county printing be done in the City Printing Plant.
The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PAYMENT OF BONUS.

Coun. SELVITELLA offered the following:
Resolved, That the Boston City Council, with true knowledge of the distressful condition of many thousands of veterans of the World War, both with respect to their family and financial obligations, is of the opinion that immediate cash payment of the veterans' bonus would not only serve to alleviate the financial condition of such veterans and promote the health and welfare of themselves and families, but that such payment would, in no small degree, provide a stimulant to the great efforts being made for industrial and economic recovery.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

EDWARD J. McHUGH & SON CONTRACT.

Coun. SELVITELLA offered the following:
Ordered, That the Finance Commission be requested to investigate the legality of the contract awarded to Edward J. McHugh & Son for the removal of ashes, etc., in East Boston for the year 1935.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

OVERSHOES FOR SNOW REMOVAL WORKERS.

Coun. SELVITELLA offered the following:
Ordered, That the Public Welfare Department, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to consider the advisability of furnishing overshoes to welfare men engaged in snow removal.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Mr. President, I hope that the Mayor will not refer that order to the Law Department for an opinion, because I understand that several years ago men employed in the removal of snow were furnished with overshoes, as it seems to me they should be for the performance of such work. During the next few weeks these welfare men will undoubtedly be employed in the removal of snow, and it is certainly a very pitiful thing to state that many such men, due to distress conditions, have found themselves without proper shoes and have contracted sickness, bringing distress to their families.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

HIGHWAY FROM SUMNER TUNNEL.

Coun. SELVITELLA offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to present to the Federal Public Works Administrator and the Governor of this Commonwealth an appeal for a substantial fund to be used as a project for the laying out and constructing of a highway from the Sumner Tunnel along the route designed and accepted by the Boston Planning Board and the Mayor of Boston.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TRAFFIC LIGHTS, EAST NEWTON STREET AND HARRISON AVENUE.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:
Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner, be instructed, through his Honor the Mayor, to install traffic lights at East Newton street and Harrison avenue.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

OLD AGE ASSISTANCE.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor advise the Public Welfare Department to aid all recipients of old age assistance a minimum of eight dollars per week.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I simply trust that his Honor the Mayor will give serious attention to this matter. Of course, as far as the old age act in Massachusetts is concerned, it is fortunate for old people that it is on the books, but in the working out of that act there is certainly a good deal of injustice done to the aged, to the extent that in going down to 43 Hawkins street many of them find themselves not as well off as if they were on ordinary relief. As a matter of fact, people of seventy years or over, who are entitled to the provisions of the old age act, are at the present time getting a pittance of $4 or $5 a week. Mind you, however, they don't even get that until after their cases are investigated, and it frequently takes the Welfare Department at the present time three months to investigate these old age cases, whereas in the case of ordinary relief for the unfortunate they get their aid within three weeks' time. I say that, with the attention now being paid by the government to the question of taking care of the old people of America, further special consideration should be given officially to the old people who would come under the provisions of this act. Where we find people seventy years of age, with nobody to take care of them, God knows they need at least $8 a week. It is a matter that is entirely in the discretion of the people handling that work. The act does not suggest how much should be given them, but it is entirely discretionary, and I do feel that the amount of $8 a week should be suggested by the Mayor as little enough to take care of our people.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SUBWAY, FOREST HILLS-CHARLESTOWN.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor petition the proper authorities at Washington for the sum of twenty-five million dollars ($25,000,000) for a P. W. A. project to be used for the erection of a new subway from Forest Hills to Charlestown and the demolition of the present structure.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, while the removal of the Elevated structure in Boston has been a mooted question for a number of years, the point has always been raised that we were absolutely unable to get the money to demolish the present structure and construct a subway. Still, it seems rather peculiar that the city and state are always able to get millions for projects not as essential as the removal of the Elevated structure. The plan drawn by the Metropolitan Commission at the State House states that for $21,000,000 the structure from Castle street to Forest Hills can be removed and a subway built. I say that we should not go at this matter piecemeal, but should carry through the work from Forest Hills to Charlestown. The present structure is an eyesore, absolutely ruining business property along the line and adjacent to it, and if it were taken down, the business property on Washington street and the side streets would be raised in value immediately 25 per cent and it would be a matter of but fifteen or twenty years when the city would get back every dime it had spent on the project in taxation. They say, "Put men at work." Here, gentlemen, is a wonderful chance for a P. W. A. project which would put men at work. The Commissioner of Public Works came before us last year and wanted a million dollars for sewers, and when he was asked pointedly if it was going to furnish human labor or machine labor, we were given the impression that it was to be done by hand labor. But what has been the result? $800,000 used on one project, $170,000 on Stony brook—all of this money used on new projects—and principally spent for machinery, with only forty men employed. I say, if we are going to appropriate money that will put men at work, let us do so for projects that will put them at work. The building of buildings will not put men at work in any number. We spent a million and a quarter on the new surgical building, and only twelve men were put at work. I say that this is an opportunity to use the P. W. A. to good advantage, demolishing the elevated structure not only from Castle street to Forest Hills, but from Charlestown to Forest Hills, and constructing a subway over that route. Let us build additional subways to aid people from outside of Boston to get into our city, and also to assist our own people to get back and forth between their homes and their places of business.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ADDITIONAL POLICE OFFICERS.

Coun. DOHERTY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to appoint three hundred (300) additional police officers.

Coun. DOHERTY—Mr. President, at the present time I think the Boston Police Department is under-manned. Last Saturday, while passing through City Hall avenue, I saw a man sitting on a sort of step there, with a wound in his neck, and there was no officer around. I succeeded in getting him into the Hall and making arrangements to have him sent to the hospital. This morning, down at our hospital, at a time when people were coming to get treated, there was no officer on duty. These are simply some of the things that show the need for increasing the Boston police force today, and I believe the time has come when the commissioner should appoint 300 additional men in the department.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

LEGALITY OF MARRINUCCI BROTHERS CONTRACT.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Finance Commission investigate the legality of the contract between Marrinucci Brothers and the City of Boston for the removal of ashes, etc., in the Dorchester district for the year of 1935.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. GALLAGHER, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following, viz.:

1. Report on petition (referred today) for children under fifteen years of age to appear at places of public amusement, viz.:

Ruth M. McShane, Municipal Building, South Boston, February 15; R. H. White Company, Auditorium, January 26, that leave be granted on usual conditions.

Report accepted; leave granted, on usual conditions.

2. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred today) that $325 be appropriated for mosquito control work—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed, yeas 20, nay—Coun. Shattuck—1.

COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC LANDS REPORT.

Coun. DONOVAN, for the Committee on Public Lands, submitted the following:

Report on message of Mayor and order (referred August 13, 1934) for release of restrictions on land at East Broadway and N street—that same ought to pass.

The question came on accepting the report and passing the order.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I think perhaps we might have a little information on that.

Coun. DONOVAN—Mr. President, this is simply an order to release restrictions on this property on East Broadway. Several years ago, when nobody had built a home on the property, the city placed certain restrictions upon it, so that nobody could build a garage or add a piazza. We are now dealing with the Home Loan plan, a number have applied for funds under the Home Loan, and if some such order as this is not passed before February 1 the home loans will be rejected. I trust that the report will be accepted and that the order will be passed.

Report accepted; order passed, yeas 18, nays 0.

SOLDIERS' AID.

Coun. KERRIGAN, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted report recommending payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in City of Boston for month of January.

Report accepted; said order passed.

PROPOSED REMOVAL OF LONG ISLAND CHRONIC HOSPITAL.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with the Institutions Commission concerning the proposed removal of the chronic hospital from Long Island to the mainland, with a view that such hospital, if established on the mainland, might properly be situated on the side of the old Convalescent Hospital in Dorchester rather than adjacent to the Boston City Hospital on Albany street.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I understand that the Mayor of Boston is getting ready to spend a couple of million dollars for a new chronic hospital building adjacent to the City Hospital. I do not think myself that is the proper place for a chronic hospital, adjacent to the old Roxbury Canal and the City Yard. I suggest, therefore, that the Mayor should consider as a chronic hospital site this old hospital property in Dorchester.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PATRICK KING CIRCLE.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following:

Ordered, That the space at the junction of Milk, Kilby and Oliver streets be named Patrick King circle, in memory of said King, who made the supreme sacrifice in the World War, and that suitable signs be erected.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RESTRICTION ON SALE OF LIQUOR.

Coun. ROBERTS offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council favor the enactment of legislation which will prevent the preparation, serving, or interest in any restaurant or store selling intoxicating beverages of any one who is not a citizen of the United States.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

HUNTINGTON AVENUE CAR SERVICE.

Coun. ROBERTS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor be requested to notify the Boston Elevated Railway Company to make an investigation to the end that the street car service on Huntington avenue be improved.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, just a word in regard to that order. Huntington avenue is one of the main lines of traffic of the Boston Elevated, and during the heavy rush hours particularly it is one of the main lines of travel in this city. They are running a number of these one-man cars and there is constant trouble and threat to the safety of the public. Petitions to the Elevated have been circulated, but nothing has been done about it. So I thought this might be brought to the Mayor's attention with the idea that he could bring it before the trustees of the Elevated.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALKS, WARD 6.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth pavement West Fourth street, Ward 6, also to repair the existing brick sidewalks.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ELEVATED CARFARES.

Coun. KERRIGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company in an effort to bring about a reduction in carfare from ten cents to five cents on the line running from outside of the Andrew Square station of the Dorchester Tunnel to the junction of Northampton street and Harrison avenue, for the benefit of patients and visitors of the City Hospital.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ADDITIONAL FIREMEN.

Coun. MURRAY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Fire Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to appoint one hundred firemen to the Boston Fire Department, same to be included in the budget.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

NEW EDITION OF "BOSTON'S STREETS."

Coun. MURRAY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Printing be authorized to print a new edition of one thousand copies, bound in boards, of the book entitled "Boston's Streets," with the precinct changes, if any, made by the Election Commissioners to December 1, 1934, the expense to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

AERIAL HIGHWAY.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to take up with the Public Works Administration in Washington the matter of carrying out the proposed plans for an aerial highway from Sullivan square, Charlestown, to Castle street, South End, via Atlantic avenue, and the abolition of the grade crossings at Sullivan square and Warren avenue, Charlestown.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REINSTATEMENT OF CHARLES F. REARDON.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston favors the enactment of legislation authorizing the reinstatement of Charles F. Reardon as a member of the Boston Police Department, provided that said legislation includes a referendum to the Mayor and City Council.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

WARD 20 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. FINLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be instructed to lay out and construct, under the E. R. A. plan of construction, Schirmer road, Ward 20.

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be instructed to lay out and construct, under the E. R. A. plan of construction, Redgate road, Ward 20.

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be instructed to lay out and construct, under the E. R. A. form of construction, Cranston road, Ward 20.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

TRANSFERS TO BOSTON HOSPITALS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston confer with the hospital trustees relative to transferring certain city cases from the present overcrowded Boston City Hospital to other Boston hospitals.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BOSTON MUNICIPAL ELECTRIC PLANT.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of immediately taking steps to request the incoming Legislature for the authority to have the City of Boston operate a municipal electric light plant, or to take other steps that would tend to reduce the price now paid for electricity in Boston.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, there is a small revolution on in New York City at the present time over the cost of electricity, because the average home pays $3.05 for fifty kilowatt hours of electricity a month. Boston pays $3.10 for fifty kilowatt hours. Cleveland $2, and Cincinnati under $2. The President of the United States has inaugurated the movement and New York City, through Mayor La Guardia, and his cabinet, the government has been taking steps to nationalize a municipal electric plant. Chairman Frank Wilson of the New York State Power Authority in a letter filed with the President at the United States and that the average home pays for electricity in New England of 6 cents per kilowatt hour, would be cut to 4 cents per kilowatt hour. It does seem that at this time when the various cities of the country are demanding lower electric light rates and the effort to appropriate money for building plants, the City of Boston should also push for a municipal electric light plant. Please understand me that this would not necessarily mean to supply everybody with electricity, but to act as an anchor to windward in the interest of the taxpayers. Some of you will recall that the Hon. Newton D. Baker campaigned for Mayor of Cleveland in 1912 on a platform calling for 3 cents a kilowatt hour. He won, and the city began constructing a municipal lighting plant. Before that action was taken, they were paying 12 cents per kilowatt hour for electricity in Cleveland, as against $2 for 50 kilowatt hours at the present time, since the erection of that municipal plant. It is to be understood that the private electric plant is still operating, and that the municipal plant supplies only a minority of customers; but it is nevertheless in a position to threaten the main electric light plant of Cleveland if the rates charged by it are too high. By that plan it keeps the rates down. Boston might well consider a similar procedure.

The order was referred to the Committee on Municipal Lighting.

BIDDING ON BOILER INSURANCE.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of letting out to open, competitive bidding the city's insurance on sixty-eight steel boilers and 134 cast-iron sectional boilers.

The question came on suspension of the rule for the passage of the order.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, the Boston Finance Commission, in reporting upon the awarding of insurance contracts, having before it at the time the granting of the insurance in this particular case to the Mayor's brother-in-law, Mr. Louis A. Roe, suggested that the proper procedure was to let such contracts out on competitive bidding, since it was a subject that lent itself to competitive bidding. I am now asking his Honor the Mayor of Boston to consider this suggestion of the Finance Commission with reference to this awarding of the business to Mr. Roe—a business amounting, I understand, to about $7,500 a year—the Finance Commission saying, "The commission believes that before the business was given to a particular agent an effort should have been made to obtain competition."

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION IN RE CONTRACTORS' BONDS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the auditor of the City of Boston, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to furnish the Council with the following information regarding "Contractors' Bonds" for the period from July 1, 1934, to December 31, 1934, inclusive:

1. List of brokers or agents participating in City of Boston business during this period.
2. The number of bonds placed by them.
3. The total penal sum of the bonds.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, the Mayor of Boston, when he was running for Mayor, said he would eliminate the bonding racket in Boston. His first year has been completed. I hope that I am not too severe in making questions of this character of him. I do not mean to be. But I read him say time and time again when he was running for Mayor that one of the first steps he would take in the Mayor's office would be to eliminate the so-called bonding racket in Boston. I am not saying that he has not eliminated it. I don't know. I have no way of knowing it. I suppose, while bonding companies are based in the records, we have no way of finding out who the great was who collected the fee. The Boston Finance Commission has the power to summon witnesses and can request the various companies to name their agents to whom they paid the fees. I believe, as though we should claim Boston, that the Mayor of Cincinnati, is doing, and so Mr. Mayor, I believe, of New York is trying to do. I am not making any statement as to whether or not the city can do any bonding, and that may pass without further being demanded.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PATCH PAVING CONTRACTS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Engineer, Public Works, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to furnish the Council with the following information: The names and addresses of the contractors who have the city awarded the contract for patch paving contracts during the past year, and with the names of the contractors who have the city awarded the contract for patch paving contracts during the past year.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I am now asking his Honor the Mayor of Boston to consider this suggestion of the Finance Commission with reference to this awarding of the business to Mr. Roe—a business amounting, I understand, to about $7,500 a year—the Finance Commission saying, "The commission believes that before the business was given to a particular agent an effort should have been made to obtain competition."

the topping. In addition to that, whenever the telephone company, the Boston Consolidated Gas Company or the Edison Electric Company opens a street for the purpose of putting in or repairing pipes or conduits, that contractor, and he alone, replaces that topping. I am, therefore, in this order asking the Public Works Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, to furnish the names and addresses of the contractors to whom the city awarded to so-called "patch-paving" contracts during the year 1934, together with the amount of money paid to these contractors by the city during 1934, the first year of Mayor Mansfield's administration.

(The order was read for information of Coun. Wilson.)

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I don't know why the councilor from Hyde Park introduces this order with any regret, because I agree with him that it is the chief and most lucrative plum of any city administration, even, apparently, when we are working under a so-called reform administration. As I remember it, the late lamented membership of the Finance Commission made some sort of report and protest concerning the awarding of the patch-paving contract during the past calendar year. I have in mind some similar orders, but perhaps on more detailed lines. Especially in these days, when we are told by an evening paper that almost half of the homes in Massachusetts are under foreclosure, and when we are told that such a large proportion of the assets of the savings banks of the state are tied up in mortgages, and when we get information, issued for public consumption, that the Mayor's office is trying to save expenses, to save money, in part due to the requirements of the Welfare Department, it does seem that an opportunity offers itself to save money on these so-called patch-paving plums handed out to the administration's friends. I believe that a proper investigation of this matter by the Finance Commission, with a really detailed examination of the figures paid out by the City of Boston every year to the contractors—or paid to the contractors through action by the City of Boston—with a comparison of the amount paid by the state department for similar work, would disclose figures that would amaze the average man and woman in the City of Boston. Of course, the chief reason why this lucrative and pleasant plum has been handed out each year without popular disapproval is because the Mayor's office has allowed this practice to go on, to the benefit of a few contractors, and when those men replace the surface of the streets after operations by the telephone company, the Boston Consolidated Gas or the Edison company, the contractors charge their own exorbitant figure for repairing the streets and the company concerned has to pay the bill. Of course, the ordinary citizen, although he may not realize it, finally pays the bill in the end, through exorbitant charges of the Edison Electric, Boston Consolidated Gas or telephone company. The public in the long run pays the bill. So I would like to see this year start out with a resolution on the part of our reform Mayor that now, for the first time perhaps in a generation, the patch-paving racket is at an end.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I move to amend the order by adding at the end, the words, "and the unit cost." My purpose in offering the amendment is to find out the cost per square yard and what the unit cost is under these contracts,—not only the total amount paid by the city, but the amount by yardage, or whatever the unit is, that the city is paying on these contracts.

Coun. AGNEW—And, Mr. President, I would like to ask Mr. Norton if he will agree to add another amendment to the order, adding the words, "and the respective districts which each contractor had."

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I am entirely willing to accept those amendments, although I believe that the whole subject is covered by the order as I have introduced it.

The amendments proposed by Coun. Shattuck and Agnew having been accepted, the order as amended read as follows:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works, through his Honor the Mayor, furnish the Council with the following information:

1. The names and addresses of the contractors to whom the city awarded the so-called "patch-paving" contracts during the year 1934, together with the amount of money paid to each of these contractors by the City of Boston during the year 1934;

2. And the unit cost;

3. And the respective districts which each contractor had.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Mr. President, I would also like to have included in the order the amounts that the public service corporations have paid either the contractor or the city.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, that is a most interesting phase of the whole business. We would have to ask the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities to furnish us with that information.

President FITZGERALD—The Chair will have to rule the proposed amendment of Coun. Selvittella out of order. The question now comes on the passage of the order as amended.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Mr. President, I think I have a right to be heard on that. As long as it is proposed to delve into this situation, I want to know how much the public service corporations have paid to either the contractors or the city.

President FITZGERALD—If we do not look out, we will be walking on dangerous ground. That is a matter to be gone into with the State House.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Mr. President, I think we should have full knowledge of what is going on.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I shall introduce an order that will cover that—an order to be passed by the City Council asking the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities to direct the Boston Consolidated Company and the Boston Edison Company to furnish that information to the Council.

Coun. WILSON—And the telephone company.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, I certainly believe that if we are going to have an investigation of anything concerning the City of Boston it should be by a committee of our own body, appointed by the Chair. I would like to propose that as an amendment—that a committee of five men, to be appointed by the Chair, members of the Boston City Council, investigate or look into these patch-paving contracts, contracts let out by the City of Boston, that the conduct of such investigation be confined to members of the City Council and to the City Council alone.

Coun. Green's motion was declared carried, and the original order, as offered by Coun. Norton, with the amendments proposed by Coun. Shattuck and Agnew, was passed.

President FITZGERALD later appointed as said special committee Coun. Green, Kerrigan, Goldman, Doherty, Finley.

SPOILING OF E. R. A. FOOD.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the local E. R. A. Administrator, through his Honor the Mayor of Boston, be requested to inform the Council regarding rumors to the effect that carloads of perishable food destined for Boston's unemployed were allowed to spoil either in transit to Boston or while awaiting distribution after the food arrived here.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

MILK FOR WELFARE RECIPIENTS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of conferring with the Overseers of Public Welfare relative to the delivery of milk to public welfare recipients at a lower cost than the present retail cost of milk.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, in New York City they are furnishing 60,000 quarts of milk a day through Welfare at 8 cents a quart, and in Baltimore it is being furnished at 7½ cents a quart. It does seem as though here in Boston some such procedure should be worked out.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

LOW COST ROADS IN BOSTON.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of making plans for the installation of low cost roads in Boston with E. R. A. help.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALKS, HYDE PARK.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to consider the advisability of placing sidewalks on River street, Hyde Park, from the junction of Gordon avenue and River street to the junction of Glenwood avenue and River street.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, in connection with that order I would like to have included in the record this editorial from the local newspaper (Hyde Park Gazette-Times):

"River Street Sidewalk Deploable.

"For the past several years the sidewalk on River street from Gordon avenue to the St. Adalbert's Church has been in deplorable condition. Deep depressions have been the cause of several accidents to pedestrians using this sidewalk, with the result that at the present time the City of Boston is faced with two suits for damages incurred through injuries. It has now come to the point where pedestrians have refused to use this walk and are now walking in the street, thereby making it a difficult problem for motorists and also exposing themselves to serious injury or death.

"This is a serious problem that the city should look into immediately, for if accidents continue and more suits against the city follow the cost in all probability will equal or surpass the sum necessary to place the sidewalk in a decent state. City Councilor Clement A. Norton, as representative of this district, should bring this matter to the attention of the proper officials, who we feel will remedy this condition once they are fully informed of its hazardness."

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT EMPLOYEES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of conferring with the Commissioner of Public Health relative to a specified period of time off with pay in such cases as it can reasonably be supposed that an employee of the Health Department has been "injured in the line of duty."

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, this is in line with a similar order that I introduced awhile ago regarding an employee of the Health Department who had been working for eight years, and in the discharge of her duty contracted a disease and had her name stricken from the pay rolls. As far as I can find out, when anything similar happens in other cities the employee who has been injured in line of duty has time off with pay. It does seem that employees of our Health Department should be assured that if they catch a disease in the line of their duty they will at least be treated liberally by the City of Boston.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

COST OF BOSTON CENSUS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of informing the Council as to why it was necessary to employ civilian help at a supposed approximate cost of $60,000 to take the census in Boston this year.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I have here some comparative figures of expenditures in Mayor Mansfield's first year in office and expenditures under his predecessor, and I am prepared to make the definite statement that he spent more money during his first year in office—and this is eliminating Welfare and Soldiers' Relief—than was ever spent by a Mayor to operate the city departments. Elected as an economy Mayor, one pledged to reduce the tax rate, he boosted it to an all-time high. The gentleman said while he was campaigning for the office of Mayor that 65 cents out of every dollar was wasted by that man Curley and the politicians of the administration; that it required a big man for a big job, to bring the expenses of the city down to the point where they should be, "that our mercantile establishments are going away from us. I am going to reduce the tax rate. I am a poor man and I represent poor people, and I will see that something is done."

Now, what are the figures? He spent more money in 1934 than the man upon whom he concentrated his attack did in 1933, and, as far as we can ascertain from the figures, the same was true as compared with the years preceding 1933—as I say, excluding the figures for Welfare and Soldiers' Relief, which is certainly hard to understand when we read the Mayor's statements in the campaign in regard to the high tax in Boston and with his promise that he was going to do something for the little home owner. I happen to know that he boosted the tax rate to a higher figure than obtains in any other American city, and apparently now Boston is going to have the highest tax rate of any city in the universe.

President FITZGERALD—You don't believe in the New Deal!

Coun. NORTON—We are talking about an old deal, here. I have stood here on this floor and criticized Mayors of Boston in the past, and undoubtedly will do so in the future. This gentleman who occupies the Mayor's chair apparently is engaged in raising the taxes in order to become popular at the expense of the city treasury. Those familiar with City Hall know that things were never more wide open than they are today in Boston City Hall. Speaking about Mayor Curley's administration, in all the years that he was Mayor of this city he never put on 400 of his political friends to take the city census. In 1925, when Mayor, now Governor, Curley took the city census, he had the police do it at no extra cost. Tomorrow, if the Mayor would take the telephone and call up the Governor, he would order the police to do it at no extra cost to the city. But this year Mayor Mansfield hires 400 of his political friends to take the census at a cost of approximately $60,000, the first time this was ever done. A few weeks ago the police visited every home in Boston registering voters, and they could easily have taken the census, making a count of everybody living in each home. But it was not done. Some excuse is made to the effect that the former commissioner, Mr. Hultman, stated that the police could not do the work this year. My answer is that the police have done the work in all past years and that there is nothing this year to prevent the police from doing it; that the Mayor of Boston today can take the telephone in his hand—it is now five minutes of five and probably the Governor is in his office—and request the Governor to have the Police Commissioner direct the police to do this work. Unquestionably that action would then be taken and it would save the City of Boston $60,000, which is supposed to be the amount of money to be spent. But apparently the gates of the treasury are now wide open to political pressure. Take, for example, the amount expended in this city for snow removal in 1934. I find that to remove 42 inches of snow we spent $732,000-odd or more. Taking the figures in all the cities of the country, no city showed the tremendous cost for the removal of snow that was incurred here in Boston. I am now asking the Mayor of Boston in this order to explain to the Council why it was that he saw fit to place 400 of his political friends on the roll at a cost of $60,000 to the citizens of Boston, for the purpose of taking this census.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, I hardly agree with the previous speaker when he condemns the Mayor of Boston for putting on men and women to take the city census for the State of Massachusetts. We have already placed plenty of work on the police of our city. The Police Force has to take the list of individuals for voting purposes, for which purpose they are taken away from their other duties, and they are also taken off the street to do courthouse work, although we have got to the point where we are short 300 police officers in this city if our Police Force is to be expected to perform the duties for which the men are hired. If we now take them and send them out again to take the census, they will again be compelled to neglect duties which they should perform, for perhaps a month or longer. Why should these men be expected to perform work for which they are not hired? I don't see why, under the circumstances, the Mayor should be blamed in times like these for taking and employing people who would otherwise be on the bricks for this necessary work, which is not at all a part of the duty of our Police Department. Many of these people might otherwise be on Welfare; they are now engaged in a useful and important work, with respectable jobs and obtaining a respectable week's pay. I feel that the Mayor in putting these people to work, as he has, is trying to help out in our present situation as best he can.

President FITZGERALD—If there is no objection, the order will be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, regardless of what may be claimed for E. R. A. and other such operations in this city, the fact remains that this particular work is not an E. R. A. job. It is distinctly a State of Massachusetts and a City of Boston job. And the fact remains that the Boston Police Department ever since this sort of thing has been done has performed that work. They are the ones who should perform the work, and I am asking that they do nothing but what they have done in the past.

President FITZGERALD—I will have to disagree with the councilor, because it is not a police function. It is along lines similar to work that has been encouraged by E. R. A.

Coun. NORTON—What was done in 1925, Mr. President? Didn't the police do it then?

President FITZGERALD—Just a minute. Before the police were established it was done by the Board of Assessors of the City of Boston.

Coun. NORTON—I am asking how it was done in 1925, the last time when such a census was taken?

President FITZGERALD—I don't know.

Coun. NORTON—It was done by the Boston Police Department.

President FITZGERALD—It was not always done by the police.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I am glad to see that the Mayor of Boston has so many apologists today for his action. I, too, want to see men who are out of employment furnished with employment. But there are other ways in which employment can be furnished, and this is something that should be done, as it has been done in the past, by our police, saving money to the City of Boston. It is work that can be done, has been done, and should be done by the Police Department, and if the Mayor took what I think is the proper view of this matter, he would ask the commissioner, through the Governor, to do this work at this time.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, I don't care to take up the afternoon discussing this matter with the councilor from Hyde Park. Neither do I arise as any defender of the Mayor of Boston, as I think he has friends in the Council who will take care of that matter. But I am selfish enough to feel glad that a few of my friends are working on this enumerating job, and I don't think anybody here can consistently vote to throw out of work the men who are engaged on that job. I believe this may properly be regarded as an E. R. A. matter, along the line of other projects that are being forwarded by the United States Government, and I move reference of the order to the Committee on Rules.

The order was declared referred to the Committee on Rules.

DEDHAM AND HYDE PARK GAS COMPANY.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston consider the advisability of instructing the Corporation Counsel of Boston to seek legislation authorizing the Boston Consolidated Gas Company to acquire the Dedham and Hyde Park property by purchase or otherwise.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities suggests that the Boston Consolidated Gas Company take over the Dedham and Hyde Park Gas Company. It is certainly for the interests of the citizens of the section I represent that this acquisition should take place, and it will certainly have a beneficial effect upon many of the customers in Boston. If the Mayor of Boston will advise his Corporation Counsel to vigorously present this matter to the Legislature, I am sure that this year, with the report of the Department of Public Utilities favoring it, some action in the line of unification may be obtained.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, it would seem that we have committees on various subjects, and I feel, under the circumstances, that this order should be referred to the Committee on Municipal Lighting. I so move.

President FITZGERALD—And Laycoe.

The order was referred to the Committee on Municipal Lighting.

REINSTATEMENT OF CITY EMPLOYEES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the matter of placing back in city employ, those employees whom he let go during the first few months of his term, especially those with good records who served ten years or more in the city's employ and to consider the matter of at least giving to these employees a preference over new employees being added to the city's payroll.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I am not going to apologize for taking the time of the body on this order week after week. I am not going to apologize to anybody for attempting to put back on the pay roll men who have been on it for thirty or twenty years and who have been suspended, in preference to brand new employees. So, while there may be members of the body who believe I am taking up time unnecessarily, I will say that I introduced 200 orders for the decentralization of the Welfare Department and that I am prepared to introduce 2,000 orders to place back upon our pay rolls worthy employees of long standing who have been suspended, in preference to having them replaced by new employees. I am glad that you cannot refer this to E. R. A. authorities, because you would then be putting it out in left field. I am also going to ask the E. R. A. authorities, through Ickes and Hopkins, just how much they believe in doing work in Boston with civilians that was formerly done by the Police Department without any additional expense to the city; and I would like to ask you, Mr. President, what the United States Government has got to do with taking the census in Boston. The E. R. A. has nothing to do with the matter of census taking in this city.

President FITZGERALD—You will find over 30,000 names left off the Police List.

Coun. NORTON—Well, this census taking is not a government matter. It has nothing to do with the E. R. A. E. R. A. has nothing to do with census taking in Boston.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Adjourned, at 4.50 p. m., on motion of Coun. MURRAY, to meet on Monday, January 28, 1935, at 2 p. m.

CITY PURCHASING UNDER THE CODES.

Caught between two fires, American cities are feeling the influence of the National Industrial Recovery Act codes in their purchasing in a way they had not dreamed of. On one side they are asked for economy in budget-making. On the other, application of codes which has resulted in excessive price-fixing, has increased prices of supplies for city use to an almost prohibitive point.

PROCEEDINGS OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

Jan. 7, 1935

The meeting for organization of the School Committee of the City of Boston for the current municipal year was held in the Administration Building, 15 Beacon Street, at 6.12 o'clock P. M.

Present: Messrs. Hurley, Lyons, Mackey, Sullivan, and Tobin.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Joseph J. Hurley, the senior member

Mr. Hurley stated that under the provisions of Chapter 479 of the Acts of 1924—An Act Providing for Biennial Elections in the City of Boston, etc.—the membership of the School Committee for the year 1935 is the same as that for the year 1934; namely, Mr. Joseph J. Hurley, Dr. Joseph V. Lyons, Dr. Charles E. Mackey, Mr. Frederick R. Sullivan, and Mr. Maurice J. Tobin.

ELECTION OF CHAIRMAN

The Committee proceeded to the election of a Chairman, and the Secretary was directed to call the roll.

The members as their names were called respectively voted as follows:

For FREDERICK R. SULLIVAN—Dr. Lyons—1.

For MAURICE J. TOBIN—Messrs. Mackey, Sullivan, and Hurley—3.

For CHARLES E. MACKEY—Mr. Tobin—1.

Mr. Maurice J. Tobin was thereupon declared duly elected Chairman of the Committee and assumed the Chair.

Mr. Tobin: I greatly appreciate this expression of confidence on the part of the members of this Committee, but if the members will hearken back to a year ago, they will recall that at the time of my election as Chairman I expressed the opinion that the honor of Chairmanship of this Committee was so great that it should be rotated among the members of this Committee. For that reason I must decline the honor of re-election to the office and would say to the members once again that I deeply appreciate this evidence of their continued confidence in me.

I also wish to state that during the past year I have received complete cooperation from the members of the Committee and to them I now express my deep gratitude; also to the Superintendent of Schools who has ever and always been keenly alert to protect the best interests of the school children; to Miss Cronin for the remarkable assistance she has rendered as Secretary to the School Committee; to the Business Manager who has performed his duties in an outstanding manner and in such a way as to save for the City of Boston and the School Department hundreds of thousands of dollars; and to all the members of the supervising and teaching staff who have rendered such fine service during this period of depression and under most trying circumstances. I thank you.

In view of Mr. Tobin's declination, Mr. Hurley re-assumed the Chair.

The Committee proceeded to the election of a Chairman, and the Secretary was directed to call the roll.

The members as their names were called respectively voted as follows:

For FREDERICK R. SULLIVAN—Dr. Lyons—1.

For JOSEPH V. LYONS—Dr. Mackey—1.

For CHARLES E. MACKEY—Messrs. Sullivan, Tobin, and Hurley—3.

Dr. Charles E. Mackey was thereupon declared duly elected Chairman of the Committee, and assumed the Chair.

Mr. Sullivan: Mr. Chairman, with the consent of Dr. Lyons, I move that Dr. Mackey's election be made unanimous.

The motion passed, Dr. Lyons not voting.

Dr. Mackey. Fellow members of the School Committee: The signal honor which you have conferred upon me tonight fills me with a sense of heartfelt gratitude and leaves me just a little abashed at this outstanding distinction of selection as Chairman of the school system in the city which gave birth to the American Public School system.

Fully aware of the proud and distinctive record of my illustrious predecessors, I approach this office with a sincere desire that our every act shall be of the utmost benefit to the thousands of tomorrow's citizens, so that in the years to come, when our students of today are making their mark in the world, we may find pleasure in the knowledge that we, as members of the School Committee, had at the formative stage some part in the preparation for future citizenship of these young men and women.

My intimate association during the past three years with Mr. Tobin, Mr. Hurley, Mr. Sullivan and Dr. Lyons assures me that the proper education and health of our children are their first and last thought. Mr. Tobin has been our balance wheel in every need. I know that we can depend upon him always to give us the benefit of his commercial knowledge and training in any crisis that may arise.

Mr. Hurley's legal training is the reservoir which we are constantly tapping. We are indeed fortunate in having as a fellow member, Mr. Hurley, an Assistant United States Attorney for the District of Massachusetts. It is with a feeling of complete confidence that I count upon Mr. Hurley as my friend and colleague.

My fellow townsman, Dr. Lyons, has been my friend and associate since early boyhood. You all know of his family which has given so much to the world of educators. Experience is the greatest teacher, so I feel sure that Dr. Lyons' assistance will be one of my prized assets.

One meets many men in political life. It is my firm conviction that the junior member of our Committee, Mr. Sullivan, is one of the most friendly and sincere gentlemen that it has been my privilege to count as friend. A graduate of Harvard College, the oldest institution of learning in our country, with valuable business experience, he has a background which makes him a valued member of this Committee. His knowledge of athletics will be of especial help in that particular branch.

Surely no man could ask for more congenial or more able associates. I am assuming the chairmanship of what I believe is one of the finest and best equipped committees that has ever served our city—not to mention brilliant and capable Superintendent, Patrick T. Campbell, who is ever vigilant in the care and custody of our children. One need only know Mr. Campbell to recognize the able educator. The Board of Superintendents vie constantly with their chief for the recognition they so well deserve. I dislike to detract from the deserved radiance of Superintendent Campbell, yet I do feel that in so many ways Miss Ellen M. Cronin, our Secretary, deeply versed in school procedure, is certainly entitled to bask in the selfsame rays.

To the Business Manager is entrusted the actual responsibility of the financial operation of the schools. On many occasions his deep knowledge has been of invaluable assistance. I can but feel that from every angle we have in Mr. Sullivan an alert, financial guide.

Of the thousands of our teachers whose generosity during the past years is well known, I feel justly proud. To these men and women who daily mold the future of our children, goes the most difficult task of all. Their patience, care and watchfulness in the development of the character of the young people who come to them year after year, to make the true citizens of the future, is indeed a labor of love.

The responsibilities of the Boston School Committee form a never ending circle. The administration of 369 buildings, valued at $72,000,000 housing over 134,000 students and employing over 6000 people with a payroll of $15,000,000 per annum, is in itself a gigantic undertaking. Yet the responsibilities do not end here. The personal element must be considered. The health of pupils and teachers must be safeguarded. The proper conduct of the student body means that we must be ready always to meet the emergencies which arise and be prepared to alleviate difficult situations.

It is my hope that bi-monthly meetings may be arranged with teachers and parents at the schools so that a better understanding of all elements pertaining to the students may be arrived at, with a view to closer co-operation between school and home. It may be that illustrated lectures, motion pictures or abbreviated plays could be undertaken to increase the interest of the parents in the work of the schools.

I would solicit the aid of the newspapers and other agencies in the furtherance of a campaign to prohibit the admission of children under 12 years of age to evening performances of theaters and moving picture houses unless the subject of the entertainment is purely educational. I should be happy to have an unpaid board of public spirited individuals to censor the current moving pictures for the benefit of our high school population, so that this Committee could in turn keep the parents informed as to the type and character of entertainment offered for their children.

As a further means for the continued occupation of the student's mind, I intend to present a bill for enactment by the Legislature to permit this School Committee to erect an enclosed stadium, or to take over one now operated by the Park Department for hockey, baseball, football, soccer and track meets.

Athletics and recreational activities are indispensable in our crowded tenement districts and industrial areas where the young child has no place to play but the streets. The child with a healthy mind and body who has learned to play, especially in competition, will not easily be led astray. Believing as I do in the rugged essentials of sports, I propose to see that hereafter our schools are built with a view to providing area for sports and drill. If this may be done, I believe we will be able to point with pardonable pride to a marked reduction in accident mortality. Swimming, boxing and hockey are sports that our educational system could embrace. With the swimming instruction, completion of a course in first aid should be required, provided the student is not physically incapacitated.

I would like to see some type of traffic light installed at all schools, operated by a teacher or someone delegated by the principal, or by a detailed police officer, at the time of school dismissal in order to reduce the number of accidents to our school children. I trust that my colleague, Mr. Sullivan, will have his plan which is outstanding, adopted by the Committee at an early date, for I believe that Mr. Sullivan's plan, in operation, will do more than anything else to reduce our casualties.

I advocate the attendance at all football and hockey games of a competent medical man so that any and all injuries to participants may receive immediate attention, and minor hurts be so handled as to prevent serious consequences.

I favor a careful survey of the structure and type of the seating arrangements in the schools in order to prevent postural defects which in turn may develop into serious ailments.

I feel that we should request the Legislature to enact legislation to compel the school attendance of all children until they reach the age of sixteen. Due to unemployment and existing economic conditions, chances of profitable and permanent employment are slight and in no way offset the advantages to be gained by further education, not to speak of the eventual opening up of additional sources of family revenue.

I should like to see the adoption of post-graduate courses to embrace a five-year night school course to include pre-college subjects, which would be equivalent to a three-year pre-college day course; a post-graduate course in accounting and advanced book-keeping; a post-graduate course in aviation and aviation mechanics; additional evening civil service courses; a post-graduate course in advanced economics.

It has always been my fond hope that some day Boston will have a City College, ranking with any similar institution in the land. I am fully aware that at this time the funds of the taxpayers have many demands, yet I cannot agree that it is sound economy to neglect the higher education of this generation who though diligent and anxious for greater knowledge, are unable to procure higher education because of adverse circumstances. I earnestly recommend that this Committee give this subject deepest consideration.

I have felt that a closer cooperation between employer and teacher in our clerical and trade schools might be effected by an annual exhibition of the crafts at our trade schools and a public demonstration of skill by our clerical students. If seeing is believing, the employer would surely find himself viewing competent workers, and thus perhaps create a greater field for employment of students.

Training in citizenship teaches the alien child the meaning of America, her ideals and her opportunities. This training gives the child a sense of personal responsibility and makes him an asset instead of a liability to his community. We have been somewhat lax in our attention to many of these ills, to the point that communism and socialism have already become active. Effort has been made here and there to rob children of their faith in American traditional ideals and their loyalty to the American constitutional form of government and its institutions. No effort must be spared in our continual fight against this menace. Whenever a teacher finds an influence so insidious, the Committee trusts that the matter will be brought to the attention of the Superintendent who will gather all the information from its source so that furtherance of this diseased propaganda may be promptly stifled. The parents are reminded that the School Committee will ever be grateful for whatever aid they may render to assist the Committee in stamping out of the schools these vicious influences.

I believe that the teachers should have their salary reductions restored and I know that my fellow colleagues are of the same opinion.

I believe that a grievance board composed of school officials should be created for the arbitration of difficulties.

I trust that my associates will enable me to make possible the granting of credit to substitute teachers for evening and summer courses, to enable them to receive permanent appointments.

Large numbers of our children under 16 are in families dependent upon emergency relief. It is obvious, therefore, that the health and welfare of these children are in serious jeopardy; consequently, I should like to request the government to furnish funds for their further relief.

I would like to have the Committee consider placing the nutrition class attendants, civil service employees, on an annual salary basis instead of a per diem basis, as they are the only civil service employees in our system that are not so employed.

I hope that we shall be able to improve conditions and make further provision for the following classes: (a) Eye conservation; (b) Lip reading; (c) Speech improvement; (d) Special classes; (e) Classes for undernourished children.

I favor the elimination of portable school buildings as rapidly as possible.

I advocate the extension of provision for remedial work in reading.

I am strongly opposed to the present system of school lunches. I cannot but feel that during the present year we may find it desirable for the School Committee to inaugurate a plan for providing school luncheons at a substantial reduction from the present cost.

I believe that all supplies used in the schools and in the construction of the schools should be procured only from those who have subscribed to the President's NRA code.

Today finds us some seven or eight years behind in the construction of new schools. It has frequently been urged that in economic crises it is imperative to cut down on the schools since they bring no revenue to the city. This argument constitutes a rank heresy. It is as irrational to expect the educational methods of fifty years ago to meet the needs of the complicated life of today, as it would be to advocate the return of the horse car to care for the transportation in our great city.

Billions of dollars are being spent for public works—for roads—bridges—reforestation—postoffice or other government buildings. Hundreds of millions are going into the construction of new battle-ships; billions have been loaned to banks. Thus far the least has gone to the greater bank of all—the school, which holds on deposit the real wealth of the country, the youth upon whose proper investment the whole fabric of our future depends. I sincerely trust that this Committee will persuade the powers at Washington of the need for generous treatment of the Boston schools.

I greatly appreciate the honor when the members of the Committee have conferred upon me this evening.

Dr. Lyons: I realize that it has been customary to close the meeting on the happy occasion of organization without lengthy discussion or presentation of ordinary business. Nevertheless, I want to state that I propose to present at the next meeting a suggestion for reversal of procedure for the conduct of School Committee business. Mr. Hurley and other members familiar with past history probably will call this proposition a "hardy perennial," but I would like to have the Committee discuss the advisability of holding, first, the public meeting here, striking from the conference memorandum which will be presented, all matters that might possibly inflict a hardship upon individuals—matters pertaining to persons, personalities, character, or anything of that sort, these items to be discussed upstairs. I would like to see the conduct of all public business of all sorts, with the exception of such items as I have mentioned, in this room at open meeting.

The Committee adjourned.

Attest:

ELLEN M. CRONIN,
Secretary.

A SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy there are twenty, nay a hundred, who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.

FINDING JOBS FOR WELFARE RECIPIENTS — WELFARE DEPARTMENT, UNDER MAYOR MANSFIELD, MAKING STRENUOUS EFFORT TO RELIEVE UNEMPLOYMENT AND FIND JOBS FOR THOSE ON CITY'S SUBSISTENCE LISTS— BROADCASTS PLANS OF NEW DIVISION IN RADIO ADDRESS OVER STATION WNAC—FINDS THOSE ON RELIEF LISTS WOULD MUCH PREFER WORK TO RECEIVING AID—NEW DIVISION PREPARING TO FUNCTION MORE AND BETTER AS PROSPERITY RETURNS.

The following is the radio address of Mayor Mansfield on February 5, over Station WNAC:

The biggest factor in the increase of public welfare in the City of Boston is unemployment.

We are convinced that the cure for much of the public welfare is the work cure, and that an epidemic of jobs would create a sudden shrinkage in the number on the pay rolls of the Overseers.

If, tomorrow, the department could announce that work would be provided for all who want it, we believe the Overseers would be swamped with applicants, struggling for a chance to become self-supporting. But though jobs cannot be secured in any such wholesale fashion, the department is trying today to encourage the unemployed to prefer work aid to welfare aid.

Recognizing that it has a duty beyond relief — that of rehabilitation — it aims to register every employable man and woman. With this in view, it is extending its employment service under the direction of trained employment workers, so that the department will be ready to serve its people when industry and business swing back into action.

The new division is busy now getting ready for the return of prosperity. It is not holding out any false hopes of immediate employment to the thousands on relief; it wishes this distinctly understood. It cannot get jobs unless jobs are to be had. But it is doing two things essential to planned rehabilitation. First, it is carefully studying the work histories, the experience, capacities, limitations, and willingness of limited groups in order to get a picture of a cross-section of the "employable," and next it is preparing to put the claims of these people before employers.

It does not propose, when the time comes, to ask any employer to give a man a job because he is needy. It wants to be able to get men and women work on the basis of ability and fitness. It wants to sell an applicant to a prospective employer because of his ability or skill to do a certain thing that the employer wants done.

Selective Study Made.

During the past few months an intensive selective study of 1,048 men on the welfare rolls has been made preliminary to larger and more extended surveys which will be conducted later as a basis upon which to build up the service.

This selective study comprises 1,048 active applicants for work who registered at the different district units. It does not present any conclusive figures, but it may give an indication of a trend to be found when broader and more comprehensive studies are made later to fit the man to the job.

It shows, for instance, that 85 per cent of these men were under fifty years of age, which is somewhat surprising, as the casual observer has been led to believe that the older age groups have been hardest hit by this depression. Another interesting sidelight revealed by this preliminary study is that 90 per cent of the men who were considered, claimed they were physically able to work. This shows that they did not want to shirk or to retain their welfare allowance in the face of possibilities of work. It is significant that out of a group of 1,048, only 10 per cent admitted physical handicap, and some of these who did claimed that their infirmities would not keep them from working. One man, with a broken leg, said that his handicap would be no real drawback if he could get a job.

Another significant fact brought out in this study is the adaptability of the workers and their willingness to turn to various kinds of work. Many of them reported having tried two or three means of livelihood before they applied for help.

Instances are cited of a physician who took a job as a janitor; a wireless operator who became a chef; a real estate salesman who was acting as a porter; a retail shoe store manager who learned bricklaying; a meatcutter who became a furniture mover; a cook who found work as a cement finisher; and a statistician who was employed as a watchman. One musician showed versatility by becoming an elevator operator, and a former roofer had become the leader of a four-piece orchestra.

This willingness to go up and down in the employment scale and take whatever work they could get is recorded in the previous work history of the men, as follows:

38.9 per cent followed one line of work.
44.3 per cent followed two different lines of work.
14.8 per cent followed three or more lines of work.
2 per cent had no work experience.

Of the 1,048 cases studied, 89.7 per cent were with one concern one year or longer; 55.5 per cent with one concern for five years or longer. This shows a stability that compares favorably with any group. In fact, it indicates that this group of unemployed men who have sought the city's aid were recruited from the dependable, satisfactory and satisfied group of workers. If this had not been the case, they would not have remained with one employer so long before the depression.

On the whole, this study shows that the employable, included in this group, have had approximately the same work experience and employment history as the average worker has had, and they belong to the same types of workers as those who are looking for jobs all over the country. 60 per cent of them are skilled workers.

We did not find these men unwilling to give up welfare for the independence and security of real jobs. We do believe that some of them have a mistaken idea that they are putting their families in jeopardy by giving up the income—limited though it may be—that welfare gives them, and taking temporary and uncertain work at low wages. There is a tendency to offer welfare workers wages that are even lower than welfare allowances. This is one of the present trends that we hope will disappear as conditions become normal.

As further proof of the anxiety to work, some of the applicants for employment through our office, state that they are registered with other agencies for possible work. 36 per cent are registered with the E. R. A., 25 per cent with the State Employment Office. Some of the men are registered with all these agencies.

RESTORED TO INDUSTRY.

Under able direction a special effort is being made to study the employment needs of women, and employers are being interviewed in the hope and belief that many women on our rolls can be restored to the business and industrial life.

It is futile to promise jobs, or to state that efforts at rehabilitation are more than in their infancy. We cannot do more than the Government does or than the private agency does. We cannot manufacture work. But what the Employment Division is doing is to acquaint itself with the present situation, to register its potential workers so that they will be listed under the headings to which they belong.

Many questions arise as we survey this great field of rehabilitation. One is whether all those who have been unemployed for so long a period are qualified for the jobs in which they had previous experience. This leads to the question of rehabilitation and re-education, both physical and vocational, before actual referral and placement are made. We believe that a more comprehensive study of the cases will show a far longer endurance of unemployment, because the group of men from which our study was made seems to include the more recent comers to welfare lists. We believe that it represents, altogether, a more hopeful group than might be found if several thousand, rather than one thousand, were studied. Every student of relief knows also that there will always be a number of unemployed and handicapped who must be cared for by public welfare.

A summary of the facts given above is as follows:

50 per cent of the men considered in the selective study of 1,048 stated they were unemployed two years or longer.

85.4 per cent of the men were under fifty years of age.

Less than 10 per cent claimed they had any physical handicaps and such handicaps as were claimed were of a minor nature which would not interfere with their holding some kind of employment,—defects such as poor vision, bad teeth, the loss of one finger, etc.

Of these 1,048 active cases studied among the men, 89.7 per cent were with one concern one year or longer and 55.5 per cent were with one concern five years or longer. In a similar study made in a public employment office in a smaller community, 75 per cent were with one concern one year or longer and 50 per cent worked for one employer five years or longer.

38.9 per cent represents the highly skilled men whose preparation for the job requires a longer period of training, and 60 per cent represents those holding jobs which require less skill and less preparation and which the ordinary person can take up in a short period of time.

COASTING ON STREETS.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, February 4, 1935.

To His Honor the Mayor.

In connection with the work of snow removal by the Public Works Department following the storm of January 23 and 24, it was necessary to obtain certain equipment from outside firms and individuals to assist the department. We were obliged to hire tractors, snow loaders, shovels and trucks for plowing and for removing snow and, in addition, we had to engage the services of tug boats to break up the ice packs and keep the tide water in the vicinity of the waterfront dumps free from accumulations of snow. The cost for the hire of this equipment will, in some cases, exceed $1,000.

An emergency existed because of which it was necessary for this department to obtain the equipment, and, in view of the facts, I respectfully request your approval for the payment of such of these charges as will exceed $1,000.

Respectfully yours,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

PRAISE FOR MAYOR—SNOW REMOVED IN VICINITY OF UPHAMS CORNER.

The following is a copy of letter received by Mayor Mansfield from James T. Farley, Superintendent of the United States Post Office at Uphams Corner, Dorchester:

UNITED STATES POST OFFICE,

Uphams Corner Station,
BOSTON, February 1, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—I want to bring to your attention, in the middle of the many complaints you must be receiving about the condition of the streets, the fact, that the streets in the Uphams Corner section, especially the main thoroughfares, such as Dudley street, Columbia road, Stoughton street, Dorchester avenue and many other streets and the square at Uphams Corner, are, and have been through the past storm, been kept in excellent condition and at no time was there a condition that traffic could not move.

Personally, the morning after the storm, the worst we have had to cope with in years, I telephoned the City Yard on Hancock street and got in touch with the foreman in charge, Mr. Joseph McLean, and informed him that the ploughs had piled the snow up in banks, which retarded the receipt and the dispatch of the mails from this office. Inside of fifteen minutes Mr. McLean had men at work in front of this office and I am very much pleased to let you know that no mail, either incoming or outgoing from this station, was delayed on account of the street conditions.

In my official position I am in contact with the business men in this district, including banks and the Uphams Corner Market, on Columbia road, and all I can hear from them is that the streets adjacent to this corner were kept open in excellent fashion. The square at this corner is now so good that I feel that it is in better condition than any thoroughfare in all of Boston; in fact one would never know we had a storm.

I am prompted to write this letter to you just to give a word of commendation where it rightfully belongs and to let you know that the business men as well as this post office is glad that we have a man in charge of our streets, such as Mr. McLean.

Sincerely and respectfully yours,

JAMES T. FARLEY.

Superintendent.

fully requested of an alteration of contract V-92 with Baker, Matz & Co. for construction of passageways and paving,
Haymarket square improvement, Traffic Tunnel, Series B, wherein the time of completion of the work involved in the contract is further extended from 135 days to 177 days.The occasion for this extension arises from the fact that the contractor was unable to complete the work of changing the height of certain risers and the level of certain treads on four of the stairways which had been constructed. This work could only be transacted on days when the temperature was such as to remove the liability of freezing the concrete, also at such times as would not interfere with the operations of other contractors doing work in the same locality.

Yours respectfully,

THOMAS F. SULLIVAN,
Chairman.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, January 28, 1935.

Regular meeting of the City Council in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., President FITZGERALD in the chair. Absent, Coun. Dowd, Norton, Tobin.

BUDGET FOR 1935.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, January 28, 1935.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—Under the provisions of section 3 of the City Charter, the Mayor is required to submit a budget within thirty days after the beginning of the fiscal year.

Under the provisions of chapter 267 of the Special Acts of 1916, the city may raise by taxation for general municipal purposes, exclusive of schools, an amount not in excess of $6.52 on each $1,000 of the average valuation for the past three years. For 1935 this statutory authorization produces an amount slightly in excess of $11,300,000. Since the city budget for 1934 totaled $36,054,063.30, it is evident that the existing tax limit is inadequate to provide for the needs of the city. I have accordingly directed the Corporation Counsel to petition the Legislature for a tax limit which will permit the appropriation of the amount deemed necessary for the proper and adequate maintenance of city services and activities.

Pending the enactment of this legislation, I am unable to submit the budget in full segregated form. In order, however, to avoid any question being raised as to the submission of a budget within the time stated in the City Charter, I submit herewith a budget in lump sum form.

Respectfully,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

APPROPRIATIONS AND TAX ORDERS FOR THE FINANCIAL YEAR 1935.

Ordered, That to meet the current expenses payable during the financial year beginning with the first day of January, 1935, for performing the duties and exercising the powers devolved by statute or ordinance, or by vote of the City Council during the year, upon the City of Boston or County of Suffolk, or the departments or officers thereof, and to meet their respective obligations for interest on debt, sinking fund requirements and maturing debt not provided for by sinking fund, the respective sums of money specified in the tables and schedules hereinafter set out be, and the same are, hereby appropriated for the several departments and for the objects and purposes hereinafter stated.

Ordered, That the appropriation for Water Service, current expenses, and the payment to the state under the provisions of chapter 488 of the Acts of 1895 and acts in addition or amendment thereto, and for the interest and debt requirements or for loans issued for water purposes be met by the income of said works and any excess over income from taxes; that the appropriation for Printing Department be met by the department income and any excess over income from taxes; and the appropriation for City Record be met by the income of said publication and any excess over income from taxes; and the appropriation for the Sumner Traffic Tunnel be met by the income from tolls and any excess over income from taxes; that the other appropriations hereinafter specified be met out of the money remaining in the treasury at the close of business on December 31, 1934, exclusive of the money raised by loan or needed to carry out the requirements of any statute, gift, trust or special appropriation, and by the income of the financial year beginning January 1, 1935, and taxes to the amount of $15,995,135.94, and that said amount be raised by taxation on the polls and estates in the City of Boston.

Ordered, That all sums of money which form no part of the income of the city, but shall be paid for services rendered or work done by any department or division for any other department or division, or for any person or corporation other than the City of Boston be paid into the general treasury, and that all contributions made to any appropriation be expended for the objects and purposes directed by the several contributors thereof.

Ordered, That all taxes raised to meet the appropriations of the city and all taxes assessed for meeting the city's proportion of the state tax for the year 1935, or for any other taxes or assessments payable to the Commonwealth, shall be payable in two equal installments, on July first and on October first of 1935; that interest shall be charged on all taxes remaining unpaid after the first day of November, 1935, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 59, section 57, of the General Laws, as amended by chapter 254, section 42, of the Acts of 1933, until paid, except the taxes assessed upon shares of national banks which shall bear interest at the rate of 12 per cent per annum from the first day of October, 1935, until paid, and that all interest which shall have become due on taxes shall be added to and be part of such taxes.

Ordered, That except as the appropriation for any purpose or item shall be increased by additional appropriations or transfers lawfully made, no money shall be expended by any department for any of the purposes or items designated in the tables and schedules hereinafter set out in excess of the amount set down as appropriated for such specific purpose or item.

VETO OF CHARLES F. REARDON REINSTATEMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 25, 1935.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I return herewith without my signature a resolution in favor of legislation for the reinstatement of Charles F. Reardon in the Boston Police Department.

The Legislature in 1933 enacted chapter 320, which provides a simple method of procedure applicable to individuals who desire reinstatement in the employment of cities and towns. I see no reason for approving or seeking further special legislation. Accordingly, I am disapproving the resolution.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

CHECK-UPS OF BOSTON ELEVATED OPERATORS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 25, 1935.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Boston Elevated Railway, relative to your order of January 14, 1935, concerning frequent and thorough check-ups on all men sixty-five or over who are operating street cars or elevated trains in Boston.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Boston Elevated Railway,
January 19, 1935.

Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—With regard to the inquiry concerning check-up of men operating street cars and trains, I beg to advise that since 1928 all rapid transit motormen have been given an annual physical examination and all other car and bus service employees forty years of age or over have been examined annually. During the last seven years 17,884 physical examinations have been conducted at the employment office, of which 2,145 were made in 1934, with detailed report in regard to their condition. A separate check is made of any men in whose judgment the physician feels further examination at more frequent intervals should be made. This practice is being continued regularly. Whenever the physical condition of a man as reported by the examining physician is such that he should no longer operate cars, buses or trains, he is immediately removed from such operation.

Trusting this gives you the information desired, I am,

Very truly yours,
EDWARD DANA,
Executive Vice President and General Manager.

POLICE RADIO SYSTEM.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 25, 1935.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Police Commissioner, relative to your order of January 14, 1935, concerning the present status of the police radio system.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Police Department, January 21, 1935.
Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,
Assistant Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of your communication of January 18 inclosing copy of an order passed by the City Council on January 14, requesting that the Police Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the Council regarding the present status of police radio, and would advise you that the status of the radio system may be summarized as follows:

Radio System.

The present temporary one-way medium frequency radio system, loaned and installed by the General Electric Company under its contract, has been in operation by the Police Department since July 26, 1934, with satisfactory results. A careful system of checking the correct receipt of radio messages by telephone acknowledgment has been as effective as can be expected in the absence of radio car response facilities and within the limitations of the present patrol box and Police Department telephone systems.

The present contract with the General Electric Company (which includes the loan of the present temporary system) will provide complete one-way service from a main ultra-high-frequency radio transmitter at Headquarters to receiving sets in seventy-five patrol cars plus car response facilities for five patrol cars in Division 9 only—the car response being transmitted by wire from Division 9 to Headquarters. The General Electric Company expects to complete installation of all equipment ready for operation by the Police Department by April 30, 1935.

The contract price "payable after operation through a ninety-day test period in regular police service to the complete satisfaction of the commissioner" is $89,800. Extra items will amount to approximately $300.

Completion of car-response facilities to provide a complete two-way system embracing seventy-five cars and all divisions is covered by optional items in the General Electric Company proposal at a total additional price of $63,743.

The General Electric Company estimate that installation of this additional equipment could be completed within six months after a definite order, which, in our opinion, should not be placed until after at least ninety days' trial of the initial car-response equipment in Division 9. If P. W. A. financing were sought for the additional car-response equipment, the necessary preliminary steps could probably be completed within this ninety-day period. The city, of course, would not be bound by these optional prices and would be entirely within its rights to obtain new bids, a procedure which might well result in lower prices. Obtaining new bids would involve some additional delay, perhaps three months.

Radio Control Rooms.

The partitions, lighting, soundproofing, power supply circuit and miscellaneous work to provide suitable quarters for the main radio transmitter, the dispatcher and his assistants on the seventh floor of Headquarters were completed last year at a cost of $1,851.

Automobile Generators for Radio Car Service.

The special generators, required to supply the current requirements of the radio car receivers, were purchased and installed last year at a cost of $3,410.

Trusting that this is the information you desire, I am,

Very truly yours,

JOSEPH J. LEONARD,
Police Commissioner.

SAVIN HILL BATH HOUSE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 26, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Park Commissioners, relative to your order of January 14, 1935, concerning proposed repair of fire damage at the Savin Hill Bath House.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, January 25, 1935.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of January 18 with inclosure, Council order requesting the Park Department to repair the Savin Hill Bath House recently damaged by fire.

The Savin Hill Beach Bath House was built in 1917 and has been used during the summer season from June 15 to September 15 ever since. On numerous occasions in past years fires have been deliberately set within this structure. The first serious fire took place on March 31, 1933, when the women's wing was so badly damaged that the second story had to be removed and the entire first floor reconditioned.

On April 24, 1934, another serious fire was set which badly damaged the reconditioned central section and a portion of the men's wing of the building. The department again restored the burned portion at a cost of about $3,000.

Two fires have been set this winter. The first fire caused only slight damage inside of the central section. The second fire started in the men's wing of the building doing considerable damage to same. The roof, framing and boarding were so badly damaged that in the interest of the public safety the roof was removed. The removal of the roof disclosed that the walls of this section were unsafe. It has, therefore, been found necessary to take down the walls of this portion of the structure.

The cost of renewing and repairing what is left of the main section of the building is approximately $5,000. After the completion of such repairs, we will not have eliminated the fire hazard and the building in its new patch-work restoration will be very unsightly and inadequate.

The following is a record of fires in this building which were serious enough to call the fire apparatus during the years 1933, 1934 and 1935. March 31, 1933 (three-alarm fire), January 20, 1934, April 3, 1934, April 5, 1934, April 24, 1934, December 31, 1934, and January 1, 1935.

The fires have all been of an incendiary nature. It would be advisable to consider a new bath house of fireproof construction in the Savin Hill district as there is little left of the old building. The only part that could be considered to be made over is the central section. This section is so small in area that it would not accommodate one hundred bathers—this would not be adequate to meet the demand.

The central section is without a roof surface, plumbing fixtures, plaster is broken, windows broken, electric system badly damaged, and in general in no shape without considerable reconstruction work being done. In fact, it would have to be entirely made over to accommodate a very limited number of bathers of both sexes. There is very little use in considering salvaging any of this wrecked structure. At the present time we have men at work tearing down the unsafe sections.

I consider it very inadvisable for the city to spend any additional money in restoring this building. If the city finances will allow of same, I would recommend the building of a new bath house of fireproof construction.

Very respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

PROHIBITION OF PARKING OF AUTOMOBILES.

Coun. AGNEW offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested to prohibit the parking of automobiles on all Boston streets pending the removal of snow.

Coun. AGNEW—Mr. President, just a word on that order. This is something that will be for the benefit of all the residents of Boston and will aid and assist the Public Works Department in removing snow from the streets of Boston, not only in Boston proper, but in the outlying districts of the city. I think if automobiles were restricted, were not allowed as they are at the present time to park on the streets, it would help the Public Works Department a great deal in its work and would assist people in getting through the streets. At the present time various streets are cluttered with snow and it is impossible for trucks to get through and collect the snow and take it away on account of parked automobiles. I think until the snow is removed, if automobiles were not allowed to park on these streets we would have less complaint.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Mr. President, I would like to know whether it is intended to restrict automobiles on streets already ploughed and cleared?

Coun. AGNEW—Of course, it is obvious that it would not be necessary to take that action on streets where snow had been actually removed.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Does the order read in that way, Mr. President?

President FITZGERALD—"Pending removal."
The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

3. Report on petition of Charles B. McNulty (referred April 30, 1934) to be reimbursed for amount of execution issued against him on account of acts as operator of motor vehicle belonging to Public Works Department of City of Boston, recommending passage of accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of three hundred and fifty dollars ($350) be allowed and paid to Charles B. McNulty in reimbursement for the amount of execution issued against him on account of his acts as operator of a motor vehicle belonging to the Public Works Department of the City of Boston, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Report accepted; order passed.

ELECTION OF CITY CLERK.

Coun. GALLAGHER offered the following:

Ordered, That the Council now proceed to the election of a City Clerk, to serve for the term of three years beginning with the first Monday in February, 1935, and until his successor is elected and qualified.

The order was passed.

President FITZGERALD—The question now comes on electing a City Clerk for a three-year term. Each member as his name is called will announce his choice.

The roll was called and the members announced their choice, as follows:

For Wilfred J. Doyle—Coun. Agnew, Brackman, Doherty, Donovan, Englert, Finley, Fish, Fitzgerald, Gallagher, Gleason, Goldman, Green, Kerrigan, McGrath, Murray, Roberts, Selvittella, Shattuck, Wilson—19.

And Wilfred J. Doyle was declared elected City Clerk for a three-year term, amid applause.

President FITZGERALD—The City Clerk, through the Chair, desires to express to the members his thanks for the confidence they have shown in him by electing him City Clerk. (Applause.)

SAVIN HILL BATH HOUSE.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, take immediate steps for constructing a fireproof bath house at Savin Hill Beach to replace the one recently burned down.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CINCINNATI TAX AND ELECTION METHODS.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to appoint or delegate a committee of five City Councilors to visit Cincinnati with a view of ascertaining the methods employed by that city in maintaining a low tax rate, and for the further purpose of investigating the practical operation of the so-called proportional representation system of electing city councilors.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I saw an article in one of yesterday's Boston papers about Cincinnati's low tax rate of $16. I think it would be a good idea for us to ask the Mayor to appoint a committee of the body, or some committee, to visit Cincinnati and get the "low-down" on how to operate under a $16 tax rate.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman if he is willing to have the order amended so as to include the entire City Council? (Laughter.)

President FITZGERALD—We have no power to expend any money, and anybody who goes there goes at his own expense.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, the Mayor can save a lot of money by finding out how to reduce the tax rate in any such manner.

President FITZGERALD—Under the City Charter we haven't any power to expend money for this purpose.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

WORLD COURT AGREEMENT.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Council take immediate steps to the effect of endorsing the opinion that the United States and countries of our country can best be guaranteed the United States does not enter into any international entanglements, such as the World Court agreement.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

HOSPITAL ELEVATED SERVICE.

Coun. WILSON, Mr. President, I would like to ask permission to consent to make a brief statement. I saw in the paper yesterday morning a statement signed by the City of Boston City Hospital Trustees to the effect that they were requesting further necessary Elevated service in connection with that institution. In order that they may be encouraged, I will state that two weeks ago I made a direct request of the Boston Elevated, reiterating requests that have been made in previous years by members of the Council, looking to improvement in the very necessary service to people, many of them cripples, who, under the present set-up, are required to walk a substantial distance to get to and from the hospital. As a matter of fact, we find that this great public utility can spend millions to buy up the Eastern Massachusetts lines, and it would seem that they might find enough to run bus lines that would be a convenience to people who have to go to and from the hospital. I therefore ask that this response of Mr. Dana, under date of January 22, be included in our record. He reports that they have been attempting to get some figures from the hospital and have been giving some study recently to this very problem. I think when those figures that have been requested in regard to the necessity of additional accommodations at the City Hospital are furnished, it will become so apparent that there is need for action that some improvement in the Elevated service will be made.

(The letter referred to by Coun. Wilson, which he desired incorporated in the record, is as follows:

Boston Elevated Railway,
January 22, 1935.

Robert Gardiner Wilson, Jr., Esq.,
Council Chamber, City Hall, Boston.
Dear Councilor Wilson,—In reply to yours of the 17th the existing service in this vicinity is comprised of the following:

Car line from Andrew square.
Bus line from Savin Hill.
Car line from Dudley street.
Bus line from Kneeland street.
Car line from Massachusetts Station.
The Elevated at Northampton street.

We have been giving some study recently to this very problem and are attempting to get some figures from the hospital at the present moment.

If the Northampton street station was located at Springfield or Concord street instead of Northampton street it would simplify the operating problem a great deal, but I assure you we are giving it careful study.

Very truly yours,

EDWARD DANA,
Executive Vice-President and General Manager.)

RECESS.

The Council voted at 3.48 p. m., on motion of Coun. GALLAGHER, to take a recess, subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President FITZGERALD at 3.52 p. m.

Coun. GALLAGHER—Mr. President, for the Executive Committee, I desire to say that I have nothing to report today.

Adjourned at 3.52 p. m., on motion of Coun. AGNEW, to meet on Monday, February 4, 1935, at 2 p. m.

11,500,000 CUBIC YARDS OF SNOW CLEARED FROM AIRPORT WAYS.

The following is a copy of a letter from Park Commissioner William P. Long to Mayor Mansfield:

BOSTON, January 30, 1935.
HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—In order to give you some idea of the amount of snow we have to remove on the Airport in clearing runways, taxi strips, roads, walks and hangar yards, between January 25 and 29, the department forces moved 11,500,000 cubic yards of snow. This is an absolute engineer's estimate.

If we removed that much snow on the Airport, I wonder if the general public realizes how much snow has been removed on the streets of Boston. The trouble is, there is no realization of the amount of work entailed.

Very respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG,
Chairman.

P. S.—These figures are based on handling some of the piles of snow at least one hundred times.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

SPECIAL MEETING.

Wednesday, January 30, 1935.

Special meeting of the City Council in the Council Chamber at 2 p. m., called for the purpose of taking action on a proposed loan of $800,000 for the purchase of snow removal equipment.

President FITZGERALD presided. Absent, Coun. Brackman, Dowd, Goldman, Murray, Tobin and Wilson.

The clerk read the call for the meeting, as follows:

Boston City Council,
January 28, 1935.

To the Members of the City Council.
Gentlemen,—You are hereby requested to assemble in the City Council Chamber, City Hall, on Wednesday, January 30, 1935, at two o'clock p. m., for the purpose of taking action on a proposed loan of $800,000 for the purchase of snow removal equipment.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN I. FITZGERALD, President.
Placed on file.

SNOW REMOVAL APPARATUS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 28, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—The experience of the city in coping with the recent snowstorm, which admittedly was the most severe storm to be experienced since the necessity of keeping highways open for transportation has become a municipal obligation, clearly indicates that the present mechanical equipment of the Park and Public Works Departments is totally inadequate to handle storms of severe intensity.

At a conference held in this office this morning, at which were present the Park Commissioner, the Commissioner of Public Works, the chairman of the Transit Commission, the Corporation Counsel and the City Auditor, it was agreed that to properly equip both departments with adequate and efficient equipment would involve an expenditure of $800,000. The following table indicates, in an approximate manner, the various items making up this amount:

Trucks.
50 five-ton trucks.....	$375,000
60 three-ton trucks.....	210,000
Snow Loaders.
20 snow loaders.....	86,000
1 snow loader.....	2,000
10 trailers or side loading.....	30,000
Tractors.
10 ten-ton tractors.....	60,000
2 five-ton tractors.....	8,000
Plows.
50 V-shaped plows.....	25,000
Freight and delivery charges.....	4,000
	$800,000

In view of past experience it is evident that equipment of the character indicated in the foregoing table may reasonably be expected to have a life of five years or more. In view of this fact, and also because of the large sum involved, I deem it expedient to provide the necessary money by the issuance of a loan rather than by including the money in the budget appropriations of the two departments concerned. I accordingly submit herewith an order providing for a loan appropriation to cover the purchase of this equipment. After the experience of the last few days I feel I am justified in proposing such a step, being fully aware from personal observation that the city is not at the present time equipped to prevent the economic loss and discomfort which follow in the wake of storms of the intensity of that of last Wednesday.

To prevent any possibility of the recurrence of conditions which have been witnessed in the city in the last few days, I consider it imperative to take immediate steps to remedy the evident inadequacy of departmental equipment. In view of the emergency facing the city at the present time, I respectfully recommend that your honorable body give a first reading to the attached loan order at today's session of the Council.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $800,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Superintendent of Supplies, for departmental equipment in the Park and Public Works Departments, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I desire to offer an order having a bearing on the order which has just been presented.

President FITZGERALD.—What is the pleasure of the Council on the message of the Mayor?

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I move that that message of the Mayor, with the order for an appropriation, be referred to the Executive Committee of this Council.

Coun. Norton's motion was carried.

INFORMATION IN RE SNOW REMOVAL.

Coun. SHATTUCK offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works, through his Honor the Mayor, be, and hereby is, requested to furnish to the City Council the following information:

1. Annual snow removal costs from 1924 through 1934, subdivided as follows:
 - (a) New equipment purchased, including quantities and types;
 - (b) Temporary personnel employed; and
 - (c) Payments to private contractors.
2. Important snowfalls, in inches, during each year of the above period.
3. The number of serviceable plows, trucks, trailers, loaders, tractors and other equipment owned by the city which can be made available for snow removal at the present time.
4. The amount of equipment available through private contractors.
5. A study of the cost of doing the work by contract as compared with the cost of doing it with city-owned equipment and day labor, taking into account the year-round cost of storing and maintaining the equipment and an adequate charge for depreciation.
6. Detailed information as to type, quantity and cost of equipment now desired, and whether these prices are the lowest obtainable on quantity orders.
7. Plans in some detail for organizing future snow removal work.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, the loan order which has just been presented to us comes too late to help much during the present year or during the present emergency. The winter is already more than half over, and if the order were passed today, deliveries could not be made in time to be of much help until the emergency is past. In many cases deliveries undoubtedly would not be made until the emergency had entirely passed. Furthermore, I believe that purchases made on the spur of the moment, as proposed, are sure to be wasteful both as to price and as to the selection of precisely what is needed. Also, adequate equipment in only a partial remedy. Planning and organization should come first. We have had a breakdown not only because of lack of equipment but also because of lack of adequate planning and organization. The order which I have offered calls for information which is essential for this purpose. It calls for statistics on costs during each of the last ten years and on the snowfall in each of these years. This should be supplemented by an investigation of costs and methods in other cities and towns. Last winter, as reported in the August, 1934, number of the "American City Magazine," New York, with an area of 299 square miles as compared with Boston's 44 square miles, spent less than $100,000 per inch of snow. In this article it is stated:

"The new temporary-labor time-inspection system installed in New York City last winter enabled the Department of Sanitation to reduce its five-year average cost of snow removal from $105,000 to $89,000 per inch during two storms which occurred within fifteen days of each other, the second of which was the largest snowfall the city of New York has experienced in eight years."

A comparable figure for Boston would be about $15,000 an inch, and yet we all know, taking last year's figures, that the cost was very much more than that, very likely three or four times as much. The order I have offered also calls for an inventory of city-owned equipment now available, for a canvass of equipment available in the hands of contractors, and for a comparative study of costs when the work is done by the city, having in mind the cost of equipment which will be idle a large part of the year, and of costs when the work is done by contract. Undoubtedly both methods must be employed, but it requires careful study and planning to determine what should be done by city equipment and labor, both permanent employees and extra personnel, and what by private contract. Until this question is settled we cannot decide on the quantity and type of equipment we should buy. I think all that is quite obvious. The handling of an emergency like this requires the setting up in advance of a well-planned organization, a plan calling for the equipment and services of such private contractors as are available and equipped for purposes of the kind, and calls for the utmost use of the existing city labor and city equipment, as well as emergency labor. Much of that emergency labor should be known in advance, what men are available and whether they are physically fit and experienced for work of this kind, because much of the labor we are now getting is labor not physically fit, that is not accustomed to work of that sort, not being able to perform it efficiently, with consequent great waste. Last year we spent about $715,000 for snow removal, and I understand that the expenditure the preceding year, 1933, was only $276,000. The expenditure of last year was far greater than that of any other of the last ten years and nearly twice the previous record of $404,000 made in 1926. What we are spending now no one seems to know, but undoubtedly we are wasting vast sums. The rumor now is that we are spending anywhere from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000, but nobody in authority knows or will tell what the sum is. As a part of the needed planning, consideration should be given to the disposal of the snow when loaded. Places of deposit nearest to the point of loading should be selected in advance. This should include open spaces on public land, vacant lots, manholes, the waterfront, the Charles river, and all other available places, so as to reduce to a minimum the time required for transportation and the cost of transportation. I have outlined only some of the questions to be studied, and some of the planning and organization required before making any large expenditures for equipment; and I have pointed out that by reason of the lateness of the season any new equipment will be of little help in the present emergency. I therefore move the adoption of the order which I have offered and suggest that the question of the purchase of new equipment may well be postponed pending receipt of a comprehensive report on the entire subject matter. I move, sir, that this order be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I think this order ought to be referred to the Executive Committee, and I think when it goes to the Executive Committee, although perhaps the suggestion may now be a little premature, we should refer it from that committee to the Committee on Finance. I think the gentleman from Ward 5 (Coun. Shattuck) is to be congratulated as a man, not an engineer and not having to do with the handling of snow, who asks here some very pertinent and proper questions that we have asked for a number of years of competent authority and have not received satisfactory answers. When we get a request for an appropriation here for life-saving equipment, it is usually after a time when there have been several drownings, and, in the same way, requests for snow removal equipment usually come at a time when the city has become stagnated because of improper handling of the removal of snow. There is no question, also that in an emergency we always have to pay more for the article we are buying. A couple of days ago, a very competent man, who knows the city very well, was uncharitable enough to say to me, "Did you ever stop to think that there was not a shovel put on Tremont street, the leading retail street of this city, for a full twelve hours after the snow fell? Did you ever stop to think that that was perhaps done purposely, so that when an order for $800,000 is introduced here, you will be forced to put it through without asking a question?" Why is it that this Hall has been filled for a week not with men who are experienced as contractors in the removal of snow, but with men representing great concerns selling snow equipment? The first order that was drafted, last Monday, specified the very companies that we would buy this equipment from. So this Council was to be stampeded into voting, under the urge of a so-called great crisis, $800,000 under a so-called order for the purchase of snow equipment, but an order that included commissions probably amounting to between $200,000 and a quarter of a million, and there was more interest, sir, in the commissions than in the removal of snow. There were contractors well equipped to go onto this snow removal who were not even asked to do so, because it was desired to stir the public up to a point where they would say, "The City Council are not on the job," and we would simply be expected to vote $800,000 because we were stampeded and panicky. Action could have been taken under orders introduced last year by the councilor from Ward 17 (Coun. Wilson), when the sun was shining and the streets were clean. He then asked for an appropriation to replace the obsolete equipment bought in 1925 or 1926, and the purchases could then have been made at a price favorable to the citizens of this city. But, no, they had a different plan in mind. They said, "Wait until the emergency comes, when $600,000 of equipment will cost $800,000." There has been a great deal of damage done by this storm, sir, but it is over, and the Great Man above is about to remove the snow when human efforts have failed. We cannot give the order a second reading for two weeks. It will then be the middle of February and, no matter what they tell you, it will then take some time to get the machinery here and put it into operation. You would be led to think that we could have it on the ground in twenty-four hours. As a matter of fact, you cannot get it until the 15th or 20th of March, when the snow has gone. Let us not be panic-stricken or stampeded into taking action in two weeks that they have had eight months to take. Let us use the taxpayers' money for something that will be of real service for the balance of the winter. Let us send for competent engineers and find out what is required, and ask for bids, and don't you dare to specify in the order what concerns are to get it. Throw it open to honest competition. I was out on a state parkway this morning and saw a ton or a ton and a half truck of some common make—it does not make any difference what—start along and sweep up a street making it as clear of snow as if it were in the summer, with no difficulty at all. And here they talk about having ten-ton trucks at a cost of $375,000, in spite of the fact that such trucks could not get into hundreds of our streets which need attention. They must be accessible for ambulances and fire apparatus, and there are hundreds of narrow streets in our congested areas, downtown and even in the suburbs, into which you could not get these huge pieces of equipment, as big as a battleship. And they are not necessary, Mr. Chairman. What we need are speedy little pieces of equipment that will go anywhere in the heart of the city or in the suburbs and take the snow away, and it certainly is not proper or fair, in the purchase of small or great pieces of apparatus, to have anything but open competition, open bidding. Now, sir, there is more real common sense in the order introduced by the gentleman from Ward 5 (Coun. Shattuck) than there has been in all the propaganda put on every member of the Council by the contractors interested in selling equipment. You know that, sir, and there is an answer for every question he asks. We are elected officials of the City of Boston. There are men in small-salaried positions in our public works and other departments who know exactly what is going to be bought and, more important, who is going to sell it. There is an answer to those questions, and we have here twenty-two elected officials of the city who are part of the official family just as much as the Mayor. I am not going to blame the Mayor. He is new here. But there are older men who for years have done very well, sir, whenever certain equipment was purchased, who are bluffing this man in the corner office. There have been other men who sat in the corner office who knew the ropes of the hall and who were not bluffed so easily. So I am not going to place the responsibility on this man. I am going to place it on those in whom he has confidence, a confidence that is misplaced; and I tell you that at this moment there are more people around here interested in this matter who are representatives of concerns that own equipment than there are taxpayers looking for an honest day's work. Let us give this matter calm consideration, and then at a later date when perhaps some representative of the Finance Commission is sitting here, we will not be having our picture taken every time we walk down the Hall. This thing is loaded with dynamite, Mr. President, and let us not pick it up too quickly.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

PETITION FROM REAL ESTATE OWNERS' AND TENANTS' LEAGUE.

A petition was received from the Real Estate Owners' and Tenants' League of Boston objecting to the proposed expenditure of $800,000 for snow removal equipment at this time and suggesting a spreading of necessary expenditure over a series of years.

The petition was placed on file.

CONSULTATION ON SNOW REMOVAL PURCHASE.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider before spending the $800,000 appropriation for snow-removal equipment, if approved by the Council, calling in all available experts for consultation on this expenditure and the particular equipment to be purchased.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, we have purchased snow-removal equipment in the past and in a few years literally found it thrown on the junk heap. Here we are asked to vote $800,000 practically for certain specified snow-removal equipment. What do we know as to whether or not this particular machinery is the proper and best machinery for our purposes? How do we know whether the price to be paid for the machinery is the proper price? I am asking the Mayor of Boston, in face of this snow removal hysteria and confusion, without any innuendoes, to stop and seriously consider the whole question. Most of that proposed equipment cannot get here in time to be used in this storm, or in the immediate future. Much of it will probably not get here until next summer. Therefore, I want the Mayor of Boston, who is spending the money, to call in experts from the Institute of Technology, from the trucking interests, the Finance Commission, and expert engineers, generally, every available expert in Boston, to assist us in working out this problem. Again, you may bring to Boston every piece of available snow-removal equipment in the market, but if you lack proper executorship and executive ability all that machinery will be useless. We need something more than machinery. $800,000 or $8,000,000 will not answer the snow removal problem in the City of Boston unless in the Mayor's Office and in the Public Works Department there is proper executorship, proper personnel, to carry out the work in our city. It is easy at this time, of course, to stand here and criticize his Honor the Mayor. Every year when the snow removal problem comes along the Mayor is subject to some criticism in this body, and so I am rather reluctant to stand here today and make certain statements. It is true that this storm is an unusual storm. We had something similar to it in 1926. Year after year we complain, but nothing is done, and I am afraid, even with the expenditure of $800,000, unless the work is properly supervised, next winter will come and in the suburban area there will be thousands of homes in many of our streets that will be inaccessible to fire engines, police ambulances or fuel trucks. I have noticed that hundreds of homes in the suburban area are served with oil trucks, and that many of them have an ingenious instrument acting as a plough which has ploughed through miles and miles of snow in different parts of our city, where otherwise there would have been no oil delivered. It has been a wonderful thing to help meet the emergency we have had to meet in the suburban areas of this city. The Mayor of Boston said when he was campaigning that 65 cents out of every dollar spent by this city was wasted. After going over the figures of Mayor Mansfield's first year and making comparisons, I am gradually coming to the conclusion that even if Curley had wasted 85 cents instead of 65 cents on the dollar, the city would be getting more than it is now getting. Personally, I am very critical of this $800,000 expenditure. You will remember that during the régime of Mayor Curley I was not a bit reluctant to stand here and take exception to him, either.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

RECESS.

The Council voted at 3 p. m., on motion of Coun. GALLAGHER, to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President FITZGERALD at 3.20 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. GALLAGHER, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on message of Mayor and order appropriating $800,000 for snow removal equipment (referred today)—recommending that same be referred to the Committee on Finance.

The question came on accepting the report and referring the order to the Committee on Finance.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, I might say for the information of the body that I will call a meeting of the Committee on Finance just as soon as I secure the information sought by Coun. Shattuck in his order that was referred to Executive this afternoon. I trust that my position is understood. I am not going to call a meeting of the committee until I get that information sought by Coun. Shattuck in his order, and which we expect to have turned over to our committee. That is understood.

President FITZGERALD—The members understand, of course, that a great emergency exists here.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, the questions that the councilor from Ward 5 (Coun. Shattuck) has asked are questions that can be very easily and very speedily answered, if those in charge of our Public Works Department want to answer them. We are awaiting this very important information that we are seeking, and the quicker they get it to us the quicker the Committee on Finance can act. But we would be powerless to act intelligently until that information is in the hands of the Committee on Finance. We now await the action of those who have the information.

President FITZGERALD—I would like to ask the chairman of the Committee on Finance, if possible, to have that committee meet on Friday.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, just as soon as we receive that information sought by Councilor Shattuck I will call a meeting of the Committee on Finance, and not until then.

The report was accepted, and the order was referred to the Committee on Finance.

2. Report on order (referred today) requesting information in re cost of snow removal, equipment, personnel, etc.—recommending that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

3. Report on order (referred today) requesting Mayor to consult with experts before spending $800,000 for snow-removal equipment—recommending that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

WAGES PAID BY SNOW REMOVAL CONTRACTORS.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a short statement. I understand that some of the men working today for contractors are paid very low wages. The City of Boston pays 62½ cents an hour to men removing snow, or $5 a day. I consulted with the United States authorities this morning to see whether there was a code in force in connection with this matter, covering men on snow removal work. The officers to whom I spoke were unable to give definitely, but promised to give me word tomorrow, as to whether F. R. A. code covers this kind of work. It does seem unfair for contractors in Boston to put out men to remove snow who may be termed foreign, and pay them but $2 a day for eight, ten or fifteen hours' work, while the city is paying a fair amount for the work.

President FITZGERALD—The purpose for which this meeting was called today has now been accomplished. The Council will now adjourn to meet on Monday next.

Adjourned at 3.27 p. m., to meet on Monday, February 4, 1935, at 2 p. m.

PRESIDENT'S BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mr. Hurley: I have been asked to make a statement about a coming event which I think is of sufficient importance to the children of this city to warrant our spreading something about it on the public records. Briefly: On January 30, which is the birthday of President Roosevelt, there is to be held in every city and town in the nation a Birthday Party of some nature. In Boston it will take the form of a Birthday Ball at the Boston Garden. The net receipts from this, as from all the other similar affairs throughout the nation, will be used in caring for needy children afflicted with what the Chairman would call poliomyelitis, or what the layman knows as infantile paralysis—70% of the net proceeds of this party will remain in the locality where it is donated for general research and treatment of infantile paralysis and the remaining 30% will go to a national committee—nominated by the President—to be allocated for the general treatment of the disease. I am asking the Committee to approve this project and to suggest that the principal of each school or district, either personally or through a representative, request the presence of teachers at the ball, and I incorporate that suggestion, Mr. Chairman, in the form of a motion.

The motion was seconded by Mr. Tobin and passed by unanimous vote.

The Committee adjourned.

BOSTON'S PROGRAM FOR SAFEGUARDING THE HEALTH OF THE CITIZENS DISCUSSED BY MAYOR MANSFIELD IN REGULAR WEEKLY BROADCAST FROM CITY HALL STATION OF WNAC—SPECIAL EFFORTS MADE IN BEHALF OF INFANTS AND CHILDREN WITH DRIVES AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS, DIPHTHERIA AND TYPHOID FEVER—MAYOR ALSO POINTS TO WORK YET TO BE DONE AND PART HE HOPES TO PLAY IN ACHIEVING HEALTH SUCCESS FOR CITIZENS.

The following is the radio address of Mayor Frederick W. Mansfield, over Station WNAC, on the subject of Safeguarding the Health of the People of Boston:

It is fitting, at a time in the history of the world when increasing attention is being given to the importance of social justice and security, to emphasize the significance and enormous value of adequate programs for the conservation of the health of our people. Disraeli (Lord Beaconsfield), seventy-five years ago, stressed the principle that, "The public health is the foundation upon which rests the happiness of the people and the welfare of the state, and that the first duty of a statesman is the protection of the public health." There is a constantly increasing appreciation of the logic of this philosophy.

No more fascinating story has ever been written than that of man's conquest of disease, and no richer tradition can be found than that which is associated with the evolution of public health and the practice of medicine. Quietly and unobtrusively, without the blare of the trumpet or the beat of drums, without the flash of the bayonet and the gleam of the sword, unsung heroes have freely given their lives that disease might be conquered, health protected, and life extended. In the laboratory, in the clinic, at the bedside of the sick, and in the field, the public health worker, the sanitarian, the physician and the nurse have fought the constant battle with disease, so that the world might progress. In ancient times and throughout the Dark Ages, the army of death marched roughshod, changing the map of the world, exacting its constant toll of millions of lives. Smallpox, leprosy, bubonic plague, cholera, yellow fever, and kindred diseases, all played their part in the mass slaughter of human beings. It is claimed that malaria played as important a part in the decline of the culture of Greece and Rome as any other factor, and bubonic plague alone, during the Middle Ages, killed off twenty-five millions of people, one fourth of the then existing population of Europe.

Public Health Service.

Today, as we pursue our everyday walks in life, we are too prone to take for granted existing health services, and to accept rather indifferently the public health safeguards and facilities with which organized society has been surrounded. To appreciate in its fullest measure the markedly improved standards of health we enjoy, it is important to present the existing picture of former years, when many people died unnecessarily from preventable causes.

At about the period of the Civil War, the average expectancy of life in this country was about thirty-eight years. It has been extended in recent years, because of the constant efforts of organized forces for better health, to fifty-eight. At the beginning of this century, in many communities, almost one out of every three babies born died during the first year of life. Today, because of the intelligent expenditure of funds for the maintenance of adequate child health programs, this "slaughter of the innocents" has been reduced to about one death out of every seventeen babies born. Yellow fever, bubonic plague, malaria, typhus, and kindred diseases are practically nonexistent in this and many other parts of the world, because of the constant efforts of the medical profession and public health agencies.

Boston's Health Services.

Boston's program for the protection of the health of its men, women and children is of interest and material concern to every citizen and taxpayer. The residents of our city are justified in exhibiting great pride and satisfaction because of the constant improvement in our health conditions. It is particularly satisfying to state that Boston enjoyed the best health record in its history during the year 1934. (And this notwithstanding the economy practiced in the Health Service in that year.)

On the first day of each year, it is customary for the Health Commissioner of the city to give to the press some vital statistics which present a picture of the incidence of illness and death in our city for the preceding twelve calendar months. Figures released for the year 1934 revealed a reduction of deaths from all preventable causes, with the lowest number of infant deaths, as well as deaths from tuberculosis and diphtheria, in the history of our city.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

BROADCAST BY MAYOR.

At the beginning of this century, Boston lost, through death, annually twenty-one out of every thousand of its inhabitants. In 1934 this was reduced to fourteen deaths for every thousand of our population. This has actually resulted in the saving of approximately five thousand lives annually in our community, as compared with the picture of thirty-five years ago. It is important, too, to remember that of the number of deaths occurring today, one fifth of the total are those of nonresidents of our city. This is a much higher percentage of nonresident deaths than that which occurs in any other city in the United States, and may be attributed to the fact that Boston is the medical and hospital center for New England and that many people come here seeking medical relief too late in their illness to obtain the same.

PROTECTING THE HEALTH OF OUR INFANTS AND CHILDREN.

It has, indeed, been well said, that, "If we could have but one generation of properly born, trained, and educated healthy children, a thousand other problems of government would vanish." The saving of the lives of our babies and young children is one of the most gratifying accomplishments in the field of public health. More progress has been made in this age-group than in any other element of our population and it has been aptly stressed that we are living in what has been termed "the Century of the Child." Fortunately, organized society is properly exhibiting a constantly growing realization of the importance of the conservation of the health of our children. A sound program for the protection of health results in definite life-saving. Boston officially recognizes the fact that every baby has a right to be born well and that every effort should be made for the protection of its health, so that it may be reared to become a useful citizen. It is interesting to call attention to the reduction of deaths of infants in our city during this century, due to the untiring efforts for a number of years by private agencies, and since 1924, by the City Health Department.

In 1900, approximately 150 babies out of every thousand born in Boston died during the first year of their lives, or almost one out of every six babies. In 1910, one out of every eight were born to die during the first year of life. In 1920, one out of every ten, and in 1934, Boston, we are happy to say, enjoyed the lowest infant mortality rate in the history of our city—only 54 out of every thousand dying, or only about one out of every twenty. This is an interesting comparison with almost one death out of every six born, which was the ratio in 1900, or more than three times the present number.

Boston, with a population of a little over 500,000 in 1900, had 2,410 infant deaths. In 1934, Boston, with a population of about 780,000, had but 867 deaths of babies. It has been said that the infant mortality rate of a community is an index of its intelligence. It would seem, therefore, that the City of Boston exhibits good sense, indeed, in expending money for the conservation of child health. Eighteen child health clinics are maintained under the auspices of the Health Department, in those sections of the city where they are most needed, and approximately 65,000 clinic visits are made annually by mothers with babies so that their children might be physically examined and re-examined, and that proper instruction be given, governing their care and needs.

TUBERCULOSIS CONTROL.

Perhaps no disease with which the Health Department comes in contact is more devastating in its effect on the economic life of a family than tuberculosis. When the head of a family is stricken and his earning power curtailed and in frequent instances stopped entirely, the family life is at once disrupted. Tuberculosis has been very properly called the scourge of people in the lower earning power group. It is interesting, therefore, to sketch briefly the progress made in our city in the furtherance of tuberculosis control.

In 1900, in Boston, with a population one-third less than that of today, there were 1,570 deaths in our city from this cause alone. In 1934 Boston had 525 deaths from tuberculosis, the lowest number in its history. It is exceedingly pleasing indeed to call attention to one thousand less deaths in our city from this one preventable cause last year.

DIPHTHERIA PREVENTION.

Boston ranks high indeed among the large cities of the United States in the reduction of deaths from diphtheria since the discovery of a method by which we might determine the susceptibility of individuals to this disease, this followed by immunization of all who are found to be susceptible. In 1900 we had 537 deaths in Boston from diphtheria. In 1920 shortly after our adoption of the above-described technique, deaths dropped in our city to 140. In 1934 Boston had the lowest diphtheria rate in the history of our city with only nine deaths occurring from this cause, only six of which were actual residents of Boston.

TYPHOID FEVER.

In 1900 143 people died in Boston from typhoid fever. Vigilance in the protection of our water and milk supplies, and vaccination against typhoid has given Boston, through succeeding years, one of the lowest typhoid fever death rates in the world with only seven deaths occurring in 1934, and of these only three who died were actual residents of Boston.

DENTAL SERVICE.

It has been found that almost 95 per cent of the children of the United States are in need of dental care. Boston has officially recognized this situation by equipping and maintaining, under the direction of the Forsyth Dental Infirmary, dental clinics in the Health Units. A group of dentists and dental hygienists are taking care of the mouths and the teeth of approximately 70,000 children annually, this being recognized as of important influence on general health, and a wise expenditure by the municipality.

SCHOOL CHILD HEALTH.

In common with other intelligent communities, the city has recognized the importance of adequately safeguarding the health of our 165,000 school children. The Department of School Hygiene in the public schools and the Health Department in the parochial schools have maintained constant supervision and applied every accepted procedure for the protection of school child health.

NURSING AND LABORATORY SERVICE.

Over one hundred nurses of the Department of Health are constantly visiting homes in the congested sections of the city, disseminating health advice and service of inestimable value in a program of health protection. Much of the improvement in health conditions must be attributed to the earnest and constant efforts of the city nurses.

The laboratory of the Health Department is constantly rendering service to 1,500 members of the medical profession and to fifty institutions in our city, this service aiding in the early diagnosis of disease.

THE HEALTH UNITS.

The people of Boston are familiar with the objectives and activities of the Health Units. They have succeeded in bringing neighborhood health and welfare services to eight sections of our city. They have served as a vehicle for the coordination of our health and relief program. They have made for better team play in these fields. They have brought together into one common effort the programs of the official and voluntary agencies. The people of Boston should be pleased to know that they serve as models for similar efforts in different parts of the world. As far away as in Peking, China, and in Singapore, they are trying the Boston plan for community health service.

New York City is planning to the ultimate extent of forty health centers, patterned closely after our Health Units.

When the first health unit was opened, 2,000 babies died annually in Boston during their first year of life. This has been cut more than half. Thirteen hundred died annually of tuberculosis—this has been cut almost in three. One hundred and thirty-five died of diphtheria—this has been reduced to six deaths of Boston residents.

There is still much to be done. The saving of lives is a noble cause, a worthwhile undertaking. In paying tribute to all agencies who have cooperated with our Health Department in the fight for better health, let us consecrate ourselves to renewed effort, to the end that we may conquer, on every possible occasion, man's constant enemies—sickness and death.

STRONG CREDIT OF CITY SHOWN IN BOND SALE.

Upon February 6 the Mayor issued the following statement:

The City Treasurer opened bids today for a $4,000,000 temporary loan.

The award was made to a syndicate headed by the Chase National Bank of New York, who bid par plus a premium of $21 for notes bearing an interest rate of .85 per cent per annum. This means that the city is borrowing this money at .85 per cent.

This bid is an "all-time" low for the City of Boston. Twenty-six firms participated in the offering.

This issue is the first offering of the city for the current year.

The first public offering of last year was for $3,000,000 dated March 1 and with an interest rate of 2.60 per cent.

The Mayor is much gratified at this marked evidence of the strong credit of the city showing as it does that within one year the year rate has fallen from 2.60 per cent to .85 per cent.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH J. LEONARD,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 19.

Division commanders shall not detail officers exclusively to investigating, reporting and prosecuting automobile accidents for more than six months. Whenever it is inexpedient to relieve an officer so detailed, commanding officers shall submit a report in writing to the superintendent of the length of time necessary for the officer to continue on such detail, together with the reasons for such extension. The purpose of adopting this practice of detailing officers especially to handle automobile accident cases is to provide an opportunity for competent men to get experience in this branch of police work. This order is not to be construed as modifying in any way the excellent practice followed in some divisions of requiring all route or traffic officers to handle personally all automobile accident cases coming to their attention while in the performance of duty.

Criminal prosecution of automobile accident cases shall be commenced within ten days, unless the division commander authorizes a longer period for investigation. In such cases the written records must state the reasons for such an extension of time. Before commencing criminal action commanding officers shall scrutinize all such cases, ascertain whether the officer has the facts and records properly assembled and otherwise instruct him in regard to the method to follow in handling these cases in accordance with proper police procedure.

Division commanders shall instruct their officers that in investigating these cases they shall report fully the facts in order that commanding officers may determine whether or not criminal prosecution should result. It must be borne in mind that the Police Department is not concerned with the question of civil liability.

All orders and rules and regulations inconsistent herewith are hereby rescinded.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH J. LEONARD,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 20.

The resignation of Augustine J. Gill, secretary to the Police Commissioner, has been accepted, to take effect at 7.45 o'clock a. m., Wednesday, February 13, 1935.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

Upon varying dates as indicated the Mayor approved contracts with firms and contractors for supplies and work. Communications from the several heads of departments were as follows:

ASSESSING DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, February 13, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—We desire your permission to make a contract with Rose F. Healy (as Healy's Office Service), without advertising, in the preparation of the assessed poll list due the year 1935, which includes the typing of the assessors' poll tax book and collector's poll tax manuscript, and the typing of the poll tax bills and coupons.

The advertising of the poll tax list at this time would delay the final delivery of poll tax bills and their collection.

This work will necessitate preparing two copies of the police lists, showing the name, residence, ward and serial number of each male person over twenty years of age. In order to give a consecutively numbered list it will be necessary to eliminate all females, businesses, vacant dwellings, stores, etc., by the process of striking out upward of 275,000 items; then number the remaining male residents consecutively, beginning with number one for each ward, approximately 240,000 items.

From the list thus created, it is desired that they type poll tax bills, with three carbon copies, giving name, street and number, and precinct number.

Time is an essential element in this contract, and it is therefore necessary to have the poll tax bills typed as early as possible, so that deliveries may be made and payments insured without delay.

The contractor will complete the delivery of tax bills, by wards as typed, not later than April 10, and as soon before as possible, and will make such inserts and corrections as may be found necessary from time to time after the completion of the original list, at no additional cost.

The Healy Office Service are fully equipped to complete the work, in the time specified, and have fireproof facilities, thus affording the necessary protection of the records during the progress of the work.

It is, therefore, believed that the best interests of the city will be served by awarding the contract to the Healy Office Service.

We request your permission to make this contract with Healy's Office Service of Boston, without advertising, at a total cost not to exceed $7,250, which is the same cost as in 1934, notwithstanding the additional labor involved due to change in form of bill; and which is based upon a charge of approximately 3 cents per item.

The Healy Office Service performed this service in 1934 in a very able and satisfactory manner, and this department is assured that they will employ on this work none but competent and efficient residents of the City of Boston.

Respectfully,

BOARD OF ASSESSORS,
by T. W. MURPHY, Secretary.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, February 4, 1935.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,

The contractor shall pay to the City of Boston a sum of money equal to 75 per cent of the gross receipts per lock per month. Settlements are to be made monthly and the amount due the City of Boston is to be paid to it on or before the tenth day of the month succeeding collections.

The Law Department has suggested that your approval of the above letter be obtained before the contracts are signed and approved, as to form, by the Law Department.

The Hygienic Coin Lock Company has been operating these locks, with satisfaction, for the past five years.

Yours respectfully,

F. X. MAHONEY, M. D.,

The Colonial Scales Company has been performing this service, with satisfaction, since 1932.

If all the members of the department take a personal interest in this Ball and attend in large numbers with their friends, there is every reason that it will be the most successful Fire Department Ball in years, both financially and socially. These stations may be of great assistance to the poor of the city; it will save them not only effort, but the inconvenience of coming to the former central depot on Blossom street. We plan to establish other stations in the remaining sections of the city as soon as we find available quarters.

Yours truly

JOHN C. L. DOWLING,
Executive Director.

MAYOR MANSFIELD URGES UNITED STATES ACT AGAINST MEXICO'S RELIGIOUS BANS.

The following is a copy of telegram sent to Senators David I. Walsh and Marcus A. Coolidge:

I have just telegraphed Chairman Foreign Relations Committee as follows: "Earnestly urge the immediate adoption of Senator Borah's resolution calling for investigation of religious persecution in Mexico and if reported out of committee that it be adopted by the Senate. The cruelty of the intolerance exhibited in Mexico has intensified to the point where the United States Government ought officially to intervene. Situation is comparable to that of Spanish cruelty to inhabitants of Cuba when our government intervened and precipitated the war with Spain." Strong support of the Borah resolution is urged.

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

Chairman, Committee on Foreign Relations, Washington, D. C.

Earnestly urge the immediate adoption of Senator Borah's resolution calling for investigation of religious persecution in Mexico and if reported out of committee that it be adopted by the Senate. INFORMATION ON SNOW REMOVAL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 4, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—In response to the order adopted by your honorable body at the special meeting on January 30 requesting information concerning the subject of snow removal, I submit herewith a communication from the Public Works Commissioner in which is contained the information requested. A copy for each member of the Council is provided.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,

- (4) The amount of equipment available through private contractors.

During the present snowstorm the contractors and the Public Works Department were able to hire approximately 900 trucks of varying capacities to handle Boston snow. These trucks came from all parts of Massachusetts, including a few from Providence, Rhode Island. Tractors available, approximately (in Boston), 15. Snow-loaders available in Boston, approximately, 10. This does not include a number of snow loaders, the property of the Boston Elevated Railway Company, which we were able to borrow at periods.

- (5) A study of the cost of doing the work by contract as compared with the cost of doing it with city-owned equipment and day labor, taking into account the year-round cost of storing and maintaining the equipment and an adequate charge for depreciation.

Any reply made on such short notice must be necessarily brief and general in its character. Snow removal in the City of Boston should be placed in two classes, namely:

1. Snow removal made by trucks picking it up from the street and disposing of it by dumping into tidewater, sewer manholes, vacant lots, playgrounds and park areas. This kind of removal must be done on the streets in the congested value areas and short, narrow streets in the North, South, and West End sections of the city, including the North and South Railroad Terminals and the waterfront artery connecting the two terminals. I am firmly of the opinion that all such snow removal should be done by contract, the contractor furnishing his own equipment, labor and all other personnel. The preliminary plowing to clear the streets preparatory to removing and disposing should be carried out as it is at the present time by city-owned and operated equipment, this equipment to be used as far as possible in its regular work in the Sanitary and Highway Divisions. No reliance whatever can be placed on plowing in the City Proper area by outside contractors.

2. Snow removal in the outlying sections mainly consists of plowing streets so that the snow can be pushed to one side and the streets opened up to vehicular and pedestrian traffic. The remainder of the work consists of snow removal and disposal, to be done partly by contract and partly by city forces. All the equipment for plowing and clearing to be owned by the city and stored and maintained at one or more central points. The size of the equipment necessary to be used in suburban districts would be so large that no ordinary garage could be used for storage space. A large building constructed with a reasonable amount of shop equipment and outside yard storage space should be provided to permit storage for rollers, plows, tractors, etc. The Commonwealth of Massachusetts maintains such a plant on a lot in South Boston with a frontage of over 700 feet and a depth of 240 feet. In this shop nearly all the repairs are made by outside contractors who send their mechanics to the shop where the work is supervised by Public Works Department officials. This plant contains only a small machine shop.

As stated above, all other work is done by contract. If such a plant was owned by the city, all work for the department could be done under similar conditions and the work done under division for the share of repair with the city. I believe that a turned-in equipment for the operation of plant and equipment would range between 13 and 15 per cent a year.

Removing snow from the twelve downtown snow removal districts requires at least 150 men, gradually increasing in number to over 500.

depending on the depth of the snowfall and the character of the snow storm, whether dry and drifting condition or wet and heavy. It seems obvious that no corporation could afford to carry such equipment as trucks, shovels and other equipment the year round; neither could the city use any such large fleet of automobiles in the various normal activities of the department.

- (7) Plans in some detail for organizing future snow-removal work.

With a snowfall of six inches or less the city forces are able to handle it. Plowing is started on notification of a snowfall up to four inches and after about a two-inch snowfall, approximately 120 contract plows, together with 100 city plows, are ordered out and the routes covered by these plows embrace every public street in the city. With this depth of snow it has never been the custom to send out contractors for snow removal. When the snowfall is approximately six inches, in addition to our plowing forces contractors handling all the districts north of Massachusetts avenue are ordered out.

In snowfalls over six inches, in place of the Paving Division trying to direct the entire operation, the city has been divided into districts and the various division engineers of the Public Works Department will, in the future, perform as they are now performing.

Division Engineer Sullivan directly supervises all operations in the paving yards located in East Boston and Charlestown.

Division Engineer Reilly will directly supervise all operations in the South Boston and Dorchester district yards.

Division Engineer Dakin will directly supervise all operations in the Roxbury and West Roxbury district yards.

Division Engineer Post will directly supervise all operations in the Brighton and Hyde Park district yards.

This direct supervision embodies all snow removal, issuing of orders, employing hired trucks and supervising any emergency crew which may be placed in said yards.

All activities in the City Proper will be directly supervised by Division Engineer Atwood.

The plowing in all districts will be handled directly by Chief Engineer Morrissey of the Paving Division.

Daily conferences will be held and the operations of the entire city will be discussed, and superfluous men and trucks moved from one district to another as needed, after consultation.

Yours respectfully,

C. J. CARVEN,
 Commissioner of Public Works.

APPROPRIATION FOR MUNICIPAL EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
 Office of the Mayor, February 1, 1935.

To the City Council.
 Gentlemen,—I am advised by the Director of Employment that the appropriation of $1,000 recently passed by your Honorable Body to cover the activities of the Employment Bureau is Therefore the dependence must be placed on outside contractors' help. The city should own and maintain a large fleet of blade plows, tractors, and specially designed equipment for plowing in all of the suburban districts, including the southerly part of the City Proper, that is to say, the section adjacent to and on both sides of Massachusetts avenue.

exhausted, and that to continue the work of this Bureau for the balance of the year an additional appropriation of $14,000 will be required. I submit herewith the necessary order and respectfully recommend its adoption by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
 FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $14,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated, to be expended by the Municipal Employment Bureau, under the direction of the Mayor, in the prosecution of its duties, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund, when made.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

INCLOSING COLUMBUS STADIUM.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
 Office of the Mayor, January 31, 1935.
 To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Park Commissioners, relative to your order of January 14, 1935, concerning the advisability of inclosing Columbus Stadium to conform to the plan suggested by the chairman of the School Committee, in order that all schoolboy games may be played on city-owned playgrounds.

Respectfully,
 FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
 Park Department, January 30, 1935.
 John F. Gilmore, Jr.,
 Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of January 18, with inclosure, order from the City Council to consider the advisability of inclosing the Columbus Stadium to conform to the plan suggested by the chairman of the School Committee, in order that all schoolboy games may be played on city-owned playgrounds.

When this area was laid out for an athletic field, the site selected and the height of the bleachers was considered very carefully before studies were presented, and the bleachers were built into the hill so that they would not interfere with the landscape.

If the suggestion of the chairman of the School Committee was carried out, you can readily visualize what the bleachers would look like, as it would be necessary to build a solid wall, and the foundations will not allow of any more weight being placed on same. It would also spoil the entire landscape effect at this point in South Boston. Furthermore, it will require an act of Legislature for the Park Department to allow the School Department to have a closed stadium for which admission could be charged.

It must be constantly kept in mind that the parks and playgrounds of the City of Boston are what are known as "public reservations," the use of which is dedicated to and belongs to the public, and that the title of the city is held only in its municipal capacity as an agency for the benefit of the public.

Playgrounds acquired and maintained by cities and towns are closely analogous in their essential features to parks. In a case of Kerr vs. Brookline, 208 Mass. 190, 191, the decision of the courts was that the town is not the owner of the playground in any ordinary sense; that the property is held under the statute solely for public use. It has also been decided that they cannot be made a source of revenue, as by doing this the use by those most needing them might be prevented by any pecuniary charge of an admission fee, if only on limited occasions.

The School Committee can now use such playgrounds, gymnasiums or buildings under the control of the Park Department that may be necessary, in which to conduct training and exercises, athletics, sports, games and play, but the Legislature has been unalterably opposed to passing a law permitting in the City of Boston the setting apart of any portion of a public park or playground and inclosing same in order to charge an admission fee for entrance thereto.

I feel very strongly about the School Department taking over any of our stadiums, after same have been purchased, constructed and cared for by the Park Department. If the School Department desires a stadium, they should build one out of their own funds. The Park Department has over 14,000 boys in their baseball league alone, built up after six years of strenuous work, and their games should not be interfered with by the School Department or any other department.

Very truly yours,
 WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

PRICE OF MILK TO WELFARE RECIPIENTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
 Office of the Mayor, January 30, 1935.
 To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Overseers of the Public Welfare, relative to your several orders concerning the price of milk to welfare recipients.

Respectfully,
 FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
 Overseers of Public Welfare,
 January 24, 1935.

Mr. Joseph F. Mellyn,
 Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—At various times since last summer and, I think for some months preceding last June, the City Council has passed orders in reference to the sale of milk to welfare recipients at a discount below the regular Boston retail price.

The matter has been taken up by this department with both the chain stores, so called, and with representatives of the milk producers who are not affiliated with the chain store group. The Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company belongs to the latter class and their milk is supplied through the Consolidated Dairies, Inc.

The chain group, consisting of First National Stores, the Economy Grocery Stores, the M. Winer Company, etc., as well as some individual small dealers were willing to enter into an arrangement for selling the milk to our families at two to three cents a quart less than the posted retail price. The Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company did not give a definite answer as their milk was under the control of the Consolidated Dairies, Inc., which hesitated to reply before the Milk Administrator gave it permission.

Before any arrangement could be put into effect either with the chain stores or with those supplied by the Consolidated Dairies, Inc., it was thus necessary to receive the approval of Mr. Samuel W. Tator, the Milk Administrator for Massachusetts. Milk administrators are only appointed in those states where the producers so request; New York, for example, has not requested the appointment of an administrator and, consequently, there is no federal jurisdiction in that state. Massachusetts producers had so requested and the Federal Government had appointed Mr. Tator.

Mr. Tator communicated with Washington and was informed that the federal authorities look with disfavor upon any preference being given to public welfare organizations and, consequently, declined to permit him to allow the arrangement to go into effect. He, himself, is opposed to the allowance of such a discount by retail stores, as it might be used as a special leader for the purchase of other goods in their stores and thus give them an advantage over their competitors.

The sale of milk is governed as follows: Milk sold in liquid quantities by quart bottles is paid f. o. b. Boston at a certain rate per quart to the farmers; the excess milk which is not sold in bottled form to the retail market is known as surplus milk and is turned into cream, butter, etc. It is sold at a price slightly less than one-half of the price charged to the retailers for liquid delivery. If this surplus milk could be bottled and delivered direct to the families on welfare it would cost approximately 8 cents a quart, and thus buying it direct from the farmers and delivering direct to the welfare recipients would meet with no disfavor from the Federal Administrator.

There are manifest difficulties in setting up such a project as it would mean bottling the milk, pasteurizing it, cooling and delivery. Being unable to formulate a feasible plan for such a worthy project this department, however, has gone forward with the grocery stores with which it has done business and has obtained from them a 3 per cent reduction on all grocery orders issued by this department. This arrangement has been in effect since the first of January and we estimate that it will accomplish, in addition to the saving of $3,000 already achieved with the chain stores, a further saving of $3,000 per year on this one item alone. A further discount might have been obtained if our grocery orders were concentrated in a selected group, but we permit our families to buy from their own local dealers.

Yours truly,
JOHN C. L. DOWLING,
Executive Director.

Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of Council order dated January 21, 1935, which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be instructed, through his Honor the Mayor, to install traffic lights at East Newton street and Harrison avenue."

This intersection is on a list of locations where we propose to install automatic traffic signals if funds are made available.

Respectfully yours,

SALTING OF HYDRANTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 1, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Fire Commissioner, relative to your order of January 28, 1935, concerning putting on an emergency crew to clear around and salt all hydrants.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Fire Department, January 31, 1935.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am returning herewith the following order introduced in the City Council:

"Ordered, That the Fire Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to put on an emergency crew to clear around and salt all hydrants."

I am quite certain that the councilor who introduced this order is not familiar with the practice in the Boston Fire Department, concerning the salting of hydrants.

For years this work has been done during cold weather, whether stormy or not, and immediately on any indication of a storm approaching men are sent out to salt hydrants. The department also cooperates with the Water Division of the Public Works Department in clearing snow from around post hydrants.

For your Honor's information I inclose herewith a copy of a letter which I received from the district foreman of the Highway Division of the Public Works Department in the same mail that I received the order from your office. I am merely sending this as an indication of the fact that the Fire Department has been performing its duties in a satisfactory manner.

Yours very truly,
EDWARD F. McLAUGHLIN,
Fire Commissioner.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, Highway Division,
January 30, 1935.

Mr. Edward McLaughlin,
Fire Commissioner.

Dear Sir,—I wish to thank you for the wonderful cooperation shown by the Fire Department of Charlestown in the recent snow emergency.

Respectfully yours,
JAMES J. McELENY,
District Foreman.

VETO OF ANNUITY TO ALICE M. RALPH.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 29, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am returning herewith without my signature and disapproved the order adopted by your Honorable Body on January 14, 1935, providing an annuity to Alice M. Ralph, widow of John G. Ralph, who died while a member of the Boston Police Department, and to their six children. This application was made under Statutes 1933, chapter 340, section 89, under the terms of which annuities may be granted if "it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Mayor and the City Council . . . that such death was the natural and proximate result of an accident occurring during the performance and within the scope of his duty as" a member of the police force.

I am informed by the Corporation Counsel that the deceased was not killed nor did he die from injuries received while in the performance of his duties as a police officer. Thus it appears that the conditions of the statute are not satisfied and I am constrained to veto the order.

In this connection I beg to inform you that upon December 18, 1934, I approved an order of the Police Commissioner adding the name of Alice M. Ralph to the list of beneficiaries to draw relief from the Police Relief Fund.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

HIGH PRESSURE WATER, ELM HILL DISTRICT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 28, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Commissioner of Public Works, relative to your order of January 14, 1935, concerning alleged delay in completing the high pressure water system installation in the Elm Hill district of Roxbury.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, January 23, 1935.
Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,
Assistant Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I beg leave to acknowledge receipt of your note of January 18 with attached City Council order dated January 14, and reading as follows:

"Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inform the City Council as to the reason for the delay in completing the installation of the high pressure water system in the Elm Hill district of Roxbury."

and to state that the installation of an additional supply main to the Elm Hill section of Roxbury called for the laying of approximately 11,000 linear feet of 48-inch steel water pipe. The work of installation is being performed under two P. W. A. contracts. Contract No. 1 was started by A. G. Tomassello Company on September 5 and the work of laying 7,100 linear feet of 48-inch steel water main was completed December 10, 1934. Contract No. 2 was started September 14, by the M. F. Gaddis Company and to date there has been laid 2,000 linear feet of 48-inch steel water pipe, making a total of 9,100 linear feet of the 11,000 feet laid to date.

The work on the second contract is being performed as rapidly as the weather and ground conditions permit and the work of pipe laying will probably be completed by June 1, 1935. This second contract contains the blasting and removal of a large quantity of rock and is naturally a slower proposition. There is no delay in the completion of the installation of the water system to the Elm Hill district of Roxbury.

Respectfully yours,
C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

HOUSING PROJECT, CHARLESTOWN.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 28, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the City Planning Board, relative to your order of December 3, 1934, concerning a proposed Housing Project in the area lying between Bunker Hill street and Medford street, from Chelsea street to Fay square, in Charlestown.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Planning Board, January 25, 1935.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—The City Planning Board submits herewith report as requested by your Honor in connection with the following order passed by the City Council:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to take the necessary steps to obtain from the Federal and State authorities an appropriation for a Housing Project in the area lying between Bunker Hill street and Medford street, from Chelsea street to Fay square, as favored by State Housing Plan after an exhaustive study."

In reviewing the circumstances leading up to the passage of this order, the City Planning Board notes that the City Council under date of October 1, 1934, adopted a somewhat similar order looking toward:

- (a) The removal of all buildings on the southerly side of Main street, Charlestown, between City square and Sullivan square and the development of the area as a Housing Project;
- (b) The widening of Rutherford avenue; and
- (c) The removal of the Elevated structure in the Charlestown district.

This order having been referred to the State Board of Housing, a reply was submitted under date of November 26, and appears in the Proceedings of the City Council December 3, 1934. This reply, which forms the basis for the order now under consideration, was, so far as the housing situation is concerned, to the effect that due to the higher land values, the uncertainty of the removal of the Elevated structure, and the possible expansion of industry, the particular area referred to was not a sound location for rehousing at this time; but that if money were made available it should be spent in the area lying between Bunker Hill street and Medford street, from Chelsea street to Fay square.

With this recommendation the City Planning Board is in substantial agreement. In the housing studies reported upon by the City Planning Board as part of its activities under C. W. A. Project No. 3512, a housing reconstruction project was proposed within the area bounded by Chelsea, Medford, Corey and Bainbridge streets, Charlestown, this particular location falling within the limits of the area now recommended by the State Housing Board. The controlling factors in the selection of the particular site proposed by the City Planning Board are set forth in the following paragraphs taken from the above report:

"The selection of a site for a low-cost housing development was accomplished only after a careful reconnaissance of the entire district and a survey of social, economic and physical conditions. At first glance a large part of the district appeared to be about on a par as to general living conditions, but further investigation disclosed other factors which eliminated sections as suited for a low-cost housing project. The Rutherford avenue section, between Dunstable and South Eden streets, had, for example, a high vacancy percentage, but was presumably about to be taken over for non-residential uses. A district, between Park and Carney streets, bordering Medford street, obviously called for attention because of its run-down condition, high fire risk, lack of individual ownership and low rentals, but the higher land and building values and the comparatively small area involved led to discarding this district in favor of the larger and less expensive one at the north-east corner of Charlestown.

"This section, about seven acres, bounded by Chelsea, Medford, Corey and Bainbridge streets, was finally determined on as best suited for a low-cost housing project. Here the assessed valuations are low, the buildings are old and in poor condition, are in a seriously dilapidated condition, and the high vacancies are 20 per cent and extremely low rentals prevail. Also the large Wm. F. Barry Playground is adjacent to the site with its trees and shrub nearby. There are further park and lumber wharves, the Myrt. Wm. Co. wharf, the Charlestown Navy Yard and other improvements to be seen in the vicinity. The site is bounded on two sides by main roads, thus appeared to be as ideal a location as could be found. It was felt, was more than offset by the many advantages already mentioned. That these streets were already lined by tenements was an ample indication that no objection existed in fact to living there."

The opinion is held by many of the residents of the Charlestown district that the removal or relocation of the Elevated structure is a necessary precedent to any fundamental improvement in the section. It is a fact, however, that the location north of Bunker Hill street is sufficiently removed from the Elevated location as to suffer no particular inconvenience from it, while the inability on the part of the community to finance a particular major improvement at this time would hardly justify the elimination of the other opportunities. There is little doubt that a rehousing project between Bunker Hill street and Medford street, Chelsea street and Fay square, would be highly beneficial to the community. The site selected by the City Planning Board embraces the lowest available land values within the area and is well situated in relation to employment locations. The assessed values were found to be low, the existing buildings of third-class construction in a depreciated condition, with a high percentage of vacancies and extremely low rentals prevailing. Playgrounds, schools and churches are within easy reach.

In any event, the exact location of Federal Housing Projects in the City of Boston will be determined by the Housing Division of the Public Works Administration. All of the information referred to above, and all of the material which the City Planning Board has been able to assemble with regard to housing conditions in the City of Boston has been furnished in full detail to representatives of the Housing Division of the Public Works Administration. We are taking the liberty at this time of forwarding to them a copy of this report, together with a copy of the report of the State Housing Board, as it appears in the Proceedings of the City Council under date of December 3, 1934.

The City Planning Board has also studied at some length the various plans proposed for the relocation of the Elevated structure in the Charlestown district, and the widening of Rutherford avenue, but it is not our understanding that either of these matters comes within the purview of the present City Council order.

Respectfully submitted,
THE CITY PLANNING BOARD,
FREDERIC H. FAY, Chairman.

RELEASE OF RESTRICTIONS, EAST BROADWAY.

Coun. DONOVAN called up, under unfinished business, No. 1, viz.:

1. Whereas, The City of Boston by deed dated November 30, 1877, and recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Book 1401, page 164, conveyed a certain parcel of land situate on the northerly side of East Broadway, making the northerly corner of said East Broadway and the easterly side of N street, in that part of Boston called South Boston, and conveyed the said land subject to certain conditions and restrictions, two of said restrictions being numbered 3 and 4 and in the following words, namely:

"3. The building which may be erected on said lot shall be of width of at least twenty-two feet."

"4. No dwelling house or other building except the necessary out buildings shall be erected or placed on the rear of said lot unless it be a stable for private use."

Whereas, A portion of said parcel of land above described was conveyed to Catherine F. Santry by deed dated November 14, 1921, and recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Book 4328, page 298, subject to the same restrictions or conditions in so far as the same are now in force and applicable; and

"Whereas, The owners of said last-mentioned premises desire to have the said premises released from the said conditions and restrictions; now, therefore, it is hereby

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be, and he hereby is, authorized, in the name and behalf of the City of Boston, by a written instrument, in form satisfactory to the Law Department of the City of Boston, to release the said land from the said restrictions in so far as the City of Boston legally can without interfering with the legal or equitable rights of others.

On January 21, 1935, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 18, nays 0.

The order was given its second and final reading and passage, yeas 19, nays 0.

PAYMENTS BY CONTRACTORS TO EMPLOYEES.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to take such steps as may be necessary to insure that the contractors employed by the city shall pay their employees at least 50 cents an hour as provided in the contracts.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, just a word on that order. On Saturday I received a complaint to the effect that one of the contractors in this city was paying 45 cents an hour, while the contract called for 50 cents. Therefore, I think steps should be taken to see that that sort of thing shall not happen.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

CLEARING OF RESIDENTIAL STREETS.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to continue the emergency snow shovellers employed by the district yards until all the residential streets are cleared of snow.

SINKING FUNDS PURCHASES AND SALES.

Coun. SHATTUCK offered the following:

Ordered, That the treasurer of the Board of Commissioners of Sinking Funds be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to furnish the City Council with an itemized list of all purchases and sales made for the Sinking Funds during the last five calendar years, giving the date, amount, description and price of each purchase and sale and the name of the person, firm, or corporation through or from which each purchase or sale was made.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REMOVAL OF SNOW, SOUTH BOSTON.

Coun. DONOVAN and KERRIGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately start the work of removing snow from side streets in the South Boston district.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SNOW REMOVAL IN SOUTH END.

Coun. ROBERTS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately complete the snow removal work in the South End.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, there have been cases in the South End where a contractor responsible for snow removal work has removed the snow from one street and completely neglected the next street. I think something should be done immediately to remove as much snow from our streets as possible. A lot of damage will be done if we should have a thaw for two more days, to say nothing of the inconvenience.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

CONSTRUCTION OF WARD 10 STREETS.

Coun. DOHERTY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Street Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to lay out and construct, under the E. R. A. plan of construction, Bickford avenue, Ward 10.

REMOVAL OF SNOW IN EAST BOSTON.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPAVING OF ASHFORD STREET, WARD 21.

Coun. AGNEW offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth pavement Ashford street, Ward 21.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INSTALLATION OF POST HYDRANTS.

Coun. MURRAY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to substitute post hydrants for all Lowry hydrants now located in manholes in the various streets of the city and to relocate same on sidewalks, at the curb, for the purpose of making same easily accessible to the Fire Department in the event of fire.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I have noticed as a result of the last snow storm that the Lowry hydrants, placed in the middle of the streets, have in many instances been so covered by snow that it has been difficult to find the hydrant. In case of fire the apparatus could not reach it. There is the same situation down in the West End. If they had the sidewalk hydrants there would not be that difficulty and it might be the means of saving lives. Where they are in the middle of the street it is impossible to prevent the snow from piling up upon them and concealing them. I think, under the circumstances, it would be a good thing to substitute for them post hydrants on the sidewalk.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

WIDENING OF BOYLSTON STREET.

Coun. SHATTUCK offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston favors the enactment of legislation for the widening of Boylston street on the north side between Arlington and Gloucester streets and on the south side between Berkeley and Clarendon streets, provided that such legislation contains a referendum to the Mayor and City Council.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, that resolve relates to a bill that is pending in the Legislature for the widening of Boylston street, on the block between Arlington and Berkeley street on the north side and beyond that on the south side up to Copley square. As you know, the sidewalks there are about twice as wide as are needed for pedestrian traffic. The reason is that the extra space in days gone by was used for grass plots that have been abolished. Under the bill it is proposed to find out whether the abutters will be willing to give up to the city without expense their sidewalk rights that would be taken in connection with the widening of the street. If they are, then the widening of the street would be immediately undertaken. This is a case where the entire expense to the city would be for paving and cutting down the sidewalks. The land would be given by the abutters. If that is done, it would seem to me to be a very inexpensive way of widening an important thoroughfare.

The resolution was passed under suspension of the rule.

CITY BUILDINGS OCCUPIED BY VETERAN ORGANIZATIONS.

Coun. SHATTUCK offered the following:

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Public Buildings, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to furnish the City Council with the following information:

1. A list of all buildings or parts of buildings belonging to the city occupied by veterans' organizations or posts of veterans' organizations, with the name of the organization or post occupying each, and the assessed value of each such building and of the land in which it is situated.

2. The expense to the city in 1934 for care, maintenance and repairs, lighting, heating, water, and other purposes, in making said buildings available for the aforesaid purposes.

3. The rental received, if any, for said buildings, and what part of the expenses is borne by the several organizations.

4. To what extent said buildings are used and occupied, and what consideration has been given to concentrating the several organizations and posts in fewer buildings, so as to save expense and provide more nearly complete use and occupancy for those buildings devoted to these purposes, and so as to make some of said buildings available either for sale or for some municipal purpose.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, there is pending before the Council at the present time in the Committee on Public Lands a bill for the sale of a certain abandoned firehouse on Longwood avenue, which is now occupied by a Legion Post. I have also observed at different times certain expenditures by the city for repairing and upkeep of some of these buildings no longer needed for municipal purposes but occupied in whole or in part by some organization of veterans. I believe nobody has any accurate knowledge of the extent to which city property is so occupied, as to whether or not it is desirable that the city dispose of it, as to what has been or is being paid by the city, if anything, for repairs and alterations. It seems to me that an entire survey of the whole situation would be useful, and that it might throw some light on the extent to which we should retain buildings no longer needed for municipal purposes but which are perhaps being retained because of their occasional use by single organizations that may use them one or two evenings a week, thereby tying up large buildings. This order simply asks for such information.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Mr. President, before I vote upon the order I would like to know from the gentleman from Ward 5 whether it is his purpose to at length drive these organizations from their present quarters?

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, my purpose in offering this order is to find out what the facts are. We have before us, as I say, a measure to allow the city to sell property now occupied by these organizations. I do not know at present how I shall vote on that measure. I would like to know what the facts are from a city-wide study of the situation. That is the reason why I offer the order.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, while I think it will be a good thing to have the information before the Council, I would say with reference to the old fire station at Longwood and Brookline avenues, now being used by the Oliver Ames Post, that since it has been used by them it has been at no expense to the city, and that the Post has spent about $3,000 upon it. I shall wish to say that, as this may be the forerunner of other orders, in justice to that Post.

The order was referred, on motion of Coun. TOBIN, to the Executive Committee.

INFORMATION FROM PUBLIC WORKS COMMISSIONER.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to submit in writing, promptly, to the Executive Committee of the ten Park Yard Districts in the City of Boston, the following information, and further ordered that such reports be promptly transmitted the City Council by the Public Works Commissioner separately as to each of the ten yards in the form now requested, viz.:

1. The number of
 - (a) streets in the district.
 - (b) miles of streets.
 - (c) public squares.
2. The number of
 - (a) city snow loaders regularly assigned to and available at the yards:

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, that order incorporates notes of the questions that were submitted for answer to each foreman of the ten yards of the city before Councilor Agnew's Public Safety Committee met last week. Four out of the ten foremen have made responses. They are practically the same questions, with some differences, and I think the information will throw some light on the breakdown following the recent storm and will also perhaps furnish some lessons for the future.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

CELEBRATION OF LATIN SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to at once appoint a committee, with the Hon. John F. Fitzgerald, ex-Mayor of Boston, as chairman, to make arrangements for adequate official celebration of the three hundredth anniversary, in April, 1935, of the foundation of the Boston Public Latin School as the first free public school in America.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I don't want to bore members of the Council with orders pertaining to this particular anniversary, but I do feel that there are thousands of graduates of this school, not only in Boston but in Massachusetts and throughout the entire country, interested in this celebration and, while I realize that certain preparations will be made in a nice way by the School Board, it does seem to me that the city, apart from the School Board, should take some appropriate action in the matter of this outstanding anniversary. I feel that the gentleman whom I have named, a graduate of the school more than fifty years ago and an ex-Mayor of Boston, may very appropriately be associated with a committee to make arrangements for an adequate official celebration of the anniversary.
The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

CLEARING OF SIDEWALKS.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be, and hereby is, requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to direct all police division commanders to strictly enforce with reasonable promptness, where applicable, the existing city ordinance requiring snow and ice to be removed from sidewalks by owners or occupants of land abutting such sidewalks and, most especially, sidewalks adjacent to unimproved and vacant lots.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I have in mind in presenting this order hundreds of yards of sidewalks in the City of Boston adjacent to unimproved and vacant land, from which the snow has not been cleared. I think that in every councilor's experience he knows of many instances in his own ward of vacant pieces of land, especially on main streets and corners, where the snow has not been cleared from the sidewalks by the owners, in many cases property owned by trusts and estates not residents of Boston, where the sidewalks have not been shoveled as late as today. I could name two of such lots on Washington street, the main thoroughfare in the ward I represent, both corner lots, neither of which had been shoveled up to as late as this morning. I feel that, with the existing laws and ordinances requiring the clearing of sidewalks on public streets, certainly after the expiration of a week or ten days that requirement should be enforced, especially against these owners of vacant land where the sidewalks remain unshoveled, and where that neglect means inconvenience and positive danger to pedestrians, especially where they go down hill. I happen to know, without reflection upon any particular owner, that owners of some of these vacant lots, not one that I was referring to earlier, have been among the loudest in criticizing the city for not ploughing and cleaning the streets, people who have made the most vociferous complaints. And still the sidewalks adjoining the land of some of these people had not been shoveled as late as this morning.
The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ESTABLISHMENT OF PUBLIC WELFARE COMMITTEE.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That a special committee of five members of the City Council be appointed by the President, to be called the Committee on Public Welfare.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

CLEARING OF SNOW AT CATCH-BASINS.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately start the work of clearing away the snow at catch-basins in the suburban sections of the city in order to prevent great flood damage in the event of a thaw.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I had a talk a short time ago with a very competent engineer connected with our city department, who, referring to the way in which the snow is now on the streets, stated that if there was a sudden thaw there would be a damage amounting to thousands of dollars to goods in stores and basements in many buildings in this city. I have been surprised to find, in going through my district, gutters and catch-basins that have not been cleared away. We have certainly had ample notice of the danger that might threaten in case of a thaw, and it seems to me that one of the most necessary things to do in this city today is to clear our gutters and catch-basins so that when the thaw comes the water can be taken care of. Up to yesterday that had not been done, and we all know that a sudden thaw would cause a great deal of damage. I think, now that there has been a little lull, that this would be a good time to take care of that matter, thereby preventing a great deal of damage in all sections of the city.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

NAMES OF WORKERS ON CENSUS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to furnish the Council with the names and addresses of those working on the Census.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

CENTRAL POOL OF JURORS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of conferring with the Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Massachusetts relative to putting into effect the recent suggestion made by the Committee on Courts of the Boston Chamber of Commerce that a central pool of jurors for Suffolk County and possibly other counties be arranged for.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, for purposes of the record I might say that the Boston Herald on January 2 made the following statement in regard to this matter:

"The committee urge the creation of a central pool of jurors for Suffolk and possibly for other counties. This could be arranged by the courts without legislation."

Of course, I am here dealing with Suffolk County, and I think most of these suggestions deal with Suffolk alone, and not with Worcester, Springfield, or other places in the state. We are told that if this could be arranged it would mean a saving by the pooling system of $580 a day.

The order was referred, on motion of Coun. AGNEW, to the Executive Committee.

WAGES PAID BY SNOW REMOVAL CONTRACTORS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That Mr. John J. McDonough, State Director of the N. R. A., be requested to immediately look into the matter of wages now being paid men by snow-removal contractors in Boston, with a view to ascertaining as to whether or not there is a violation of any of the N. R. A. codes.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I understand that there is a possibility that the payment of low wages, as alleged in the case of snow-removal contractors in Boston, may be a violation of an N. R. A. code. We know, of course, that the understanding in connection with our city work is that the payment per hour shall be greater than the payment that some of the contractors seem to be making, and there may also be a violation of the national code.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RACING PROFITS FOR HOSPITALS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of vigorously championing at this time, the splendid suggestion of the Boston Post, namely, that the profits of horse and dog racing be devoted to local hospitals.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, this matter was given considerable publicity a few weeks ago, and has since apparently been lost sight of. But the Boston Post on January 25, in a splendidly written article, has again asked the Legislature and state officials to see to it that the profits derived from horse and dog racing in Boston may be given to the hospitals. Many people smile at the idea and say that it will be impossible. That may be, but it is a mighty good idea to fight for it.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

LOWER GAS AND ELECTRIC RATES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the matter of mapping out a program now so that the matter of lower electricity and gas rates for Boston may be forcefully presented to the Massachusetts Legislature.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, New York City has been fighting to reduce electric rates, and there has been a reduction of over ten million dollars there in the rates for electricity. Mayor La Guardia, New York's competent and able Mayor, says that he wants a 20 per cent reduction at least. The President of the United States has offered him cooperation to the extent of building a Federal plant to take care of the local post office and building. The Mayor of New York proposes to light the city buildings with their own plant, that project now being under way. In the hearings before the New York Legislature, as a result of study into electric rates in various American cities, figures for different parts of the country have been produced, and you will find that by comparison with other places Boston's rates stand very high on the list. I am now asking, therefore, that this matter be taken up by the Mayor with the Legislature vigorously and pressed forcefully, so that we may get not only lower electric rates, but lower gas rates for Boston. This is simply in line with a similar movement all over the country. New York is paying $2 for what cost us last year $3. The average use in a Boston home is fifty kilowatt hours a month, which cost $3, while in other American cities the cost is $2 or less. We have heard very little said up to the present time about this matter in Boston, but in New York there is a mild revolution going on today. Why are we paying more than New York City? I therefore trust that his Honor the Mayor will take up this matter vigorously, and attempt to impress the Legislature with the necessity for action.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

OPPOSITION TO PURCHASE BY ELEVATED.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Boston City Council consider the advisability of going on record as being opposed to the plan of the Boston Elevated Railroad trustees to spend $10,000,000 at this time to acquire the Revere section of the Narrow Gauge and the Chelsea Division of the Eastern Massachusetts Railroad.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I read in a Boston newspaper a few weeks ago an article by ex-Mayor Nichols regarding the splendid work of the City of Boston so far as subways are concerned. A few days ago the problem came up to the Boston Elevated of purchasing the Eastern Massachusetts road in the Chelsea and Revere sections. I believe, Mr. President, that the Boston Elevated road at the present time is a defunct organization. From 1931 to 1934 Boston and other communities have paid out to run the Boston Elevated Railroad $8,049,569. That is the amount that it has cost in four years to run that road, to make up the deficit. Boston and the surrounding cities and towns have paid out over $8,000,000. Between 1926 and 1933 there was a drop of over 100,000,000 revenue passengers on the road. This certainly is not a time, with the load that Boston and the other surrounding towns and cities have to bear in connection with the Elevated, for the road to take on any such burdens as are now proposed in the acquiring of the Revere section of the Narrow Gauge and the Chelsea Division of the Eastern Massachusetts Railroad.

The order was referred to the Committee on Rules.

NON-EXPENDITURE OF E. R. A. QUOTA.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to advise the City Council as to why Boston has not expended its E. R. A. quota in a certain month of late.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, as set forth recently in one of our Boston papers, this is another month, following two consecutive months, when the City of Boston has failed to expend its E. R. A. allotment, thereby depriving hundreds of worthy unemployed of the opportunity to obtain at least part-time work. The amount will be over $150,000 allocated by the Federal government that has not been expended. It does seem at a time like this, when so many worthy men are out of work, that at least an allotment of this kind should be used.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

COMPENSATION FOR INJURED EMPLOYEES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the advisability of compensating employees of the Health Department for a specified period when injured in the line of duty.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, this is one of my regular weekly orders, relating to Health Department employees. I have referred to one who worked faithfully in the department for eight years, in the tuberculosis section, finally being brought down with the disease, and at the end of two or three weeks her name was simply stricken from the payroll. I believe that under such circumstances the city should be very liberal to employees of the Health Department who are injured in the line of duty.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RE-EMPLOYMENT OF PREVIOUS CITY EMPLOYEES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of giving the preference of employment over new employees to all previous employees who were let go by the city where said employees have a good record as city workers.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, this is another weekly order in reference to employees who have worked faithfully for fifteen or twenty years for the city in many cases and have been let go, and when it came to the question of putting on additional employees, new employees were put into the service. It does seem to me that old and faithful employees in such cases should at least be given the preference.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

WIDENING OF FAY SQUARE.

Coun. SELVITELLA, for Coun. Green, offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Planning Board and Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of taking properties at the junction of Bunker Hill, Main and Medford streets for the purpose of widening Fay square and removing what is now known as "Dead Man's Corner," the expense of same to be taken care of out of P. W. A. funds.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

On motion of Coun. AGNEW, a recess was taken, subject to the call of the Chair, at 3.25 p. m. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President FITZGERALD at 4.03 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. GALLAGHER, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on order (referred today) that Mayor consider advisability of conferring with Chief Justice of Superior Court re recent suggestion of Committee on Courts of Chamber of Commerce that central pool of jurors for Suffolk County be arranged,—recommending reference to the Committee on County Accounts.

Report accepted; said reference ordered.

2. Report on order (referred today) that Superintendent of Public Buildings be requested to furnish Council with information re city buildings occupied by veteran organizations, expense to city for care, rental and extent of use, etc.—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted and the order was laid on the table, on motion of Coun. TOBIN.

3. Report on petitions (referred today) for children under fifteen years of age to appear at places of public amusement, viz.: Aaron Richmond, Symphony Hall, February 16; National Legion Post No. 128, E. P. Tileston Hall, March 1,—recommending that leave be granted under usual conditions.

Report accepted; leave granted under usual conditions.

4. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred today) that sum of $14,000 be appropriated, to be expended by Municipal Employment Bureau,—that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, it has been the practice of the body since I have been a member, when a request has come in from this department, to give small amounts at a time, with the understanding that if that is done we can expect a little service from the Bureau. This Bureau has been the subject of all kinds of criticism since I have been in the Council. I think there should be at least enough money there to keep them going for awhile, and I would make the motion that the appropriation be cut down from the amount called for to $5,000.

Coun. GOLDMAN—Mr. President, I am opposed to cutting down the amount proposed in this order at all. At present, I know that the Bureau is without any funds whatever. They are doing a great job down there, in spite of statements to the contrary. On the snow situation they put thousands at work, and in other respects they have been doing a good job. So I suggest that we do not cut them down but give the entire amount.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, it is my opinion that under the new leadership of the Employment Bureau, now headed by a man versed in that line of work, we have been getting better results than we ever did before. If we simply continue to appropriate small amounts from time to time, it really sets them back, because they cannot figure more than from day to day. We don't do that with any other city department, to my knowledge, and I don't know why we should do it with the Employment Bureau.

Coun. Roberts' motion to reduce the amount to $5,000 was lost.

The order, as reported, was adopted, Yeas 18, nays—Coun. Norton, Roberts—2.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS

Coun. GOLDMAN, for the Committee on Claims, submitted report on petition of Edmund Currie (referred December 17, 1934) to be reimbursed for amount of judgment issued against him on account of acts as operator of motor vehicle belonging to City of Boston, Public Works Department, Sanitary Division, March 2, 1934, recommending the passage of the accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of thirty dollars be allowed and paid to Edmund Currie in reimbursement for amount of judgment issued against him on account of his acts as operator of a motor vehicle belonging to the City of Boston, Public Works Department, Sanitary Division, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund, when made. Report accepted; order passed.

ABATEMENTS BY BOARD OF ASSESSORS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Assessors, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to furnish to the City Council a list of all abatements of five thousand dollars or more in assessments made during the fiscal year of 1934 by the Board of Assessors, setting forth the name, street and number and the ward, to the end that the City Council may have complete information.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

GAS RATES FOR CITY.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Council Committee on Lighting be requested to make arrangements to meet as soon as possible to act on the so-called new proposal regarding gas rates to be charged to the City of Boston.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I understand that the Boston Consolidated Gas Company is offering a new schedule of rates for the lighting of Boston streets, reducing the cost $500 a week. Whether that is retroactive I don't know. But it seems to me that this is a matter that should be at least acted upon as soon as possible.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PREFERENCE TO SOUTH BOSTON RESIDENTS.

Coun. KERRIGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with the Federal Housing authorities with a view to assuring those residents now living in the area to be developed in South Boston of preference in the matter of housing when the project has been completed.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPTANCE OF CENTRAL STREET, WARD 20.

Coun. FINLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out Central street, Ward 20, as a public highway.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. FINLEY, at 4.15 p. m., to meet on Monday, February 11, 1935, at 2 p. m.

MAYOR MANSFIELD ISSUES STATEMENT ON PLAY CENSORSHIP.

Upon February 6 Mayor Mansfield issued the following statement:

With regard to an article appearing in a morning newspaper relative to the play "Sailor Beware," the Mayor said that the matter of banning this play in Boston had not come before the official Board, which is composed of Chief Justice Bolster of the Municipal Court, the Police Commissioner and the Mayor, and that Mr. McNary had not notified the theater involved that the play would not be allowed to be presented in Boston.

The Mayor further stated that the position taken by Chief Justice Bolster at the time of the conference about the play "Within the Gates" was undoubtedly right and that the Board would not give advance opinions as to the propriety of any theatrical performances. All producers and theaters must decide for themselves whether a proposed play is proper for production in Boston and assume all risk of any consequences for producing an improper show.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

The Committee took up for consideration the several book orders laid over at the meetings of Oct. 15, Nov. 19, Dec. 17, and Dec. 27, 1934.

Question came first on the passage of the order offered at the meeting of Nov. 19, amending orders Nos. 2, 4, 5, and 13, as presented at the meeting of Oct. 15, by striking out the names of all books published by the John C. Winston Company.

The order failed of passage by the following vote:

YEAS—Dr. Lyons—1.

NAYS—Messrs. Hurley, Sullivan, Tobin, and Mackey—4.

Question then came on the passage of the order offered at the meeting of Nov. 19, 1934, amending order No. 2 as presented at the meeting of Oct. 15, by striking out the forty-five book limitation in the case of Russo's Nel Paese Del Sole, published by D. C. Heath and Company, cpt. 1934.

The order passed by the following vote:

YEAS—Messrs. Hurley, Lyons, Sullivan, Tobin, and Mackey—5.

NAYS—0.

Question then came on the passage of the fourteen book orders submitted by the Superintendent and laid over at the meeting of Oct. 15, 1934, as amended in the foregoing paragraphs.

In answer to roll call, the members voted as follows:

Mr. Hurley: Yes.

Dr. Lyons: No. Mr. Chairman, I'd like to explain my vote with a short statement. I am voting no, which means against all new authorizations or future authorizations of the Winston Company publications. I would like in the future to see all books purchased, where it is feasible and where it will not mean loss of money to the city, from concerns in Boston or as near Boston as possible, in order to help present and future labor conditions. This has been urged quite strongly by the labor organizations which have discussed the Winston Company at great length with this Committee. In the past I have repeatedly favored the purchase of all building materials from Boston concerns, wherever possible, in order to help local labor conditions, as evidenced by resolutions which I have from time to time introduced. So do I now feel regarding the purchase of books to be used in the Boston public schools. That is the explanation of my attitude toward the John C. Winston Company.

Mr. Sullivan: Yes.

Mr. Tobin: Yes.

Dr. Mackey: Yes.

The Chair declared the fourteen book orders as amended passed.

The Board took up for consideration order offered at the meeting of Nov. 19, 1934, which would strike from the present authorized list all books published by the John C. Winston Company.

The order failed of passage by the following vote:

YEAS—Dr. Lyons—1

NAYS—Messrs. Hurley, Sullivan, Tobin and Mackey—4.

Mr. Hurley: Mr. Chairman, referring to Dr. Lyons' statement I think it should appear on the record that there was some labor trouble with this plant which now has been straightened out.

Dr. Lyons: The situation was brought about by the presentation of the labor troubles by the Boston branch of the Central Labor Union, which caused a unanimous agreement of this Committee to drop the Winston Company books. That decision was later reversed by four members, I maintaining my original stand. My principal objection to the whole procedure is the fact that after the agreement was reached by the Committee, following a hearing to the Winston Company through its representatives, having been forced to sit in meeting some three or four hours listening to the presentation of the case against the Winston Company by the local labor officials, we were, I might say on a minute's notice, asked to reverse our decision regarding the Winston Company. This request was by telegram from Mr. McDonald of the Boston Allied Printing Trades Council who was then in Philadelphia. In view of the hours which we were forced to spend listening to the complaints, it seemed to me most inconsistent to request a reversal of judgment without any substantiation whatsoever as to the reasons why we should reverse our decision. That is what has disturbed me.

Mr. Tobin: Mr. Chairman, I would like to make my position clear. Sometime in the month of November, the Committee received a communication from the Boston Central Labor Union reporting a lockout at the Winston plant and requesting removal of the Winston books from the authorized list. Naturally the Committee wished to give the Winston Company opportunity to place their side of the story before the Committee, and I know I personally was motivated in my action by the President's attempt at this time to establish good working conditions for all people in employment throughout the country. It was my opinion that a lockout of employees who wanted to work, solely because they were members of a labor union, was contrary to the principles of the N. R. A. As soon as I determined that the lockout was an exaggerated condition and that actually these employees did leave the plant, I was prepared immediately to restore the Winston Company to good standing. I feel it is the duty of every governmental body to support the President in every way possible by insisting that organizations live up to all of the provisions of the NRA.

Mr. Hurley: I'd like to read into the records a paragraph from a letter dated Feb. 4, 1935, addressed to me on the letterhead of the Boston Allied Printing Trades Council, signed by Daniel J. McDonald, Executive Secretary:

"At a meeting of this Council held last night, I was directed to write to the secretary, and to each member of the Boston School Committee and tell them that the labor difficulties, as far as John C. Winston Co. is concerned, have been settled, and that all the books published by that company are now being printed and bound by union men and women entirely. The conditions there are now satisfactory to organized labor."

Dr. Lyons: I received a similar letter. That letter was only sent after the Winston books had been held up for a matter of about two weeks. The thing that struck me strongly was that during the long hours of debate between the Winston Company and the Central Labor Union we had from Philadelphia every representative of every labor organization that could possibly be brought on here, and no matter what evidence was introduced by the man who was on the job or whose job it was to look after these things, it was offset by Mr. McDonald and those present representing state and local unions. It seemed very strange to me. During that debate it was brought up by the Union representative very forcefully, that the proper procedure was to buy books from local concerns as near Boston as possible, instead of from such faraway places as Philadelphia. Now, notwithstanding all the opportunities that Mr. McDonald and those gentlemen present had to get what evidence they needed from those who came at some expense from Philadelphia, Mr. McDonald went to Philadelphia in person and after a brief interview with certain people in Philadelphia, and with no substantiation whatsoever, sent telegrams to this Committee asking that we do in two minutes what he had taken hours of our time to undo.

Mr. Sullivan: If I remember correctly, at the time we had the hearing with members of the Winston Company and labor representatives—at that meeting upstairs, the representatives both of the Union and of the Winston Company left us to return to Philadelphia. And didn't we agree at that time that we would await a decision sent on from Philadelphia, in part as to whether they had overcome the trouble to which Mr. Tobin referred, and in part as to whether the labor people in Boston were satisfied that union rules and regulations and N. R. A. codes were being carried out? I think we prolonged this discussion further than its value to this extent. We are buying books based on quality, not upon their place of manufacture. We are buying books for schools and school children, and in my opinion they should be the best books in quality and price that we can get, regardless of the place from which they come.

Dr. Lyons: Mr. Sullivan's theory on the purchase of books is proper and right. I specifically said that where it is feasible and where it will cause no loss to the city of Boston—we should buy from those who can sell books at the lowest cost—if we have such concerns in Boston or nearby, we should purchase from them.

Question came on the passage of orders submitted and laid over at the meetings of Nov. 19, 1934, Dec. 17, 1934, and Dec. 27, 1934, authorizing revised editions of certain text books.

The orders collectively passed by the following vote:

YEAS—Messrs. Hurley, Lyons, Sullivan, Tobin and Mackey—5.

NAYS—0

SOCIAL SERVICE WORK IN PUBLIC WELFARE DEPARTMENT OF CITY PROVIDES LIAISON LINK BETWEEN DESPAIR AND HOPE FOR THOSE IN NEED DURING THESE DAYS OF DEPRESSION AND SUFFERING — MAYOR MANSFIELD DISCUSSES DEPARTMENT'S SOCIAL SERVICE PROGRAM, WHICH IS BASED ON THEORY OF SOUND ECONOMICS FOR PLANNED RECONSTRUCTION — POINTS TO FACT IN RADIO ADDRESS THAT THE VISITOR IS THE SOCIAL ADJUSTER FOR THE INDIVIDUAL WITH PERPLEXITIES, IN WEEKLY BROADCAST OVER WNAC FROM CITY HALL STATION.

In his radio address on Tuesday, February 19, over Station WNAC, Mayor Mansfield spoke on Organization of Overseers of the Public Welfare Department as follows:

My Visitor.

The words "my visitor" are the theme song in the vocabulary of the thousands on public relief in the City of Boston today.

"Please, Miss, will you tell me where to get coal with this 'here piece of paper. Mah visitor gave it to me. She said mah house sure was cold when she came to see me yest'day morning'!"

A gentle-faced old colored woman laid a piece of paper on the information clerk's desk at the office of the Overseers of the Public Welfare, at 43 Hawkins street.

The tone of affectionate pride in her voice, as those words "mah visitor" slid melodiously from her tongue, seemed to imply that having a visitor was something to be very proud of, something that put her in a class with those who "belong."

A little, hesitant woman who asked the information clerk to direct her to the "medicine window" held a prescription in her hand, written by the Dispensary doctor, for her sick baby. It had been O.K.'d by her visitor and she mentioned this fact, as giving it additional worth.

"I saw my visitor. She gave me this paper," a man said gruffly as he pushed his way up to one of the attendants in the crowded corridor. "She said they were giving out food today. This is where she told me to come to get my order."

There was a challenge in his voice, but under its gruffness was a tangible fear. He seemed to expect someone to question his right to the precious slip that was to give him extra food for his family. He clutched it desperately, and his hunched shoulders and smouldering eyes showed that he was willing to fight for its possession, if he had to.

When he was assigned to a place in the line, before a window bearing the sign "Commodities," his aggressiveness slid from him like a cloak. His shoulders relaxed. He seemed to sink into a state of security, content to wait in the shuffling line until his turn came. His visitor hadn't failed him. He belonged in that line.

The visitor is the link in the chain that connects the family in need with the Welfare Department. She, or he, for there are many men visitors doing case work, and helping to meet the relief problem of the City of Boston, is just what the name implies, a visitor to those in need, who have sought the city's aid.

Visitors' Duties.

Each visitor is consultant and adviser to probably two hundred families. She meets her clients first when she is sent to study their claim to city relief. If the visitor is tactful, resourceful, human, and sympathetic — all of which qualities she is expected to possess and to cultivate — her first interview lays the foundation for a relation of confidence as between client and adviser.

In this first visit, she goes over the family's resources, while she notes its needs. She suggests other means of help — relatives, perhaps, who may aid, temporarily; insurance policies that she can have studied and that may reveal unsuspected accumulations. She inquires if the family is buying its own home, and, if so, she offers to refer the matter to the Department's Real Estate Division, to see if there may be some way of making the property, which had seemed only a burden, bring in the needed income. She questions whether any private agency has ever helped, and, if so, she may discover its willingness to step in again, in the capacity of friend in the present emergency.

If the family has waited until the last moment, as so often happens, and is in immediate need, then warmth and food are provided at once. Visitors report the amazing encouragement that the "emergency order" often gives. A fresh fire in the kitchen range, a kettle humming its friendly song, the relaxation that comes after a proper meal — these things bring courage and new ideas.

At the family conference with the visitor, someone may think of a relative who might help. "if the visitor wrote to her." Someone may suggest that the visitor approach a former employer and ask for part-time work, if he cannot take the wage earner back on full time.

MAYOR MANSFIELD PAYS GLORIOUS TRIBUTE TO SOLDIERS OF SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR—IN ADDRESS AT BATTLESHIP "MAINE" MEMORIAL EXERCISES THE MAYOR POINTS OUT IMPORTANCE OF THAT CONFLICT AND ITS INFLUENCE ON AMERICA AND THE ENTIRE WORLD—FOUGHT BY VOLUNTEERS AND TO A SUCCESSFUL CONCLUSION DESPITE THE FACT THAT IT WAS BRIEF—WHATEVER ELSE MAY BE SAID IT UNITED THE ENTIRE COUNTRY AND BLOTTED OUT ALL SECTIONALISM AND MADE ALL REALIZE THEY WERE AND ARE CITIZENS OF A UNITED STATES.

The following is the address of Mayor Frederick W. Mansfield at "Maine" Memorial Exercises at Faneuil Hall, February 15, on the Importance of the Spanish-American War.

For some unexplained reason there seems to be a notion among persons who have not thought about the subject that the Spanish-American War was a mere skirmish and not of very great importance. It is not because we are veterans of that war that we come to its defense but because the war really was of the very first importance. A few moments of thought and reflection as we recall the results which flowed from it will, I think, convince any fair-minded person of the truth of that assertion.

From the time of the American Revolution to the outbreak of the war with Spain our nation had been engaged in several wars but only one—the Civil War—has been considered as of major importance. But the War of 1812 was important as it established for all time the freedom of the seas for the American people. The Mexican War resulted in the acquisition of large areas of valuable territory. The Civil War was important because the very life of the nation itself was threatened by internecine strife where one half of the people was pitted against the remainder. But it was not until the war with Spain that the United States of America really took its place in the first rank among the nations of the world. Comparisons are always odious, but they are pardonable when they are the means of showing clearly the relative importance of the subjects compared. Thus, comparing the Spanish-American War with other wars, we who are veterans of that war assert that it was America's first war waged not in self-defense, not to establish some principle valuable to the nation, but the first war fought by Americans in the cause of humanity.

FOUGHT BY VOLUNTEERS.

Not only that but it was the first war that the world has ever known which was fought wholly by volunteers.

And the Spanish-American War was fought to a successful and decisive determination. It was not a drawn battle. We were the victors and we dictated the terms of settlement.

It was the first American war fought on foreign soil. Over 450,000 were engaged in the Spanish War, exceeding in number those engaged in the Revolution, the Mexican War or the War of 1812.

The losses in death from all causes were over 4 per cent as compared with $\frac{6}{10}$ of 1 per cent in the Civil War and $\frac{7}{10}$ of 1 per cent in the World War.

The pay was $15 a month as compared with $30 a month for participants in the World War. The cost of the war was $1,800,000,000 compared with $8,500,000,000 for the Civil War and over $50,000,000,000 for the World War.

As a result of the Spanish-American War property valued at $8,000,000,000 was acquired for the American Nation as compared with none for the Civil War and none for the World War.

61 per cent of those engaged in the Spanish War saw foreign service as against 40 per cent of the World War veterans.

The chief results of the Spanish War were:

1. The building of the Panama Canal shown to be necessary by the dash of the "Oregon" around the Horn under Commander-Captain Clark.

2. It was directly responsible for the passage of the National Defense Act.

3. The abolition of yellow fever and kindred diseases in the tropics were traceable to the Spanish War.

4. It destroyed factionalism and sectionalism and men from the North and South fought side by side in the common cause which united our people firmly under one flag.

5. It caused the improvement in maintenance of the Army and Navy and forced the formation of a sufficient standing army through training camps.

6. It marked the industrial rebirth of the South.

7. It taught the necessity of preparedness and enabled us to give a good account of ourselves in the World War, for the Spanish War was fought with poor equipment, impure food, antiquated guns and black powder.

8. Although the war with Spain was over in seven months yet that war, coupled with the Philippine Insurrection, lasted over four years compared with one year and seven months for the World War and four years for the Civil War.

9. And the veterans of the Spanish-American War received no bonus, no war risk insurance, no adjusted compensation, no vocational training and no hospitalization until 1922, twenty-five years after the close of the war.

TO VINDICATE VETERANS.

I repeat that these statistics are not given for the insidious purpose of drawing parallels favorable to the veterans of the Spanish War, but merely to vindicate the veterans of that war and to show that although the war was short it was of the utmost importance. And whether it was short or long the fact remains that the men who volunteered to go to the front in that war volunteered for whatever might be in store for them. That it was to be a short war was not known to them and their action in coming to the defense of their country and to fight in the cause of humanity is not to be lightly passed over by words indicating that the Spanish War was merely a skirmish. Let us remember that it was thought at the outset that the Civil War would be over in a very short while and that when President Lincoln called for volunteers, the enlistment was for three months only, as he thought it was easily possible that the rebellion would be suppressed in that very short time.

But veterans of all wars, there is glory enough for all. Let us remember only that we are citizens of the United States, glad to be numbered among the veterans who have fought in defense of their country.

PRADO IN NORTH END NAMED PAUL REVERE MALL.

The trustees of the White Fund met on February 18 at three o'clock, with all members present, the Mayor, Bentley Warren as president of the Boston Bar Association, Eliot Wadsworth as president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, John I. Fitzgerald as president of the Boston City Council, Charles J. Fox as City Auditor.

They voted to name the so-called Prado in the North End, the Paul Revere Mall. The matter of purchasing and erecting the statue of Paul Revere by the sculptor Cyrus Dallin came before the trustees and after discussion it was voted that the trustees were of the opinion that George White had not intended the income of the fund created by his bequest should be used in purchasing or erecting statues.

BROADCAST BY MAYOR.

Visitors will tell you that in nine cases out of ten their first visit seems to bring renewed courage. The very fact that someone from outside comes to see the family and to discuss its needs sympathetically is a tremendous help. Of course, it is a greater help that this "someone" is aware of possibilities and in touch with resources. The family's S. O. S. has been answered by the Welfare Department's signal "We Stand By."

Actual enlistment on the Welfare rolls is made after the visitor has satisfied herself and ultimately those under whose direction she works—the senior visitor and the assistant supervisor at district headquarters—that the applicant should become the city's client.

Under ideal conditions, the visitor plans with the family to develop resources, so that as soon as possible they will become independent. Her care should extend to watching over their health, trying to supplement the "allowance," so that it is at least enough to provide positive necessities. Her ministrations should have the effect of giving the family a new human contact, which promises prospects of self-help. She may bring to the surface some latent talent or ability that may lead to special courses of study to prepare the owner of this talent for the better days that are ahead. She can give new courage to the older members of the family who have borne the major burdens and responsibilities through depression years.

VARIOUS DIVISIONS.

Through the various divisions of the Department of Public Welfare, Insurance, Real Estate, Employment, and now the new Division of Nutrition and Medical Social Work, she is supported by the knowledge and resources of a staff of consultants in these fields. Then, too, she holds the key to the friendly cooperation of private welfare agencies, which so often generously supplement her work with special aid.

"Yes, Miss, we did hold out a long time; Jim and I didn't like the idea of welfare. We never would have given in if it hadn't been for the children. But we haven't got the right to hold out on them any longer."

There was visible need here, a sick baby, no fuel in the house, clothing that had held together nobly, but that, like its wearers, refused longer to bear the strain. This situation obviously called for immediate help. The man and his wife had held out too long.

The visitor's experienced eye told her the baby was verging on a critical illness. The doctor must be called at once on an "emergency." A grocery order was given. Fuel was provided. As bad as the situation was, it would have become infinitely worse if the visitor had not arrived.

Jim drops into the district office a few weeks later for a chat. His visitor is trying, through the Employment Division, to get him a regular job, and he is going every day to the city yards and "working out" the aid he is getting. He works four days a week in return for city aid, but on his day off he looks for real work—and with what new courage!

"It isn't much we can do, Miss, but just say 'Thank you,'" he says, awkwardly, as he gets up to leave. "You've sure been awfully good to us. We were about all in when you came—," and he gulps hard and wrings her hand until it hurts.

The elderly couple live on the third floor, top, in a comfortable furnished room. No visible signs of want here. But quivering faces show that fear is gripping their hearts, while they tell how their little savings bank account had dwindled to a few dollars, and whisper that the landlady had not been paid for a month.

HIGH STANDARD OF SERVICE.

The first thing is to allay their fear, to let them know that something will be done to help them and that they are not alone in the world.

Then the visitor questions gently, while she thinks, rapidly, of possibilities. Are there relatives who can help? Do the old people come within provisions of Old Age Assistance? Will a private agency step in and relieve them? Is it best for them to go on Welfare, or is there a private home where they can be cared for and be happy.

It is a different story entirely, and here tact and good judgment play such an important part in deciding with them what to do for this elderly couple. Again the visitor is the adviser, consultant, friend, and, later, the dispenser of help.

All the stories are different, just as all lives are different, but beneath all of them is the acute immediate need of counsel and advice, as well as of physical necessities.

The Department of Public Welfare has set up a high standard for rendering service to its clients. This service presupposes and requires the administration of trained social workers, or of those with the equivalent of such training, who are fitted by their outlook, experience and personality to carry on this relationship of intimate personal adviser to those in need. Its policy is not only to relieve, through the "bread alone" method, which may leave the sufferer only slightly better off physically, and perhaps worse off mentally and spiritually when such aid is no longer accorded, but its aim is to build up lowered resistance, to inject courage, to foster independence, so that eventually the family may be restored to its former self-supporting status.

The ideals of the service are high. The staff is valiantly striving to meet them, in the face of all the difficulties born of a crisis which has frequently warped the point of view of its victims, and has piled up perplexities for the individual and problems for the social adjuster.

Back of the department's social service program is a theory of sound economics for planned reconstruction. All the divisions are working towards the one end—that of promoting ultimate independence. Better housing, better health, better teeth, applied medical-social science, and correct food habits—these will help to restore to normal almost any family stricken by depression.

By suggesting possible resources of outside aid, securing loans or accumulations on insurance policies, adjusting real estate matters, studying the client's work-history and capacities, the department is trying now to develop new lines of self-help, so that it can tide its people safely over the readjustment period that is coming, and avoid the danger of creating a new permanently dependent group.

Standards set for social service workers who are the intermediaries in this vast program are high. Their task is more a vocation than a job. Unconsciously, the old colored woman pictured their embodiment when she said softly and proudly, "Mah visitor gave it to me."

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 21.

The following changes in broadcasting messages from the Bureau of Operations to radio patrol cars are hereby made:

The dispatcher at the Bureau of Operations shall henceforth announce streets, avenues, etc., by name, thereby discontinuing the use of the code in this respect, with the exception that the radio car and sector designations shall be retained and broadcast as heretofore.

All orders, rules and regulations inconsistent herewith are hereby rescinded.

This order is in confirmation of message broadcast from the Bureau of Operations to all radio cars at 6.19 p. m., February 17, 1935.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH J. LEONARD,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 22.

A trial board consisting of Captains McGrath, Gleavy and O'Connell, having heard by reference a complaint made by Harry N. Dickinson, captain, Division 11, against Charles O. Wentworth, patrolman, Division 11, for alleged violation of the rules and regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge: Conduct unbecoming an officer.

Specification: In that on the seventh day of February, 1935, the said Patrolman Charles O. Wentworth, while in uniform, but not on duty, did enter a tavern licensed for the sale of intoxicating liquors at 934 Dorchester avenue, and did drink two glasses of intoxicating liquor there in full view of the public, and, further, that the said Patrolman Charles O. Wentworth, while in the tavern at 934 Dorchester avenue, did, without right and not in the performance of any police duty, assault one Joseph M. Devin. All tending to bring into disrepute and criticism his associates in the department and the Police Department as a whole,— has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

"The Board having heard and carefully considered all the evidence as presented, finds the said Patrolman Charles O. Wentworth guilty as charged. There was some discrepancy in the testimony in regard to the assault. However, the officer admitted that he did grab hold of the person alleged to have been assaulted, with the purpose of ejecting him from the premises of the tavern. The Board realizes that entering a place where intoxicating liquors are sold, whether on or off duty, for other than police business, while in uniform, is a serious offense and one which would warrant imposition of the extreme penalty of dismissal, but in view of the recommendation of the officer's captain, the Board respectfully recommends that the said Patrolman Charles C. Wentworth be ordered to perform 210 hours of punishment duty."

The commissioner accepts the finding and the recommendation of the trial board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman Charles O. Wentworth be ordered to perform 210 hours of punishment duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH J. LEONARD,
Commissioner.

JAMAICA SPENDS $1,000,000 ANNUALLY ON ROAD CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE.

Jamaica, an English possession, has a highway system which is almost entirely constructed of waterbound macadam, some 70 miles of which has been surface-treated. Many of the roads are under the supervision of the Department of Public Works and various parochial boards. There are about 2,500 miles of bridle and foot paths. The highway system connects all parts of the island in a very satisfactory manner, and the problem is not that of the construction of new roads, but the improvement of old ones, the surfacing and widening of these roads, and protective coatings. The roads are well maintained and, as there are not many heavy trucks, the maintenance is satisfactory. There are approximately 4,000 miles of highways, or 1.11 square miles of area to one mile of highway.

About a million dollars per year is spent on new construction and maintenance, the machinery used being both European and American.

PLANS MADE FOR SNOW REMOVAL IN EMERGENCIES—DEPARTMENTS AND THEIR SPECIAL DUTIES OUTLINED BY MAYOR MANSFIELD.

Upon February 18 the Mayor issued the following statement:

Apparently the report of the Finance Commission favors the purchase of snow removal equipment to the extent recommended by the Mayor in the appropriation order which he sent to the City Council. But the Finance Commission apparently was not aware of the steps that had already been taken to organize the Public Works Department to cope adequately with the problem of snow removal. On January 26, two days after the storm, at a conference which, among other things, resulted in the appropriation order being sent to the City Council, steps were taken to organize the city.

Col. Thomas F. Sullivan of the Transit Commission and William P. Long of the Park Commission were asked to assist Public Works Commissioner Carven, who were advised also by Joshua Atwood and William J. Morrissey, all of whom have had years of experience in snow removal from city streets. As a result of this conference the city was divided into five districts and an engineer placed in charge of each, upon which rests the responsibility of snow removal. The districts and the engineers in charge are as follows:

Division Engineer Sullivan directly supervises all operations in the paving yards located in East Boston and Charlestown.

Division Engineer Reilly will directly supervise all operations in the South Boston and Dorchester district yards.

Division Engineer Dakin will directly supervise all operations in the Roxbury and West Roxbury district yards.

Division Engineer Post will directly supervise all operations in the Brighton and Hyde Park district yards.

This direct supervision embodies all snow removal, issuing of orders, employing hired trucks and supervising any emergency crew which may be placed in said yards.

All activities in the city proper will be directly supervised by Division Engineer Atwood.

The plowing in all districts will be handled directly by Chief Engineer Morrissey of the Paving Division.

The suggestion of the Finance Commission that a board of experts should be organized, comprised of experienced city officials and officials of large transportation companies, is good but not new. The Boston Elevated Railway Company has always cooperated with city officials and has been very generous in allowing the city to use some of its snow-removal machinery. It is the only large transportation company that has had any great experience in snow removal in the streets of Boston or is equipped in any degree whatever to remove snow itself. The steam railroad companies cannot help in these problems as they have had no experience whatever in removing snow from city streets.

I have already publicly stated that a division of the Public Works Department would be formed before next winter and a thorough and comprehensive campaign prepared so that future storms may be met with methodical and effective treatment.

SUMNER TUNNEL REVENUE.

The following communication was received from the Public Works Department by the Mayor:

Boston, February 14, 1935.

To His Honor the Mayor.

The receipts from tolls at the Sumner Tunnel during the week from February 4 to February 10, inclusive, were as follows:

February 4	$1,817 80
February 5	1,712 95
February 6	1,654 00
February 7	1,745 60
February 8	1,835 50
February 9	1,825 20
February 10	1,583 35

$12,174 40

The total amount received to date is $329,989.75. Our best estimate at this time is that the daily revenue required should amount to $3,140 in order to meet expenses, etc. This would make the weekly revenue $21,980. The revenue actually received for the week ending February 10, as per the above statement, amounted to $12,174.40, indicating a deficit for the week of $9,805.60, or for the thirty-two weeks in which the tunnel has been in operation a deficit of $373,390.25.

Yours respectfully,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

CIRCULAR LETTER NO. 19.

CITY OF BOSTON,
MAYOR'S OFFICE, February 14, 1935.

To All the Heads of Departments.

There appears to be a lack of uniformity in the different city departments relative to work on Saturdays. As the result of an order of the Mayor dated April 21, 1933, and contained in circular letter No. 19, and in order to offset to some degree the pay cuts which were then put into effect, some departments were allowed to install a five-day week, while the employees in other departments continued to give full service. Now that the pay cuts have been restored, it is obvious that there is no longer any excuse for a five-day week and it is equally obvious that every city employee ought to give full service in return for full compensation.

To this end, all heads of departments are hereby instructed to require all employees in their department to give full service in accordance with the custom existing prior to the date that the above mentioned circular letter was issued.

Yours truly,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Office of the Mayor, February 11, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am transmitting herewith information filed with me, at my request, by the City Treasurer in response to the order adopted by your honorable body on February 4 and showing the record of investments and securities purchased and sold by the Sinking Funds Commissioners of the City of Boston from January 1, 1930, to December 31, 1934, with the interest rate, yield, maturity, par value, and cost to the Sinking Funds Commissioners and the names of the brokers connected with the various transactions.

A copy is inclosed for each member of the Council.

Respectfully,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

CARFARE, ANDREW SQUARE TO NORTHAMPTON STREET AND HARRISON AVENUE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 8, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit a letter from the Boston Elevated Railway, relative to your order of January 21, 1935, concerning proposed reduction in carfare from 10 cents to 5 cents on the line running from outside Andrew Square Station to the junction of Northampton street and Harrison avenue.

Respectfully,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Boston Elevated Railway,
Public Trustees,
Park Square Building,
Boston, February 7, 1935.

Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,
Assistant Secretary, Office of the Mayor.

Dear Sir,—Replying to your letter of January 28, the trustees considered at their meeting this week the request of the City Council for a five-cent local fare on the car line from outside Andrew Square Station to the junction of Northampton street and Harrison avenue.

The car line involved operates between City Point and Dudley Street Station and passes through Andrew Square Station. There is now a local five-cent fare on the line between City Point and the Andrew Square Station.

We have found it to be practically impossible to collect ten-cent fares from through riders on lines having two local fare zones, and when a line passes through a prepayment area it is even more difficult to collect proper fares.

A local fare could be established between Andrew Square Station and the junction of Northampton street and Harrison avenue by dividing the through City Point-Dudley Street Station line into two sections, that is, say, into two separate lines—one to operate between Dudley street and Andrew Square Station and the other between Andrew Square Station and City Point. This would mean that through riders would have to change at Andrew Square Station, and the trustees believe it would inconvenience so many people that it would not be a practical thing to do.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD DANA,
Executive Vice President and General Manager.

TRANSFERS WITHIN HOSPITAL APPROPRIATION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 7, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—Following excavations made at the City Hospital in connection with the construction of the front section of the Kitchen Building, certain structural defects were disclosed which officials of the Building Department of the city feel should be removed. According to the architect and engineer in charge of the building construction, to remedy conditions as they now exist will necessitate the expenditure of between $15,000 and $18,000. Since the appropriation for the Kitchen Building is almost entirely encumbered, it will be necessary, before the proposed work can be undertaken, to provide the additional amount required. It so happens that there are balances remaining in three hospital appropriations which are no longer required, owing to the completion of the work under the items in which these balances now exist. The items and balances are as follows:

New Administration Building, Furnishing and Equipping.....	$4,927 68
Pathological Building.....	10,013 50
Surgical Building, Furnishing and Equipping.....	2,110 58

These three balances total slightly in excess of $17,000, a figure within the estimate of the architect as to the probable cost of the proposed work. Since the balances are no longer required, I am submitting herewith an order providing for their transfer to the appropriation for the Kitchen Building against which the proposed work will be charged. I respectfully recommend adoption of this order by your honorable body.

Respectfully,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for New Administration Building, Furnishing and Equipping, $4,927.68; Pathological Building, $10,013.50; Surgical Building, Furnishing and Equipping, $2,110.58, to the appropriation for Kitchen Building, etc., $17,051.76.

Referred to Executive Committee.

ENGROSSING OF RESOLUTIONS.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the resolutions adopted on December 29, 1934, in behalf of Coun. Goldman and Dowd be suitably engrossed, and a copy furnished to the above named councilors.

Referred to Executive Committee.

STUDY OF LIGHTING SITUATION.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Department be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to study the lighting situation with a view towards relocating certain lighting units now in effect.

Coun. BRACKMAN.—Mr. President, I have observed, the last couple of years, that there are many places in Boston where there seem to be more lights than are necessary, and of course in other places we have not suitable lights. I think a study by the Public Works Department of this situation and the relocation of street lights, so that they are placed where they are needed, would help out on the lighting situation.

The order was passed under a suspension of the rule.

GAS AND ELECTRIC RATES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 11, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a report from the Corporation Counsel in compliance with the order adopted by your honorable body on January 14, 1935, showing the steps that had been taken in regard to the gas and electric light rates in Boston.

For your further information I beg to advise you that I have conferred, and expect to confer further, with the officials of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company and the Edison Electric Illuminating Company in an endeavor to secure better contracts with lower rates for the City of Boston.

Respectfully,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, February 11, 1935.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—I have received a memorandum from your office requesting a report from me with regard to the following order passed by the City Council on January 14, 1935:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to advise the City Council as to what steps he is taking in regard to the gas and electric light rates in Boston."

Chapter 365 of the Acts of 1934, which was approved by the Governor on June 29, 1934, provides as follows:

"Chapter one hundred and sixty-four of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section one hundred and nineteen, as appearing in the Tercentenary Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following: Section 119. No charge for the use of a meter or for other similar purpose covering any portion of twelve consecutive months in connection with the supply of gas or electricity for domestic use only shall be made by a corporation, other than a municipality, furnishing the same, in addition to the charge for the gas or electricity delivered, if the consumer during such time uses electricity to the value of nine dollars or gas to the value of seven dollars; provided that, subject to the approval of the department, rates may be graduated according to the quantities of gas or electricity used, and, subject to like approval, such a charge may be made to customers furnished gas or electricity seasonally or under promotional rates or room or area rates. Whoever makes a charge contrary to this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars. This section shall not apply to charges for sale or rental of appliances."

After the passage of said act, the Boston Consolidated Gas Company filed a new schedule of rates to take effect September 27, 1934, whereby 50 cents was added to the cost of the first 100 cubic feet of gas for general domestic use. You promptly filed a complaint under section 93 of chapter 164 of the General Laws, and the Department of Public Utilities began an investigation on its own motion, with regard to said schedule of rates.

An examination of the returns of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company disclosed that approximately 50 per cent of its operating expenses were for the purchase of gas from the New England Fuel and Transportation Company until July 5, 1934, and since July 5, 1934, from the Massachusetts Gas Companies. Further investigation disclosed that the capital stock of both Boston Consolidated Gas Company and New England Fuel and Transportation Company was wholly owned by the Massachusetts Gas Companies, a voluntary trust; and that sometime in 1934 the assets of the New England Fuel and Transportation Company were transferred to its parent, Massachusetts Gas Companies.

On January 7, 1935, the date set for hearing on your complaint and on the department's investigation, I presented a motion that you be permitted to intervene in the matter of the department's own investigation, which motion was allowed. I also presented three motions (copies of which are attached, marked Appendix A, B and C, respectively), one, that the department investigate and determine for itself, two, that the department require the Boston Consolidated Gas Company to furnish, and three, that the department require the Massachusetts Gas Companies to furnish information concerning the cost to the Massachusetts Gas Companies of gas sold by it to the Boston Consolidated Gas Company and other detailed information necessary or desirable for the determination of said cost.

In support of said motion I presented a memorandum of law (a copy of which is attached, marked Appendix D), to show the power and duty of the department to obtain and compel the production of the specific information sought by the motions. After argument, the department ordered the proceedings continued for the purpose of considering said motions to Tuesday, January 29, 1935.

On January 29, 1935, the department made the following order for a preliminary investigation by its own officers and employees of the books, contracts, records and physical property of the Massachusetts Gas Companies, the first time, I understand, that such an investigation of the Massachusetts Gas Companies has been directed:

"Ordered, That the department, without passing upon the materiality of the inquiry so far as it affects the rates to be charged to consumers by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, hereby determines that an examination be made by its own officers and employees of the books, contracts, records and physical property of the Massachusetts Gas Companies to find out whether or not and to what extent it is possible to ascertain the cost of gas manufactured by them and sold to the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, and, pending such examination, the motions made by the Mayor of the City of Boston shall stand for further consideration."

On the same date, the department continued hearings on your complaint and its own investigation as to the rates of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company until February 28, 1935, when, it is contemplated, a report will be available from the department's officers and employees with respect to the foregoing order.

In the meantime, I had been authorized by you to retain the services of Dr. John Bauer, nationally known utility rate expert, to assist me in the accounting and engineering aspects of the investigation of the rates of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, as well as to make a preliminary study of the rates of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston and the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company in your drive for reduced utility rates.

The following is a brief biographical sketch of Dr. John Bauer:

SALE OF LAND, LONGWOOD AVENUE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 11, 1935.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—On January 21, 1935, I submitted to your Honorable Body an order for authority to sell the abandoned fire house at the corner of Brookline and Longwood avenues in Boston for $15,000. I am informed that the only opposition to the order presented to the committee to which it was referred emanated from the American Legion Post which occupies part of these quarters, and that the Post feels that it will be ousted from the premises.

It was not my intention to deprive this American Legion Post of quarters and I beg to inform the Council that if the order is adopted I shall endeavor to find other quarters equally as good for the accommodation of the Post.

I desire also to call to the Council's attention the fact that the city has upon its hands a large number of parcels of real estate consisting of abandoned fire houses, police stations, school-houses, land taken for school and park purposes and never used, and real estate taken for nonpayment of taxes, the title to all of which being in the city means that the city is deprived of all revenue in connection therewith. And it is obvious that the sale of these various properties to private owners would convert nonpaying property to tax-yielding real estate and that in the present financial condition of the city every effort should be made to secure as large a revenue as possible.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

SEWERAGE, WARD 12.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to lay out a plan to improve the present sewerage system in Ward 12 section of Roxbury, for submission as an E. R. A. project.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, just a word in regard to that order. We still have, in part of our Ward 12 section of Roxbury some of the old sewerage system that has been there probably two hundred years, and it is hardly adequate to handle the present situation. I am asking his Honor the Mayor here to submit an E. R. A. project in order that we may install an up-to-date sewerage system in Ward 12 of Roxbury. The order was passed under a suspension of the rule.

STANLEY RINGER AND CHESTNUT HILL PLAYGROUNDS.

Coun. AGNEW offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with loam the Stanley Ringer Playground, Ward 21.

Ordered, That the Park Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to provide in his budget for at least one hundred settees to be placed at the Chestnut Hill Playground and the Stanley Ringer Playground, Ward 21.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

RE-REGISTRATION OF WELFARE RECIPIENTS.

Coun. AGNEW offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Welfare Department, through his Honor the Mayor, order the immediate re-registration of all recipients of public welfare aid, such re-registration to take place in the district in which the recipient resides.

Coun. AGNEW—Mr. President, that is an order similar to one I introduced and that was passed by the Boston City Council last year, but up to the present time no report has been made by the Welfare Department to the City Council as to whether or not this work has been done. I think it is about time that we received a definite report and definite action from the Welfare Department in regard to this matter.

Order passed under suspension of the rule.

NAMES OF SNOW REMOVAL CONTRACTORS.

Coun. AGNEW offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be instructed to furnish the City Council with the names and addresses of all contractors engaged in the removal of snow during the recent storm.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

E. R. A. PROJECT FOR SINGLE PEOPLE.

Coun. AGNEW offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to present an E. R. A. project for the benefit of employing single men and single women.

Coun. AGNEW—Mr. President, there is no doubt that about all the councilors, the same as myself, have had many calls from single men and single women wishing employment under the E. R. A. We have been met by the proposition in the past that as long as these men and women are single, there is no chance for them to be so employed. I am asking the Mayor, in this order, to assist the single men and single women of Boston by furthering a project whereby they might be employed and whereby the E. R. A. officials would give them some consideration in the matter of employment.

Order passed under suspension of the rule.

REDUCTION OF HOME MORTGAGE INTEREST RATES.

Coun. AGNEW offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor instruct the Legislative Agent of the City of Boston to seek and work for the enactment of legislation whereby the rate of interest on home mortgages will be reduced from 6 per cent to 5 per cent.

Coun. AGNEW—Mr. President, just a word on that order. At the present time there is legislation sought to be enacted whereby the rate of interest on mortgages, particularly the mortgages on homes, be reduced from 6 to 5 per cent. There was a hearing in regard to that particular bill a short while ago, I believe in the past few days, and the opposition came from those interested in the banks. The average rank and file of home owners today are burdened with the interest that they are bound to pay as a result of existing mortgages, while at the present time, the same banks that insist upon a payment of 6 per cent interest on a mortgage, with no reduction, have reduced the rate of interest they pay depositors, particularly on a savings account. For the interest of all the taxpayers of the City of Boston, particularly the home owners, I think this is a very favorable bill and should be given some consideration by the Mayor and the Legislative Agent, to see that this particular bill is enacted.

Order passed under suspension of the rule.

torium legislation that protects the banking fraternity of the community as well as giving the small home owner a better chance to retain his home, then surely Massachusetts should take advantage of any such legislation. I introduced here a year ago a bibliography of the mortgage moratorium literature that was compiled by Fiorella LaGuardia in the last month that he was in Congress, on this important subject. I asked the Mayor to take an interest in this also, before the legislative meeting was held, but not one person representative of the city appeared to further or sponsor that important bit of legislation.

LOWER ELECTRIC AND GAS RATES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the matter of recommending to the Legislature the enactment of legislation that may lead to lower electricity and gas rates in Boston.

The PRESIDENT—Have we not had that before the Committee on Lighting?

Coun. NORTON—Yes, but something new develops each week in connection with it.

The PRESIDENT—All right.

Coun. NORTON—Yes, Mr. President, we have had it before, and I think we are going to have it as long as Norton comes into the Council until we get action. I want to know, Mr. President, and I am asking the Mayor of Boston why it is, as shown in this publication which I just received, issued by Uncle Sam, comparing the electric rates in Boston with those in other American cities, we are paying what we are. Electricity should be as free as water. Everybody in Boston gets water, a hundred gallons for consumption daily, for 1½ cents. Imagine what we would pay for water if Insull had it. How are we going to exist as a manufacturing, industrial community here isolated from the rest of the country, without proper rates? We are shut off by the Berkshire Hills and the ocean and by Canada, and how can we depend on manufacturing if the power rates here are so much higher than they are in other cities? I am introducing here this latest electric rate survey by the Federal Power Commission, showing that Boston has one of the highest costs in all America for the rates in a home and for the rates for manufacturing. I am also introducing here, Mr. President, the latest study made by the Department of Public Utilities of Cincinnati, Ohio, which is issued to the public, and in which they compare Boston rates with the rates that a family pays in New York, in Chicago and in Frisco. And I am asking the question, Mr. President, why it is that the Mayor of Boston does not go aggressively to the Legislature and demand that some sort of legislation be enacted that will do something to relieve Boston of these high electric and gas rates that are throttling our industries here today. And, Mr. President, I understand that there is pending a conference between the Mayor of Boston and the representatives of the Edison Company in his office, for the purpose of considering making a contract for five years or whatever the term is, for electric lights, street lighting. Mr. President, before this city signs any contract with the power trust for electric lighting or for gas lighting or for power I think, in the interests of the city, it should be suggested to the Mayor that he get in touch with the Federal Power Commission. They have agents and experts who would come here to Boston and discuss this plan with the Mayor. I wish the Mayor would get in touch with Mr. David Lilienthal, executive head of the Tennessee Valley Authority, who knows much more about electric light rates in America than anybody else in the country. Mr. Lilienthal told me himself when he was in Boston five months ago, that he or one of his assistants would be very glad to come here and help us in this matter. I wish before signing a contract the Mayor would get in touch with the chairman of the New York Power Commission, who filed a brief two months ago in which he said that there was no reason why, instead of the City of Boston paying 6 cents a kilowatt hour for electricity, it should not pay 3½ cents. So, Mr. President, until something is done, I am going to stand here and reiterate each week that the people of Boston and our industries are bound to lose out under these costs that are being assessed for electricity. Here are two documents the like of which I have never seen before, that involved months and months of research, comparing what a Boston family pays for electricity with what families in every other American city of 100,000 population or more pay. I am going to turn those over to the City Clerk, Mr. President, and ask him to hand them down to the Mayor of Boston. I am sure the Mayor of Boston has never seen either one of them, because they are just out, and I would like the Mayor to see them.

The PRESIDENT—Councillor Norton, are you aware that his Honor said that he would have a conference tomorrow with the representatives of the lighting companies?

Coun. NORTON—Yes, that is why I am talking. I appreciate the purpose of the Mayor and your statement, but I am talking today before his Honor's meeting tomorrow. Thank you very much.

REPORT RE BONDING.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Finance Commission be requested to inform the Council as to the names and addresses of the individuals to whom was paid commissions on all bonding business having to do with the City of Boston by various insurance companies writing the bonds during the fiscal year 1934.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I have introduced orders asking for that information and I do not ever expect to receive it. And other councillors here have asked for it. It is either a long time coming or it is not coming at all. Furthermore, we are not a body that can find out the most important thing of all—Who got the cut? Who was the gentleman that got the commission on the bonding business of the city? That is the important thing and I think this body is entitled to know who these gentlemen are. Furthermore, Mr. President and gentlemen, I would like to say to his Honor the Mayor, and I doubt if he knows it, that where the Federal Government contributes 30 per cent of the cost of all P. W. A. contracts, it takes supervision, and if there is one man who objects to favoritism at all it is one Mr. Harold J. Ickes, Secretary of the Interior. It is a Federal matter and we are going to find out. We are going to find out who got these commissions. Order passed under suspension of the rule.

PREFERENCE IN EMPLOYMENT.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of at least giving preference in employment to those who served the city in the past over a long term of years and whose work was O. K. but who were let go during the first few months of this administration.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, this is my weekly order. Thirty years on the job for Mr. Bogan, thirty-one years for Mr. Balfe, and many years for all those other long-time city employees who have been laid off the pay roll. I ask the Mayor to forgive and forget. I have in my ward Old Calvary Cemetery and as you walk along there you see the political names on those grave stones of men who were only yesterday, it seems, in the Council and at City Hall, and prominent in the papers. You begin to wonder if it pays to go through life and work hard and serve the city. I am asking the Mayor to show a little preference toward these former city employees, such as Mr. Sullivan, who were let go in the first blush of the honeymoon of this administration, when they were cut from the pay roll; at least to give preference in employment to these men, provided their record with the city government was all right, over new employees.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, just to add to what the councillor said. If the Mayor does get started, I would like him to return the sixteen men from my ward who worked in the City Hospital, most of them fathers of families with six or seven children, getting $10.50, $12.50, or as high as $15 a week, who were glad enough to work for six days a week to keep themselves off the Welfare, and then were dropped, and are now back on Welfare. I saw one of them yesterday, who was formerly a very prominent man in my district, who lost his business and worked in the hospital for $16.50 a week. He is now on Welfare getting $15 a week and doing no work at all. Now all he asks is to be given the opportunity to go back working at the hospital for six days a week or to do any honest work in order to be off the Welfare; and if his Honor the Mayor does get benevolent, I hope he will take those men whom he penalized in our district, the only ward in the City of Boston that had but one head of a department who was removed and no head of a department and no men in the ward getting over $2,000 a year, many of them discharged; not because he owes it to me to keep them on the pay roll or discharge them, but because the ward, part of it Dorchester and part of it Old South Boston, gave him a 700 majority over a son of South Boston. Let me call to his mind that his reward to that ward that treated him so handsomely has been to penalize several underpaid men who today are hungry because of his administration.

Order passed under a suspension of the rule.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT EMPLOYEES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Health Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to deal liberally with those employees in his department who come in contact, in line of duty, with contagious diseases and who are taken down with said diseases.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, that order has to do with a nurse of eight years' experience in contagious diseases, who was stricken from the pay roll with no more consideration than the poor unfortunate that falls in the street, because she contracted tuberculosis. I think in contagious diseases that we should make a liberal allowance. I never knew about this nurse myself, but I have found out much in the past few months.

I find that Yale has a College of Nurses, and Miss Smith, the head of it, perhaps the leading authority on nursing today, informs me that all the employees in the Health Department, dealing with contagious diseases, should be treated liberally in the matter of time off. But they have been placed in the situation of receiving no more attention than the poor fellow receives in the street, who falls down. The woman I refer to has a ninety-year old father depending on her, and I think we should treat her a little more liberally. The Mayor of Boston feels that he has a good answer: that the girl did not receive it in the ward because she did not treat a patient in the bed; that, therefore, she could not catch the disease. But I have some very informative data from a number of people on that point as to the contagiousness of tuberculosis.

CITY LIGHTING CONTRACTS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of signing no contract for a continuance of electric lighting or gas lighting or other power contract over a period of years until first he has had a thorough study made of the matter.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I have talked enough on the power question.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

WREATH ON LINCOLN MONUMENT.

Coun. NORTON and GLEASON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of making proper arrangements to see to it that a wreath is placed upon the Lincoln Monument, Park square, tomorrow.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BAY VIEW BUS SERVICE.

Coun. KERRIGAN and DONOVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to increase the service on the Bay View bus line.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

LIGHTING, WARD 7.

Coun. KERRIGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to improve lighting conditions along Columbia road, from Edward Everett square to Upham's Corner, Ward 7.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BIDS ON HOSPITAL KITCHEN EQUIPMENT.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to furnish the following information to the City Council:

1. Whether or not the $35,000 appropriated for kitchen equipment was subject to open and competitive bidding.

2. If subject to competitive bidding, what company or companies received the contract?

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, in connection with that order you will recall that when the trustees of the Boston City Hospital who appeared before the committee were asked whether or not this $35,000 was to be subject to open bidding, they informed the members of the Council that it would absolutely be open to competitive bidding. We have failed to find any record in the City Record minutes as to when bidding was had upon these matters. I ask, therefore, that this order be referred to the Executive Committee so that it can be taken up with the trustees of the City Hospital.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SANDING OF STREETS.

Coun. FINLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to have streets where coasting is allowed sanded at least fifty feet from intersecting streets in an effort to prevent serious accidents to children using same.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

HOUSE BILL NO. 214.

Coun. FINLEY offered the following:
Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby favors the enactment of House Bill No. 214, entitled "An Act Regulating the Operation of Trains of Cars by Street Railway Companies."

Coun. FINLEY—Mr. President, this act, House Bill No. 214, has already passed the Massachusetts House of Representatives and will shortly come before the Senate. It was presented on petition of Representative Casey of Dorchester and requires the Elevated Railway Company to furnish a sufficient number of guards on trains operated by that and similar companies. The act proposes to amend chapter 161 of the General Laws by inserting after section 91 the following new section:

"Section 91A. Every company shall, during the operation by it of any train consisting of more than one car, cause to be stationed thereon one guard, or employee having similar duties, for every two cars on such trains. For each violation of this section the offending company shall forfeit the sum of $500 to the Commonwealth."

Now, Mr. President and gentlemen of the Council, under the present system of Elevated operation of trains, we have one guard for every four cars, the first and last car of those four cars having no protection whatever in the event of an emergency, there being no guard that they can get in contact with. The system is, therefore, a very dangerous one. In my rides back and forth daily on the Elevated I have seen many cases where serious accidents might result because of this, and even while this particular bill was under consideration in the House a very serious accident happened, which I feel quite sure was directly attributable to the system in vogue at the present time. I have in my hand a clipping from one of the Boston newspapers referring to a very severe accident to John Doherty of 61 Jamaica street, Jamaica Plain. He was dragged into the Washington Street Tunnel and critically injured before the train was brought to a halt. Later, doctors at the Boston City Hospital were forced to amputate his left leg in an effort to save his life. That accident was caused because of the fact that when the train started Doherty was caught in the door, his foot extending through to the car interior. That was the testimony of witnesses, who told of passengers in the car shouting for the motorman to stop when the train started. But before the motorman was finally able to stop the train, as soon as he heard what had happened, women screaming and men yelling when they realized what was happening, the injury had occurred. Doherty was on the last car of the train. He was taken to the Haymarket Relief Hospital by an ambulance, and operation was imperative, and another ambulance took him to the City Hospital, where he was placed on the operating table. Two fingers were also amputated from his left hand, which was badly crushed. I contend that, although this present system was put into effect two years ago in the interest of economy, it is against the safety of the public. I certainly hope that the Council will give this matter favorable consideration and will at the present time lend their support to the pending bill.

The order was referred to the Committee on Rules.

APPOINTMENT OF CHAUFFEUR-LABORERS.

Coun. DOHERTY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to appoint one hundred chauffeur-laborers in the Public Works Department at once.

Coun. DOHERTY—Mr. President, just a word on that order. I believe that quite a few members of the Council realize that most of the trucks operated for the City of Boston in the Public Works Department are being operated by Welfare men. I believe that they should be operated by civil service employees. That is my reason for introducing the order.

Coun. GOLDMAN—Mr. President, I want to add that anybody injured by recipients of aid in this way the city is not liable for, under a ruling of our Corporation Counsel. And so it is necessary that what is proposed here should be carried through.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

E. R. A. ALLOTMENTS.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with E. R. A. officials in the Boston district relative to preventing further failure each month to take up full E. R. A. allotments to the City of Boston, and if new projects are not promptly available then to make use of the available slack by added work days for men and women already assigned to projects on part time.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, the gentleman from an adjoining ward (Coun. Norton) who represented himself as coming from a ward where there are so many politicians, some of them dead in the graveyards out there, pointed out the necessity of the Mayor of Boston consulting with E. R. A. authorities in this city so that we may not again be put in the position of failing to use money appropriated by the United States Government for men needing employment in the City of Boston. This order that I have offered, I feel, will be a short cut to remedying the situation, because, as members of the Council are aware, many of the men on E. R. A. when first put to work on those projects were given four or five days work a week, which time has been gradually reduced until now they are getting four, six or seven days a month. I may be wrong, but it appears to me that in the closing days of any month, with perhaps a week or ten days left, when it becomes perfectly obvious that the City of Boston is not completely using the appropriation from the Federal Government, we do not need to go out with spyglasses to find new projects, but the thing can be handled, if deemed expedient so to do, by stepping up the thing and putting men who may have been getting but one or two days' work a week on additional time for the final week of the month. It seems to me that course could be adopted when it is evident that money is to be otherwise left at the end of the month.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

LA GRANGE STREET POLICE STATION.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be requested to re-establish Police Division 4 and to include in his P. W. A. program a sum sufficient to provide for the erection of a new police station on La Grange street to replace the old building.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION FROM ASSESSORS.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Assessors be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to furnish to the City Council forthwith the information requested in order passed as long ago as January 7, 1935, relating to the assessed value for 1932, 1933 and 1934 on each of 129 parcels of vacant land, printed in City Council minutes of January 7, 1935, as holding open-air parking space permits.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Adjourned at 5.03 p. m., on motion of Coun. GOLDMAN, to meet on Monday, February 18, 1935, at 2 p. m.

BOSTON IN LEAD IN CARING FOR HER NEEDY.

A letter from the United States Conference of Mayors, Paul V. Betters, Executive Director, showing the amounts contributed by the principal cities in the country to the Emergency Relief Administration, shows that Boston not only contributed more proportionately than any other city but actually contributed more than the city and county combined in the larger areas.

According to these figures, during all of 1933 Boston contributed $8,253,373.23 and during the first nine months of 1934, $8,668,416.78. This was 66.9 per cent of the entire sum contributed by the Federal and State Governments for emergency relief administration in Boston and it is a well-known fact that the State of Massachusetts contributed nothing.

URBAN POPULATION, APRIL 1, 1930.

As defined by the Census Bureau, the urban population is, in general, that residing in cities and other incorporated places having 2,500 inhabitants or more, the remainder being classified as rural.

The total urban population of the UNITED STATES is 68,954,823 (34,154,760 males and 34,800,063 females), of whom 62,836,605 (31,162,570 males and 31,674,035 females) are white; of these whites 52,109,746 (25,520,483 males and 26,589,263 females) are native; 33,497,232 (16,515,816 males and 16,981,416 females) of these latter are of native parentage and 18,612,514 (9,004,667 males and 9,607,847 females) are of foreign or mixed parentage; there are 10,726,859 (5,642,087 males and 5,084,772 females) foreign-born white; there are 5,193,913 (2,479,158 males and 2,714,755 females) Negroes; other races, 924,305 (513,032 males and 411,273 females).

The total urban population of New England is 6,311,976 or 77.3 per cent of the total population of New England. Of the 4,660,339 native white, 2,089,031 are of native parentage and 2,571,308 are of foreign or mixed parentage; foreign-born whites number 1,564,769; Negro, 81,443; other races, 5,425.

A SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy, there are twenty, nay a hundred, who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.

MAYOR MANSFIELD MAKES APPEAL FOR GREATER BOSTON—WANTS SPECIAL UNPAID COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE AND STUDY DESIRABILITY OF ENLARGING BOUNDARIES OF DISTRICT SO THAT LARGER COMMUNITY MIGHT BE BENEFITED—DOES NOT WANT ADJOINING COMMUNITIES TO LOSE AUTONOMY, BUT WOULD USE THE FORCE AND INFLUENCE OF GREATER POPULATION TO BRING BACK TO CITY AND NEW ENGLAND THE GLORY, INFLUENCE AND COMMERCIAL PRESTIGE THAT WAS HERS IN EARLIER DAYS—MAKES PLEA IN RADIO ADDRESS OVER WNAC NETWORK FROM CITY HALL.

The following is the radio address by Mayor Mansfield over Station WNAC, Tuesday, February 26, 1935:

Good afternoon, radio audience.

Today I am going to speak to you on the subject of Greater Boston. This afternoon at a meeting of the Joint Rules Committee of the Senate and House I spoke in favor of Senate Bill No. 226. That bill provides for the establishment of a special unpaid commission to investigate and study the desirability of enlarging the boundaries of the City of Boston and of incorporating with Boston certain other cities and towns under one municipal government or in a borough system. This is in the nature of a bill to create a Greater Boston.

I wish to impress upon all persons who are listening to me today the importance of creating a larger City of Boston. The effect on commerce and industry would be incalculable. One of the chief reasons for the falling off of population in Boston and for its loss of business and business prestige is the fact that we do not have weight enough in Washington to induce the members of the Interstate Commerce Commission to agree with our argument on the differential freight rates. It is, in my mind, one of the chief troubles with Boston and if we could only get back for the city the lost freight trade that we did have with foreign countries, I think a great many of Boston's troubles would disappear.

But, unfortunately, it is a huge job to get that trade back. The reason goes back almost sixty years, to 1876. At that time four of the great railroads of the country were in a rate war and after they had carried on that war for such a length of time that they found that all the railroads involved were losing money and that the only ones who were benefiting by the war were the shippers, these four railroads, none of which represented Boston or New England, got together in what was called a "preferential freight rate agreement." By that agreement all freight shipped from the central part of the country, known as the central shipping area, was given a preference of two cents per hundred pounds on all freight shipped to Philadelphia and three cents to Baltimore.

In other words, if a shipper sent his freight from Chicago to New York he would pay a certain amount per hundred pounds and if he sent it to Philadelphia he could send it for two cents per hundred pounds less and to Baltimore for three cents less. The result of that has been that a great deal of freight that formerly came through New York and into Massachusetts, and into Boston, to be shipped to European and other foreign countries, is now diverted to Philadelphia and to Baltimore. If we could have these differential freight rates abandoned and eliminated and have all cities on the Atlantic seaboard compete without discrimination, we would have much of the lost freight come back to Boston.

Disastrous to Boston.

Now the result of this differential rate, put into effect almost a half century ago, has been disastrous to Boston. When I was a boy in East Boston all of our wharves and freight sheds were busy and all of our grain elevators were filled. In East Boston we had a Cunard steamer in every week and it stayed there for a whole week. Then it sailed on Wednesday morning with a full cargo of grain. Today Boston is no longer a terminal for the Cunard Line. It is merely a port of call. The Cunard Line sends its steamers to New York and they merely stop here for a couple of hours from New York to Europe in order to pick up a few passengers. They can't get the freight they formerly got here and the result has been our wharves are idle, and our lots in the vast area of Boston that was formerly teeming with industry twenty-five, thirty or forty years ago are today empty and the men who own them can hardly find money to pay their taxes because they have no tenants and cannot collect rent.

Now, we have protested time and time again in these last fifty years and have tried to get the Interstate Commerce Commission, ever since it was created, to see our point of view but, apparently, our arguments are not given any weight and one of the reasons is that they look upon Boston as a provincial town. We are only about 780,000 in population, but if we could combine all the cities and towns within a ten or fifteen mile radius of Boston we would have a city here larger than Philadelphia. We would probably be the third largest city in the nation. Then our views would be respected because they would know in Washington that Boston was talking for a very large portion of the community. That would be one of the very first effects of a Greater Boston merger. It would give us the strength and weight of massed organization and the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington would be made to see that this district, in the northeastern part of the country, really amounted to something and was one of the really large cities of the world.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

MAYOR MANSFIELD CORRECTS IMPRESSIONS MADE POSSIBLE AS RESULT OF CITY COUNCIL'S DISCUSSION OF SNOW CONTRACT PAYMENTS—CHARACTERIZES STATEMENTS AS WILD AND TEAPOT TEMPEST LIKE—POINTS TO FUNCTIONS OF COUNCIL; THE MAYOR AND HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS IN MATTER OF PAYMENTS FOR WORK—COUNCIL PASSES ON BUDGET—DETAILS OF DISBURSEMENT LEFT TO HIM AND HIS DEPARTMENT HEADS.

The following statement was issued by the Mayor on February 26.

The storm raised in the City Council yesterday by some of the councilors was a tempest in a teapot. So many wild statements and accusations were made that I am giving the public the following facts:

The law provides that at the beginning of the financial year an amount not exceeding one third of the entire amount appropriated for any department during the previous year may be expended in order to carry on the business of the city. This is to provide necessary funds until the city budget can be prepared, considered and passed.

In 1934 the budget appropriation for the Public Works Department was $7,158,084.07, consequently the total expenditures which may be made by this department before the passage of this year's budget is approximately $2,386,000, which is about one third of last year's appropriation. In January of this year this department spent approximately $250,000 and if we assume that the expenditures for February and March will be at the same rate, adding $1,000,000 for snow removal, it is plainly evident that for the first three months of 1935 the expenditures of the Public Works Department will be well within the one-third limit.

The councilors complain that payments were made on snow contracts each day without their knowledge or approval. This is nothing new. There is nothing in the law that compels the Mayor or the Public Works Commissioner to submit the expenditures to the City Council for consideration or approval. Under the charter the City Council has the power to reduce or reject items in the budget, but the actual expenditure of the appropriations is made by the heads of departments with the approval of the Mayor. More than that, section 8 of the City Charter specifically forbids the Council to take part "in the conduct of the executive or administrative business of the city or county." For years the financial machinery of the city has functioned as provided in the charter without submitting any of the details to the City Council. Of course, the City Council has the right to request information of the Mayor and the heads of departments.

The reason that the City Council considered the appropriation for snow removal in 1934 is as follows:

The appropriation for snow removal in the 1933 budget was only $105,000. This small appropriation reduced the total appropriation of the Public Works Department in 1933 so that the one-third limit available in the early part of 1934 was also reduced, and on March 26, 1934, it became necessary, because we had exhausted the one-third limit, to submit a special budget for snow removal to the City Council in the sum of $750,000. I am informed that such a thing had never happened before, and that the payment by the Public Works Department of contractors for removing snow holding back 15 per cent until they are satisfied that the contract has been properly fulfilled is the usual customary procedure of the city. Furthermore, it must be remembered that the snow contractors pay their shovelers each night in cash and the city has always made it a practice to reimburse them as promptly as possible.

Another word about the budget. It is necessary each year to request the Legislature to fix a tax limit for the city and until it is fixed it is impossible to submit a complete budget to the City Council. The Legislative Committee has held one hearing on the city's petition to fix the tax rate and another is scheduled for tomorrow morning at 10.30. There is absolutely no ground for a statement credited to a councilor in the morning press "that he had been informed that the budget might come before the Council for consideration next Monday." The budget will be submitted to the Council immediately upon the enactment of legislation fixing the tax rate.

MAYOR MANSFIELD COMMENDS SCOTT FURRIERS, INCORPORATED, FOR BRIGHTENING LIVES OF CITIZENS BY MEANS OF RADIO ENTERTAINMENT.

The following is the address of Mayor Mansfield, at the Boston Opera House, on Sunday evening, February 24, in the Scott Furriers, Incorporated, program:

For many weeks now Scott Furriers, Incorporated, have presented to a crowded house, and a large radio public, a unique program of entertainment. The appeal which it presents to the people is many-sided and is a most remarkable improvement upon the original amateur nights as we knew them many years ago, before radio was discovered, and when the producers thought only of the comical and lucrative side of what was then a novel entertainment.

In those old days the object of the producers, chiefly, was to get a laugh, usually at the expense of some stage-shy beginner in the world of entertaining, and without much thought of the discomfiture and wounded feelings of the young beginner.

But Scott Furriers, Incorporated, address a far wider field than that. They entertain you partly with comedy, to be sure, but with a wholesome comedy that leaves no bruised feelings and which is given and taken in good part. And, in addition to that, they are uncovering, sometimes in the most unexpected places and from the unpromising talent of the beginners, talent of no mean order which may well develop and improve until it is worthy of the very first rank among modern entertainers.

Both of these mediums of appealing to the vast audience—that of comedy and laughter and of genuine talented entertainment—are supplemented by Scott Furriers, Incorporated, by what is, to my mind, the most touching element of their entire program,—and that is the fact that the money obtained from the people who crowd this large auditorium every Sunday evening goes each week to some different deserving charity. This week, for example, the proceeds of this entertainment are divided between the American Legion Disabled Veterans' Fund, the Kurn-Hatlin Home, which cares for orphan children and neglected children, and the Jewish Tuberculosis Association. Next week the proceeds, as usual, will be divided similarly among other equally meritorious causes which are selected by Scott Furriers, Incorporated.

In these days when the clouds of the depression are still dark over our city an enterprise which tends even in a slight degree to relieve distress and to promote good causes is always to be commended. Especially do I take pleasure in commending Scott Furriers, Incorporated, for their enterprise and charitable motives and as Mayor of the City of Boston to have this opportunity to thank them for the work that they are doing.

General Order No. 23.

This is to notify the department that Mr. Eugene M. McSweeney will assume the office of Police Commissioner for the City of Boston on Saturday, February 23, 1935, at nine o'clock a. m.

General Order No. 24.

Sergt. Arthur M. Tiernan and Patrolman William J. MAYOR MANSFIELD'S ECONOMIES MORE THAN JUSTIFIED — BOSTON'S CASH BALANCE IN THE TREASURY AT END OF 1934 WAS $7,165,625.16, FIGURES COMPILED BY CITY AUDITOR CHARLES J. FOX SHOW — REPORT OF FINANCIAL OPERATIONS OF CITY FOR YEAR SUBMITTED TO MAYOR MANSFIELD — CASH BALANCE AT END OF 1933 WAS $6,215,478.34, LEAVING CITY NEARLY ONE MILLION DOLLARS BETTER OFF AT END OF MAYOR MANSFIELD'S FIRST YEAR THAN BEFORE, DESPITE HEAVIEST DRAINS DUE TO EXPENDITURES AND DRAINS BY UNEMPLOYMENT AND WELFARE RELIEF, AS WELL AS SNOW REMOVAL.

Economies by Mayor Mansfield during the year 1934 have been more than justified by the financial showing of the city at the end of the year. Boston, according to figures compiled by City Auditor Charles J. Fox, and submitted to the Mayor, had in the treasury at the end of the year a cash balance of $7,165,625.16 as against a cash balance of $6,215,478.34 at the end of the Curley administration. This despite the fact that the year 1934 was severest in the matter of financial drains for unemployment and welfare relief that the city has known.

The figures, as presented to Mayor Mansfield, are contained in the following statement prepared and submitted by City Auditor Charles J. Fox.

BOSTON, February 28, 1935.

In order that the salient points in this analysis might stand out, I have set off by numbers the sixteen outstanding features in the financial operations of the city for the year 1934.

Respectfully,

CHARLES J. FOX,
City Auditor.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDER.

General Order No. 10.

I. STEPHEN GILMARTIN.

It is with deep regret that the Fire Commissioner announces the death on February 13, 1935, of Ladderman Stephen Gilmartin of Ladder Company 16. Ladderman Gilmartin was appointed to the department on July 9, 1923.

The funeral was held from his late residence, 18 Redfield street, Neponset, at 8 a. m., Saturday, February 16, 1935, followed by services at St. Anne's Church at 9 a. m. The chief of department arranged for the customary detail to act as funeral escort under command of District Chief Walter C. Glynn, and the members of Ladder Company 16 were excused from duty in order to attend the funeral.

II. STORAGE OF FUEL OIL.

The Fire Commissioner has been requested to call the attention of the Department to the fact that under section 14, chapter 27, of the Revised Ordinances of 1925, the Commissioner of Public Works issues permits for the installation of pipes, conduits and so forth, after he has been authorized to do so by an order from the Board of Street Commissioners.

Under section 16 of the same chapter, before such permit may be issued, the person applying for it must first file a bond in the amount of $20,000.

While the provisions in the regulations of the state fire marshal state that no license or registration is required for tanks used for the storage of fuel oil in amounts up to 2,500 gallons, it should be borne in mind that every opening in the sidewalk or roadway for the installation of such a tank must be covered by a permit from the Public Works Department, Permit Office.

III. AMERICAN DISTRICT TELEGRAPH COMPANY.

The following addition is to be made to the assignment card of the American District Telegraph Company, page 10; to the location for signal No. 316 there should be added 84-88 Hawley street, so that the card location will read as follows:

26 and 28 Summer street and 84-88 Hawley street, Kennedy's Building.

IV. BOSTON AUTOMATIC FIRE ALARM COMPANY.

Notice has been received that the following signal number has been discontinued:

No. 317, building 43-47 South street.

V. COMMENDATIONS.

Hoseman Joseph A. Flynn of Engine Company 22 is hereby commended for volunteering and donating blood in transfusion to a member of this department who is under treatment at the Boston City Hospital on October 3, 1934.

Hoseman Francis Willcut of Engine Company 48 is hereby commended for responding to and working at fire, Box 3815, February 12, 1935, while off duty.

By order of Fire Commissioner Edward F. McLaughlin.

HENRY A. FOX,
Chief of Department.

LOCATION OF STREETS.

The Mayor has approved the following votes of the Board of Street Commissioners:

Voted, That the name of Greenwich place, Boston proper district, between Church street and Alderman street and Columbus avenue, be hereafter known as Stuart street.

Voted, That the name of Boston street, Roxbury district, from St. Stephen street to Haverway street, be hereafter known as Symphony road.

BROADCAST BY MAYOR.

Another consideration which I urged today before the Senate and House Rules Committee was the fact that many suburban residents who live outside of Boston and who work here and are interested in Boston's welfare, would then have something to say about the city and its affairs, whereas now they haven't anything to say because they do not live here and merely earn their living here. We ought to consider this fact regardless of how much pride we may have in our own towns and in our own home communities. If Boston is not prosperous then these surrounding cities and towns cannot be prosperous, and the converse is also true, that if Boston is thriving and doing a good business, all these cities and towns would get the benefit of it.

BETTER PUBLIC SERVICE.

The third thing which I urged and now urge upon you is the coordination of all public service. Now it is divided into about forty-one different municipalities. We ought to be under one head so that we could combine and coordinate our fire departments, for example, our police departments, our health protection departments, our departments of highways and of schools, and even of public welfare. Each of these now becomes a separate problem for forty-one communities, which ought to be one problem, solved by one municipal government, in which, of course, everyone of the surrounding cities and towns that came in would have ample representation.

Perhaps you don't know that Boston is falling off in population. For the first time in the history of Boston the last census shows that we have lost over 5,000 in population, but they have not gone outside the Metropolitan District and the Metropolitan area has not lost population. It has increased, which merely goes to show that these people who did live in Boston have moved out into the suburbs. We ought to have them back. In other words, they ought to be citizens of Boston.

Another thing I urge upon you is that it would reduce the overhead. There would be no duplication of effort. Purchases could be made in large quantities for the whole area and these purchases could be made through one central supply department instead of, as now is the case, having it done through forty-one separate municipalities. Everyone knows that in bulk purchasing there is a great chance for economy. If we could combine that alone it would mean a huge saving not only for Boston but for all the surrounding cities and towns that would come in under this bill.

Let me remind you also that Boston bears a large share of the burden of the entire Metropolitan District. For example, we pay 49.75 per cent, almost 50 per cent, of the Metropolitan parks, excepting Nantasket, in their debt requirements. We pay over 45 per cent of the Metropolitan parks, excluding Nantasket, for maintenance and expense (besides the debt requirements), and for the Metropolitan parks, excluding Nantasket, we pay 49.61 per cent. Boston's share of the Metropolitan water debt is 63.31 per cent. Of the North Metropolitan sewer system Boston's share is over 12 per cent and on the South Metropolitan sewer system it is over 48 per cent. An average of these that I have mentioned to you is 44.82 per cent,— practically 45 per cent of the entire expense of the Metropolitan District is borne by the City of Boston.

SEEKS FOR FACTS.

Now, I know that everyone has pride in his own little community and in his town government. No one wants to be deprived of local autonomy and the bill I filed today does not provide for a Greater Boston. All it asks for is an unpaid commission to study the question and then make recommendations to the Legislature, which then can act upon these recommendations as made. The bill contemplates a certain number of Senators to be appointed by the President of the Senate, a certain number of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker of the House and a certain number of persons to be appointed by the Governor, to form this unpaid commission, listen to all arguments expressed and then make recommendations to the Legislature.

I earnestly urge upon you, as I think every Mayor of Boston has in the past, the necessity of bringing about this great reform. It could be done in such a way that every city and town would still maintain a form of local government. They could still have their selectmen and still maintain their local power, but they could be united, nevertheless, into one large community that would have greater weight and at the same time retain for the local communities everything in which they now take great pride.

For example, do you know that in the city of London, England, there are only about 700 inhabitants. That might surprise you, because you are accustomed to think of London as the largest city in the world, with a population of eight million. So it is. But that old city of London is included in Greater London, and the greater city, with eight million people, gives it weight and power throughout the civilized world. If we look upon London as a small city of 700 people it would have less weight and prestige. That is what we are seeking for Boston. We are not seeking to take anything away from other cities. We want their help. We want them to be really a part of Boston in fact as they are now in practice. Everyone knows that they depend largely for their incomes and prosperity upon this city. Why not, then, a united Boston? Let us take our place where we ought to be—the third largest city in this great country. There is where we ought to stand. That is where we would get weight, prestige and power. That is all I ask for. I have no sinister motives behind it. I have no desire to grab any city or town and take away things that are sacred to it, but I do ask cooperation by all cities and towns in such a way that they may preserve their own local identity and maintain their control over local questions, but at least combine into one large metropolis which will make itself felt throughout the civilized world.

NEW DORCHESTER UNIT FOR WELFARE PURPOSES.

A new Dorchester unit for Welfare purposes will be erected on Hancock street on the site of an old wooden barn in the Public Works Department yard. The foundation existing will be used.

The cost to the city will be: Materials, $5,772.05; the Federal contribution will be $12,178.80, an E. R. A. project. Total amount involved is $17,950.85 and the project will employ eighty men.

MAYOR MANSFIELD MAKES REPLY TO FINANCE COMMISSION.

The following is a copy of communication from Mayor Mansfield to the Finance Commission:

BOSTON, February 19, 1935.

FINANCE COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF BOSTON, 24 School Street, Boston.

GENTLEMEN,—I acknowledge receipt of your report of February eighteenth relative to the snow-removal equipment order which was under consideration by the City Council. I am interested, of course, in the entire report, but particularly so in that part which recommends the organization of a board of experts in snow removal, such experts (to quote from your report) "as might be obtained from the large transportation companies that meet similar problems to be added to experienced city officials to whom all the emergency powers vested in the Mayor and his departments should be delegated when a storm appears"

I can think of only one transportation company that could give any valuable information about removing snow from Boston streets and that is the Boston Elevated Railway Company. No other transportation company has had any experience whatever in solving the peculiar and particular problems of clearing the streets of the City of Boston after a heavy snowfall. Motor truck transportation companies, bus lines, commercial trucking companies and steam railroad companies obviously know nothing from experience about moving snow from Boston's streets. On the other hand, such men as Col. Thomas F. Sullivan of the Transit Commission; Christopher J. Carven, Commissioner of Public Works; William P. Long, Park Commissioner; Joshua Atwood, Deputy Public Works Commissioner, and William J. Morrissey, Chief Engineer of the Public Works Department, have been familiar with this problem for years and I think are as well qualified to solve the problem as any other experts. The experience of the Boston Elevated Railway Company has extended over a great many years and is very valuable, of course, but the City of Boston has always had the benefit of the expert knowledge of the Boston Elevated Railway Company, the city and the company have cooperated in the removal of snow, and the company has also been kind enough on many occasions to allow the city to use some of its snow-removal machinery.

However, I shall be very glad to receive any suggestions from the Finance Commission as to the experts who ought to be consulted by the city. If you will be kind enough to suggest names of men who have not only an engineering knowledge but practical experience in moving snow from the City of Boston (not some other city), I will be very glad to consider asking for their assistance.

But assuming all this were done, what authority has the Mayor to delegate to a board, consisting partly of persons not city officials, "all the emergency powers vested in the Mayor and in his departments," as you suggest in your letter? Without consulting the Corporation Counsel upon this question it seems to me that the most I could do would be to obtain the advice of such a board but to retain the powers vested in the Mayor and his departments who would be charged with the responsibility of carrying out any proposed plan, if it would seem to be the desirable thing to do.

Yours truly,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

THE OVERSEERS OF THE PUBLIC WELFARE, CITY OF BOSTON.
